It has been seriously contended by the learned lawyer appearing for the Union and the concerned worker that as the report of the enquiring officer containing his findings regarding the charges has not been actually produced before this Tribunal, this Tribunal cannot apply the tests laid down by law to the enquiry and decide whether it was bona fide and in conformity with the principles of natural justice and free from any element of victimisation. I am unable to accept this contention in view of the fact that the entire recorded enquiry proceedings are before this Tribunal and then the letter, Ext. E, dated 15th December 1959, which contains a recital of material facts, clearly states that the enquiring officer was satisfied that the concerned worker was guilty of the charges complained of. This statement was made after considering the report of the enquiring officer and there is hardly any scope or reason to disbelieve this statement. Moreover, the enquiring officer, Shri Netai Mohan Pachal, was examined on behalf of the Company, but there was no suggestion to him that he (not find the concerned worker guilty of charges in regard to which he held the enqui The materials necessary for applying the le tests to a domestic enquiry are fully availa from the enquiry proceedings themsely Accordingly, I reject this contention.

It has lastly been contended that even assumi that the concerned worker was guilty of all three charges contained in the charge-she Ext. B, and was also correctly found guilty of charges after the enquiry, the offences were such as to merit the punishment of dismissal, this punishment was disproportionately hard excessive and so it amounted to victimisation. may be that when a particular worker is fou guilty of defective working in one or two ca the punishment of outright dismissal would not a fair and proper punishment and would disproportionately excessive. But in the pres case, the position is that admittedly this wor was found guilty of similar offences quite number of times previously, according to his o admission seven times previously, but the Compa did not inflict the drastic punishment of dismis upon him and dealt with him rather generou by letting him off with warnings. His record was, therefore, very bad and the Compa was fully justified and entitled in exercise of right of directing its internal administration get rid of such a perverse and incorrig inefficient worker by dismissal. It is further evidence in the present case that the mould work of "Hanser Pa", the defect in respect which formed the basis of the charges against concerned worker, was a heavy and important w of the Company and its technical name is " Catch Tank Inlet" and this Company got the o for this work from Messrs. Simon-Carves Ltd Durgapur steel works. These facts are proved the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Netai Pacha Director of the Company, and Ext. D, the o received by the Company from Messrs Sim Carves Ltd.

On all the findings and for all the rea recorded above, I hold that the dismissal of concerned worker on account of the charges in charge-sheet, Ext. B, which was followed b thorough and elaborate enquiry after the wo had submitted his reply to the charge-sheet, on the basis of the findings of the enquiring of that he was guilty of the charges, was just and he is not entitled to any relief. I decide issue and award accordingly.

It will appear from the Issue itself that precise subject-matter of dispute between parties is the alleged lay offs of the wo named in the list appended to the Issue Union representing the concerned workers challenged the lay offs of these workers unjustified and has claimed appropriate relief way of payments of their full wages for the off periods. It is now an admitted position this commercial undertaking has been conve into a composite weaving and spinning mills s 1st January 1961, before which it was a p loom factory for weaving only.

The relevant case of the Union regarding disputed lay off of the concerned workers, particulars about which are given in paragraph 7, 10 and 11 of the written statement, may briefly summarised as follows:—

The Company became displeased with workers after they formed a Union of their o under the name and style of Bangodaya Cot Mills Mazdoor Union and in order to cre division among the workers, the Compa sponsored a rival Union under the name and st of Bangodaya Cotton Mills Ltd. Kamdar Uni The concerned workers all belong to the form Union. The Company also followed a policy victimisation against the workers and in pursuance of the policy started laying off the workers in groups without any justifiable reason whatsoever and without giving them any notice also from October 1960. According to the particulars given in paragraphs 6, 7, 10 and 11 of the written statement, different groups of workers, whose serial numbers are given, were laid off unjustifiability and without any notice whatsoever from different dates, viz., 2nd October 1960, 23rd November 1960, 18th December 1960, 22nd December 1960 and 24th December 1960 and the periods of lay off of different groups continued up to 28th February 1961 and 31st March 1961. Besides the last two alleged dates of terminations of periods of lay off of different groups of workers, which are given in paragraph 10 of the written statement which deals with this matter, it is also alleged in this paragraph that some concerned workers included in the list appended to the Issue are still kept under lay off, and then it is alleged in paragraph 11 that though some workers were taken back to work with effect from 1st March 1961, they are still occasionally laid off without any notice. Apart from the general allegation that the lay offs were effected unjustifiably and without any reason and also without any notice, it is further contended that at the material times when the lay offs were effected, the Mills had been working in all its Departments. It is further contended that most of the laid off workers have not been paid any lay off compensations for the periods of their lay offs. The lay offs have thus been challenged as illegal, unfair, unjust, mala fide and effected with an ulterior motive.

I should state here that in respect of the allegations in paragraphs 10 and 11 to the effect that some workers are still kept under lay off and some are still being intermittently laid off without any notice after having been taken back on 1st March 1961, the admitted position now before this Tribunal is that all the workers are at present fully working in the Mills.

The Company has filed its own written statement. It has first of all pleaded that as the Company effected lay offs in exercise of its statutory right under the conditions laid down by the statute, no industrial dispute can be raised over the lay offs and as such the Government has no power to refer the alleged dispute for adjudication and this Tribunal has also no jurisdiction to entertain the dispute upon the reference made by the Government and adjudicate upon it. Apart from this legal and preliminary objection, the further case of the Company on the merits of the Issue may be briefly summarised as follows:—

Since 1958 the Company had been passing through financial and trading crises and the circumstances compelled it to operate not more than 300 looms as a power loom factory, which it was only before 1st January 1961. This reason compelled it to lay off some workers for some days but all the lay offs were made in accordance with law. The conversion of the power loom factory into a composite weaving and spinning mill from 1st January 1961 also necessitated lay offs of some workers for some time. As against the particulars of the lay offs as given by the Union in paragraphs 6 to 8 and 11 of its written statement, the Company has given its own case about the particulars of the lay offs of different workers from time to time in paragraph 6 of its written statement. It has then contended that all the laid off workers were paid full legal compensations for the lay off periods and they accepted the payments in full satisfaction of their statutory dues for the lay off periods. The allegations of victimisation and mala fide motive in regard to the lay offs effected by the Company have been denied. Upon the above case put forward in the written statement, the Company has finally contended that the concerned workers are not entitled to any reliefs against the Company in this case.

There is no substance in the legal preliminary objection raised against the maintainability of the present reference and the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to entertain this reference by the Company in the beginning of its written statement. The grounds of this objection are, in substance, that the Company has the statutory right to lay off its workers under certain conditions and as the Company has, in the present case, exercised the statutory right in accordance with the provisions of the statute, the action of the Company cannot be challenged as illegal or unjustified and no industrial dispute can be raised over it. The grounds are patently absurd. When it is admitted that the right of laying off workers is to be exercised according to certain provisions of the statute and when it is complained by the workers that in the present case the Company did not lay off the workers strictly accordingly to the provisions of the statute and for any sufficient reason, the complaint must amount to raising an industrial dispute about the purported laying off of the concerned workers and when such an industrial dispute is raised, the Government has certainly the right to refer it for adjudication to a Tribunal and the Tribunal has certainly the jurisdiction to entertain the reference and adjudicate the dispute and decide whether the laying off of the workers was justified and it conformed to the provisions of the statute. The preliminary legal objection is, therefore, rejected.

Section 2(kkk), Industrial Disputes Act, defines "lay-off" and according to the definition "lay-off" means "the failure, refusal or inability of an employer on account of shortage of coal, power or raw materials or the accumulation of stocks or the breakdown of machinery or for any other reason to give employment to a workman whose name is borne on the muster rolls of the industrial establishment and who has not been retrenched." Section 25C of Chapter VA of the Act provides for payment of compensation to a laid-off worker at the rate of fifty per cent. of the total of the basic wages and dearness allowance that would have been payable to him had he not been laid-off. Such compensation is to be paid for the days on which he is laid-off. Rule 76 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules lays down that when any worker is laid-off, the employer shall as soon as possible report in Form C the information of such lay-off to the Labour Commissioner. I have mentioned above the provisions of section 2(kkk), section 25C and rule 76 in so far as they are admittedly applicable to the facts of the present case. It is an admitted position that the workers concerned were intermittently laid-off from September or October 1960, but they were subsequently gradually taken back to service from different dates from February, March and April 1961. It is also an admitted position that this commercial establishment was previously a power loom factory for weaving only and it was converted into a composite mill of weaving and spinning from 1st January 1961. It will appear from the written statements of the contending parties that there is disagreement between them as to the exact days on which each particular worker was laid-off. I have already referred to the paragraphs in the written statements of the parties which contain their respective cases on this point. So far as the evidence on this dispute regarding the exact days on which each concerned worker was laid-off is concerned, there is nothing but oral evidence of some of the concerned workers (P.Ws. 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6) on the side of the Union and the workers, but on the Company's side there are the Attendance Registers, Exts. D, D(1) and E, E(1) and E(2), which together cover the relevant period with which we are concerned in the present case and also the concerned workers of both A and B shifts. Exhibit F has been proved to comprise the consolidated statements of the days of lay-off of the workers who have given evidence in the present case. These statements were prepared from the Attendance Registers by O.P.W. 1 Shri Debabrata Chakrabarty, Labour Welfare Officer of the Company. The Attendance Registers have impressed me as having been kept regularly in due course of business and I see no reason to disbelieve these registers. I am also satisfied that the statements of Ext. F were correctly prepared by the Labour Welfare Officer from the Attendance Registers. So, as between the bare oral evidence on the side of the Union and the workers regarding the exact days of lay-off of each worker, which is also very vague and indefinite, and the regularly kept Attendance Registers on the side of the Company, I prefer to accept the Attendance Registers as more reliable and trustworthy and accordingly I hold on the basis of the Attendance Registers that the Company's case regarding the days on which the concerned workers were laid-off from time to time, as given in paragraph 6 of its written statement is correct and I accept this case and necessarily I reject the case put forward by the Union and the concerned workers in this respect. It is also an admitted position at the hearing before this Tribunal that all the laid-off workers got their full compensations under section 25C for the days on which they were laid-off. Exhibits A, B, series and C series contain the admitted compensation receipts of some of the concerned workers who gave evidence in this case, and Exts. K and L series are the proved compensation receipts, which the other concerned workers who gave evidence in this case denied. These receipts show that all the concerned workers who gave evidence accepted full lay-off compensations from the Company. No other worker has come forward to deny the receipt of lay-off compensation and, as I have already indicated above, it was admitted on behalf of the Union and the concerned worker at the hearing before this Tribunal by their authorised Advocate, Shri Nikhil Roy, that all the laid-off workers got full compensations for their lay-off periods. It is thus clear that the Company fully complied wit the provisions of section 25C regarding payment compensations to the laid-off workers. It is to b noted here that payments of compensation unde section 25C is not a pre-condition to lay-off an the lay-off cannot be challenged as illegal on th ground that the compensation was not paid befor lay-off. Section 25C only requires the employe to pay compensation according to the rat mentioned therein to each laid-off worker for th days on which he is laid-off and this payment ma be made after the lay-off. So far as the notice required to be given in Form O to the Labou Commissioner under rule 76 of the Industria Disputes Rules are concerned, it is proved by th evidence of the Labour Welfare Officer of th Company, Shri Debabrata Chakrabarty (O.P.W. 1) and by the papers comprised in Ext. J collectively, that notices of lay-off in Form O wer given from time to time to the office of the Labou Commissioner by the Company. The rule require that the notices should be given as soon a possible after lay-off and no precise time limit is fixed for giving the notices. It appears from the papers of Ext. J that the Company began to give the notices in Form O from 6th December 1960. They lay-off's commenced from September or October 1960. In the circumstances of the case, I find that the notices in Form O were given within reasonable time. It is to be noted in this connection that it is an admitted position, and it is also in evidence, that from a power loom factory, this industrial establishment was converted into a composite spinning and weaving mill from 1st January 1961, and this conversion was certainly preceded by preparatory arrangements for some time which kept the Company mostly occupied for some months before the actual conversion took place. If in these circumstances, the first notice of lay-off was given on 6th December 1960, the notice cannot be said to have been unreasonably delayed. I, therefore, find that in regard to lay-off of the concerned workers, the Company fully complied with the provisions of section 25C of the Industrial Disputes Act and rule 76 of the Industrial Disputes Rules.

The only question that remains to be decided now is whether the lay-off of the concerned workers was justified and bona fide. The reason for the lay-off in the present case was, according to the Company, shortage of raw materials and the changes and adjustments required to be made in the establishment for converting the power loom factory into a composite spinning and weaving mill. So far as shortage of raw materials is concerned, the evidence at the trial is that the yarn for weaving, which the Company previously purchased from the market, became insufficient from September 1959, because the Company stopped purchase of yarn in the market in view of the proposed conversion of the power loom factory into a composite spinning and weaving mill, which would result in the Company having its own factory for spinning the yarn required for weaving. It cannot be gainsaid that when a major change in the industrial establishment like conversion of a power loom factory for weaving only to a composite mill of spinning and weaving was contemplated, the preparatory arrangements including installation and adjustment of machineries would take a pretty long time and uld cause some dislocation to the working stablishment as it was before its conversion. regard to the aforesaid position, I am of w that it was not unreasonable for the ıy to slow down the working of the power ıctory since September or October 1959, for pose of effecting conversion of the factory composite spinning and weaving mill from ıuary 1961. I am also of the view that even he conversion was completed on 1st January it was not possible to resume full normal ıg of the composite mill for some time. It en proved by O.P.W. 1 Shri Debabrata aborty, the Labour Welfare Officer of the ıny, without challenge that from 1st January till the re-opening of the other Departments bruary 1961, the mill was entirely closed t for the spinning department. It clearly rs that the preparatory arrangements and tments for the conversion of the power loom ry into a composite spinning and weaving were effected during the months of September ecember 1959 by gradually slowing down the in the power loom factory and after the posite mill was set up from 1st January 1961 the spinning mill was worked for getting cient yarn for the working of the weaving mill this resulted in the complete closure of the ving mill up to February and this being the ition, the lay-offs of some workers of the erent departments were quite reasonable and essary. It appears from the correspondence lectively marked Ext. G that both before and er the conversion of the mill into a composite ll, the Company had some correspondence with Central Excise Department in regard to the ty to be paid for the composite mill. It further pears from the notices, marked Ext. H llectively, that these notices were given for the y-offs at different times before conversion of the ower loom factory into a composite mill and it rther appears from the correspondence marked ollectively Ext. I that the Company also gave otice of the lay-offs to the Inspector of Factories rom time to time. It is proved by O.P.W. 1 Shri Chakrabarty that the notices of Ext. H were published on the notice board of the Company. I see no reason to disbelieve the correspondence and the notices of Exts. G, H and I series and these, in my view, clearly support the position that the lay-offs of the concerned workers on different days uring the period from September or October 1959 p to February or March 1960 when the omposite mill resumed its full work in all depart- nents were really and reasonably necessitated by the preparatory arrangements and adjustments for the conversion and also shortage of raw material, viz, the yarn in the stock of the Company, because the Company was not willing to purchase fresh ock of yarn when it was going to set up a nning mill of its own in the near future. If ie Company adopted the policy of not purchasing ny fresh stock of yarn for its power loom factory ince September 1959, because it was going to set p its own spinning mill from 1st January 1961, he Company cannot be accused of having acted in mala fide manner against the interest of the workers simply because this policy of the Company naturally slowed down and curtailed the working of the power loom factory and this necessitated lay-offs of certain workers. It was certainly quite a bona fide and sound business policy. In the view of the above facts and circumstances, I find that the lay-off of the concerned workers in the present case was based on sufficient reasons falling within the definition of "lay-off" as given in section 2(kkk) of the Industrial Disputes Act and the reasons particularly fell under the heads of "shortage of raw material" (yarn) and "any other reason". Under the head "any other reason" came the preparatory arrangements and adjustments required to be made for conversion of the power loom factory into a composite spinning and weaving mill and resuming full working of the weaving mill after the conversion when the spinning mill had produced sufficient yarn for the weaving mill. Accordingly, I hold that the lay-off of the concerned workers was fully justified and it was necessitated by reasons falling under the definition of "lay-off". I have also no hesitation to hold that the lay-off of the concerned workers was perfectly bona fide on the part of the Company. This finding would naturally follow my previous finding that the Company was compelled to lay-off the workers for sufficient reasons. When there was sufficient reasons for lay-offs of the workers, it cannot be said that the lay-offs were enforced by way of victimisation of the workers and an unfair labour practice. There is no substance in the contention raised on behalf of the concerned Union and the workers that only the members of this Union were victimised by lay-offs. We find that for a time the entire the members of this Union were victimised by lay-offs. We find that for a time the entire Weaving Department was closed and there is no evidence to show that the Weaving Department was manned entirely by the workers of the concerned Union and no worker belonging to the alleged rival Union was engaged there. On the proved facts and circumstances of the case, I have no hesitation to reject the contention of the Union and the concerned workers that in the matter of the lay-offs, there was discrimination against them. On the contrary, I find that there was general and in some cases wholesale lay-offs in certain Departments, which necessarily indicates that the lay-offs were not made only in respect of the workers belonging to the concerned Union. In the result, I also hold that the lay-offs were perfectly bona fide and the Company was not actuated by any mala fide motive of victimisation or discrimination in making the lay-offs against the concerned Union and the workers.

On all the above findings and for the reasons given above, I decide the merits of the issue completely in favour of the Company and against the concerned Union and the workmen and hold that the Management was justified in laying off the concerned workmen and the laid-off workmen were paid full statutory compensations for their lay-off periods and so, they are not entitled to any relief. I award accordingly.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri P. P. Pathak.

For the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Advocate.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Karco (Restaurant), C (New), 44-47 Hogg Market, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by the Karco Workers' Union, 4/C Kalighat Road, Calcutta-25, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6309-IR/IR/11L-237(A)/59, dated the 1st December 1960.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Sibendra Modak is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 6th December 1960, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

After the notices were served, the Union, i.e., the Karco Workers' Union, filed the written statement on 6th January 1961, duly signed and verified by Shri Sibendra Chandra Modak.

AWARD

The case of Shri Sibendra Chandra Mod that he was the Assistant Secretary of the and, as a matter of fact, he was one of the fo of the said Union and for that he incurre pleasure of the management which was anxi victimise him. The management served hin a charge-sheet on 10th November 1959 and him on suspension. In spite of suitable denying the charge submitted by Shri Moda that very day, the Management gave another charge-sheet on 28th November 195 which as well a reply completely denying charge was given on 3rd December 1959. after an enquiry was held in a most irr manner on 21st December 1959, as a result of Shri Modak was served with a letter of disn dated the 28th December 1959. It is allege the Union that Shri Modak was not guilty charges brought against him and that the of the management was highly illegal, mala and against all principles of natural justice. Union along with the written statement filed of two charge-sheets, dated 10th November and 28th November 1959 and the replies of Modak, dated 10th November 1959 and December 1959.

The employer, i.e., Messrs. Karco Restau filed the written statement on 5th April 196 is alleged in the written statement that the of reference is bad in law inasmuch as there no termination of service of Shri Modak and the reference is not maintainable when the m of the case had already been decided in application under section 33A of the Indus Disputes Act filed by Shri Modak. It is fur contended that the Union has no locus standi espouse the cause of the workman. It is asse that proper enquiry on the basis of the cha had been done by the management and it found that Shri Modak was guilty of gross conduct and act of indiscipline and, therefore, Management decided to dismiss him.

Before entering into the question of adjudica of this dispute on merits, it is necessary to r to certain incidents which took place before reference case was received. This workman an application under section 33A of the Indust Disputes Act on 10th May 1960 alleging that had been wrongfully dismissed by the employe contravention of the provisions of section 33 of Industrial Disputes Act. The employer submi written objections to the same. Both par adduced evidence in that case before me. preliminary objection was taken in that c that the application was not maintainable inasm as there was no contravention of the provisio in section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. T legal objection as to the maintainability of t complaint case under section 33A was upheld me and I consequently found that the Tribur could not enter into the merits of the complai when the primary requisite condition relating the contravention of section 33 was n established. The position, therefore, is that ev though the parties adduced evidence on the meri of the case relating to the justification or othe wise of the action taken by the employer in di missing Shri Modak, no finding was made by m n that question as the case under section 33A as found not maintainable in law at all. It ppears from the decision of that case, which was ublished as award, under the law, in the Calcutta Gazette", on 13th October 1960, that ie Tribunal found that there was no contravention section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act nasmuch as there was no action taken by the nployer in dismissing the workman during the ndency of the proceedings before the Tribunal hich commenced on 16th January 1960, and also at an application seeking approval of the action d been filed to the Conciliation Officer before hom the dispute at that stage was pending. The ward given under section 33A of the Industrial isputes Act clearly indicates that there was no cision made by the Tribunal as to the merits of e action taken by the employer in dismissing ri Modak and, therefore, it cannot be said that is reference is bad in law. Another point urged the Company is that the final action in dis-issing the workman had not been taken inasmuch the employer after issuing the letter of dis-issal to Shri Modak on 28th December 1959, ide Ext. D), filed an application before the nciliation Officer on 30th December 1959 asking r permission, in writing, to dismiss the workman der section 33(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, d the said application was not disposed of by the nciliation Officer.

The question, therefore, arises for consideration to whether a reference under section 10 of the dustrial Disputes Act can legally be made by the vernment when it is found that the employer had ly filed an application under section 33(3) of the dustrial Disputes Act, which the Conciliation ficer did not dispose of. The contents of the tter of dismissal, Ext. D, clearly indicate that ter holding the enquiry the Management decided dismiss the workman. It was clearly the duty the Conciliation Officer to dispose of that plication either by according permission or by fusing the same. In the instant case no such tion was taken. In that view it was held in the se of under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes t that the employer did not infringe the provi-ns of section 33(2)(b) and, therefore, the com-int case was not maintainable. Now, after the d of the case of section 33A of the Industrial sputes Act on preliminary point as to maintain-ility of the application as against the workman. e appropriate government found that the dis-te on the question of dismissal of Shri Modak l exist and, therefore, this reference was made 1st December 1960. Naturally, therefore, the propriate government decided to make the erence on the ground that the dispute concern-g the dismissal of Shri Modak did subsist I ve already stated that the letter, Ext. D, clearly dicates the decision of the management that Shri dak stands dismissed with effect from that date. is clearly the sole function of the appropriate vernment to decide whether there is any factual istence of industrial dispute, and the fact of dis-ssal of this workman is clearly evidenced by the ter, Ext. D, considered in the light of the cumstances of the case. It can by no stretch of agination be said that the termination of service Shri Modak was not an accomplished fact. I erefore hold that the objection of the employer regarding the maintainability of this reference is not of any value. Furthermore, it is contended by the employer that this is an individual dispute and the workmen in general in the employment of this concern have not taken up the cause of the workman. Apparently, Shri Modak is the Assistant Secretary of a registered Trade Union representing the workmen. It is clear from the written statement filed by the workmen that the Union feel that Shri Modak had been wrongfully dismissed. His cause is clearly being supported by the Union having a substantial number of workmen as members of the same. It is not an individual dispute as the cause is clearly being supported by a large number of workmen of the Union.

The legal objections raised by the employer thus fails.

Now, let me consider the merits of the case. There is no controversy on the point that Shri Modak was first charge-sheeted on 10th November 1959 and that he was suspended from that date for an indefinite period on the ground that he deliberately flouted the directions given by the Butler of the Restaurant, Mr. F. Gomesh, to attend his duty on 9th November 1959 (vide Ext. 1). Shri Modak gave reply to the charge on 10th November 1959 (vide Ext. A). In that explanation Shri Modak stated that he received such direction from Mr. Gomesh but at the same time he protested against the same. He felt that he could not attend unless he was given prior notice if the management wanted him to work on a weekly day of rest. It is, however, clear from the written explanation submitted by Shri Modak that he got directions from Mr. Gomesh that he was to work on the 10th November, Monday, and that in spite he did not comply with that directions. The reasons given by Shri Modak for absence on the 10th November is that he should have been served with a written notice when asked to work on a day of rest and when such written notice was not given, he decided to disobey the orders. In the long written explanation submitted by Shri Modak, it is stated in details that the employer does not keep record as to the overtime work done by the workmen on holidays and that is why he wanted to have a notice. There is no evidence to support that. So, I find that Shri Modak has no reasonable excuse in disobeying the orders given by Mr. Gomesh, the Butler. The employer produced the written complaint of Mr. Gomesh, dated 9th November 1959 (vide Ext. E). Now during the period of suspension on the basis of the first charge, as stated above, the employer again charge-sheeted him on the ground that Shri Modak abused the proprietor, Shri Anukul Chandra Kar, in filthy language inside the Restaurant when he came there along with two friends and occupied the seats meant for the customers. Ext. 2 is the charge-sheet, dated 28th November 1959. Shri Modak in his explanation submitted on 3rd December 1959 denied the allegation altogether. He asserted that he was suffering from cough and fever from 22nd November 1959 and that he could not come out of his house from 23rd November 1959 to 25th November 1959. Upon receipt of the explanation from Shri Modak, the Management found the same unsatisfactory and informed Shri Modak by the letter, Ext. B, dated 8th December 1959, that an enquiry into the charges would be held on 14th December 1959. P.W. 2, Shri Phani Roy, the Assistant Manager, who drew up the charges against Shri Modak stated that no enquiry could be carried on that date as there was altercation with Shri Modak regarding a point as to whether outsiders would be allowed to participate in the proceedings. If further appears that Shri Modak informed Shri Roy, P W. 2, that he would like to examine Shri H. B. Sen, Shri L. Das and Shri P. Dey as witnesses in defence and that he further wanted that at the enquiry proceedings the Secretary and the Vice-President of the Union as named in that letter would be allowed to represent him. It is abundantly clear from the documents filed in this case that Shri Modak all the time insisted that he would be allowed to examine in defence some outsiders in order to prove his case that he was ill and that he was not at all present at the Restaurant on 24th November 1959 at 8-40 p.m. when the incident is alleged to be happened. It is also clear that the Management insisted that no outsider would be allowed to be examined by Shri Modak. In a case of this nature when the person charged pleads alibi and asserts that he was in a different place altogether at the time when the alleged incident took place, the onus is heavy upon the person making such ascertion to prove his case. According to the case as made out by Shri Modak in defence, he was at his own residence at Kalighat Road at the relevent time and unable to move out. It is however significant that Shri Modak did not cite as witness the doctor who gave him the certificate, Ext. C. That was certainly a piece of evidence upon which, one would rely to establish a case of illness. It is quite likely that the persons who are not only the workmen under the concern but also outsiders might be the competent persons to depose on the point and prove the fact. I am thus inclined to hold that the employer put some restrictions upon the workman concerned when he was not allowed to examine any outsider to prove the case for which the onus of proof was upon him.

At the same time it has got to be noted that domestic enquiries are not conducted in the same manner as enquiries are done in law courts. Persons conducting the enquiries are not expected to follow the same procedure as prescribed by law to be followed in Criminal Courts deciding about the question of any offence having been committed by the person charged against. The employer was perfectly justified in disallowing the prayer of Shri Modak for being represented in the domestic enquiry by any Union Official That was a matter entirely at the discretion of the employer. In the matter of disallowing him the opportunity to examine as witness any outsider, I do not think that the Management acted prudently though not with any mala fide intention. The entire record of the proceedings, Ext. C clearly indicate that the Enquiring Officer gave full opportunity to Shri Modak to cross-examine all the witnesses who were examined to prove the guilt of Shri Modak, and Shri Modak examined them at length. The employer examined Shri Sadhan Ch. Dey, Stewart, Shri Narayan Chandra Dey, Cashier, Shri J. Sen and Shri M. Das—all employees of the Company. All of them stated how the offence was done. is contended by Shri Pathak that the Com should have examined one Shri Peter Gomes was allotted for duty at the particular table w the incident happened. But Shri Modak did cite him as witness. The workman concer examined only one witness, Shri Haridas Dey workman employed as Head Mistri, who, course, supported the contention of Shri Mo that he was ill. The enquiry proceedings indi that it was carried on 21st December 1959 and 2 December 1959, and the Enquiry Officer submit a report on 24th December 1959 giving reasons support of his conclusion that valid the char had been proved (vide Ext. C). There is noth to indicate that the findings made by the Enqu Officer were perverse or that there was any ba error in arriving at such conclusion. Now, ap from the fact that Shri Modak did not examine doctor who treated him during his alleged illn at the enquiry, it appears that the Medical Ce ficate now produced was not filed by Shri Mod at the time of enquiry. I have carefully go through the entire enquiry proceedings and I ha that the Management acted bona fide when th came to the conclusion that the acts of indiscipli and misconduct had been committed by Sh Modak on account of two charges drawn up again him. So, even though that the employer did n allow Shri Modak to examine in his defence Sh L. K. Das, who is now examined before me, I fin that there was ample evidence given by the work men of the concern to substantiate the offenc which was committed on the 24th November 195 by Shri Modak. It is true that Shri Modak happen to be the Assistant Secretary of the Union, and th Union office is also located at his place of residenc at Kalighat Road Both Haridas and Lakshm Kanta who are examined by Shri Modak ar members' of the Executive Committee of th Union. It takes it that he is a very active membe of the Union. But at the same time I fin that he had taken the law in his own hand and gone completely out of his way when he wen inside the Restaurant forgetting that he stoo in a position of a workman under suspension, an insulted the Manager personally and tried t bring the concern into discredit. This being a act of gross misconduct and against th maintenance of discipline, I find that th Management was justified in dismissing th workman, Shri Sibendra Chandra Modak, and h is not entitled to get any relief from the Tribunal

It is contended by Shri Pathak that the work man should be paid wages for the period of suspe sion from 9th November 1959. I find no reaso why wages for such period would be paid when a result of the domestic enquiry Shri Modal found guilty and dismissed.

This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 3956-I.R./IR/7L-16/58, dated the 27th July 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute regarding a matter specified in the second schedule to the Act, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court by order No. 1252-I.R./IR/7L-16/58, dated 26th March 1959, for adjudication which has been replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-I.R./IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by notification No. 3508-I.R./IR/3A-9/59, dated 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

Is the discharge of the following workmen justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(i) Shri Nemai Kola, (ii) Shri Adhir Das, (iii) Shri Gobordhan Chowdhury, and (iv) Shri Lakhan Roy.

This reference is in respect of discharge of four workmen of Bharat Jute Mills Ltd.

The facts are as follows:

The Bharat Jute Mills Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) had on its roll about 1,500 workmen "but for some reasons, the Company lost its reputation in the market in the beginning of 1958 and supply of jute on credit was stopped". The Company closed the Mills from 17th March 1958 and all the workmen were therefore out of work from that date. The Company reopened the Mills partially by the end of June 1958 and took back by batches about 450 workers. Amongst the workmen who were not taken back in service are the four workmen under reference. Their grievance against the management was that all the workers should be taken back at the same time and they insisted upon the workmen who had already been taken back not to work till all the workmen were given their old jobs.

The Bharat Jute Mills Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) representing the four workmen under reference alleges that the Company in taking back a number of workmen ignored seniority of service of the workmen and took back many junior employees including 'Badli' workers and as the four workmen under reference of whom Shri Adhir Das is the Vice-President of the Union took up the cause of the unemployed workmen, the Company victimised them and discharged them from service without any justifiable reason.

The Company, on the other hand, alleges that the four workmen under reference who could not be taken back in service after the Mills had been reopened, threatened the workmen who were working in the Mills with assault and they actually assaulted some of them for which the workmen were found guilty of misconduct after proper enquiries and they were therefore discharged from service.

Decision

It is admittedly a fact that due to loss of reputation and credit in the market, the Company had to close its Mills on 17 March 1958 and about 1,500 workers who had been working in the Mills were thrown out of employment. The Mill was reopened on 3rd June 1959 and the Company by batches took back about 450 workers. The main grievance of the four workmen under reference, who must have voiced the feelings of the workmen who had not been taken back in service, was that in giving employments the Company ignored the seniority of workers and it was guilty of discrimination. The Union states in paragraph 3 of its written statement that workman Adhir Das served the Mill for 17 years before 17th March 1958, Gobardhan Chowdhury for 11 years, Lakhan and Nemai Kola for 8 years each. The Com did not adduce any evidence to challenge the of the statement by the Union. The Com states that the four workmen under ref threatened to assault and assaulted some wor who had been taken back for work in the that they were given charge-sheets to which gave replies, that enquiries were held and being found guilty of misconduct were disch from service in November 1958.

The allegation of the Company that the workmen threatened to assault and assaul number of workmen was based on written verbal complaints of some workmen. The al incidents were said to have taken place outsid Mill area and the witnesses examined b Company had no personal knowledge of the al incident. The verbal and written reports ag the four workmen under reference were mad persons who were taken back by the Company the Mill had been reopened. It is evidently a that the Union wrote several letters to the Assi Labour Commissioner, Howrah (Ext. 1 se complaining about discrimination made b Company in taking back workmen for work i Mill after it was reopened. Adhir Das a man concerned in this reference, is the President of the Union and who is a perma employee of the Company is serving for abou years. It appears from the letter of the Assi Labour Commissioner, Howrah, to the Comp dated 15th October 1958 (Ext. 30) tha Company's representative was pursuaded to to offer employment with continuity of servic some of the workmen whose names were l below with effect from 6th October 1958 further appears from the lettter that the Compa representative agreed to offer employment as t workmen including the four workmen u reference had expressed their "regret for incident for which they were charged", bu spite of a compromise made by the Compa representative to offer employment to the workmen under reference and 6 others, Company thought it fit to discharge the four w men under reference in November 1958.

The Company alleges that the four work concerned in this reference threatened to as and assaulted some workers who were work in the Mill and hence they were given charge-sh Exts. A to A3 are said to be the charge-sh These are, in fact, letters written to the four w men with reference to their prayer as "re-emp ment". The first sentence in each of the so-c charge-sheets is as follows: "It is found f written and verbal complaints by a considera number of workers that a number of acts of vol and other misconduct comprising subversive of discipline was committed during our re-star the Mill. Your unsympathetic and vio attitude,—intimidation to workers not to join w and even assaulted some workers coming to w have led us to a pause to re-employ you... ... etc". So the Company had found it for a f when issuing charge-sheets, that the four worki under reference had already committed act violence by threatening some workers with ass and also assaulted some of the workers. T Company says in its letters (Ext. A series) that question of re-employment of the four workm will depend on their giving satisfactory explanation—"whether you have a right to associate yourself to above misconduct from outside", as the Company already "found from written and verbal complaints that acts of violence and other misconduct had already been committed". When the letters (Ext. A series) speak about re-employment of the four workmen under reference, it follows that their services had already been terminated by the Company. If the services of the four workmen were terminated they could not be charge-sheeted. A charge-sheet can only be given to a person in service and not to an outsider who might have committed an offence under the Penal Code. If Ext. A series be taken to be charge-sheets and if the services of the four workmen under reference had not been terminated till November 1958, it must be said that these were not proper charge-sheets. A charge-sheets must contain, amongst other things, a direction to show cause within a specified date as to why disciplinary action against the particular workmen should not be taken by the Company. But in these documents, no such direction was given. The only direction was to submit a satisfactory explanation as to whether the workmen "had any right to associate himself with any misconduct from outside" and no date was fixed for submitting the explanation. The so-called charge-sheets were sent in the first week of August 1958 and the orders of discharge were passed in the last part of November 1958 and that too after the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, had written to the Company in October 1958 (vide Ext. 3a). So the four workmen under reference were not properly charge-sheeted and the proceedings being on the basis of wrong and improper chargesheets must be considered to be entirely void. The enquiry should not have been on the basis of any finding already arrived at by the Company on the basis of certain complaints. The duty of the Company was to ascertain in the enquiry if there was any act of violence and, if so, if the workmen under reference had committed acts of violence. I have already mentioned the fact that workmen Adhir Das is the Vice-President of the Union and he admits in his exmination that he requested the workmen who had been taken back to work in the Mill not to work till all the employees were taken back, but he denied having threatened to assault or having assaulted any workmen of the Mill. The explanations of the three other workmen under reference were more or less of similar nature. The Union by its letter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, dated 1st July 1958 (Ext 1a), mentioned specific instances of unfair labour practice and discrimination in the matter of taking back employees to work in the Mill The Company did not give any reply denying the allegations of unfair labour practice and it has not been denied before me. What the Union wanted was a fair deal for the employees who, for no fault of their own, were starving on account of closure of the Mill, and the closure was admittedly for Company's loss of reputation and credit in the market The Company reopened the Mill sometime in June 1958, i.e., 3/4 months after the closure but took back less than 1/5 of the workmen. The four workmen under reference had put in 8 to 17 years of service and there is no evidence on the side of the Company that all the 450 workmen taken back were senior in service to these four workmen. The records are with the Company and it would have been proper for the Company to prove that juniors were not given preference to seniors when only 1/5 of the total strength of workmen were taken back. The workers like the 4 men under reference were dividing their time between hunger and hope That is the reason why the 4 workmen under reference were forced to express their regret for the alleged incident in expectation that they would be taken back in service, although they categorically denied threatening to assault or assaulting any workmen. The Company neither wanted to pay retrenchment compensation nor did it want to take back all the employees, and with the object of reducing the strength of workers it resorted to a device to get rid of unwanted workmen, specially those in the union executive. It was quite easy to secure a number of written complaints from some workmen who had been taken back in preference to others.

I have already said that the chargesheets and enquiries were not properly drawn up or made and from the facts and circumstances discussed above, I am fully satisfied that the Company was guilty of unfair labour practice and this was responsible for dis-satisfaction among the rank and file of the labour force, that four workmen were victimised who were discharged from service by an improper enquiry with the help of some helpful workmen and this shows the Company's want of bona fides. As the Company conducted the proceedings with the findings of certain facts before issuing chargesheets, the findings arrived at in an improper enquiry were basically wrong. In view of the above findings, I hold that the discharge of the four workmen under reference was not justified. The Company is directed to reinstate and take back each of these four workmen under reference when taking back the next batch of employees to work in the Mill and their service will be considered to be continuous.

This is my award.

The fresh reference to this Tribunal was made in supersession of the previous order of reference to the First Labour Court after the abolition of the said Court.

The only issue referred for decision stands thus:—

Issue

(1) Whether the discharge of Shri Parameshwar Singh and Shri Ram Chandra Singh is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

I will at once proceed to take up the case of each concerned worker separately. In dealing with the case of each worker, I will discuss the relevant facts and respective cases of the parties regarding the worker concerned.

(1) Shri Parameshwar Singh:

At the material time, he was admittedly employed as a motor driver under Messrs. R. Sen & Co. (Agents) Private Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Agent's Company) under a contract for a period of three years from 1st September 1958 to 31st August 1961. Exhibit C is the bilateral contract of service. The contract shows that the nature of service was purely temporary. The case of the Union and the concerned worker in respect of his alleged dismissal is this. On 3rd April 1959 this Driver was asked to sign a piece of paper and was told that he would not be given his pay for March 1959, if he did not sign the paper. He wanted to know the contents of the paper or to read it, but the Cashier refused to disclose the contents or to allow him to read that paper. He then wanted that he should be allowed to put the date below his signature in the paper, but this was also not allowed. He was not given his pay that day, because he did not sign the paper. Then he contacted Shri Mihir Roy, a responsible officer of the Company and also one of its Directors, and narrated the whole occurrence to him and then Shri Roy told him that he had passed the order for his signing the paper before getting his pay and that he would not get his pay unless he signed the paper. This took place on a Saturday. On the following Monday (6th April 1959), he was sent to the workshop of Messrs. G. Mckenzie & Co., with a motor car of the Company for repairs. After leaving the car in the workshop, he went to the Union office, because he was told to come back for the car at 3 or 4 p.m. At the Union office, he complained about the aforesaid occurrence to the Union Secretary. The Union Secretary then telephoned to the Company's office and enquired about the matter. Thereafter he came to the house of Shri Roy at Elgin Road on being asked to go there by Shri Roy, who previously met him at the workshop of Messrs. G. Mckenzie & Co when he went back there for taking back the car after repairs. There Shri Roy told him that his service was dispensed with. This is the case regarding his dismissal which has been testified to by Shri Parameshwar Singh in his evidence before this Tribunal. The Company's case, on the other hand, is that this Driver absented himself from duty continuously from 7th April 1959 without any notice or without any application for leave, oral or written. On 11th April 1959 the Company wrote a letter to him regarding his continued absence and sent it to his home address by registered post. The registered letter came back undelivered. Thereafter two post cards written by Shri Parameshwar Singh to the two companies named in the order of reference were received wherein the fact of the registered letter having been taken for delivery to his home address was admitted. This Company sent a reply to the post card written to it by registered post and it was acknowledged by the concerned worker. This was the letter, dated 5th May 1959, whereby he was informed that on account of his continued absence without leave and without any application, his service had been terminated with effect from 7th April 1959, the date from which he had absented himself. This case has been testified to by Shri Mihir Roy (O.P.W.1), who has deposed for this Company. It is significant to note in this connection that in paragraph 9 of the written statement filed by the Union, it is clearly stated that this worker had previously absented himself from duty on authorised leave, but fell ill at his native place and so, applied for extension of his leave with proper medical certificate but when he returned with a fit certificate, he was not at first allowed to resume his duty. These facts are stated by way of the history of the dispute concerning this worker. In paragraphs 14 to 17 of the written statement, there are allegations that he was asked to sign a paper without knowing its contents or reading it, but he refused to do so and the matter was taken up by the Union, which contacted the Head Office of the Company over telephone on 6th April 1959 and made enquiries about it. Then it is alleged in paragraph 18 that on the afternoon of the 6th April 1959, the concerned officer of the Company, meaning evidently Shri Roy, asked the worker why he had reported the matter to the Union and then told him that his service was no longer required. It is to be noticed that at the hearing no evidence has been adduced in respect of the case about his previous absence after taking leave, as stated in paragraph 9 of the written statement. The case stated in paragraphs 14 to 18 was placed at the hearing. The only evidence in support of this case remains the uncorroborated and interested oral testimony of the concerned worker, Shri Parameshwar Singh himself. I am unable to believe his testimony and to accept it as satisfactory and sufficient proof of this part of his case. On the other hand there is the testimony of Shri Mihir Roy, the Manager and a Director of the Agent's Company, in support of the Company's version of the case that the termination of the service of this worker was made on account of his continued absence for a pretty long period from 7th April 1959 without taking any leave or even making any application for leave. His testimony finds support from the admitted fact that a registered letter was written by the Company to the concerned worker at his home address but it came back undelivered. Ext. E has been proved to be the returned registered cover and Ext. F has been proved to be the office copy of the letter contained in the cover. By the letter, Ext. F, the concerned worker was definitely informed that he was absenting himself from duty from 7th April 1959 without taking any leave or even intimating the office about his absence and he was asked to report for duty immediately or to show reasonable cause for his absence and was further informed that if he failed to do either, he would be dismissed with effect from the date of his absence. In his post card letters, Exts. D and D(1), in which the fact of the registered letter having being taken for delivery to his home address was admitted, the concerned worker put forward the plea that he was attending the Head Office regularly. There is absolutely no satisfactory evidence to prove that he was attending the Head Office, though according to the evidence, he was attached to the Dock office, to which his car was also attached. No one from the Union has come to corroborate his evidence that he really complained to the Union about the alleged incident of 3rd April 1959 on 6th April 1959. Considering the evidence on both sides in respect of the case of this concerned worker, I am fully satisfied that the Company's case is correct and his dismissal by the letter, Ext. G(1), dated 5th May 1959, was on the ground of his continued absence from duty from 7th April 1959 without taking any leave and even without giving any intimation to the Company and that he was really absent in that manner from 7th April 1959 till the order of dismissal was passed after giving him an opportunity to explain his unauthorised absence by the registered letter, Ext. F. For such conduct on the part of the concerned worker, the Company was certainly legally entitled to dispense with his service and if the Company dismissed him on that ground even without any formal charge sheet and enquiry, the dismissal must be held to be justified upon the proved facts and circumstances of the present case, which clearly show that this worker wilfully and deliberately abandoned his service under the Company and did not show any satisfactory cause at all regarding his absence even after the Company sent him the registered letter, Ext. F. In any case, when continued absence without taking any leave or giving any intimation to the Company has been definitely established in the present case, the concerned worker guilty of such conduct may be quite legitimately held to have been justifiably dismissed by the Tribunal before whom the entire evidence regarding the matter has been placed.

It has been sought to be made out on behalf of both the concerned workers and the Union that their dismissals were malafide and were acts of victimisation by way of retaliation against the conduct of the workmen in placing certain grievances before the Company and initiating conciliation proceedings over the grievances. There is such a case in the written statement and in support of this case, reference has been made in the written statement to Annexure A, alleged to be a copy of the letter of the Union whereby the grievances of the workmen were placed before the Company and also to Annexures B and C alleged to be copies of letters written by the Union to some Conciliation Officer. It is also alleged in the written statement that some conciliation proceedings were really initiated. The Agent's Company has denied all these allegations. There is absolutely no legal evidence to prove any of the letters covered by Annexures A, B and C. None of these letters was called for from the alleged addresses. If there was really any conciliation proceeding over any dispute regarding the grievances placed by the workers before the Company, the fact could have been easily proved by calling for the appropriate record from the office of the Labour Commissioner, but no step in that direction was taken. In these circumstances, I cannot attach any value to or even take notice of Annexures A, B and C and I reject the whole case of the Union regarding these letters and the facts apparently covered by them for the simple reason that neither the documents nor the facts have been legally proved. I hold, therefore, that it has not been proved that the Company acted in a spirit of retaliation on account of the grievances placed by the workers before it and any connected conciliation proceedings in the matter of dismissing any of these two workers. So, the plea in the case of the present worker that his dismissal was a mala fide act of victimisation is also rejected. Moreover, when the Company's case about the ground of his dismissal has been accepted, it must be held that the Company was placed in such a position by the worker's continued absence without leave and even without any notice that it could justifiably dismiss him in a perfectly bona fide manner and so, irrespective of the case of the Union and the concerned workman regarding the background of his dismissal, the dismissal must be held to be bona fide.

On the above findings and for the reasons given above, I hold that the dismissal of the present worker, Shri Parameshwar Singh, was fully justified and it was not a mala fide act of victimisation. Hence, he is not entitled to any relief against his dismissal. I award accordingly in his case.

(2) Shri Ram Chandra Singh:

Admittedly, this worker was being employed on purely temporary basis for specified periods under different contracts [vide Exts. 1, 1(a) and 1(b)]. His last appointment before his impugned dismissal was for the period from 4th April 1958 to 31st March 1959 under the bilaterial contract, Ext. A. This contract shows that he was appointed on a purely temporary basis for the aforesaid period on certain terms and conditions and one of the terms was that his service was to terminate with the expiry of the specified period of contract. It is both parties' case that after expiry of the last period of contract on 31st March 1959, he was not given any further employment and in this way his service terminated. The Company's case is that it was a case of automatic termination of his service in terms of the contract under which he was serving. This is also practically the Union's case in paragraph 23 of the Union's written statement, where it is clearly stated that his service has been terminated at the end of the last contract period. It is also admitted by this concerned worker that he was discharged after the expiry of his last contract. He has also admitted that after the expiry of his contract service, he got payment of his full wages for his service period up to March 1959 under the receipt, Ext. B. I have already rejected the general case of the Union that in the matter of dismissals of both these workers, the Company acted mala fide and in a spirit of victimisation by way of retaliation against the demands placed by the workers before the Company and the consequent conciliation proceedings. So, on that ground, the termination of service of the present worker cannot be justifiably impugned as mala fide or as an act of victimisation. The concerned worker has stated in his evidence that though new Drivers have been appointed after the termination of his contract period, he was not taken in. It is also stated that he was never charge-sheeted during the period of his service. These facts have not been challenged in his cross-examination. But even accepting these facts to be correct, it cannot be said at once that his dismissal was mala fide or an act of v misation. When admittedly he held service a specified period under a contract, in terms which his service automatically expired at the of the contract period, the Company had the liberty of deciding for itself whether it w continue to employ the concerned worker further and if it decided against the worker, if there was also nothing to show that in mal the decision, it was actuated by any mala motive of victimisation, the Tribunal cannot should not interfere and force him back upon Company. So far as this worker is particul concerned, no facts have been proved wherel it can be reasonably held that the decision of Company not to renew his contract of service further was not made in exercise of its right directing its internal administration but made with a mala fide motive and in a spirit victimisation.

In the above view of the case concerning t worker, Shri Ram Chandra Singh, I hold that termination of his employment on the expiry the contract period was fully justified and it v not exactly a case of dismissal and so, he is entitled to any relief against such termination his service. I award accordingly in his case.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department by order No. 4048-IR/IR/11L-219/59, dated the 30th July 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute regarding a matter specified in the second schedule to the Act, to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

This dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court, by order No. 3406-IR/IR/11L-219/59, dated the 24th July 1959, read with corrigendum No. 6487-IR/IR/11L-219/59, dated the 30th November 1959, for adjudication which has been replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-IR/IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by notification No. 3508-IR/IR/3A-9/59, dated the 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

Whether the termination of employment of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shri Sushil Kumar Bera,

(2) Shri Sukumar Ghose.

This reference is in respect of termination of employment of two workmen—(1) Shri Sushil Kumar Bera and (2) Shri Sukumar Ghose from the service of New Annapurna Mistanna Bhandar.

The Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal (hereinafter called the Union) representing the two workmen alleges that Shri Sushil Kumar Bera was in the employment of the Mistanna Bhandar from 1957 and that Shri Sukumar Ghose was working from April 1958 and that both of them were discharged from service by the Proprietor of the Company on 30th October 1958 without any notice and charge-sheet.

The New Annapurna Mistanna Bhandar (hereinafter called the Company) states in its written statement that the workers were working on daily-wage-basis and used to have their remuneration at the end of the day's work and that they voluntarily left service, and as such, they are not entitled to reinstatement.

On the day of hearing, i.e., on 6th September 1961 no one appeared for the Company. The two workmen—Shri Sushil Kumar Bera and Shri Sukumar Ghose were examined by the Union. They deposed that they were discharged from service as they had demanded holidays. There is none on the side of the Company to challenge the statement of P.Ws. 1 and 2, the two workmen concerned in this reference. Considering the evidence of the two witnesses I find that the termination of employment of Shri Sushil Kumar Bera and Shri Sukumar Ghose is unjustified. This being the case they are entitled to reinstatement. As they have been out of employment of the Company since 31st October 1958 I allow them back wages for 1/5th of the period of unemployment, i.e., from 31st October 1958 till the date they are taken back in service. The Company is directed to reinstate the two workmen under reference with continuity of their service within thirty days from the date of publication of this award in the official gazette.

This is my award

AWARD

By order No. 992/IR/IR/10L-40/61, dated the 28th February 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lotus Industries, 15 Stark Road, Lillooah, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen, represented by Howrah District Engineering and Metal Workers' Union, 4 Panchkari Mohanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Union), regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-IR/IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

This reference was received by this Tribunal on 13th March 1961 and immediately thereafter, notices were served upon both the parties who entered appearances and filed their respective written statements but ultimately they amicably settled up their dispute.

Issue

The only issue formulated for adjudication is—
Whether the termination of employment of Shri Dinesh Chandra Kansha Banik and Shri Ganesh Chandra Dhara is justified. To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Both these workmen and the Company's representative appeared before this Tribunal on 13th September 1961 and filed a joint petition of compromise to show that the said two workmen are still in employment of the Company and they have no longer any dispute with the Company. Both these workmen were identified before the Tribunal Shri B. K. Mukherjee, the learned Advoc appearing for the Company. They also produ before me their identity cards, issued under State Insurance Scheme. They have admitted t they have been in service of the Company and t have now nothing to complain against Company.

Therefore, I am led to the conclusion that th is no dispute in existence between the parties present and as such let there by a "no-disput award as jointly prayed for by the parties.

The joint petition of compromise, filed on 1 September 1961, will form a part of the award an annexure.

This is my award.

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate and Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate.

For the workman: Shri M. Saha, Advocate.

Award

This proceeding arises out of a complaint lodged before this Tribunal by the petitioner, Shri Suren Das, to the effect that his service as a worker under the Company Opposite Party was illegally and unjustifiably terminated by the order of dismissal contained in the Company's letter, dated 11th/16th December 1960 in contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act during the pendency of an adjudication proceeding before this Tribunal in respect of a dispute between the Company and its workmen referred to this Tribunal under Government order No. 3612I.R./IR/IIL-369/60, dated the 19th July 1960, inasmuch as, the approval of this Tribunal in respect of the said dismissal was not taken, nor was there payment of any notice pay as mandatorily required by that section.

The relevant facts underlying the aforesaid complaint, as given in the petition, are briefly as follows:—

The petitioner was a permanent workman of more than 13 years' standing. On 20th September 1960 he was arrested by the police in connection with a criminal case on the basis of a false identification made by some persons hostile to him and he was kept under detention in connection with this case till 11th December 1960, on which date he was discharged by the Magistrate. In the meantime, he had intimated to the Company through a lawyer's letter, dated the 28th October 1960, that he was arrested on 20th September 1960 and was in police custody and would join and submit satisfactory explanation as soon as he was released. Before that letter, the Company sent him a charge-sheet which showed that the fact of his arrest by the police was known to the Company. Finally the Company dismissed him by its letter, dated the 11th/16th December 1960. On the above alleged facts, it is contended by the petitioner that his dismissal was illegal and unjustified and was an instance of his victimisation against all principles of natural justice. He claims the relief of reinstatement with full back wages and continuity of service.

The Company has filed a written statement against the petition of complaint. Firstly, a preliminary objection has been raised against the maintainability of the complaint purporting to be under section 33A and the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to entertain the complaint and next it is contended that the petitioner was not dismissed, as alleged by him but his service was terminated in accordance with the provisions of rule 6 of the Standing Orders of the Company on account of his continued absence from 21st September 1960 without any notice and the Company first came to know about his arrest in connection with the criminal case from his lawyer's letter, dated the 28th October 1960, which was a reply to the Company's letter, dated the 25th October 1960. It is then averred that it was not a case of dismissal or discharge falling within the purview of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, but it was a case of simple termination of his service according to rule 6 of the Standing Orders of the Company.

The preliminary objection against the maintainability of the present complaint under section 33A and the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to entertain the complaint cannot be decided without determining whether it was a case of dismissal for any misconduct which fell under section 33, Industrial Disputes Act. Though the particular provisions of section 33 under which this impugned dismissal fell has not been clearly and definitely stated in the petition of complaint, it is obvious from the basic facts appearing from the written statements of both parties, which are mostly undisputed, that the dismissal in question would fall under section 33(2)(b) if that section was at all applicable to it. Admittedly, the dismissal or termination of his service was made on the ground of his continued absence from 21st September 1960 for a period of more than two months. It is contended on behalf of the petitioner that this absence was treated as a misconduct by the Company, which at first issued a charge-sheet for this misconduct by its letter, dated the 25th October 1960 (Ext. 1), whereby he was asked to show cause why his service would not be terminated and finally the dismissal was effected by the letter, dated the 12th/16th November 1960 (Ext. 3), on the ground of the same misconduct and this misconduct was not connected with the dispute in regard to which adjudication proceedings were then pending before this Tribunal. I should mention here that the letter of dismissal, which is Ext. 3, was really dated the 12th/16th November 1960 and not the 11th/16th December 1960, as wrongly stated in the petition of complaint. I have already indicated above that the Company's case is that it was not a case of dismissal for misconduct at all but it was a case of termination of service simpli citer in accordance with the provisions of rule 6 of the Standing Orders and the Company was fully entitled in law so to terminate the service of the concerned worker without complying with the provisions of section 33(2)(b) and the proviso thereunder not withstanding that adjudication proceedings in respect of another dispute between the Company and its workmen were then pending. It cannot be gainsaid that the impugned dismissal can only come under section 33(2)(b) and the proviso thereunder only if it is found to be a dismissal for "a misconduct not connected with the dispute." The language of section 33(2) read as a whole mak this position perfectly clear. It is thus first to determined whether the impugned dismissal w for any misconduct at all. Admittedly, the reas for the dismissal or termination of service was t continued absence of the concerned workman for long period from 21st September 1960 without a notice to the Company. To determine whether su absence on the part of the workman amounted misconduct, we must refer to the admitted Stan ing Orders (Ext. B) and see whether there is a definition of "misconduct" in the Standing Orde and, if so, whether this particular conduct of concerned workman amounted to misconduct f ing within the said definition. There is definit of misconduct and also description of partic acts or conducts amounting to misconduct rule 7(iii) of the Standing Orders. Clauses (a (d) under sub-rule (iii) particularise the acts conducts which would amount to misconducts, continued absence without notice does not under any of these clauses. So, according to Standing Orders, continued absence of the wor as in the present case, could not and did amount to misconduct and so it cannot be tre as a misconduct for the purpose of the pre dispute between the parties. Necessarily, follows that the dismissal of the worker for c nued absence without notice cannot be held t a dismissal for any misconduct according to Standing Orders which certainly governs relations between the Company and its workme regard to disciplinary actions and other mat Rule 6 of the Standing Orders lays down general conditions of termination of the servi any permanent employee of the Company this rule gives the Company the right to term the service of any worker by complying with conditions laid down therein. In other w this rule governs the termination of service s citer of any workman. In the present case Company by its letter, dated the 12th/16th N ber 1960 (Ext. 3), clearly indicated that the mination of the service of the concerned w was made in accordance with rule 6 of the Sta Orders and after complying with the conditio that order. Of course, in this letter the reas this action of the Company was given as his nued absence from 21st September 1960 and quent loss of his service to the Company. mention of this reason in the order of dismiss contained in Ext. 3, cannot certainly transf into a case of dismissal for any misconduct f under section 33(2)(b) and the proviso there for the reasons already given above. It is by the evidence on the record that the Co fully complied with the terms and conditio rule 6 of the Standing Orders by remitting 14 wages in lieu of notice together with all his wages for the period of his actual service by order to the worker but the money order w received and so it was returned. Ext. A returned M.O. form. It has no doubt been by the evidence on the record that this work arrested by the police on 20th September 1 connection with some criminal case and kept in detention pending police investigati 14th December 1960, on which date he w charged by the Magistrate. The worker (P.W. 1) has testified to these facts allenge and Ext. 4 is the authenticated discharge order of the Magistrate. It is in evidence at this worker was arrested on being identified Bharat Bhagani and so that name appears in e discharge order. The Company was not rtainly responsible for his arrest and detention nd there is no evidence to that effect. It cannot e said, therefore, that his arrest and detention was rought about by some mala fide manipulation on ie part of the Company. The fact remained hat on account of the arrest and detention of the oncerned worker in connection with the criminal ase, with which the Company had no concern, this vorker remained absent for a pretty long time without any notice to the Company before the Company issued the general show cause notice, lated the 25th October 1960 (Ext. 1), and it was nly in reply to this notice that the worker intinated the reasons of his absence by his lawyer's etter, Ext. 2. This general show-cause notice has been called a charge-sheet and it has been argued that this shows that the worker was considered to have committed some misconduct and, therefore, charge-sheeted. I am unable to accept this contention. It was nothing but a general show-cause notice to the worker who was absenting himself without any notice to the Company and the Company must be held to have acted in complete good faith in issuing this notice. The Company cannot be said to have acted mala fide or in a spirit of victimisation by effecting termination of the service of this worker simpli citer according to the provisions of rule 6 of the Standing Orders for the reason given in the show-cause notice, Ext. 1. The Company had certainly the right to terminate the service of the worker in the aforesaid circumstances by having recourse to the general provisions of termination of service simpli citer as contained in rule 6 of the Standing Orders. This view finds support from the decision of the Supreme Court in regard to the dismissal of some workers in similar circumstances in the case of Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. versus their workmen [1958 (I) L.L.J., page 260]. This particular decision appears at page 268.

In the above view of the facts and circumstances of the case and the law applicable thereto, I hold that the impunged dismissal or termination of service of the concerned worker in the present case could not and did not fall under section 33(2)(b) and the proviso thereunder and as such, the action of the Company in effecting the dismissal or termination of service without complying with the conditions of the proviso was not illegal, and it was not necessary to comply with the conditions of the proviso and I also hold that as a case of termination of service of the concerned worker simpli citer in accordance with rule 6 of the Standing Orders, the action of the Company was fully bona fide and justified.

This complaint is, therefore, not maintainable under section 33A and there is also no substance in it. This complaint fails and is rejected. The applicant is not entitled to any relief and I award accordingly.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. The Himalaya Optical Co., 285/F Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Optical Workers' Association, Calcutta, 1 1 Tarak Mitra Lane, Calcutta-26 (case No. VIII-C-340 '58).

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present,

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

By order No. 5411-I.R./IR/III-607/58, dated Calcutta, the 22nd December 1958, Government of West Bengal, Labourt Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. The Himalaya Optical Co. and their workmen represented by Optical Workers' Association to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue mentioned in the order of reference

Issue

(1) Whether the dismissal of Shri Balbhadra Dubey is justified? To what relief is he entitled?

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:

The employees of the Company, viz., Messrs. The Himalaya Optical Co. were smarting under various grievances for a long time. Eventually Optical Workers' Association, i.e., the present Union was formed, and the employees of the Company joined that Union. The Company took exception to the formation of the Union and wanted to create a sense of panic amongst the workmen with an ulterior motive. Shri Balbhadra Dubey, the workman mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, went on leave on 17th May 1958 for two months and accordingly reported for duty on 17th July 1958. The Company wanted to demonstrate in the case of Shri Balbhadra Dubey that it was capable of putting any man to any trouble by any false plea and thus to create a sense of frustration in the mind of the workmen in general. So the Company asked Shri Balbhadra Dubey to resume his duty as a new employee on the plea that he had been dismissed, but no reason for the dismissal was given. He did not agree to the suggestion of the Company to resume work as a new employee. So he was not allowed to resume his duty. Thus this is a case of dismissal. As the Company did not state any reason for this dismissal, not to speak of issuing a charge-sheet or holding any enquiry, the Union contends that the dismissal of Shri Balbhadra Dubey is unjustified.

The Company denies the allegations of the Union that it did not like the formation of the Union or that it took action against Shri Balbhadra Dubey on account of his being a member of the Union. According to the Company, the facts of the case are briefly as follows:

The attendance of Shri Balbhadra Dubey had always been extremely poor. During the years 1953 to 1958 in which he worked in the Company he was absent without any leave for a large number of days every year. He was given several warnings for his unauthorised absence and overstaying of leave; these warnings were of no avail. The last of such warnings was given to him in 1957. He was granted leave without pay from 19th May 1958 to 31st May 1958, and so he was due to resume his duty on 1st June 1958. He did not resume his duty on that day nor did he write anything to the Company in the matter. The Company knowing his habit waited for him for more than a month, and on 3rd July 1958 sent a registered letter to him at his permanent address asking him to explain his unauthorised absence since 1st June 1958 and informing him that if he did not report for duty on or before 10th July 1958, it would be taken that he had voluntarily quitted his employment. That letter came back undelivered, with the postal remark "left, return to sender". He came to the Company in the second week of August 1958, when he was told that his name had been struck off the rolls in terms of the Company's letter, dated the 3rd July 1958. So the Company contends that Shri Balbhadra Dubey put an end to his employment by his own conduct, and that as such this is not a case of dismissal. So the issue in the order of reference is not maintainable legally.

Appearances of the parties are as follows:—

For the Company: Shri T. K. Jagdish, Labour Adviser and Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate.

Findings

The Company has stated in its written statement that Shri Balbhadra Dubey himself put an end to his employment, but in the letter, dated the 3rd July 1958, which is the basis of this contention of the Company, the Company has informed him that unless he resumed his duty on the 10th July 1958, his name would be struck off from the rolls of the factory. I do not see what distinction the Company wants to make between striking off the rolls and dismissal. In effect there is no distinction between the two. It is not that Balbhadra Dubey refused to resume his duty. The Company wrote to him that unless he resumed duty on 10th July 1958, his name would be struck off the rolls; eventually the Company did so. So this is a clear case of dismissal. So the contention of the Company that the issue in the order of reference is bad in law is not maintainable.

So the next point is whether the dismissal of Shri Balbhadra Dubey is justified. The grievance of the Company against him is that he overstayed his leave and was therefore guilty of unauthorised absence. So obviously, the Company terminated his service on account of a misconduct. It is admitted that no charge-sheet was issued against him for that misconduct, there is of course no question of any enquiry. Shri H. L. Roy, Advocate appearing on behalf of the Union, has referred me two decisions of the Labour Appellate Tribunal reported at pages 579 and 586 of L.L.J. 1952 and to a decision of the Supreme Court of India reported at page 303 L.L.J. 1961, Volume I. It is clear from those decisions that if an employee is dismissed on account of absentism without issuing of charge-sheet or holding of enquiry, this is a violation of the principles of natural justice. But the violation of the principles of natural justice does not ipso facto make a dismissal of an employee unjustified. The legal consequence of such a violation is that the whole matter is at large before the adjudicating court. So I have now to decide on the evidence adduced before me as to whether the dismissal of Balbhadra Dubey is justified. Shri Balbhadra Dubey says that he was granted leave for two months with effect from 17th May 1958 and he accordingly presented himself for duty on 17th July 1958. He has been corroborated by P.W. 2, Shri Krishna Ch. Deb, P.W. 3, Shri Ajit Mondal and P.W. 4, Shri Samser Ali, three workmen of the Company. On the other hand, O.P.W. 1, Shri Nathmal Binani, a partner of the Company and O.P.W. 2, Shri Nanda Dulal Mukherjee, who is incharge of the workshop of the Company say that Shri Balbhadra Dubey was granted leave only for 13 days up to 31st May 1958 and that he came to the Company in the second week of August 1958. The Union has not produced any documentary evidence in support of its contention that Shri Balbhadra Dubey was granted leave for two months. Shri Balbhadra Dubey in his evidence has denied his signature in some pages of the acquittance roll of the Company. But he has admitted that he put his signature on the acquittance roll whenever he took his wages and that no wages due to him was outstanding. So obviously those signatures are his. O.P.W. 1 has also said that these signatures are of Shri Balbhadra Dubey. So it cannot be said that Shri Balbhadra Dubey is a truthful man. P.Ws. 2, 3 and 4 say that while leaving the office of the Company on 17th May 1958 Shri Balbhadra Dubey told them that he had been granted leave for two months. There are discrepancies in their evidence as to the time when he told them so. It is doubtful whether they were at all present in the office of the Company when Balbhadra Dubey left it after being granted leave. Further there is no reason why he should tell them about the period for which he was granted leave. P.Ws. also say that Balbhadra Dubey reported for duty on 17th July 1958. But Balbhadra Dubey cannot say what day of the week that important date 17th July 1958 was? Again the P.Ws. say that Shri Balbhadra Dubey was not allowed to join his work on 17th July 1958, but it is strange that none of them or the Union protested against this conduct of the Company. On the other hand, O.P.Ws. 1 and 2 have produced an order EXT. F showing that Shri Balbhadra Dubey was granted leave for 13 days. They also say that he did not come to the Company before the second week of August 1958. There is no reason whatsoever to disbelieve their evidence. The Union has raised the plea that Balbhadra Dubey was dismissed on account of his being a member of the Union. But it is on evidence that the Union was formed two or three days after Shri Balbhadra Dubey had gone on leave and that other members of the Union are still in the service of the Company. So the plea of victimisation fails. So it cannot be urged that O.P.Ws. 1 and 2 have deposed falsely in order to support a case of victimisation. The Union has produced a slip (EXT. 1) purported to be an order for payment of some money to Balbhadra Dubey issued by the local office of Employees' State Insurance Corporation. Balbhadra Dubey says that he went to that local office with a letter from the Company on 19th July 1958. From this he wants to create a presumption that he reported to the Company on 17th July 1958. Below the signature of the Manager in that slip (Ext. 1) the date is perhaps 19th July but no year is mentioned. So it cannot be said definitely that the slip is of the date 19th July 1958. Further, there is no evidence that Shri Balbhadra Dubey personally appeared at that local office on that date. So this slip does not raise any presumption that Balbhadra Dubey reported to the Company on 17th July 1958. So it is clear that Shri Balbhadra Dubey was granted leave only up to 31st June 1958 and that after overstaying the leave for more than two months he appeared at the Company in the second week of August 1958. But this overstaying does not automatically justify dismissal. He may have good reasons for over-staying. So it is necessary to consider whether he had reasons to overstay the leave. The Union has not adduced any evidence as to why he overstayed the leave. Even Shri Balbhadra Dubey in his evidence has not said a word as to why he overstayed the leave. On the other hand, his contention is that he reported for duty immediately on the expiry of the leave. Even though he did not say the reasons for his overstaying the leave before the management of the Company, he could say the reasons before me; but he has not done so. So I hold that he has overstayed the leave without any valid reason. There is also evidence to show that he committed such misconduct in previous years also. In such circumstances the punishment of dismissal for such overstaying cannot be considered to be too severe. Hence I hold that the order of dismissal of Shri Balbhadra Dubey is justified. As such, he is not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the schedule to the order of reference was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6798-I.R./IR/111-362/59, dated 9th December 1959, and the same dispute was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3951-I.R./IR/111-362/59, dated 27th July 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference after the abolition of the said Court.

The only issue referred for decision stands thus:—

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Sm. Shova Sabaran is justified? To what relief, if any, is she entitled?

After service of usual notices of the present reference upon the parties, the Union appeared and adopted the written statement it had already filed before the First Labour Court and then the Company also adopted its written statement filed before that Court. After preliminary proceedings, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 6th September 1961. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out the terms upon which the dispute had been settled between them and praying for an award in terms of the compromise.

I have heard the representatives of both sides and considered the terms of compromise set forth in the joint petition. The terms appear to be quite fair and reasonable. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties. Accordingly, there should be an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition of the parties.

In the result, I make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties on 6th September 1961. A copy of the petition is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

This is an application purported to be under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Indra Narayan Bhattacharjee for his alleged dismissal by the employer Company—Messrs. Bangur Bros. Ltd., 14 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, during the pendency of the main dispute between the Company and their workman referred under Government order No. 3256-I.R., dated the 5th August 1958, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

AWARD

The workman petitioner's case in short is this: The petitioner Shri Bhattacharjee was an employee of the opposite party Company for about nine years with a clean record of service. On 24th March 1960 the petitioner was suddenly a victim of motor accident and had to be removed to his residence after treatment. He applied for leave till recovery by a petition of that date. A medical certificate was also sent along with the petition. During this period of the petitioner's sickness, the Company brought two false charges one after another, and the petitioner submitted his replies thereto. The petitioner reported for duty after recovery on 25th August 1960, but he was not allowed to join his duties. On 12th November 1960 the Company informed the petitioner that his services were terminated under section 2(oo)c of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is contended that this termination of employment was unjust, illegal and arbitrary, as the Company did not file any application under section 33 of the Act, even though an industrial dispute was pending between the parties before this Tribunal.

The Company files a written statement opposing the said petition, and inter alia alleges that the application under section 33A of the Act is not at all maintainable in law, as there has been no contravention of section 33 of the Act. It is alleged that the petitioner Shri Indra Narayan Bhattacharjee was an employee in the Head Office of Messrs. Hastings Mill Ltd and there was no standing order for the employees of the Head Office. It is urged that section 33 of the Act has no application in the absence of any standing orders applicable to the workman concerned. It is further urged that the services of the petitioner workman were terminated for his continued ill health and not by way of punitive measure, and accordingly section 33 of the Act has no application.

The Company's case is that the petitioner Shri Bhattacharjee was very irregular in his attendance, and absented himself from duty off and on on the ground of ill health, causing much inconvenience to the Company's work. In 1957-58 Shri Bhattacharjee absented himself from work for many days. Similarly, in 1958-59 also he remained absent for a good number of days. Likewise, in 1959-60 also he was found absenting himself from work on various occasions of continuously except for a few days in the month of March 1960. Shri Bhattacharjee practically absented himself right from the beginning of the year till he was discharged. Furthermore, on a scrutiny of the record maintained by the petitioner, it was detected that he had collected some amount of provident fund contribution and repayment of loans by the employees, but he did not credit these amounts in the Company's books of accounts, nor did he deposit the same with any Bank. So, a charge-sheet for this defalcation was issued against him on 30th April 1960. On receipt of his explanation, dated 7th May 1960, Shri Bhattacharjee was directed to appear at the enquiry to be held on 17th May 1960. But he failed to appear on the date fixed. At last, the Company was compelled to hold the enquiry in his absence, and the management found him guilty of gross misconduct as mentioned in the charge-sheet, and thus he merited dismissal. Even after this enquiry, Shri Bhattacharjee continued to absent himself from duty. Thereafter, a letter was issued to him on 22nd September 1960 asking him to show cause why his services should not be dispensed with. In spite of it, Shri Bhattacharjee continued to remain absent and the Company at last terminated his service on 12th November 1960.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:

Decision

The points for determination in this case are—

(1) Is the application maintainable under section 33A of the Act? Is the allegation of contravention of section 33 of the Act true?

(2) Is the charge brought against the petitioner bona fide and duly substantiated?

(3) Is the allegation of termination of service of the petitioner on account of continued ill health and prolonged absence bona fide and justified?

Point No. 1

As I have mentioned above, the present application is purported to be under section 33A of the Act. The learned lawyer for the Company contends that the present application is not maintainable, because there has been no contravention of section 33 of the Act. Section 33A clearly provides that "where an employer contravenes the provisions of section 33 during the pendency of proceedings before a.....Tribunal, any employee aggrieved by such contravention may make a complaint in writing in the prescribed manner to such Tribunal." It is not in dispute that an industrial dispute between the present Company and their workmen was actually pending before this Tribunal at the time when the petitioner Shri Bhattacharjee was dismissed or discharged. It is also not in dispute that the Company did not apply to the Tribunal for approval of the action taken by them against the workman under section 33(2)(b) of the Act. It is urged on behalf of the Company that the provisions of section 33 do not at all apply to the present case, and so the question of seeking approval under that section or contravention of the provisions of that section does not arise. The learned lawyer for the Company submits that there being no standing orders applicable in respect of the workmen in the category of the present petitioner, the question of discharging or dismissing a workman in accordance with the standing orders applicable to such workman does not arise, and so section 33(2)(b) is not attracted at all. The learned lawyer for the Company further places reliance on a decision reported in 1960 I, L.L.J. 77, (Atmasing Pagsin vs. Anil Starch Products Ltd.) and urges that in the present case the workman was neither discharged not dismissed by way of punishment. It was simply a case of termination of service for continued ill health and prolonged absence, and so the provisions of section 33(2)(b) are not attracted. On the other hand, the learned lawyer for the workman relies on a decision reported in 1959 I, L.L.J. 637, and submits that it cannot be contended that in the absence of any standing orders framed under the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, the ordinary conditions of service between master and servant would not be applicable. It is urged that the words "in accordance with the standing orders" occurring in section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act only mean that the procedure which might be adopted for discharging a workman should be in accordance with the standing orders, if there are any; but if there are no standing orders, the restriction does not apply. Even in a case where there are no standing orders, a workman can be dismissed after domestic enquiry for misconduct unconnected with the dispute pending before the Tribunal, provided the conditions laid down in the proviso to section 33(2) are complied with. It cannot be contended, it is urged, that in such a case the Industrial Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain an application for approval under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. In short, while the Company's case is that section 33 of the Act does not apply to a workman if there be no standing orders to govern him, the learned lawyer for the workman contends that approval is necessary in case of a punitive measure irrespective of the question whether there are standing orders or not. In this connection, I may point out that the object of section 33 must be borne in mind. By enacting section 33 the Legislature wanted to ensure a fair and satisfactory enquiry of the industrial dispute undisturbed by any action on the part the employer or the employee which would crea fresh cause for disharmony between them, a that during the pendency of an industrial dispu status quo should be maintained and no furth element of discord should be introduced. T Legislature, of course, laid down certain exce tions to this general intention. If the miscondu complained of be not connected with the industri dispute pending from before, the employer ma take action under section 33(2)(b) of the Act wit the approval of the Tribunal concerned. If the be any standing orders to govern such workme the enquiry, if any, held by the employer must b in accordance with the standing orders. If, how ever, there be no standing orders, the question compliance with the standing orders does not sure arise. In any case the Company cannot dismiss discharge a workman without the approval of t Tribunal concerned. So, in the present case, the petitioner was really discharged or dismissed b way of punishment, section 33(2)(b) will no doub be attracted, even if there were no standing order to govern. It is next urged on behalf of the Com pany that the petitioner Shri Bhattacharjee wa not dismissed or discharged for any misconduct but his services were simply terminated, and so th provisions of section 33 of the Act were no actually attracted. In this connection, I ma refer to Ext. 1(c) by which the Company finall purported to terminate the service of Shri Bhatt charjee. The relevant portion of the letter run as follows:—

"With reference to our charge-sheet date 30th April 1960 against you, a notice was given to you informing you that an enquiry would b held on 24th May 1960. You avoided attendance at the said enquiry. The Company, however made an enquiry and found you guilty to th charges complained of, which are gross mi conducts meriting dismissal.

Further, since 24th March 1960 you were absenting in an unauthorised manner. By ou letter, dated 27th May 1960, you were asked t produce documents in support of your allege illness. But you failed to submit the same a asked for. You did not submit the cash memo of the medicines as prescribed or other evidenc to the satisfaction of the management. Mer filing of the medical certificate cannot be take as conclusive evidence of your alleged illnes However, according to you, you were absentin in an unauthorised manner since 24th Marc 1960 for your continued illness. In the abov circumstances, your services are hereby ter minated as per section 2(oo)(c) of the Industria Disputes Act."

From the above final order of the Company, would be clear that the Company not only mad an enquiry into the charges brought against th petitioner, but found him guilty of the charg also. It was categorically stated that the pet tioner merited dismissal on that ground. O course, it was further added that the petitioner wa absenting in an unauthorised manner since 24t March 1960 for continued illness. From the las sentence of the above order, it will be further clear that the services of the petitioner were ter minated "in the above circumstances", apparently meaning both the above circumstances. Thus m nsidered opinion is that the Company really tended to discharge the petitioner not only on e ground of continued absence owing to illness, it also on account of the misconduct mentioned in e charge brought against him. Even though ere were no standing orders to govern the petiner at the relevant time, his discharge being a nitive one—the provisions of section 33(2)(b) re certainly attracted. So, it was incumbent on the employer to seek approval of the Tribu-l. Thus, in any view of the matter, it cannot held that section 33 of the Act was not ntravened. The result is that the present plication under section 33A must be deemed to maintainable. The point is decided cordingly.

The next question for consideration is whether e charge of misappropriation levelled against the titioner Shri Bhattacharjee on 30th April 1960 bona fide and whether there are sufficient materials for establishing the charge. Ext. 1(f) is the levant carge-sheet. It will be clear from the arge-sheet that the Company cited instances of isappropriation against Shri Bhattacharjee. ere is no dispute that this charge-sheet was duly rved upon Shri Bhattacharjee. Ext. A-3, dated h May 1960, is the original reply of Shri Bhattarjee to the said charge. After receipt of this ply, the Company gave a notice to Shri Bhattarjee to appear before the Enquiring Officer on th May 1960 at 3 p.m. [vide Ext. 1-(d)]. After e receipt of the notice of enquiry, Shri Bhattarjee by his letter, dated 21st May 1960 (vide xt. A) asked for 15 days' time for attending the quiry. After receipt of this letter, the Company ed 7th June 1960 as the date of enquiry and ve due notice thereof to Shri Bhattacharjee (vide xt. J). But in spite of this notice, Shri Bhattarjee failed to appear before the Enquiring ficer at the time of enquiry held on 7th June 60. So, the enquiry was held in the absence of ri Bhattacharjee. Ext. J includes the departental proceedings and the evidence in this nnection. It will be clear from Ext. J that the quiring Officer examined 4 witnesses in this nnection. The Enquiring Officer Shri Pandey ter scrutinising the evidence recorded by him, lieved the story of misappropriation to be true, d opined that Shri Bhattacharjee merited disissal. On receipt of the enquiry report, dated e 7th June 1961, the Company was not pleased pass the order of dismissal forthwith. On 22nd ptember 1960 the Company issued a fresh notice Shri Bhattacharjee asking him to show cause hy his services should not be dispensed with for s unauthorised absence from 24th March 1960. ere was some correspondence between the parties ter this notice also, and ultimately the Comny terminated the service of Shri Bhattacharjee 12th November 1960 on account of the said arges. I shall discuss about the unauthorised sence, if any, while deciding the point No. 3 reafter. For the present, I shall consider how r the charge of misappropriation has been tually substantiated. I have already mentioned at the Enquiring Officer, Shri Pandey, considred the statements of four witnesses, looked into e connected papers and account books, and came to the conclusion that the charge of misappropriation was true. The learned lawyer for the petitioner workman contends that the enquiry held by Shri Pandey was not proper or legal. My attention is drawn to the statement of Shri S. P. Kabra (O.P.W. 1). It appears from the statement of Shri Kabra that one Dawanji came to Shri Kabra on a certain date and made some queries. Dawanji took away some papers also from Shri Kabra. Shri Kabra further adds that he signed his statement (Ext. F) three/four months after the said enquiry, and he says that Dawanji actually obtained his signature on Ext. F, though Shri Pandey was purported to be the Enquiring Officer. Thus it appears that there was no regular enquiry in this case by Shri Pandey, at least in respect of the witness Shri Kabra. Nevertheless, I may point out that Shri Kabra admits before me that he actually signed the statement (Ext. F), and that the statement is otherwise correct also. It is not difficult to imagine that there might be some laxity in the procedure followed by the Enquring Officer, as the enquiry he held was ex parte only. But considering the undisputed statements recorded in this connection and considered by the Equiring Officer, I may observe that in spite of formal irregularity, if any, there was no substantial failure of justice. Shri Bhattacharjee could not take part in the enquiry proceedings. All the witnesses were examined in his absence, and they affixed their signatures to their respective statements. There is no material before me to show that the statements of different witnesses were actually false or fabricated. In this view of the matter, I may at once conclude that there were sufficient materials before the Enquiring Officer to show that Shri Bhattacharjee misappropriated certain amounts which he had received towards provident fund contribution or repayment of loans by different members of the fund. Assuming for argument's sake that there was no proper enquiry by the Enquiring Officer or the Management, I may still point out that the evidence led by the Company before this Tribunal are sufficient to warrant a conclusion that the charge of misappropriation was not baseless. In this connection, I may refer to the statement of Shri Bhattacharjee himself before this Tribunal. Shri Bhattacharjee admits that he was in sole charge of the provident fund account, that he used to receive payments made by different members of the provident fund and affix his initials as token of such receipts. He further admits that he received money as per Exts. B and C series. He also admits that he did not credit all these payments in the account books. By way of explanation, he tries to say that after receipt of payments he used to hand over the amounts to the Accountant Shri Rathi, and thereafter he used to make entries of such payments only as desired by Shri Rathi. Thus it is clearly admitted by Shri Bhattacharjee that all the payments received by him were never entered in the account books maintained for the purpose. He also admits that he was in charge of keeping those accounts, and that all the entries during the relevant period were made by him and nobody else. Indirectly, he tries to say that the failure, if any, in making entries of certain payments in the account books was rather due to the instructions of Shri Rathi. Shri Rathi also has deposed before this Tribunal as O.P.W. 2. Shri Rathi strongly denies that Shri Bhattacharjee ever handed over any money to him. I may point out that Shri Rathi is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Provident Fund and he was never in charge of maintaining accounts or receiving payments of provident fund contributions, etc. So, I fail to see any reason why Shri Bhattacharjee handed over the money after collection to Shri Rathi, though Shri Bhattacharjee was in sole charge of this Department. I am afraid, this is an after-thought of Shri Bhattacharjee in his attempt to exonerate himself of the charge, if possible. Ext B will show that Shri Bhattacharjee received all the payments under his own signature, and yet some of these amounts were not credited to the provident fund account. Similarly, Ext. C-series also are the receipts granted by Shri Bhattacharjee under his own signature, and yet all these receipts do not find place in the Company's accounts. Ext. D will show that Shri Bhattacharjee prepared the receipt voucher under his own signature purported to show that a sum of Rs. 20 was remitted to the Bank of Baroda. Ext. H-series, the Bank Account, will show that this sum of Rs. 20 was not credited to the Bank's account. From these facts and circumstances, it is clear that Shri Bhattacharjee actually misappropriated certain amounts of money. Shri Dawanji was his (Shri Bhattacharjee's) successor-in-office during the period of his long absence. The facts of this misappropriation was first detected by Shri Dawanji and brought it to the notice of the Management. After a preliminary enquiry into the matter, the said charge-sheet was issued against Shri Bhattacharjee on 30th April 1960. So, Shri Rathi had practically little or nothing to do with the provident fund money or the provident fund account. Shri Bhattacharjee further admits that though he understood that all payments were not being credited to the provident fund account under instructions of Shri Rathi, he never thought it fit or necessary to bring this evil design of Shri Rathi to the notice of the superior authorities. This circumstance also rather confirms my belief that the allegation against Shri Rathi is entirely baseless. The defalcation of money, if any, was entirely the responsibility of Shri Bhattacharjee himself. It goes without saying that misappropriation of such money is a serious misconduct meriting dismissal. So, I find nothing wrong either with the finding of the Enquiring Officer or the action taken by the Management in that connection. The point is decided accordingly.

Point No. 3

I have already mentioned that prolonged unauthorised absence of Shri Bhattacharjee was another ground for termination of his services. So, I am also to consider how far this allegation of long continued unauthorised absence is a fact. Shri Bhattacharjee has made little or no attempt to deny the charge of long continued absence. In this connection, I may at once refer to the letter admittedly written by Shri Bhattacharjee himself, and it has been marked Ext. E in this case. From this letter also it will appear that Shri Bhattacharjee was seriously ill from the month of January to March 1960. Shri Bhattacharjee joined the service of the Company in the middle of March 1960 and worked for seven/eight days only. From 24th March 1960 Shri Bhattacharjee again started absenting from duty. Shri Bhattacharjee's case is that he got injured i result of a motor accident on 24th March 1 He was given first aid by some medical officer Howrah Bridge, and then removed to his residence at Kolaghat on the same day. From medical certificate (Ext. E-1) it will appear the ulcer on his left ankle-joint due to tra presumably in consequence of the said m accident, healed up itself after about 12 d treatment. It appear that Shri Bhattacha thereafter developed hypotension (low b pressure) and continued absence as before. F Ext. E-1 it will be further clear that Shri Bha charjee did not become fit to join his duties o on 16th August 1960. This certificate admittedly granted by his own physician nobody else. Shri Bhattacharjee was dismis or discharged on 12th November 1960, and it w be apparent that except for seven/eight days the month of March as mentioned above, he w practically absent throughout the year without a leave or permission. There is nothing on record show that he sent any medical certificate to t present Company before 18th August 1960 may be further pointed out that Shri Bhattacharj not only absented himself practically for the wh year of 1960 till the date of his termination service, but even in 1959 he was found unfit carry on his duties on account of his continued health. From Ext. 1 it will appear that on 10 July 1959 the Company definitely informe Shri Bhattacharjee that due to his advanced ag and ill health, his efficiency in work had deteri rated considerably, and so he should be supe annuated. From Ext. 1-B it will appear th Shri Bhattacharjee was asked by the Company t appear before Dr. C. N. Ray, M.B., M.R.C.P., fo examination of his health and soundness. Sh Bhattacharjee also admits that he was so examine by a Doctor. From the deposition of Shri Rath (O.P.W. 2), it appears that Shri Bhattacharjee wa not found fit to continue in service as a result o the same medical examination. Yet the fac remains that Shri Bhattacharjee was allowed t continue in service for some time more on hi entreaties alone. But unfortunately for Shr Bhattacharjee his body was too unsound to allow him further regular work. I have already pointed out that Shri Bhattacharjee practically remained absent throughout the year 1960. Shri Bhatta charjee examined himself before this Tribunal also and I have seen him personally. According to him he is 56-57 years old by now. But I may mention in this connection that he actually looks mu older, whatever may be the reason. On my quer Shri Bhattacharjee admits that his health is co paratively worse that what it should be in his ag It will not be at all superfluous to say that t present state of his health is far worse than wh is desirable at his age. So, it is needless for m to add that the charge of continued ill health an the resultant continued long absence stands mo than substantiated. From the numerous lette written by Shri Bhattacharjee to his employer, will be clear that he is badly in need of continuin his service as he is undoubtedly passing his day in straitened circumstances. But unfortunately the state of his health did not permit him to ca on his normal duties and ultimately led to discharge. This is no doubt extremely unfor nate. Nevertheless, I cannot but observe, that Company also cannot indefinitely allow Shri Bhattacharjee to remain absent from duty, because the business must be carried on on any account. So, if Shri Bhattacharjee has been discharged in the interest of business by the Company, it is difficult for anybody to find fault with the action of the Management. After all, the Company is not running a charitable institution. Shri Bhattacharjee no doubt deserves sympathy, but that cannot be the ground of interference by this Tribunal with the action of the Management. So, my considered opinion is that the termination of services of Shri Bhattacharjee on the ground of his ill health and lon-continued unauthorised absence, is not without justification; and I find no mala fides in it. The point is decided accordingly.

In view of my above findings, the petitioner workman Shri Indra Narayan Bhattacharjee is not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

AWARD

In this reference, made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4296-I.R., dated the 6th July 1961, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Standard Wagon & Co. Ltd. and their workmen employed in the Company's factory at Santa, district Burdwan, represented by the Asansol Iron & Steel Workers' Union, and the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union on the sole issue of additional bonus for 1957-58 and 1958-59 and bonus for 1959-60 and 1960, there are two applications by the two Unions representing the workmen of the Company for an interim award on the issue of bonus for the years 1959-60 and 1960-61. The applications asked for an interim award on the question of bonus for the years 1959-60 and 1960-61 on the ground that there is no chance of the reference being disposed of before the next pujas and the workmen being badly in need of money, the balance of convenience suggests the desirability of an interim award/order/relief.

It is the case of both the Unions that ever since 1947 under the Mc Sharp award of 1947, based on a bipartite agreement and the Sen-Sarker-Mukherjee Award of 1948 bonus has been paid by this Company to its workmen as a condition of service linked up with dividend at the rate of 2 days' pay for each percentage of dividend declared. These awards and the bipartite agreement on which the first award is based applied not merely to the Indian Standard Wagon Company Ltd. but also to the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. and while the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. increased the said rates as shown in Annexure 'D' to the written statement of one of the Unions and while each share-holder of 1947 of the Indian Standard Wagon Co. Ltd has got three additional free bonus shares for one share held by them since then and has thus come to have dividend for four shares as against one of 1947, irrespective of the rate of dividend, in the case of the workmen the rate of bonus was not increased at all and the claim of the Union is that it should be increased four times, i.e., eight days for one per cent. of dividend. For the interim award however, both the Unions confined their claim to be declared bonus for 1959-60 and 1960-61. The Company in its written statement on the applications of the Unions for an interim award refers to the written statements of both the Unions and specially to paragraph 5 of the written statement of the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union and says that the principal questions which have got to be decided are:—

"(a) Whether bonus is a condition of service in this Company linked up with dividend, if so, what should be the number of days for each per cent. of dividend declared in the last four years.

(b) Whether the claim for bonus made by the workman should be decided on the basis of the Full Bench Formula as confirmed by the various decisions of the Supreme Court. Then it says that such payments had never been treated as a condition of service and it was always paid when profit was available and dividend declared and then after stating the circumstances in which the bonus offered by the Company for the years 1959-60 became inoperative and that for the years 1960-61 was withdrawn by the Company, it goes on to say that the dispute regarding the payment of bonus for the years 1959-60 and 1960-61 has now been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication according to the law and not according to the offer made at a certain stage of negotiations and that the offer of bonus made by the Company cannot justify any interim award in view of the fact that such an offer was made to avoid unnecessary litigation with consequent embitterment of relationships and was withdrawn by the Company. It is the case of the Company that the Unions should either be agreeable still to be governed by the Mc Sharp award as it is or be ready for an adjudication of the dispute according to law and on the facts and evidence to be placed before the Tribunal. The Company, however, makes the point that no award, whether interim or final, is possible or permissible under the law without considering the evidence the parties may adduce before the Tribunal for a proper adjudication of the dispute and its whole case is that unless the principal questions enunciated by the Company as essential to the adjudication of the dispute are first disposed of no interim award is legally permissible or justified."

During the hearing of the applications the parties did not adduce any oral evidence but a number of documents were marked on behalf of each on admission by the other side without formal proof, and the matter was argued on behalf of both the parties.

The first question for decision is whether any such interim award, order or relief is at all legally possible on the contentions of the unions in their original written statements. The Asansol Iron & Steel Workers' Union in paragraph 41 of its written statement enunciated four broad principles for awarding an enhanced bonus for the years in question. These four broad principles are:

"(a) The Share basis now being four for one, three free shares for each holder of the share at the reduced value, the bonus quantum also should be four time by suitable modification of the number of days for each percentage of dividend with provisions that the calculation should not be made just on the dividend declared but on the dividend which could have been declared if provisions would not have been made on heads of reserves and the like.

(b) The rate of payments to the Head Office employees of the Company and the discriminatory treatment meted out to the factory workers in this regard.

(c) Full Bench Formula of the Labour Appellate Tribunal.

(d) Prevailing quantum of bonus in the different respectable concerns, less prosperous and less important than this Company."

The other Union, namely, the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union in paragraph 5 mentions three of these principles, namely, a, b and c. Unless therefore, the Unions were prepared to modify their stand on the principles on which they asked for an enhanced bonus for the years in question it would be necessary to decide the principles on which bonus for the years 1959-60 and 1960-61 could be computed and that would practically mean a final determination of that part of the issue referred for adjudication. When the matter was being argued, it was made clear on behalf of both the Unions that they would ask for an enhanced bonus only on one principal ground, namely, modification of the formula laid down in the Mc Sharp award of 1947 in the light of the changed circumstances, such as the issue of three free bonus shares to the holder of one share in 1947. Both the Unions have filed applications to that effect. One of their application says that in view of its anxiety to "facilitate the proceedings of the Tribunal in respect of the prayer for interim award it has decided not to press its case in the final proceedings on the Full Bench Formula and shall essentially confine its case on the Mc Sharp award and its modification because of the issue of the bonus shares and other connected matters among others". That necessarily narrows down the controversy as regards the principle on which bonus is to be computed for the years in question. The main issue, therefore, not becomes whether the bonus is to be awarded strictly on the basis of the Mc Sharp award as it stands as the Company contends or on the basis of certain modifications of the Mc Sharp award in the light of certain changes that have taken place since the Mc Sharp award as both the Unions claim. This provides a clue to the greatest common measure of agreement between the Company on the one hand and the Union on the other. It is this that what is payable strictly according to the Mc Sharp award must be paid to the workmen as bonus so that an interim bonus at least to that extent may be directed to be paid and if at the final hearing on a consideration of the materials to be produced by the parties, the Tribunal comes to hold that there n be no further modification of the Mc Sharp ard this interim award will be the final award; on the other hand it holds that the Mc Sharp ard should in fairness be modified in the light the changed circumstances then, the final ard may modify the interim award according to modification of the Mc Sharp formula which Tribunal may consider just and fair.

Admittedly, the bonus offered by the Company the years 1959-60 and 1960-61 was calculated st on the basis of the Mc Sharp award and then ere was an addition to the figure, so arrived at. oth the Unions confine their claim for the purpose an interim award to the bonus as actually ered by the Company for 1959-60 and 1960-61, d agree that for the final award also the c Sharp award, subject to such modifications, any, as the Tribunal may consider just and fair the changed circumstances, is to form the basis. ie principal objection, therefore, of Mr. Sen on behalf of the Company to an interim award sappears because there is now no longer any ntroversy on the principle on which bonus has be awarded.

There is another objection of Mr. Sen which is pure objection on a point of law. It is this at an interim award can only be a final ljudication of one or more of the different issues dispute referred for adjudication and cannot an interim award in a case in which there is ly one issue because this award is bound to be a temporary or provisional nature. This ntention is to my mind, obviously unsound. he very definition of an award in section 2 shows at there can be an interim determination of any uestion relating to the dispute. This definition ns as follows: "'award' means an interim or final determination of any industrial dispute or f any question relating thereto, by any Labour ourt, Industrial Tribunal or National Industrial ribunal and includes an arbitration award made nder section 10A;". Obviously then, if in a spute only one issue is to be adjudicated there an be an interim or a final determination of that ssue. I am fortified in this view by a decision f a Bench of the Patna High Court in the case f Thakur Yugal Kisore Sinha and others versus ie State of Bihar and others. 1950-2-L.L.J. 539, nich was followed by a Division Bench of the njab High Court in the case of Punjab National nk, Limited versus A. N. Sen and others A.I.R. 9) 1952 Punjab 134. In the judgment of the atna High Court it is pointed out that an award defined as an interim or final determination not nly of an industrial dispute but also of any uestion relating thereto so that it is clear that in egard to even a single question both an 'interim' nd a final determination are contemplated. Their ordships further point out that the award interim' in such a context must mean a rovisional or temporary arrangement made in a natter of urgency and subject to a final adjustment or complete determination of the dispute for xample, a payment on account pending final ettlement of the amount as in the present case". ir Lordships clearly say that there is no warrant ll for the contention that "interim" means ely final determination of some items out of y. Thus neither of the objections of Mr. Sen he passing of an interim award in this reference be held to be tenable.

The Mc Sharp Award of 1947 which is Ext. 1 considered a number of issues In that award, issue No. 5 is as follows:

> Whether a profit sharing bonus scheme should immediately be introduced in all or any of the three factories? If so, on what basis should such scheme or schemes be passed and should any existing scheme or schemes be abolished or altered and, if so, to what extent?

On this issue the award is as follows: "In accordance with the agreement reached between the parties, a Profit Sharing Bonus at the rate of two days' basic wages for every one per cent. dividend declared after 1st February 1947 and paid to the ordinary shareholders in the case of the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., the Steel Corporation of Bengal Ltd., and the Indian Standard Wagon Co. Ltd., shall be paid to labour and uncovenanted staff.

In accordance with the agreement also, no Puja Bonus shall henceforth be paid and the 'Extra Wages' scheme of the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., shall be abolished". In the Sen-Sarkar-Mukherjee Award, Ext. 2, dated 25th May 1948, Issue No. 8 included—(i) Annual Bonus, (ii) Production Bonus for Indian Standard Wagon Company Ltd. and the award is as follows—"The agreement incorporated in the award of Mr. Justice Sharp regarding bonus (profit sharing bonus and annual general bonus) will continue to govern the parties and therefore the claim for annual bonus equal to three months' basic wages is rejected". It is admitted on all hand that the Indian Standard Wagon Co. Ltd. has been paying bonus on the basis of the Mc Sharp award ever since 1947. Paragraph 17 of the Standing Order of the Company, Ext. 3, dated 1st January 1949, runs as follows: "Profit Sharing Bonus—This scheme is based on dividends paid to ordinary share-holders of the Company and payments are made in accordance with rules separately published. In the event of there being a strike without notice, all claims for profit-sharing bonus are automatically forfeited." Ext. 4 is a notice signed by the General Manager of Standard Wagon Co. Ltd. to the effect that profit-sharing bonus for the year 1959-60 amounting to 65 (sixty-five) days' pay will be paid to those employees who are eligible according to rules. This however, appears to have been subsequently modified by Ext. 6, a letter, dated 15th September 1960, from Shri Biren Mukherjee to Shri John in which it is said that in view of the special appeal of Shri John the Company was offering voluntarily an ex-gratia and ad-hoc payment of a total profit-sharing bonus to the labour and (3) of Indian Standard Wagon of rupees five lakhs and seventy-five thousand for 1959-60 although the bonus at the rate of 65 days amounts to Rs. 5,52,800. Then Ext. 5, another notice from the General Manager regarding the profit-sharing bonus for the year 1960-61, is to the effect that for the year 1960-61 a profit-sharing bonus amounting to Rs. 5,75,000 would be paid to those employees who are eligible according to Rules. The Unions, as I have already stated, asked for interim award to the extent of the amount offered by the Company for the years 1959-60 and 1960-61. It appears however, from Ext. 10(2), the Balance-Sheet and the Directors'

Report for the year ending on the 31st March and Ext. 10(3) the Balance-Sheet and the Directors' Report for the year ending 31st March 1961 that for both the years dividend was declared at the rate of 28½ per cent. On a strict application of the Mc Sharp award, as it stands which as I have already said, now represents the greatest common measure of agreement between the Company on the one hand and the two Unions on the other, profit-sharing bonus would be payable at the rate of 57 days' basic wages and not at the rate at which it was offered by the Company for the two years. I think, therefore, the interim award should be based strictly on the Mc Sharp award as it stands at present, i.e., at the rate of 57 days' basic wages to every workman who is eligible to this bonus under the rules of the Company and not at the rate at which it was offered. This interim bonus should be paid by the 15th October 1961 at the latest.

In this connection a question has been raised by Mr. Sen on the strength of the decision of the Calcutta Branch of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case between Allenbury & Co. Ltd. and their workmen 1951, I, L.L.J. 118 that an interim award cannot be published under section 17 because section 15 entitles the Tribunal to send its award to the appropriate Government only on the conclusion of its proceedings and not before that and if it cannot be published it would be an unenforceable award. The matter came up before the Supreme Court in a case between Hotel Imperial, New Delhi, and others and the Hotel Workers' Union 1959 II, L.L.J., 544. The Supreme Court referred to the Appellate Tribunal decision but itself left the point undecided. The Labour Appellate Tribunal held that even without its publication an interim award would be enforceable under section 18, sub-section 1(ii) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act from the date of making the award or decision where there is no provision for such publication. As long as this provision was still on the statute-book this construction did not lead to any serious difficulties. With the repeal however of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act that provision is no longer there and now if the award is not published, it simply ceases to be unenforceable because there is nothing in section 17(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act akin to section 18, sub-section 1(ii) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act. The question, therefore, arises whether section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act really means what the learned Appellate Tribunal took it to mean. The word "proceedings" has not been defined anywhere in the Industrial Disputes Act but the word 'award' has been. Section 15 provides for the submission by the Tribunal of its award to the appropriate Government and that as soon as it is practicable on the conclusion of the proceedings. An award may be an interim award or a final award according to its definition in section 2(b). There is nothing in section 15 to suggest that the word should be confined only to the final award. Evidently, therefore section 15 cannot be restricted to only final awards and if it cannot be so restricted only to the final awards the question arises whether the Tribunal is placed by this section under an obligation to submit even an interim award to the appropriate Government on the conclusion of the proceedings finally, i.e., on a final award bei made. Such a construction obviously would me that the interim award has got to be publish along with the final award or in other words, a interim award would have effect only with th final award. Thus any such construction is boun to defeat the very object of an interim award wit due deference to the learned Judges of th Appellate Tribunal. I must say that this alon suggests that the construction put by them o section 15 was not quite correct. The expressio in section 15 "on the conclusion thereof" whic means "on the conclusion of the proceedings' must therefore, be construed in relation to th award which is the culmination of suc proceedings. In other words, the proceeding here must be taken to mean the proceedings i relation to an interim award if at the end thereo there is only an interim award and the proceeding in relation to final award, if they result in a fina award. To limit the proceedings only to the work of the Tribunal in the final stages of its dealing with a reference is to limit sections 15 to final awards only though that is clearly against the definition of the word 'award' in section 2(b) o else to make interim awards effective only with final awards. The construction adopted by me avoids there anomalies without doing violence in any away to the language of section 15. In this view an interim award must be sent to the appropriate Government on the conclusion of the proceedings relating to such an award and it must be published under section 17.

My interim award on the issue of bonus for the years 1959-60 and 1960-61 is that each workman who is eligible under the rules is to be paid bonus for each of these years by the 15th October 1961 at the latest on the basis of 57 days' basic wages. This award should be sent to the Government under section 15 for publication under section 17

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bombay Dyeing and Bleaching Works, 58/2/1A Barrackpore Trunk Road, Calcutta-2, and their workmen represented by Bombay Textiles Workmens' Union, 26/8 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII-C-240/59.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

By order No. 4052-I.R./IR/11L-263/59, dated Calcutta, the 20th August 1959, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bombay Dyeing and Bleaching Works and their workmen represented by Bombay Textiles Workmens' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issues mentioned in the order of reference.

Issues

(1) Whether the retrenchment of Shri Manindra Kumar Chakraborty is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

(2) Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Debakar Nayak, (2) Nanku Kahar, (3) Pari Sayee, (4) Bhaskar Sayee, and (5) Bhaskar Nath.

Findings

On 15th December 1960 Sarbasri Debakar Nayak and Pari Sayee filed separate affidavits stating that they have no dispute with the company. On 22nd December 1960 Shri Bhaskar Nath filed an affidavit stating that he has no dispute with the company. So I hold that there is no industrial dispute in respect of the above three workmen. The case relating to the other three workmen mentioned in the issues of the order of reference was fixed on 4th September 1961 for hearing. On 18th August 1961 the Union representing the three workmen and the company filed a joint petition of compromise. The terms of compromise are fair. So I accept them. A copy of the petition of compromise, enclosed herewith, will form a part of this award.

This reference relates to an industrial dispute garding payment of gratuity to workmen existing tween Messrs. Empire Bone Mills, Bansabati, ooghly (hereinafter be referred to as the ompany) and their workmen numbering 198 presented by the Empire Bone Mills Labour ion (hereinafter be referred to as the Union). was received from the Government on 13th ecember 1960 for adjudication of the dispute. th parties entered appearance in time in sponse to notices served upon them and filed their spective written statements. The original order reference, dated 26th November 1960, was ended by the Government by corrigendum, ted 11th February 1961. Parties were directly formed by the Government of the amendment. he company filed its written statement sometimes ter the amendment on 20th March 1961.

At the hearing the Union examined one witness d tendered some documents into evidence. The mpany did not adduce any evidence but offered guments.

The facts of the case will appear from the cision.

The only one issue as aforesaid was formulated y the Government for adjudication by this ribunal.

Decision

The Union's case is that the Company terminated he services of 198 workmen in five batches on 9th October 1956, 18th November 1956, 13th anuary 1958, 15th January 1958 and 19th anuary 1958 without payment of gratuity to them lthough they are entitled to gratuity as per scheme f gratuity award by Shri M. C. Banerji published n the "Calcutta Gazette" on the 14th February 959 and subsequently confirmed by the tribunal of hri A. Das Gupta by an award which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on the 19th April 1951. The company has admitted in its written statement the retrenchment of the aforesaid workmen in five batches on payment of proper retrenchment compensation and it has denied its liability to pay any gratuity to them on the following grounds: (a) that the claims of the 87 workmen who were retrenched on 29th October 1956 and all the 13 retrenched on 18th November 1956 are barred by limitation on the date of the present reference, i.e., on 26th November 1960, (b) that in an award of this tribunal published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 27th March 1958 there is an observation that there was no dispute outstanding between the company and 9 out of the workmen discharged on 29th October 1956, (c) that the Secretary of the Union in a letter, dated 28th February 1958, addressed to the Deputy Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, reported that all outstanding disputes had been amicably settled and withdrawn, and (d) that in an award of the Second Industrial Tribunal published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 23rd May 1957 it was held by the learned Judge that the workmen retrenched on 29th October 1956 were not entitled to any relief other than they had already received.

The learned Counsel appearing for the company pressed all these grounds to resist the claims of the workmen for payment of gratuity as per scheme of gratuity previously awarded in 1949 and later on confirmed by another award of 1951.

Now, I proceed to discuss the grounds, one after another. First of all I take up the limitation ground. It has been contended before me on behalf of the company that the claims of the workmen who were retrenched on 29th October 1956 and 18th November 1956 are clearly barred by limitation in view of the fact that the present reference was made more than 3 years after, i.e., on 26th November 1960. To this contention I may point out that Limitation Act does not strictly apply to the industrial disputes regulated under the provisions of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Of course, that is no reason that disputes may be allowed to be raised at any time even after a long lapse of time without sufficient cause. It must be done within reasonable time and there must be sufficient cause for unusual delay, if any. In the instant case it is very clear from the document, Ext. 2, and also from the award of Shri J. N. Maitra published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on the 27th March 1958 in respect of some of the disputes existing at the moment between the same parties, that negotiations were going on between the parties, as contended by the Union, to settle up all the outstanding disputes between the Company and their workmen represented by the Union and ultimately most of the disputes were settled amicably barring a few as will appear from the document, Ext. 2(a). Therefore, I find that there is substance in the Union's contention that the delay was due to negotiations carried on between the parties to settle up quite a number of disputes existing between the parties which is undoubtedly a reasonable cause for the delay. Therefore, the ground of limitation must fail.

The second point urged on behalf of the company is that in the award of this tribunal, dated 3rd March 1958, which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 27th March 1958 it was recorded by the learned Judge that there was no outstanding dispute between the parties. The parties to that reference are also parties to the present reference. But the disputes referred to the said tribunal are quite distinct and different from the dispute under the present reference. In that reference both parties filed a joint petition on 28th February 1958 stating as follows: "that the parties have settled their disputes in connection with this reference out of Court.....". So, the parties communicated to the tribunal that they had settled their disputes in conneciton with the particular reference. There is nothing in the joint petition of the parties on the basis of which a no dispute award was given as prayed for, to show that the parties have settled any other dispute outside the reference. Whatever observations were made by the learned Judge in the "no dispute" award must be relating to the disputes under reference before him and not in respect of any extraneous dispute or disputes existing between the parties. Therefore, this contention of the Company also appears to me without substance.

Next point urged on behalf of the Company is that all the disputes existing between the Company and its workmen were amicably settled and no dispute was outstanding. In support of this contention the Company relied on the document (Ext.2) which is a letter, dated 25th February 1958, addressed to Labour Commissioner by the Secretary of the Union by which the said officer was informed that all the outstanding disputes have been amicably settled. But the evidence of P.W. 1, Shri Nirmal Kumar Bhattacharji, the Secretary of the Union, is that there had been some disagreement between the parties and as such some of the disputes were not amicably settled and hence immediately after the letter Ext. 2 another letter Ext. 2(a) was written to the same officer on the very next day. It will clear from the letter, Ext. 2(a), written on t following day that some of the outstanding dispu were not settled and one of them was the claim compensation and gratuity of the retrench workers. Therefore, there is hardly any substan in the contention that all the outstanding disput were settled amicably. The learned Counsel for t Company has tried to impress upon me that all t disputes were settled up amicably and which fa was communicated by the Secretary of the Union the Deputy Labour Commissioner by the lett Ext. 2, and the same fact according to him w find support from the award of Shri J. N. Maitr dated 3rd March 1958, published in the "Calcut Gazette" on 27th March 1958 in which the learne Judge observed that there was no outstanding di pute between the parties. I have already discusse this matter. It was a "no dispute" award in reference relating to three disputes unrelated the dispute under the present reference. In vie of the joint petition of compromise the learne Judge made the observation that there was no ou standing dispute between the parties. The bas of award was a joint petition of compromise file before the said tribunal on 28th February 195 and it will be crystal clear from the joint petitio of compromise itself that the parties reported t the tribunal that they had settled their disputes i connection with the said reference and as suc they prayed for a 'no dispute' award. Therefore I reject this contention as hallow and unsound.

It was also urged before me on behalf of th Company that there was an award of Shri G P Mukherji in respect of a dispute between the sam parties which was published in the "Calcutt Gazette" on 23rd May 1957. The issue as for mulated for adjudication in that reference was a follows:—

> Is the discharge of workmen enclosed in list justified? To what relief are entitled?

The workmen concerned in that reference numbering 87 who were discharged on 29th Oct 1956, i.e., the first batch of workmen mentione the present reference. The learned Judge obse at the conclusion of his decision that retrenched workers at the time of retrenchm were given one month's wages in lieu of no and also compensation equivalent to 15 d average pay for every completed year of servic any part thereof in excess of six months as provi in section 25F of the Act. Therefore, these wo men are not entitled to get anything more.

The learned Counsel drew my attention to last sentence of the award and contended that th 87 workmen are not entitled to advance any furt claim in view of the observation made by learned Judge to the effect that those 87 workm are not entitled to get anything more. This c tention, to my mind, is equally unsound like previous one. According to the learned Coun the present claim of these 87 workmen is barred res judicata because of the said observation of learned Judge in his award. I cannot apprec how the principles of res judicata can apply to t present case when it is admitted that issue in t present reference was not the specific issue in the previous reference which was heard and decided. The issue in the previous reference was quite distinct and different from the issue in the present order of reference. Therefore, the learned Judge had no occasion to consider the present dispute under reference and as such his observation made in connection with another different dispute is of no assistance to the Company in the present case.

Lastly, it was urged on behalf of the Company that the concerned workmen at the time of retrenchment, having been paid retrenchment compensation provided under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act, are not entitled to any gratuity in spite of the scheme of gratuity as per award of Shri M. C. Banerji, dated 29th January 1949 given in respect of disputes existing between the same parties referred to him for adjudication. His contention is that the workmen are not entitled to double benefit, one under a gratuity scheme and the other as retrenchment compensation. To support this contention reliance was placed upon the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court reported in 1959 Vol. II L.L.J. page 840 (Brahmachari Research Institute and its workmen). Before coming to the decision referred to, first I will like to consider the scheme of gratuity provided in the award of Shri M. C. Banerji. Admittedly some industrial disputes between the same parties were referred to the tribunal of Shri M. C. Banerji for adjudication. The tribunal gave an award on 29th January 1949. It appears from the award that in lieu of provident fund both parties agreed to a scheme of gratuity and accordingly there was a scheme of gratuity included in his award. It is provided in clause (d) of the scheme that "on termination of service by the employer, either as the result of reduction of his establishment or in any other circumstance not justifying dismissal—half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service, irrespective of the length of service". It is also provided in clause (f) that "gratuity is to be calculated on the basis of average substantive pay during the last 12 months of service". Subsequently in 1951 there was an award by the tribunal of Shri A. Das Gupta in a reference of some disputes existing between the same parties. This award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 19th April 1951. One of the issues for adjudication was the re-introduction of the system of gratuity as directed by the last award. The learned Judge observed "at the hearing the learned Advocate for the Company informed me that the scheme is still in force. I confirmed the scheme laid down by Shri M. C. Banerji and directed that the scheme shall be continued without any break". So, the scheme of gratuity as was introduced in the award of Shri M. C. Banerji of 1949 was re-introduced by the award of Shri A. Das Gupta in April 1951. Neither side pleaded termination or inoperativeness of the said award. Therefore, the said award is still in force inasmuch as rights and obligations which flow from the awards are not wiped out. The Company has not, of course, challenged the operativeness and binding character of the said award. It has simply questioned the workmen's eligibility to the double benefits, one under the gratuity scheme and the other under retrenchment compensation under section 25F, in support of which the company has relied on the Supreme Court decision above referred to. In the case relied on, the workmen claimed gratuity on retrenchment on the basis of gratuity scheme provided in a previous award. After due consideration of the said gratuity scheme, Their Lordships were pleased to observe as follows: The award being a composite scheme provided for what is termed 'gratuity' therein under three conditions, namely :—

(i) where there is retrenchment,

(ii) where there is termination of service for any reason other than misconduct, and

(iii) where there is a resignation with the consent of the management.

Though the word Gratuity has been used to cover all these three cases, it is clear that the cases of retrenchment as such are also covered by the award and payment to workmen retrenched has been called gratuity. "The name given to the payment is, however, not material and it is the nature of the payment that has to be looked into. Now, under this award, it is obvious that this payment on retrenchment, though called gratuity is really nothing more or less than compensation on account of retrenchment. Further it is obvious from the terms of the award that a retrenched workman could claim gratuity under the award only on account of retrenchment and could not claim it under the other two conditions therein. In other words, on a fair and reasonable construction of the award what the retrenched workmen got is only compensation for retrenchment and not any amount by way of gratuity properly so called."

It was further observed in conclusion that "on the terms, therefore, of the award in the instant case it must be held that gratuity provided therein on retrenchment is nothing more or less than retrenchment compensation provided under section 25F of the Act, and the workmen are only entitled to one or the other, whichever are more advantageous in view of section 25J. The matter, however, would be different if the scheme in force in any concern or any award provides gratuity which is different in nature from retrenchment compensation under section 25F of the Act."

In the present case the gratuity scheme was provided in the award in lieu of provident fund at the common consent of the parties to the reference, and the scheme in force in the present concern provides gratuity which is quite different in nature from the retrenchment compensation under section 25F of the Act. Therefore, the decision relied on by the company does not apply to the present case in view of the different nature of the gratuity provided in the scheme in force. On the contrary, there is no legal bar to workmen's getting double benefit, one under a gratuity scheme and the other a retrenchment compensation and has been observed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in a later decision reported in 1960 L.L.J. Vol. II, page 251 [Muller and Phipps (India) (P.) Ltd. and Sud (K.C.)]. The decision in Brahmachari's case was considered by the Hon'ble Court in this case and found distinguishable on facts. It was further observed in this case that in absence of any specific provision made for payment of gratuity in case of retrenchment, as such it should be held that payment under gratuity scheme was in addition to the retrenchment compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Therefore, regard being had to the terms of the gratuity scheme in force in the company the workmen's claim for gratuity cannot be resisted. They are entitled to gratuity in accordance with the scheme in force in addition to the retrenchment compensation under the provisions of section 25F of the Act already paid to them. All the workmen who were retrenched on 29th October 1956, 18th November 1956, 13th January 1958, 15th January 1958 and 19th January 1958 are, therefore, entitled to get gratuity in accordance with the gratuity scheme provided in the award, dated 29th January 1949, of Shri M. C. Banerji and re-introduced by the award of Shri A. Das Gupta published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on the 19th April 1951.

The Union produced a chart showing the amount of gratuity due to each of the concerned workmen which was made an annexure to its written statement and which has been marked as Exhibit 1 on admission of the Company excepting the figures in the last column. The company has not challenged the correctness or accuracy of the amount so claimed by the workmen, nor placed any evidence to show incorrectness of the amounts claimed. Therefore, the Company is directed to make payment of the amount of gratuity due to all the concerned workmen in accordance with the scheme of gratuity in force above referred to within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 3579I.R./IR/10L-30/59, dated 15th July 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Thakurdas Sureka Iron Foundry Ltd. (Foundry No. 1), 10 Guha Road, Ghusury, Howrah, and their piece-rated workmen represented by Thakurdas Sureka Iron Foundry Sramik Union, 20/2 Guha Road, Ghusury, Howrah, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

This reference relating to an industrial dispute arising between Messrs. Thakurdas Sureka Iron Foundry Ltd. (Foundry No. 1), 10 Guha Road, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the company) and their piece-rated workmen represented by Thakurdas Sureka Iron Foundry Sramik Union, 20/2 Guha Road, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Union), was received by this Tribunal on 21st July 1960. Immediately thereafter notices were issued to both parties fixing 30th August 1960 for appearance and for filing written statement of claim by the Union. The notices were duly served and both parties entered appearance in time but the Union asked for time to file written statement of claim. The Union actually filed written statement of claim on 23rd September 1960. The Company also took some adjournments and actually filed written statement on 7th December 1960. Parties were called upon to produce the documents to be relied on. The Company took several adjournments before the case was actually heard and concluded in June 1961. It may be noted that some exhibited document was detected by the Tribunal to have been tampered with, so the matter was kept under a watch for some time.

Briefly stated the case of the union is, that the Company is an engineering concern producing pipes, fittings, pans, man-hole covers, cisterns and other cast-iron products. The Company employs about 300 piece-rated workers in addition to time-rated workers. The Company was a party to the three Major Engineering Tribunal Awards published in 1948, 1950 and 1958. The question of piece-rates came up for consideration before the

First Engineering Tribunal and after the First Engineering Tribunal Award in which Dearness Company along with another preferred an appeal for consideration before the First Major Engineering Tribunal whose award was published on the 30th June 1948. No piece-rate could be fixed by that Tribunal which made the following observations in the award:

Thereafter came the Second Engineering Tribunal Award in 1950. By that award, D.A. was increased by Rs. 6 in the minimum and Rs. 7 or more in the higher slab of basic pay. This Company along with another preferred an appeal against the Second Engineering Tribunal Award before the Labour Appellate Tribunal contending that the piece-rated workers whose earning was based on their production should not get the increased D.A. based on the cost of living index, but the appeal was dismissed. So, the Company had to implement the award in the case of piece-rate workers as well, and started to pay the increased D.A. to the piece-rated workers and for this purpose adopted the following formula:—

Daily wage = 2/3rd of Daily Total earning (as basic wage): 1/3rd of Total Daily earning plus increased D.A./26 (as in the Second Engineering Award) (as D.A.)

Thereafter in 1958 came the Third Major Engineering Tribunal Award, by which the D.A. was still more increased on the basis of increase of cost of living index, but the Company did not implement the award in respect of increased D.A. of the piece-rated workers although that was done by all other engineering concerns involved in the disputes referred to the Third Major Engineering Tribunal for adjudication. So, the Union claims an award in respect of the increased D.A. for the piece-rated workers as awarded by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal and as may be found justified by subsequent increase in the cost of living index.

The Company has resisted the Union's claim by filing a written statement in which it has contended that the piece-rates have been increased from time to time even after the Second Engineering Award came into operation and that the piece-rated workers had no scope for work more than 8 hours a day. It is admitted that the total emoluments of the piece-rated workers were divided into basic wages and D.A. in the proportion of 2/3rd and 1/3rd respectively with a view to enable the workers to pay their shares of contribution to the provident fund which was payable on basic wages. The Company has further contended that the First Engineering Tribunal directed that the piece-rates are to be revised so as to ensure that the total earnings of piece-rate worker do not fall below the earnings of a time-rated worker of the same category. The piece-rated workers are earning much more than the time-rated workmen. So, they are not entitled to any increased D.A. according to the slabs of the basic pay range under the Second Engineering Award of 1950 or under Third Engineering Award of 1958.

It has also been contended that there was an award by Shri P. R. Mukherji in 1951 and computation of D.A. was one of the disputes referred to him for adjudication. Shri P. R. Mukherji refused to revise the rates of D.A. in respect of the piece-rated workers on the ground that their actual earnings did not fall below the earnings of the time-rated workers of the corresponding grades. Therefore, the piece-rated workers are not entitled to any consideration so long their earnings do not fall below the earnings of the time-rated workers of the same category.

exists in the Company is justified? If not, what adjustment should be made"?

Decision.

It is not disputed by the Company that there are about 300 piece-rated workers in its employ and all these workmen work as moulders, repairers, etc., in the manufacture of pipes, fittings, pans, man-hole covers, cisterns, etc. Their case came up for consideration before the first Major Engineering Tribunal whose award was published on the 30th June 1948. No piece-rate could be fixed by that Tribunal which made the following observations in the award:

"* * * For want of necessary data and in view of the fact that this Tribunal is concerned with large varieties of different industries, no definite rate of increase of piece-rates can be fixed by this Tribunal. We can only make a provision for ensuring that the earning of the piece-rated worker does not fall below the earning of time-rated worker of the corresponding grade."

With that end in view there was a specific direction by that Tribunal as follows:—"We, therefore, direct that each separate Company must revise its piece-rates so as to ensure that the earnings of the whole-time piece-rated workers of the Company do not fall below the earnings of time-rated workers of the same category."

It was admitted by D.W. 1 Shri Satya Charan Paul, who is the Assistant Manager of the Company, that after the First Engineering Award of 1948, they had labour troubles in their factory and ultimately they had to revise the piece-rates in the light of the First Engineering Award. This witness further admits that the piece-rates were fixed in terms of the agreement in writing with the Union. D.W. 2 Shri Kishori Lal Jhunjhunwala the Works Manager of the Company, has further admitted that the said agreement between the Company and the Union was arrived at in the office of the Assistant Labour Commissioner Howrah. He also admits that in terms of the written agreement the total earnings of piece rated workers were split up into basic wages and D.A. in the proportion of 2/3rd and 1/3rd respectively. The Company has not produced the agreement lying in its custody. Be that as it may, it admits that since after the publication of the First Engineering Award of 1948 the Company concluded an agreement with the Union in respect of piece-rates and at the same time split up the total earnings of piece-rated workmen into basic wage and D.A. in the proportion of 2/3rd and 1/3rd respectively. The Company had to do it under duress, to avoid the labour trouble created after the publication of the First Engineering Award as admitted by the Assistant Manager of the Company. So, it was not a voluntary act on the part of the Company in order to give implementation of the award. The said agreement would have been very useful but the Company has purposely withheld it and has not assigned any reason for its non-production before the Tribunal. So, it is an admitted fact that after the First Major Engineering Tribunal Award of 1948 the Company had to revise the piece-rates of its workmen in the light of the award and by a written agreement split up the total emoluments of piece-rated workers into basic wages and D.A. in the ratio of 2/3rd:1/3rd. That agreement was admittedly acted upon. Thereafter came the Second Major Engineering Tribunal Award in September 1950. By that award the D.A. was [illegible] minimum and

, no such prayer for revision of pay scale. The st Major Engineering Tribunal of 1948 fixed basic wages for an unskilled or semi-skilled ker at Rs. 30 and Rs. 35 respectively and D.A. ixed by that Tribunal was to run on a slab tem as follows:—

Pay range	D.A. Rs.
to Rs. 50	... 25
om Rs. 51 to 100	... 35
om Rs. 101 to 150	... 40
om Rs. 151 to 200	... 45

e Second Major Engineering Tribunal of 1950 ised the previous rates of D.A. and fixed as lows:—

Basic pay range.	D.A. Rs.
p to Rs. 50	... 31
om Rs. 51 to 100	... 42
om Rs. 101 to 150	... 48
om Rs. 151 to Rs. 200	... 54

After the Second Major Engineering Tribunal ward of 1950 this Company and another Comny, namely, Messrs. Atta Iron Foundry, prerred an appeal to the Hon'ble Labour Appellate ribunal against the award and the Union's ntention is that the Company pleaded that the ncreased rate of D.A. as fixed by the Second lajor Engineering Tribunal Award will not be pplicable to piece-rate workers. But it is admitd that the Company got no relief in that appeal hich was dismissed. Thereafter the Company plemented the award by conceding the increas- D.A. to the piece-rated workers and accordingly ratio previously fixed after the First Major gineering Tribunal Award of 1948 was changed follows:—

ter the Second Major Engineering Tribunal ard the unskilled workmen were given addinal D.A. of 14 pice per day and semi-skilled rkmen at the rate of 17 pice per day on the sis of the rates fixed by the Second Engineering ibunal Award. The Company although admits e payment at the above rates but does not admit at the said payments have been made in impletion of the Second Major Engineering nal Award, but D.W. 1 Shri Satya Charan the Assistant Manager had to admit that id payments are being made since after the d Major Engineering Tribunal Award and re shown under the column "D.A." in their priate registers. Or in other words, it is ted by the Company that the said payments eing made as D.A. Therefore, there is no g away from the fact that the Company having lost the appeal against the award of implemented the award and since then have paying the increased D.A. fixed by the l, to the piece-rated workers. D.W. 1 Shri has admitted in his evidence that the Compreferred an appeal on the ground that -rated workers are making substantial earnand as such they should not get the extra fixed by the award of 1950. But the pany failed to score success. Some attempts made on the part of the Company to explain the payments as D.A. to the piece-rated ters but I must say that they failed miserably prove the alleged payment for reasons other than the increased D.A. fixed by the award of 1950. The Company tried to impress upon the Tribunal that the said extra payment was made to the piece-rated workers in order to make their earnings at par with the time-rated workers of the same category because at that time the earnings of the piece-rated workers were reduced due to shortage of materials. But this story could not be substantiated by the Company. The Company tried its utmost to explain away the amount of payment as D.A. to the piece-rated workers after the Second Major Engineering Award of 1950 but they laboured in vain because the Assistant Manager had to admit that the said payments were made on account of D.A. as recorded in their registers and the amounts so paid tally exactly with the amount of increase of D.A. fixed by the award of 1950. Admittedly the Company preferred an appeal against the award to avoid implementation thereof in respect of piece-rated workers, but their appeal was dismissed, and admittedly they had to go for implementation of the award even in respect of piece-rated workers. There is nothing in writing in the appropriate registers maintained by the Company to show that the said extra payments were made on some other score and not as increased D.A. as fixed by the award of 1950.

Next came the Third Major Engineering Tribunal Award in November 1958. The Company, as I have already stated, was a party to the disputes referred to all the three Major Engineering Tribunals of 1948, 1950 and 1958. The Union's grievance is that the Company implemented the award given by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal in respect of workers other than piece-rated workers and hence there was considerable unrest among the piece-rated workers numbering about 300 employed by the Company. I have already stated that after the First Major Engineering Tribunal Award the Company entered into an agreement in writing with the piece-rated workers represented by their Union and their total emoluments were split up in the ratio of 2/3rd as basic wages and 1/3rd as D.A. That written agreement the Company has not produced before the Tribunal. But it is abundantly clear that not only there was implementation of the First Major Engineering Tribunal Award but the Second Major Engineering Tribunal Award of 1950 was also implemented. In order to effect implementation of the first award an agreement in writing was entered into between the parties as admitted by the Company's Assistant Manager to ascertain what amount of the total earnings would be basic wage and what amount would be as D.A. That was fixed by mutual agreement in writing between the parties, and the said agreement was acted upon. So, the ratio that was originally agreed upon was correct till there was second award of 1950 and since the publication of the Second Major Engineering Tribunal Award the ratio was changed as I have already stated. Thereafter there was an award in 1958 given by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal. The said Tribunal found justification for further increase of D.A. by Rs. 5, on account of rise in the cost of living index since the award of 1950. Therefore, there is no justification to deprive the piece-rated workers of the further increase of D.A. as awarded by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal of 1958. In my considered opinion regard being had to all the facts and circumstances discussed above the piece-rate workers are entitled to get the increase of D.A. as fixed by the Third Major Engineering Tribunal Award of 1958. The said Major Tribunal found justification for the increase of D.A. in respect of workers of all engineering concerns and accordingly awarded. It was fixed for all categories of workmen and the piece-rated workers were not excepted. Therefore, the ratio should be as follows:—

2/3rd of the total earning as basic wage: 1/3rd of the total earning plus Rs. 6 or 7 divided by 26 plus Rs. 5 by 26 as D.A.

It may be noted that there was an award given by Shri P. R. Mukherji in 1951. Before the Tribunal of Shri Mukherji several disputes existing between the same parties were referred to for adjudication and one of them was computation of D.A. Shri Mukherji reiterated the principles laid down in the First Major Engineering Tribunal Award of 1948 and refused to grant any revision in respect of D.A. on the ground that the total earnings of the piece-rated workers as found by Shri Mukherji did not fall below the earnings of the time-rated workers of the same description. Of course, in the award there is no mention of the hours of work of the piece-rated workers. The earnings of the piece-rated workers were found to be at par with the earnings of the time-rate workers of the same category. But I do not know how many hours the piece-rate workers are allowed to work by the Company to make the total earnings. In the present case there is evidence to show that the piece-rate workers in order to make substantial earning work more than the normal hours. The Company, of course, does not admit this fact but the Company could not produce any covincing materials before the Tribunal to show the actual hours of work of the piece-rate workers. The Company does not produce the important register, namely, the attendance register but has simply produced a time-chart (Ext. C) which does not throw sufficient light on this point and is of little help. The best material would have been the attendance register to show how many hours the piece-rated workers actually work per day. But the Company has purposely withheld this material evidence. P.W. 1 Shri Krishna Pada Kodal is the Assistant Secretary of the Union and is an old employee of the Company. According to him he and other piece-rated workers work for 12 hours and sometimes more in order to make substantial earnings because he says the more they will work the more they will earn. Of course, the Company should not have allowed this state of thing to continue. But I believe for obvious reasons the Company has also encouraged this practice in spite of the fact that this is in contravention of the provisions of the Factories Act. This practice must be discarded and discontinued and the piece-rated workers must not be allowed to work more than the hours fixed under the Factories Act. The fact that the piece-rate workers are allowed by the Company to work more than the normal hours will also appear from the Company's document (Ext. B). Therefore, it clear that whatever the total earnings the pie rate workers have been making are the result their hard labour beyond the prescribed hou and also the fruits of their experience and ski But in any case the piece-rate workers must n be allowed to work more than the scheduled hou and on their normal hours of work the ratio shou be fixed as above.

The Union has contended that the award Shri P. R. Mukherji which was published in t "Calcutta Gazette" on the 6th September 19 will be a bar to any further fixation of D.A. do not appreciate this contention as substanti for the simple reason that after the said awa there was an award in respect of engineering co cerns given by the Third Major Engineeri Tribunal in 1958 and the said Major Tribun found sufficient justification for increasing t rate of D.A. in consideration of the change circumstances and also in consideration of t cost of living index.

In conclusion I must say that the Compan came with unclean hands and did not proceed wi the case in a straightforward manner but adopte foul tactics and went so far to make interpolation in a document (Ext. B) already exhibited belo the Tribunal. However, that has got nothing t do with my decision.

The result of my finding is that the splittin up of the emoluments of the piece-rated workme as basic wages and D.A. in the ratio of 2/3rd an 1/3rd respectively as was previously existing is n longer justified but it had justification till th award of the Second Major Engineering Tribu came into force. The present ratio after Third Engineering Tribunal Award of 1958 sho be 2/3rd of the total earning as basic wage: 1/ of the total earning as D.A. plus Rs. 6 or 7 (as case may be) divided by 26, plus Rs. 5 divided 26 as D.A.

This is my award.

For the Union: Shri Sadhan Prosad Dutta, General Secretary to the Union.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department by order No. 4110-I.R./IR/11L-120/59, dated the 4th August 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute regarding a matter specified in the second schedule to the Act, to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

This dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court by order No. 1427-I.R./IR/11L-120/59, dated the 13th April 1959 for adjudication which has been replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-I.R./IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by notification No. 3508-I.R./IR/3A-9/59, dated 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

Is the discharge of Shri Joydev Chandra Das justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This reference is in respect of dismissal of Shri Joydev Chandra Das, an employee of Messrs. Mahabir Electrical Works of 174 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as the Company).

The Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal (hereinafter referred to as the Union) representing Shri Joydev Chandra Das (hereinafter named as 'Shri Das') alleges in its written statement that Shri Das served as a salesman of the Company from 1945 to the 24th August 1958 at a monthly salary of Rs. 60. He was dismissed from service and his arrears of wages amounting to Rs. 803 were not paid to him. The Union thereafter claims reinstatement of Shri Das with continuity of service and all the back wages.

The Company files a written statement stating that Shri Das was taken as a bearer by the firm in the year 1953 at Rs. 60 per month and he was in the service of the Company till February 1955 when he resigned his service and left the service of his own accord as he had been suffering from Leprosy, that since the resignation of Shri Das the vacancy was filled in by appointing a new man in his place and that Shri Das again approached the firm sometime in June 1958 for re-employment after he had been treated for Leprosy, but the Company could not re-employ him as the vacancy had already been filled up and because of the reason that Shri Das had not completely recovered from Leprosy.

The Company contends that the dispute is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute and hence this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the reference.

Decision

The Union has filed a receipt (Ext. 2) to show that the workman under reference is a member of the Union. The cause of Shri Das is being espoused by the Union, i.e., the Shop Assistants' Association which is the representative trade union organisation of all the shop assistants including the workman under reference. This being the case, it is not an individual dispute but a collective dispute and within the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act.

It is admittedly a fact that Shri Das was an employee of the Company. The Union in its written statement says that Shri Das was appointed sometime in 1945 whereas P.W.1 Shri Das himself says that he joined the service of the Company in 1955. It is admittedly a fact that Shri Das was suffering from Leprosy and that he had to undergo a prolonged treatment at a considerable cost. It is the case of the Union that Shri Das left service of the Company as he had fallen ill from the beginning of 1957 and that he resumed his duties from January 1958, but it the case of the Company that Shri Das volu tarily left service in February 1955. T Union's witness P.W. 2 Shri Nityanan Pramanik says that he joined the service of th Company sometime in 1955. He admits in h cross-examination "I was given employment the Company after Shri Das had left service" So, when the Union's witness P.W. 2 says th the vacancy caused by Joydev's voluntarily lea ing his service was filled up by his own appoin ment sometime in 1955, it supports the case of t Company that Shri Das had left service someti in February 1955, and in his place P.W. 2 Sh Nityananda was appointed. The Company fil a voucher showing payment of 9 months' wages Rs. 60 per month and amounting to Rs. 540 a it shows that the payment of wages was mad from June 1954 to February 1955. Shri D admits having received Rs. 540 on the 13th Ju 1955 on account of his arrears of pay up February 1955. This also supports the case the Company that all payments of arrears wages were made to Shri Das till the period his service which he himself terminated volu tarily at the end of February 1955. There is proof on the side of the Union that Shri Das w dismissed from service. On the contrary, P.W says that Shri Das left service voluntarily From the evidence on record and from the doc ments filed, it is clearly proved that Shri D worked up to the end of February 1955 and th payments of his wages till the end of Februar 1955 were made to him. So, nothing is due t him on account of arrears of wages.

Considering the facts and circumstances dis cussed above, I find that Shri Das having le his service voluntarily, he is not entitled to an relief by way of reinstatement or compensation

This is my award.

BEFORE ARBITRATOR

Present:

hri N. C. KUNDU, Assistant Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, Arbitrator.

(1)

Government of West Bengal, in the Labour epartment by order No. 1217-I.R./IR/10-140 0, dated the 13th March 1961, published the rbitration Agreement as shown in the annexure hereto, under sub-section (3) of the section 10A f the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), respect of industrial dispute between Messrs. harat Electric Industries Ltd., 19/1 Biren Ray oad (East), Calcutta-8, hereinafter referred to s the employer and their workmen represented by Bharat Electrical Industries Workers' Union, 55/A D. H. Road, Calcutta-34, hereinafter referred to as the workmen as the said dispute was referred to the arbitration of Shri N. C. Kundu, Assistant Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, by the employer and the workmen under subsection (i) of section 10A of the said Act.

(2)

1. The abovenoted Arbitration Agreement tween the employer and the workmen referred e following specific matter of dispute to my bitration:—

Lay-off of four workmen (R. Das, D. P. Chakraverty, P. Chatterjee and N. Das).

2. Accordingly on 17th April 1961, the employer nd the workmen were advised under my office emo. No. 1206/1, dated the 17th April 1961, to le their respective written statements. The mployer and the Union on behalf of the employees ubmitted written statements on 11th May 1961 nd 7th June 1961 respectively. The parties were hen given hearing on 29th August 1961 separately, n which date the employer was represented by hri S. B. Dutta, Managing Director, with others nd the workmen were represented by Sarvashri atitpaban Pathak and Kali Ghosh.

3. The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the Company: Shri S. B. Dutta, Managing Director, assisted by Shri K. Das, Labour Officer.

For the Bharat Electrical Industries Workers Union: Shri Kali Ghosh, Secretary of the Union, assisted by Shri Patitpaban Pathak.

4. I set forth below the pleadings of the parties.

The Company, in its written statement, states as follows:—

The Company which employs 225 workmen was incorporated in the year 1945 and manufactures electric lamps and fans, in two main departments, formerly the Company used to manufacture almost exclusively D.C. fans but with the gradual replacements of D.C. lines by A.C. lines in Calcutta, the demand for D.C. fans naturally began to diminish with the result that manufacture of D.C. fans had to be progressively reduced and it virtually came to an end in or about July 1959. Production of fan by the Company gradually became more and more uneconomic due to competition that the Company had to face from the manufacturers of Usha and Orient Fans, who had modern methods of manufacturing. In the face of such competition, the Company suffered huge loss, which affected the Company as a whole and as a result, they were left with no other alternative than to reduce and minimise the cost of production by all possible means. The Company then stopped manufacturing of fans with effect from July 1959. Thereafter workmen concerned in the dispute became surplus to the requirements of the Company with accumulation of stocks and shortage of raw materials at the same time and were laid-off with effect from dates mentioned against their names:

(i) Rohitasya Das and (ii) Durgapada Chakraverty with effect from 10th November 1959; (iii) Palan Chatterjee and (iv) Narayan Das with effect from 15th December 1959

The Union in its written statement challenged the contentions of the employer and stated that there was no shortage of raw materials as alleged by the Company in their notice, dated 30th October 1959 (annexure B) and that there was no justification for lay-off. To disprove the contention of the Company, in this respect, the Union submitted that the production gradually rose since January 1960. It furnished the following table:—

January—409 pcs.

February—1,053 pcs

March—996 pcs.

April—803 pcs.

From the pleadings and arguments adduced by the respective parties, it appears that the Company took resort to lay-off of workmen from 10th November 1959 due to non-availability of raw materials, particularly castings and accumulation of stocks. The Union from the very start raised objection over lay-off and continued to have protracted negotiations with the Company. At the request of the Union, the Company agreed on 8th August 1960 to keep the abovenoted workmen laid-off up to December 1960. An understanding in this respect was arrived at as a result of discussion with Shri Robin Mookherjee, M.L.A., President of the Union, and subsequently with Shri Kali Ghosh, Union Secretary. At one stage the Union accepted retrenchment of two other workmen. But the employer and the workmen failed to come to any terms in respect of lay-off of the four workmen concerned in the dispute, who are still under lay-off.

I may examine the circumstances that led to the lay-off of the workmen. Under section 2 (KKK) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, "Lay-off" is an action of an employer under stated circumstances resulting in non-employment of a workman borne on the muster roll of his industrial establishment. The stated circumstances are (i) shortage of coal, (ii) shortage of power, (iii) accumulation of stocks, (v) breakdown of machinery and for any other reason. All these circumstances are such, as would normally necessitate total or partial stoppage of work of production and thereby rendering non-employment of all or some of the workmen till such time the disturbing factor is removed. It is a statutory provision for the employer to lay-off a workman when the circumstances for lay-off exist and there is a corresponding statutory obligation on the workman to be laid-off when the circumstances for lay-off exist. In the present case, (i) supply of castings from outside was hit due to stoppage of the production of castings, as the manufacturing foundries were closed down as a result of rains in September-October 1959 and there was (ii) accumulation of stocks (finished fans)—these circumstances led the employer to lay-off workmen. The Union obviously accepted these circumstances and started negotiating with the Company only with an eye to defer the period of lay-off. Having accepted the existence of these circumstances and also two cases of retrenchment, it does not look well for the Union to deny at this stage that there was shortage of raw materials. In this background, I hold that circumstances for lay-off actually existed.

The next question that needs a decision is what should be the fate of these workmen who are still under lay-off. According to the management the circumstances still exist. It has been ascertained that the employer has not recruited new hands for the last two years. If the circumstances leading to lay-off of these four workmen still exist, continuance of lay-off for an indefinite period tends to create an impression in favour of retrenchment. It would be a very hard case to award retrenchment of workmen who have been so long laid-off and who have received due lay-off benefit, as the compensation paid to the workmen for having been laid-off during the preceding twelve months may be set-off against the compensation payable for retrenchment. Considering this aspect, it is ordered that lay-off should stop and the workmen should be offered alternative employments within 15 days from the date of publication of this award. In case the workmen do not accept the offer of the Company within seven days of the Company's offe they lose their jobs by default.

The issue is disposed of accordingly.

Mahajati Silpa Sangha, 233 Rai Bahadur Road, Tollygunj, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Mahajati Silpa Sangha Workers' Union, 139 Rai Bahadur Road, Calcutta-34, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred f adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisio of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 194 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby t publish the said award as shown in the annexu hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute betwee Messrs. Mahajati Silpa Sangha, 233 Ra Bahadur Road, Tollygunj, Calcutta, and thei workmen represented by Mahajati Silpa Sangh Workers' Union, 139 Rai Bahadur Road, Calcutta-34 (Case No. VIII-593 of 1960).

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri J. N. MANDAL, Judge, Third Industri Tribunal

For the Union: None.

For the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Labo Adviser of the Company.

AWARD

The reference relates to an industrial dispu existing between Messrs. Mahajati Silpa Sangha 233 Rai Bahadur Road, Tollygunj, Calcutta (her inafter be referred to as the Company), and the workmen represented by Mahajati Silpa Sangh Workers' Union, 139 Rai Bahadur Road, Cal cutta-34 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union)

The dispute was originally referred to the First Labour Court for adjudication by Government order No. 4220-I.R./IR/IIL-596/58, dated the 29th August 1959. But the First Labour Court was abolished by notification No. 3508-I.R., dated the 11th July 1960, and replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-I.R., dated the 21st June 1960.

Consequently this dispute was referred to this Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act by notification No. 808-I.R., dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication under section 10(1)(d) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, under Government order No. 5787-I.R., dated the 12th November 1960, on the following issue:—

Issue

Whether the lock-out with effect from the 8th June 1959 is justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

The reference was actually received by this Tribunal on 18th November 1960 and immediately thereafter notices were issued to both parties calling upon them to appear on 9th December 1960 and for filing written statement of claim by the Union. Notices were duly served. Both parties entered appearance on 9th December 1960. Union also filed written statement of claim on that very date. The Company filed written statement on 4th February 1961. The case was fixed on 26th April 1961 for hearing. A couple of days before that date the Company filed a petition for adjournment. The Union endorsed "no objection" on the petition. The case was accordingly adjourned to 7th June 1961 for hearing. On that date the Union did not turn up. The Company filed a petition for stay of hearing of this reference still the disposal of a "matter" between the same parties pending in the Hon'ble High Court. The petition was ultimately withdrawn by the Company on 10th July 1961. Thereafter the case was again fixed for hearing on 22nd August 1961. The Union, as before, did not turn up. So, there was an order for special notice upon the Union. The order was complied with and a registered notice was duly served upon the Union. The acknowledgment shows that the Union Secretary himself received a notice on 31st August 1961. But in spite of service of the notice the Union did not care to attend the Tribunal to proceed with the reference. The Company is ready but the Union is not. I have waited and waited till 12-15 p.m. No step has been taken by the Union or no intimation sent.

Therefore it is presumed, in the circumstances, that the dispute under reference is no longer in existence and as such a "no dispute" award is given.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is a reference made under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department No. 1837-I.R./IR/IIL-122/61, dated the 15th April 1961, for adjudication of the following issues.

The issues are:-

(1) Are the workmen entitled to claim any additional payment in respect of bonus payable in 1959? If the claim is sustainable, to what additional bonus are they entitled and under what terms and conditions?

(2) What should be the quantum of bonus payable in 1960 and under what terms and conditions?

(3) In what way the advances of two months' consolidated wages and six months' consolidated wages—in respect of claims of bonuses payable in the years 1959 and 1960, respectively, given to workmen, pending the adjudication, should be adjusted and/or recovered by the Company?

After the written statement was filed by the Union, some time had passed. The Company did not file any formal written statement.

Twenty-first August 1961 was fixed for filing written statement by the Company. But on 14th August 1961 the Labour Officer and the Advocate of the Company filed a petition, signed by the representatives of the Union and the Company with a prayer for giving an award on the terms stated therein. The matter was to be put up on the date fixed (21st August 1961) for appearance and confirmation by the Union in respect of compromise petition. On that date, however, neither party did appear, and this Tribunal was otherwise engaged in hearing a big part-heard case. Similar was the condition on 29th September 1961, to which date this case was adjourned. Subsequently 13th September 1961 was fixed for further orders. On 12th September 1961 both the parties' representatives appeared before me and confirmed the fact of compromise as per petition, dated the 14th August 1961. The compromise petition was, therefore, put up on the following date already fixed (13th September 1961) for final orders.

I have perused the petition of compromise and considered the issues of the case carefully. All these issues are together covered by the terms of settlement made in the petition of compromise. The terms are fair and reasonable and hence accepted by me. The case of reference is, therefore, to be disposed of accordingly in terms of the compromise effected by the parties. The petition of compromise should be made a part of the award as an Annexure thereto.

Award is passed accordingly.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 3970I.R./IR/7L-31/58, dated the 28th July 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned disputes regarding a matter specified in the second schedule to the Act to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

This dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court by order No. 4056I.R./IR/7L-15/57, dated 30th October 1957, read wtih its corrigendum No. 5154-I.R./IR/7L-31/58, dated 5th December 1958, for adjudication which has been replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-I.R./IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by notification No. 3508-I.R./IR/3A-9/59, dated the 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

1. Whether the dismissal of Shri Jaynarayan Singh is justified? Is he entitled to reinstatement and/or compensation?

This reference is in respect of dismissal of Shri Jaynarayan Singh, a durwan of the Dalhousie Jute Co., Ltd., Champdani, district Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Company).

The National Union of Jute Workers (hereinafter referred to as the Union) representing the durwan Shri Jaynarayan Singh (hereinafter referred to as Shri Singh) alleges in its written statement that Shri Singh was appointed a durwan and was working in the Company since 1943 and was an active member of the Union since its formation. In the middle of the year 1955 he applied for annual leave as his presence at home was urgently necessary but the Company without any justification whatsoever refused to grant him the leave prayed for, that thereafter he again submitted an application on 3rd August 1955 praying for leave for 15 days and that this time the Company without giving him any reply to that application for leave made an order on the same date transferring him to the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., on the other side of the Ganges without stating any reason for such transfer. The Union submits that the said order of transfer was wholly uncalled for and mala fide and as such the workman could not comply with the order unless a reason was shown for such sudden transfer to a different Jute Mill. It is further submitted that transfer of the durwan from one mill to another was never a condition of service. The Union further alleges that the Company issued a charge-sheet against the workman under reference on 9th August 1955 and the workman replied to the charge-sheet on that date, that the workman was found guilty without holding any enquiry and the Company decided to dismiss him, that the Company did not hold any enquiry and did not give him any opportunity to defend himself and the Company dismissed him on 2nd July 1956 with effect from the date of the charge-sheet, i.e., 9th August 1955.

It is the case of the Union that the dismissal of Shri Singh is wholly unjustified.

The Company submitted a written statement in which it is stated that Shri Singh was appointed a durwan on 1st October 1943, that he was a member of the Watch and Ward staff of the Bird and Heilgers Group who are the Managing Agents of a number of Jute Mills including the Jute Mill of the present Company, that it was one of the conditions of service that a member of the Watch and Ward staff may be transferred from one mill to another in accordance with the recommendations of the Security Officer and with the approval of the Managing Agents. It is submitted by the Company that the Security Officer in consultation with the Managers of the Jute Mills and with the approval of the Managing Agents recommended transfer of Shri Singh from the present Company to the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., and this order was made on 29th July 1955. Shri Singh was then ordered on 1st August 1955 and on 2nd August 1955 to report to the Manager of the Standard Jute Mills on the 2nd August 1955, that at the request of the said workman his transfer was delayed till 6th August 1955 and the Managers of this Company and the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., were informed accordingly, that in the meantime the said workman submitted an application for 15 days' privilege leave to which he was informed by the Manager of the Company that he should first report himself for duty to the Manager, Standard Jute Co., Ltd., and to whom an application for leave should be submitted but the workman, however, disobeyed the orders of the Manager and did not report for duty to the Manager of the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., as ordered. He was accordingly accused of disobedience to a reasonable order of the management and he was charge-sheeted on 9th August 1955 to which he replied on the same date. It is said the workman was informed by the Labour Officer that an enquiry would be held into the charges on 11th August 1955 at 8-30 in the morning in the Manager's office and he was asked to attend the said enquiry with his witnesses, if any. The Company says that a full enquiry was held at 8-30 a.m. on 11th August 1955, that the charges were explained to him once again and he was given another opportunity to obey the orders and proceed to the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., immediately and the durwan having refused to go on transfer the enquiry was completed, the workman was found guilty and it was decided by the Company to dismiss him from service. An application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed before the Third Industrial Tribunal on 13th August 1955 but as the Tribunal was functus officio an application under section 22 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate) Tribunal Act was filed on 24th December 1955. The Appellate Tribunal also became functus officio and the application under section 22 therefore could not be disposed of The Compny therefore dismissed the durwan by a notice, dated 2nd July 1956. The Company submits that the dismissal of durwan Shri Singh, who was found guilty of misconduct for disobeying the reasonable orders of the management, is fully justified.

Decision

It is admittedly a fact that Shri Singh was appointed a durwan on 1st October 1943 as a member of the Watch and Ward staff of the Bird and Heilgers Group who are Managing Agents of 11 Jute Mills. P.W. 1 Shri Singh admits in his choss-examination that the present Company, the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., and some other Jute Companies are under the management of Messrs. Bird and Heilgers Group, and Mr. P. K. Mitra was the Security Officer. He admits that as a durwan he was also a member of the security force as one of the security staff, and he further admits that the office of the Security Officer was in Dalhousie Square in the office of Messrs. Bird and Co. So, it is admittedly a fact that as a member of the security staff (Watch and Ward Department) he was appointed a durwan not by the Dalhousie Jute Co., Ltd., but by the Managing Agents of the Bird and Heilgers Group. Now, it is to be seen if it was one of the conditions of service that a durwan appointed as a member of the security staff could be transferred from one mill to another. The Company files a letter, dated 9th January 1938 (Ext. D), which shows that Messrs. Bird & Co., wrote to the Recruiting Officer, Poona, informing the latter that t Company was prepared to appoint a number (ex-soldiers as durwans. The conditions of servic of the durwans are mentioned in paragraph (under heading "duties". The conditions ar stated as follows:

> "There are 11 Jute Mills in the Bird an Heilgers Group and these men (meaning th durwans) are likely to be shifted from time t time from one mill to another. All the mill are within a radius of 30 miles of Calcutta"

So, it is clearly proved that it was one of th conditions of service of a durwan that he coul be transferred from one mill to another on the recommendation of the Security Officer and with the approval of the Managing Agents—Bird and Heilgers Group—who are, in fact, the Managing Agents of the 11 Jute Mills. In pursuance to the above policy, the Company alleges the durwans are being transferred from time to time from one mill to another. In support the Company filed a list of durwans who were transferred during the period between 1954 and 1957. The list contains the names of a large number of durwans who had been transferred from one mill to another. I am convinced from this document and from the testimony of Mr. Graven, the Chief Security Officer, that it was one of the conditions of service of the durwans that they might be transferred form one mill to another on the recommendation of the Security Officer and that the Managing Agents have been following this policy for a long time. So, the workman under reference had no justification in disobeying the orders of transfer from the present Company to the Standard Jute Co., Ltd. It appears from Ext. (that on 29th July 1955 the Security Officer wrote to the Managers of different Jute Mills under the management of Bird and Heilgers Group informing them of the approval of transfer of some durwans and the names of the durwans are mentioned in this letter including the name of Shri Singh who was transferred from the present Company to the Standard Jute Co., Ltd. So, the workman under reference was not the only person ordered to go on transfer but he was one of the 16 durwans who had been transferred by this letter Ext. C. Transfer of durwans being one of the conditions of service the workman under reference had no reasonable excuse to refuse to go on transfer from the Dalhousie Jute Co., Ltd the Standard Jute Co., Ltd.

The workman under reference alleges that the middle of the year 1955 he applied for an leave as his presence at home was urgen necessary but the Company without any justifi tion refused to grant him the leave prayed that thereafter he submitted an application leave on 3rd August 1955 praying for leave for days and that this time the Company with giving him any reply to the application made order on the same date transferring him to Standard Jute Co., Ltd., without stating reason for such transfer. There is no proof the side of the Union that Shri Singh e applied for leave before the 3rd August 1955. leave application (Ext. F) is dated 3rd Aug 1955 and it was sent by registered post a received by the Company on 4th August 19

Union alleges that the Company transferred workman under reference only after the leave lication had been received. It appears from . C, dated 29th July 1955, that the Security er recommended transfer of 10 mill durwans luding Shri Singh. P.W. 1 Shri Singh, the rkman under reference, admits in his cross-mination that he was told by Jamadar gannath Lal on 30th July 1955 that he had been lered to proceed to the Standard Jute Co. on nsfer, that he was also told by one Mr Brown at he had been transferred. He further admits at Mr. Mcwain, the Mill Clerk, told him on 1st gust 1955 that he had been transferred to the ill of the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., and that he as required to proceed on transfer at once. It ppears from Ext. B, Shri Singh's reply to the harge-sheet, that he had received the letter ntaining the order of transfer on 3rd August 55. It is proved by the Company that Shri gh's application for leave was received by the mpany on 4th August 1955. So it is proved t Shri Singh was told about his transfer as y as the 30th July 1955 and that he sent his lication for leave by registered post which was ived by the Company on the 4th of August 5. So, he was not transferred after he had mitted his application for leave. In spite of order of transfer being communicated to him, refused to go on transfer and join his appoint-nt at the Standard Jute Co., Ltd. It was arly a case of misconduct inasmuch as he obeyed the reasonable order of his departmental ad. He was therefore rightly charge-sheeted on h August 1955 (Ext. A). Ext. B shows that he plied to the charge-sheet on the 9th August, 55. It appears from Ext. J, the record of the oceedings of the enquiry into the charge-sheet xt. A), that Shri Singh attended the enquiry. appears from this document that during the nquiry Shri Singh was again asked if he was en then willing to go on transfer to the Standard ute Co., Ltd., but instead of availing of that ortunity to retain his service he refused point lk to report for duty at the Standard Jute Co., . There was no question of examining nesses as the facts were very simple and needed oral testimony to come to any conclusion arding the question whether the workman under erence was guilty of misconduct. It is mittedly a fact that he was transferred from the lhousie Jute Co., Ltd., to the Standard Jute Co., d., by the management and the order of transfer s a reasonable order which every durwan working the Mills under the management of the Bird d Heilgers Group was bound to obey. Shri ngh, the workman under reference, refused to go transfer and he was certainly guilty of mis-nduct and thus was liable to be dismissed from rvice. The Company gave him every opportunity go on transfer even after he had been charge-heeted but he refused to avail of that opportunity. his was certainly a height of indiscipline and the mpany had only one course left open to it and at was to dismiss the workman under reference. ri Singh could not give any satisfactory explana-n as to why he was unwilling to go on transfer om the Dalhousie Jute Co., Ltd., to the Standard ute Co., Ltd., although it was his duty to carry t the orders and proceed on transfer. He was formed by the Dalhousie Jute Co., Ltd., that as he applied for leave after he had been ordered to proceed on transfer that he should first report for duty at the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., and then submit the application for leave to the Manager of that Company, but as he refused to go on transfer, the question of his submission of the application to the Manager of the Standard Jute Co., Ltd., did not arise. I have considered the testimony of the witnesses examined in this case and the documents filed. Considering all the facts and circumstances I have discussed above, I find that the dismissal of Shri Singh is justified. He is therefore not entitled to reinstatement or compensation.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. H. Mumtaz and Co., 15 Swinhoe Lane, Calcutta-31, having their Head Office at 1 Colootola Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Mumtaz Mazdur Union, 16/5 Dover Lane, Calcutta-29. (Case No. VIII-260/60).

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. Ray, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri Sridhar Bhattacharjee.

For the Union: Shri Birendra Nath Majumdar, President

AWARD

The above dispute over the four issues given in the schedule to the order of reference and reproduced below was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 1943-I.R./IR/11L-274/57, dated the 19th March 1959, and the same dispute was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 3713-I.R./IR/11L-274/57, dated the 21st July 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference after the abolition of the said Court.

The issues referred for decision are as follows:—

Issues

(1) Whether the claim of (i) Md. Amin, (ii) Md. Khalil, and (iii) Md. Mainul Huq to be made permanent is justified?

(2) Whether the removal of the name of Sk. Gulab from the muster rolls of the Company's factory for the purpose of employing him as domestic servant was justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

(3) Whether the termination of service of Md. Yasin is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

(4) Date of confirmation of Shri Radhamohan Chowbey.

At the hearing of this case before this Tribunal, the Union did not press issues Nos. 2, 3 and 4 of the four issues given in the order of reference. This amounted to the position that the dispute between the parties with regard to the aforesaid three issues was not pursued and was given up by the Union, and it thus ceased to exist. The Union representative also admitted this position. Accordingly, I at once make a "no dispute" award in respect of issues Nos. 2, 3 and 4.

I now take up issue No. 1 in regard to which the dispute between the parties still persists. It will appear from this issue recorded above that it relates to the claim of three workmen, Md. Amin, Md. Khalil and Md. Mainul Huq to be made permanent in the Company's service.

The short case of the Union under this issue is that Md. Amin and Md. Mainul Huq are working under this Company as Durwans and Md. Khalil is working under this Company as a Peon continuously for over two years, but the Company has not made them permanent after the expiry of their probationary periods of six months' service according to a Tribunal award in respect of this matter made in a dispute between the Company and its workmen and published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 24th December 1953, though the workers demanded to be made permanent according to the terms of the said award. It is further contended in respect of the worker Md. Amin, that his pay is Rs. 50 per month and according to the terms of the said award, he is entitled to get a pay of Rs. 52 per month on being made permanent. It is, therefore, prayed on behalf of these workers that they should be made permanent with effect from the expiry of six months' service in each case and Md. Amin should get a pay of Rs. 52 per mo with effect from the date on which he is m permanent.

The brief case of the Company in regard to t issue is that these three workers were taken in temporary watchmen and so, they are not work according to the provisions of the Factories and the Standing Orders of the Company according to the conditions of their service, t are purely temporary workmen and none of th ever approached the management to change condition of their service.

At the hearing of the case, the Union examin two of the workers named in the issue, viz., Amin and Md. Mainul Huq and also the Assist Secretary of the Union, Abdul Hamid, and duced the certified Standing Orders of the C pany, which was admitted by the Compan representative and was marked Ext. 1. A cop the award, referred to in the Union's written st ment, was also produced. The Company did produce any evidence at all.

It will appear from the respective cases of parties in their written statements as indica above that the Company never denied or dispu the Union's case that these three workers had c tinuously served for more than two years un the Company. It will also appear that the o defence of the Company to the claim of th workers to be made permanent is that they w taken in as temporary watchmen and they contin ed to be temporary workmen and they ne approached the management for being m permanent. There is certainly no substance in Company's contention by way of defence that these workers were taken in as temporary wat men, they were not workers under the Compa Even a temporary worker must be deemed to b worker and his service conditions are to be gove ed by the Standing Orders and Rules of the C pany and he must come under the purview of Industrial Disputes Act when a dispute is rai by him. It has also been proved by the evide of the Assistant Secretary of the Union, P.W Abdul Hamid and the two workers, Md. Amin Md. Mainul Huq (P.Ws. 2 and 3) that these wo ers were appointed to the Company's service different dates in 1957 and they have been work continuously without break since their appoi ment. A suggestion was made in cross-examinat of the workers that they sometimes went aw without taking any leave or overstayed the le granted to them, but they categorically denied t suggestion. It has been satisfactorily establis by the evidence on the record that all the th workers are continuously serving under the Co pany since different dates in 1957 and there never any break in the service of any of the There is nothing to show that their service found unsatisfactory or that the Company h any reason or occasion to take any disciplina action against any of them. Therefore, must be further held that they are rend ing good and faithful service to the Compa ever since their appointment in 1957. I find fro the award made by Shri M. N. Gan, Judge, Seco Industrial Tribunal, in the case of a dispu between this Company and its employees and pu lished in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 24

December 1953, that in this award, the Tribunal directed that all workers should be on probation for six months in the first instance and they should be confirmed after six months' probation, provided they were found fit by the employers, and it was further directed that if found unfit, the period of probation might be extended, provided the employers and the workers concerned agreed. I further find from the certified Standing Orders, Ext. 1, that these Standing Orders were certified after the said award, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 24th December 1953. It is specifically provided in these Standing Orders under the Heading "Classification of workers" as follows:—

"Workers are classified into two categories, temporary and permanent. Until satisfactory completion of a probationary period of six months from the date of appointment, every worker is a temporary hand. On completion of this period of six months, he may be confirmed and taken as a permanent hand."

These Standing Orders must apply in the case of these workers and when it has already been found that these workers rendered good and faithful service to the Company continuously since the dates of their appointment in 1957, it must be held that though they were taken in as temporary workers, they completed the probationary periods of six months with good and faithful service to the Company to their credit and the Company has not shown any satisfactory reason or ground why they should not be confirmed and treated as permanent employees according to the aforesaid provisions of the Standing Orders, which substantially agree with the directions in the award on this point. It is well-settled that when it is found that a Company keeps its employees under probation or as temporary hands for an indefinite period without confirming and treating them as permanent hands without reasonable cause or excuse, the Tribunal before which a dispute about such employees are raised can and should interfere and direct that the employees concerned be confirmed and treated as permanent hands since the expiry of their probationary periods according to the Rules and Standing Orders. It is to be noted here that the Company has not even pleaded that they were found unfit for confirmation. The Company's plea that they never approached the management for confirmation is absolutely untenable because when there are rules of probation and confirmation, it is the duty of the Company to follow the rules, whether a particular worker specifically asks for confirmation or not. Moreover, there is evidence in this case that the workers asked the Company for confirmation. Accordingly, I find that the three concerned workers have unfairly and unreasonably been kept in temporary service by the Company contrary to the Standing Orders and the award referred to above, though they have completed their probationary periods of six months from the dates of their appointment and are rendering good and faithful service all along and they are entitled to be confirmed in their service and to be treated as permanent hands.

The further claim on behalf of the concerned worker, Md. Amin, that he is still kept on a monthly pay of Rs. 50, though he is entitled to be made permanent and to get a pay of Rs. 52 per month since the date of his being made permanent according to the aforesaid award, published in the "Calcutta Gazette" dated the 24th December 1953, is very well-grounded and this claim must be accepted and he must get the relief prayed for. In the said award, the following relevant decision was recorded:—

"I, accordingly, find that the minimum wages which a worker should get now (?) Rs. 52 per month, that is to say, each permanent worker on the Pay Roll of the Company gets a flat rate of further increase in wages of Rs. 2 per month with effect from the operation of this award." (Vide page 4241 of the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 24th December 1953)."

There is no reason why the aforesaid decision should not operate even now to make the workers of this Company eligible to get a minimum pay of Rs. 52 per month on being made permanent, particularly when no change in the circumstances or conditions of service of the employees is proved to have taken place since that decision. Accordingly, I decide that the concerned worker, Md. Amin, should get a pay of Rs. 52 per month from the date of his confirmation and being made permanent according to my decision already recorded above. I should record here that no such claim for increase of pay on behalf of the other two workers has been made, because it is stated in the written statement of the Union that those two workers are already getting more than Rs. 52 per month as pay.

There is no specific evidence to prove the exact date of appointment of any of the three concerned workers except the worker Md. Amin, who has proved without challenge in cross-examination that he was appointed on 1st October 1957. So, his probationary period would extend up to March 1958 and he would be confirmed with effect from 1st April 1958. He would also get increment of pay to Rs. 52 per month from this date. So far as the other two workers are concerned, Md. Khalil has not given evidence at all and Md. Mainul Huq has stated that he is working under the Company since August 1957 without giving the exact date of appointment. The Assistant Secretary of the Union, Abdul Hamid, has stated vaguely that all these three workers are working since 1957. There is of course no challenge to the evidence of Mainul Huq about his working under the Company since August 1957. Accordingly, I would accept his evidence and hold that his probationary period extended from August 1957 to January 1958 and he would be confirmed from 1st February 1958. In the case of Md. Khalil, the evidence is absolutely vague and meagre, but as there is some evidence coming from the Union Assistant Secretary, Abdul Hamid, that all these workers are working since 1957, and there is no challenge to his evidence in cross-examination, I would calculate the probationary period of this worker, Md. Khalil, as commencing from January 1958 and ending with June 1958. He would be confirmed with effect from July 1958.

On the decisions recorded above, I decide Issue No. 1 in favour of the Union and the concerned workers and I award that the Company is not justified in still employing the three concerned workers, Md. Amin, Md. Khalil and Md. Mainul Huq as

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department by order No. 6123-I.R./IR/81-17/59, dated the 26th November 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 147), the avoxe-mentioned dispute regarding a matter specified in the third schedule to the Act, to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

Issue

Is the retrenchment of Shri Tarit Kumar Das Gupta justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This reference is in respect of retrenchment from service of workman Shri Tarit Kumar Das Gupta of the Weaving Department of the Hindusthan Belting and Spinning Mills Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company).

The Hindusthan Belting Mazdoor Union (hereinafter called the Union) representing the workmen alleges that Shri Tarit Das Gupta (hereinafter called as "Shri Das Gupta") the workman under reference was first appointed by the Company as a weaver in 1950, that on 10th September 1958 the Union wrote to the management that, although five workmen including Shri Das Gupta had put in 6-7 years of continuous service they were not made permanent when some workmen with much shorter period of service were made permanent employees and the Union requested the management to make the five workmen including Shri Das Gupta as permanent workmen. The Union further alleges that on receipt of this letter, the Company by a notice, dated the 29th September 1958, terminated the services of 27 workmen including Shri Das Gupta, that an industrial dispute was raised and a reference was made to the Industrial Tribunal but the Company having taken back the retrenched workmen in employment including Shri Das Gupta the Union withdrew the case, that Shri Das Gupta having resumed work from 29th April 1960, the Company informed him by a letter that he had been appointed as a temporary workman for which correspondence was entered into between the Union and the Company, and that on 19th September 1960, the Company suddenly terminated the service of Shri Das Gupta. The reference was eventually made by the Government in respect of retrenchment of Shri Das Gupta on 19th September 1960.

The Company filed a written statement. The Company's case is that Shri Das Gupta was not employed from 1950, but whenever he was employed, he was employed as a temporary workman, that he was one of the 27 temporary workmen retrenched on 29th September 1958, that the Union raised a dispute in respect of retrenchment of five of the retrenched workmen and as the Company required some temporary workers the five retrenched workmen under the reference were given temporary appointment from 29th April 1960 and the Union, therefore, filed a petition for a "No dispute" award, and that the service of Shri Das Gupta was terminated from 20th September 1960 by a notice, dated 19th September 1960, on account of Company's loss of business and as he was the last comer in his category.

Decision

The Union alleges that Shri Das Gupta was appointed as a Weaver in the Company's mill 1950 and that he worked continuously up to September 1958. The Company produced Attendance Registers of 1955, 1956, 1957, and 1960 (vide Exts. B series). It appears the register of temporary workers of 1957 (B1) that Shri Das Gupta first joined service on 1st of March 1957. The token number of Shri Gupta from 1st of March 1958 was 105. Prior this date, token No. 105 was of one Manick Sarkar (vide registers of temporary workers of and 1956 Exts. B3 and B1 respectively). So is clearly proved from the Attendance Register temporary workers that Shri Das Gupta was appointed on the 1st of March 1957 and that worked continuously up to 29th September It is admittedly a fact that by a notice, dated September 1958 (Ext. F1) 27 workmen includ Shri Das Gupta were retrenched from service. Company then issued a notice, dated 21st Oc 1958 (Ext. C) asking the 27 retrenched work to attend the mill office on 27th October 1959 appointment as casual workers, but in the meant the Union representing Shri Das Gupta and others raised an industrial dispute, in respect their retrenchment along with 22 other work by a notice, dated 27th September 1958, and reference was made by the Government to the F Industrial Tribunal and which was subsequen transferred to the Second Industrial Tribunal the date of hearing, i.e., on 29th April 1960 Union filed a petition stating that as the work had already joined their work, they did not w to proceed with the matter. A "No dispu award was therefore passed by the Seco Industrial Tribunal on 29th April 1960. It is fact that the workmen under that reference inc ing Shri Das Gupta had been taken back by Company on 29th April 1960 before the peti was filed and the Company alleges that those workmen including Shri Das Gupta were gi new appointments. It appears from the let (Ext. G), dated 29th April 1960, that the Co pany wrote to Shri Das Gupta that he had b appointed as a temporary workman in the mill w effect from 29th April 1960. The workmen un reference wrote a letter to the Company on May 1950 (Ext 1e) stating that he and othe were allowed to resume work unconditionally a it was because of this fact that all the workm under reference before the Second Industri Tribunal did not want to proceed with the ca The Company denied this allegation by its le dated 25th May 1960 (Ext. 1d). The work again wrote to the Company on 28th May stating that he had been allowed to resume d with continuity of service and without any ch in the condition of service (vide Ext. 1e). Company replied to this letter on 1st June saying that the workman was being treated a temporary workman from 29th April 1960 Ext. 1f). So, the Company all along maintai that when Shri Das Gupta and some other wo men were given appointments on 29th April 19 in, they were being appointed as temporary work on and from that date. Then, it appears fr Ext. A that the Company gave a notice to temporary workers of the Company on 1

September 1960 that their services were being terminated with effect from that date. The Company then gave a notice on 19th September 1960 to Shri Das Gupta that his service was being terminated from 20th September 1960 (vide Ext. 1). The Company's case is that the retrenchments of 27 workmen on 27th September 1958, 32 workmen on 14th September 1960 and retrenchment of Shri Das Gupta on 19th September 1960 were on account of adverse trading conditions or for loss of business. It is in evidence that some big foreign companies manufacturing the same products as are manufactured by the Company started belting factories in the same locality and those foreign companies are Messrs. Dunlop Rubber Company, and Messrs. Fenner Ltd. The Company's case is that due to competition by these big industrial concerns, the Company is gradually losing its business and the Company finds it difficult to sell their accumulated stock of manufactured goods. The Company has filed the balance-sheets for the years 1955 and 1959 (Exts. 3 series), and it appears from the these balance-sheets that there has been a gradual deterioration in production and sale and consequential reduction in production and profit. I therefore believe the Company's case that there has been adverse trading condition for the last several years and the Company is not in a position to maintain the same strength of labour force as before. The last man to be retrenched from service was Shri Das Gupta, the workman under reference who was, according to the Company, the last man coming in service in the Weaving Department. There is no evidence that any man was appointed in the Weaving Department after the appointment of Shri Das Gupta as a temporary worker from 29th April 1960. I do not see anything to disbelieve the case of the Company that the retrenchment of Shri Das Gupta was due to adverse trading condition and loss of business and because of the fact that he was the last comer in his category.

Considering the facts and circumstances discussed above, I find that the retrenchment of Shri Das Gupta is justified and he is therefore not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

Present:

For the Union: Shri Phatik Ghosh, Secretary of the Union.

For the Company: None.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Chemical Plant & Equipment Ltd., 111 Gopal Lal Tagore Road, Calcutta-35, and their workmen represented by West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union, 48 Dharmatala Street, Calcutta-13 has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, over the following issues, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1807-I.R./IR/10L-62/61, dated the 12th April 1961.

Issues

(1) Whether the dismissal of the workmen (as per list attached) is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(2) Whether the workmen are entitled to lay-off compensation for the period of lay-off?

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 22nd April 1961, registered notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

AWARD

The workmen represented by the West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed their written statement on 12th June 1961. The case as made out by the Union is that the employer was in the habit of making inordinate delay in payment of wages and protests had been lodged on that account to the Inspector of Factories. The workers enrolled themselves as the members of this Union in January 1961. Thereafter the workmen through the Union made demands at various times so that all arrears of wages might be paid. But the Management failed to satisfy this legitimate demand on the part of the workmen. Thereafter the company laid-off the entire body of the workmen with effect from 9th February 1961 by a notice, dated 8th February 1961. The Union made representation to the Labour Commissioner for intervention and a joint conference of the parties had been called by the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 20th February 1961. At that meeting the company states that they had dismissed from 13th February 1961, forty-one workmen, whose names had been mentioned in the order of reference. The Union alleges that the dismissal of the workmen was without any justification as there was no fault on the part of the workmen. The Assistant Labour Commissioner again called a joint conference on 17th March 1961 but no settlement could be arrived at. Then the dispute had been referred to by the appropriate Government for compulsory adjudication.

The Company in spite of registered notice served upon them, did not turn up. The registered notice has been returned unserved with a note that the Company is closed. I made attempt from my office to get the notice served at the Head Office of the Company situated at 7 Lower Chitpur Road, Calcutta. The office peon submitted a report hat the employer did not accept the letter of notice. It was clearly mentioned in the letter that in default of appearance, the cause would be heard ex parte. As a result when the Company did not appear to contest the case, I took up the matter for ex parte hearing on 18th September 1961. It appears from the evidence of Shri Phatik Ghosh, the Secretary of the Union, that the factory had been kept closed and there is no knowing as to when, if at all, the work would be started. The Union Secretary in his deposition claimed that instead of keeping the workers in the state of uncertainity for an indefinite period, they should be paid compensation as in case of retrenchment at the rate laid down in section 25F(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union claims lay-off compensation for the entire body of workmen, numbering 45 persons, as per statement in Ext. 4, from 9th February 1961 to 12th February 1961. For the 41 workmen, mentioned in the order of reference, it is claimed that they should be paid compensation as permitted by law in case of retrenchment. The Union also submitted in the statement, marked as Ext. 4, the daily rates of wages of the workmen with the dates of appointment. I accordingly decide that these 41 workmen shall be paid wages for a month in lieu of notice and they should also be paid compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months. The length of service should be calculated on the basis of evidence, Ext. 4, treating the date of retrenchment as being 13th February 1961.

It appears that all the workers in the factory, numbering 45 persons, including four other workmen as mentioned in the document, Ext. 4, had been kept laid-off from 9th February 1961 to 12th February 1961. All these workmen who had completed not less than one year of service under the employer, shall be paid for all these days during which they had been laid-off, except for such weekly holidays as may intervene, compensation which shall be equivalent to 50 per cent. of the total wages. Ext. 4 is made a part of the award.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Tata Oil Mills Co. Ltd., P-10 Mission Row Extension, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Tomco Employees' Union, 5 Gangadhar Babu Lane, Calcutta-12 (Case No. VIII-C-40 of 1960).

EFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

ri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

By order No. 868-I.R./IR/15L-5/60, dated lcutta, the 27th February 1960, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Tata Oil Mills Co. Ltd., and their workmen represented by Tomco Employees' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is justified. To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:

Shri R. K. Banerjee was a permanent employee of Messrs. Tata Oil Mills Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) for the last few years. On 12th December 1959 he was served with a letter, dated 5th December 1959, terminating his service on the plea of loss of confidence. His service was all along satisfactory and he was given regular annual increments. Prior to the receipt of the above letter nothing happened which could warrant loss of confidence. The Company neither issued any charge-sheet nor any warning to him, nor did it give any reason why it lost confidence in him. So the Union submits that the termination of the service of Shri R. K. Banerjee is mala fide and unfair, and is as such unjustified.

The case of the Company, on the other hand, is briefly as follows:

Shri R. K. Banerjee was appointed as a salesman with effect from 3rd April 1956 and was confirmed on 5th November 1956. In the letter of confirmation it was stated that he would conform to the service rules of the Company. In November 1959 he was working in the Assam area and as such had worked at Dhubri, Bangaigoan, Rangia and Tejpur. As a Company's salesman he was expected to visit dealers in his area and carry on intensive propaganda for the sale of the products of the Company. The Company is having a sales office in Calcutta amongst other places, and the manager of that sales office paid a visit in the last week of October in course of his routine tour to the area where Shri R. K. Banerjee was working. The manager found that Shri Banerjee was not working effectively as a salesman and further that he had reported to the office that the Bongaigoan Stockist had 20 boxes of dried up and deshaped 501 Special Soap which were not possible to be distributed in the market. The manager who visited Bongaigoan however found that Shri Banerjee had not even opened those cases and reported the contents thereof to be unsaleable on the dictation of the stockist. The manager, therefore, sent a report, dated 2nd November 1959, to the Zonal Manager stating therein that Shri R. K. Banerjee was not functioning as a salesman and giving reasons thereof. The Zonal Manager in Calcutta forwarded that report to the head office in Bombay. On receipt of the report the management felt that Shri Banerjee was not working as a salesman and instructed the manager of the Calcutta Sales Office on telephone to call Shri Banerjee and to talk to him regarding his failings and short-comings as a salesman. Accordingly the Sales Manager of Calcutta called him from tour and spoke to him. After a talk with him the Sales Manager of Calcutta sent another report to Head Office confirming his former opinion that Shri Banerjee was unable to function as a salesman and that no useful purpose would be served by retaining him in the sales organisation of the Company. On going through that report the General Manager of the Company came to the same conclusion and ordered the termination of service of Shri Banerjee. Accordingly his service was terminated by way of "discharge simpliciter". The conditions of service between Shri Banerjee and the Company are covered by the Service Rules of the Company. Rule 40(1) of those rules authorises the Company to discharge or terminate the service of an employee by giving him a notice or salary in lieu thereof. As the service rule amounted to a contract between the Company and Shri Banerjee, the Company was within its rights and was justified in terminating the service of Shri Banerjee, as the Company has lost confidence in him. The Company has not inflicted any punishment on Shri Banerjee by terminating his service, and as such it was not incumbent upon the Company to hold any enquiry before doing so. In spite of this, the Manager of the Calcutta Sales Office had a talk with Shri Banerjee before his service was terminated. So the Company contends that the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is justified.

For the Company: Shri Y. D. Joshi, Law Officer of the Company.

For the Union: Shri P. K. Ghosh, General Secretary of the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Union, assisted by Shri Monoranjan Goswami, Assistant Secretary of Tomco Employees' Union.

Findings

Both Shri Y. D. Joshi, Law Officer, appearing for the Company and Shri P. K. Ghosh, General Secretary of the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Union, appearing for the present Union, i.e., Tomco Employees Union, have in their arguments laid more stress on points of law than on facts. Both of them have placed a number of decisions before me; the number of decisions and the books of law cited by Shri P. K. Ghosh is rather unusually large. It is, however, interesting to note that there are certain decisions on which both of them have relied. I have gone through all the decisions cited by them. I am constrained to note that some of the decisions cited by both of them are almost beside the point in the decision of the present case. I shall try to advert in my findings to all the decisions and the bo on law which have been brought to my notice both.

The Company in its written statement has c tended that the termination of the service Shri R. K. Banerjee is a discharge simpliciter accordance with a contract between them, as bodied in rule 40(1) of the Service Rules of the C pany. Shri P. K. Ghosh has assailed the basis of this contention of the Company by rending that that rule is not a contract betw the Company and Shri R. K. Banerjee. His ar ment seems to be that that rule may be a part the Service Rules of the Company, but it does thereby become a contract between the Comp and Shri R. K. Banerjee. But Shri P. K. Gh forgets that in the letter confirming Shri R. Banerjee in the post of a salesman the Comp has asked him to conform to the Service Rule the Company. Since Shri Banerjee continue work as a salesman of the Company after receipt of that letter, that is a tacit acceptanc his part of the Service Rules of the Company. contract does not necessarily mean that both s of a contract should sit together and put t signatures on a certain writing. Shri P. K. Gh has referred me to the law of Contract by Mu in support of his contention that the alleged tract between the Company and Shri R. K. Ba jee is void or voidable. But I have found not in that book of law in support of his content There is nothing in the circumstances in w Shri Banerjee was appointed by the Company accepted his appointment to invoke any of conditions which make a contract void or voida Shri P. K. Ghosh has also referred me to sect 3, 4, 5, 10 and 11 of the Industrial Employm (Standing Orders) Act. It is admitted that present Company is not an industrial estab ment, so the provisions of that Act do not a in respect of this Company. So whatever may been stated in the above sections of the above is irrelevant for the purpose of the present enq So I uphold the contention of the Company there was a contract of service between Shri R Banerjee and the Company.

The next question is whether in view of above contract the discharge of Shri R. K. B jee is a discharge simpliciter and as such cann questioned before an adjudicating court. Th in the written statement the Company has cribed the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee discharge simpliciter implying that it was as justifiable and could not be questioned by a judicating court, Shri Y. D. Joshi has conced his argument that an adjudicating court can into the reasons behind the discharge of an ployee, even when an employer chooses to ter as discharge simpliciter. As early as in 1951 Labour Appellate Tribunal of India held in case of Buckingham and Carnatic Mills (L.L.J. 1951, Volume II, page 314) that where a workman was discharged under sta orders on notice, the Tribunal would be entit know the reasons for the discharge and judg fairness. There has since been no authori decision against the above decision of the L Appellate Tribunal. As a matter of fact, Sh D. Joshi himself has referred to a decision Supreme Court in the case of Assam Oil Company reported at page 587 of L.L.J Volume I and to a decision of Madras High in the case of Mettur Industries reported 56 of L.L.J. 1961, Volume I; Shri P. K. has also relied on those decisions. It has been in those cases that though ostensibly the ter tion of an employee's service may be in confo with the terms of employment, it may never transpire on investigation into the relevant and circumstances sorrounding and leading termination of the service that it is arbitrary considered in anywise improper. If it a that the purported exercise of the power to terminate the services of an employee was in fact the result of a misconduct alleged against him, the Tribunal will be justified in dealing with the disputes on the basis that despite its appearance to the contrary the order of discharge is in fact an order of dismissal. Shri P. K. Ghosh has also referred to a decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Lipton Ltd. reported at page 319 of L.L.J. 1956, Volume I. There it has been held that an Industrial Tribunal is not fettered by limitations of ordinary Law and its function is not merely to interpret the terms of contract of employment between an employer and an employee. Thus even in a case where under the Standing Orders it is permissible to terminate the service with one month's notice or payment in lieu thereof without assigning any reason, it is not open to an employer to exercise the power in an arbitrary or capricious manner and the bona fides as well as justifiability of his act could be gone into. Shri P. K. Ghosh has also referred to some other decisions to the same effect. Shri Y. D. Joshi has however referred to a decision of the Bombay High Court in the case of Provincial Transport Service reported at page 758 of L.L.J. 1958, Volume I. There a contrary decision has been taken. But that decision is based on the provisions of section 16(2) of the Central Provinces and Berar Industrial Disputes Settlement Act, 1947. As there is no similar provision in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947, under which I am adjudicating the present case, that decision is not applicable in the present case. It is thus clear from the decisions of several courts from the Supreme Court down to different Industrial Tribunals that a discharge of an employee in accordance with the service conditions is not ipso facto justifiable and that the question as to whether a discharge is a discharge simpliciter depends not on the wording of the letter of discharge but on the circumstances surrounding the discharge. In the present case it is the contention of the Company that Shri R. K. Banerjee was discharged as he was found to be an inefficient salesman, i.e., as he failed to do his duty properly. Failure to do one's duty properly must be termed to be a misconduct. So it comes to this that the reason behind the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is a misconduct. It is admitted by the Company that it did not issue any charge-sheet to Shri R. K. Banerjee alleging that misconduct; so there is no question of calling for his explanation or subsequent enquiry. Shri Y. D. Joshi has drawn my attention to certain decisions when it has been held that the discharge of an employee is justified in spite of no enquiry having been held. One such decision is the decision of the Industrial Court, Bombay, in the case of Ambadas Eknath reported at page 135 of L.L.J. 58, Volume I. But the facts in that case were different. In that case the management could not hold any enquiry, as the witnesses were not willing to come to depose at the enquiry out of fear of the concerned workman. Another decision has been reported at page 125 of L.L.J. 1960, Volume II. But there the facts were admitted and so there was no need of enquiry. But in the present case the only reason adduced by the Company for not holding any enquiry is that it stood on its right to terminate the service of Shri R. K. Banerjee on the basis of rule 40(1) of the Service Rules. But as I have shown in the above discussion, such a right is not an absolute one. Of course the Company has stated that even though no charge-sheet was issued to Shri R. K. Banerjee and no formal enquiry was held, the Sales Manager of Calcutta had a talk with Shri R. K Banerjee before sending his second report. But such a talk does not fulfil the purpose of an enquiry required to be held for discharging an employee. So the Company has to satisfy me by adducing evidence before me that the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is justifiable. Shri P. K. Ghosh, however, contends that since it is the case of the Company that Shri R. K. Banerjee was discharged not for any misconduct, the Company should not be given any chance to prove the justification of the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee before this Court. But this argument is self-contradictory. If Shri P. K. Ghosh wants me to accept the contention of the Company that it discharged Shri R. K. Banerjee in exercise of a right of contract and for no misconduct, the discharge becomes justifiable. The Union can have any case only on the contention that the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee in exercise of a right of contract is not ipso facto justifiable. On that contention there can be no point in saying that the Company cannot be given a chance to justify its action before me. As a matter of fact the consensus of decisions cited both by Shri Y. D. Joshi and Shri P. K. Ghosh is that in such a case the dispute is at large before the adjudicating court. Another contention of Shri P. K. Ghosh is that since it is the case of the Company that Shri R. K. Banerjee was discharged for no misconduct, the discharge should be taken as retrenchment, and as such the Company ought to have paid him retrenchment benefits as mentioned in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. In support of his contention he has referred to a decision of the Bombay High Court in the case of Devidayal Namaca Chand Sharma reported at page 168 of L.L.J. 1961, Volume I. There it has been held that the definition of "retrenchment" in section 2(oo) of the Industrial Disputes Act, though an artificial one, is certainly very wide and would include termination of services even in pursuance of relevant Standing Orders. But a contrary decision has been taken by the Patna High Court in the case of Burrakar Coal Company Ltd. reported at page 434 of L.L.J. 1960, Volume II. There it has been held that the expression "retrenchment" must be interpreted to cover discharge of surplus labour or staff and not the cases of termination of the contract of employment or other cases. Having regard to the entire scheme of the Industrial Disputes Act, I hold that the decision of the Patna High Court in the case mentioned above is correct. Hence I hold that the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is not retrenchment. So his discharge cannot be assailed on the ground that he was not paid retrenchment benefit under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act.

I now enter into the question as to whether on the evidence adduced before me the Company has been able to make out a case for the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee. The Company contends that it discharged Shri R. K. Banerjee as it lost confidence in him. The reasons according to the Company why it lost confidence in him are given in the report of the Manager of Calcutta Sales Office, dated 2nd November 1959, to the Zonal Manager. The reasons stated therein are: –

"(i) He has not been doing anything to introduce our slow and non-moving lines to the trade.

(ii) He is not able to judge the capacity of the dealers and give them sufficient stocks even of the moving lines.

(iii) He is not bothering to put our products on prominent view on the dealers' shops.

(iv) He is not even looking after the pasting of the posters and one place I found the poster pasted upside down.

(v) He is not educating the stockists and the dealers and explaining the Company's point of view in all matters, and

(vi) He is not putting any hard and intelligent work."

These are general allegations against Shri R. K. Banerjee. The Company has not produced any documentary evidence in support of these allegations. The only witness who has deposed on behal of the Company before me is Shri Maharaj Krishan Gupta, the Manager of the Calcutta Sales Office. It is on his report that Shri R. K. Banerjee was discharged. He repeated the above allegations before me in his evidence; but he has not cited any specific instance in support of those allegations. The only specific allegation that he has made is that Shri R. K. Banerjee had reported that on opening 20 cases containing 501 Special lying with the stockist at Bongaigoan he had found the contents to be dried up and deshaped; but O.P.W.1 later in course of inspection found that Shri R. K. Banerjee had not opened them at all. But R. K. Banerjee has stated in his evidence that he had actually opened those boxes. So this is an evidence of one witness against another; there is no particular reason to believe one in preference to the other. O.P.W. 1 has said that on being instructed over telephone by the head office he called back Shri R. K. Banerjee from tour and talked to him about his shortcomings. But Shri R. K. Banerjee (P.W. 1) says that when he met O.P.W. 1 on being called from tour, the latter only told him that he would have to work in the Calcutta area. But it is difficult to believe that in his second report to the head office O.P.W. 1 imagined explanations given by P.W. 1. So on this point I disbelieve P.W. 1 and hold that O.P.W. 1 asked him to explain his shortcomings. In the second report O.P.W. 1 says that he called for the explanation of Shri R. K. Banerjee about his bad work which the former had detected in course of his tour. In that report O.P.W. 1 has stated the explanations of P.W. 1 and has held that the explanations were unsatisfactory; but he has not given any reason why he considered the explanations to be unsatisfactory. O.P.W. 1 was confronted by copies of some letters alleged to have been written to him by P.W. 1 from his area, i.e., the Lower Assam: O.P.W. 1 cannot deny that he did not receive those letters. In those letters P.W. 1 has explained the difficulties which stood in the way of pushing the sale of the products of the Company to the extent desired by the Sales Manager. There is no evidence as to what consideration was paid to those difficulties. O.P.W. 1 joined the Calcutta Office in April 1959. Shri R. K. Banerjee started work in the Lower Assam area from April 1959, prior to April, 1959 he was working in some other area. In November 1959 O.P.W. 1 found the work of P.W. 1 in the Lower Assam area to be unsatisfactory. He did not care to compare the quality and quantity of work done by P.W. 1 in the Lower Assam area with that of the Salesmen who wroked in that area in preceding years. T Union has contended that P.W. 1 has been victi ised on account of his Union activitices and as su his discharge is mala fide. But the Union has n been able to show what active part P.W. 1 to in the affairs of the Union. On the contrary the is evidence to show that the office-bearers of t Union are still in the service of the Company. the allegation of victimisation is baseless; in th sense the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee ca not be called mala fide. But showing that t discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is not mala fi is not sufficient for the vindiction of the action the Company. Though O.P.W. 1 had no ma fide intention against Shri R. K. Banerjee, he h not been able to adduce convincing reasons why h considered P.W. 1 to be an inefficient salesma It appears from evidence that O.P.W. 1 expecte from P.W. 1 better work than he had put in fro April to October 1959; but O.P.W. 1 did not ca to consider the difficulties that stood in the wa of P.W. 1 showing work to the extent desired b O.P.W. 1. So it is clear that O.P.W. 1 has bee hasty in coming to the conclusion that Shri R. K Banerjee was not an efficient salesman. Hen though O.P.W. 1 cannot be called to be guilty o mala fide action, his action has certainly bee arbitrary.

In view of the above considerations I hold tha the Company has failed to prove the reasons justify- ing its loss of confidence in Shri R. K. Banerje which is alleged to be the cause of his discharge. So I hold that the discharge of Shri R. K. Banerjee is unjustified. Hence I order that he should be reinstated and be paid full emoluments from the date of dismissal up to the date of reinstatement.

The above order shall be carried out within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

ANNEXURE

In the matter of complaints under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Shri Gopal Charan Behura, residing at 4 Rupnarayan Nandan Lane, Calcutta-25, an employee of Messrs. Imperial Tobacco Co. of India Ltd., 37 Chowringhee, Calcutta, against the aforesaid Company, in connection with Government order No. 4681-I.R., dated the 3rd September 1960.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the workmen: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri P. P. Jinwalla, Counsel.

The original reference out of which this present complaint has arisen was made under Government order No. 4681-I.R., dated the 3rd September 1960.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by one Shri Gopal Chandra Behura, who was employed as office peon in the Sales Department of the Imperial Tobacco Co. of India Ltd. since 1947, on the allegation that the Company wrongfully discharged him on the alleged ground of misconduct. The case of Shri Behura is that he was served with a charge-sheet on or about 20th March 1961, on an allegation that some articles of the Company as described in paragraph 4 of the petition had been found in his possession at about 12-45 p.m. on 18th March 1961 while he was leaving office. It is alleged by the complainant that he was not guilty of the charge of theft levelled against him and at the investigation carried on by the Company he was not allowed to call in defence his witnesses and the statement of the complainant which was recorded in English was never read over or explained to him and as such he had doubts about the correctness of the recording. He was forced to sign the proceedings although he stated that unless the General Secretary of the Union was called as witness, he would not sign.

Messrs. Imperial Tobacco Company of India Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), filed their petition on 19th April 1961. It is stated by the Company that the enquiry into the charge of misconduct was properly held on the 21st March 1961, and everything had been done in accordance with the principles of natural justice. It is further alleged that in the main reference case the Company came into a settlement with the workmen on the 15th February 1961 and submitted to the Tribunal a joint petition on that very date praying for a 'Consent Award' which was eventually passed on the 28th February 1961. So, if there was an infringement of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, such infringement should be regarded as technical in nature.

Point for decisions

(1) Whether there had been any contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act?

(2) Whether the dismissal of Shri Behura is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

Point Nos. 1 and 2

It appears, as a matter of fact, that the Company issued the letter of dismissal, Ext. B(3), on the 28th March 1961, and thereby the workman stood dismissed. Under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act a ban is imposed upon the employer so much so that during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal, the employer cannot discharge or punish whether by dismissal or otherwise any workman unless he had been paid wages for one month and an application before the Tribunal for approval of the action is made. There is no dispute on the point that no such application had been filed to the Tribunal. The Tribunal proceedings should be deemed to have been commenced on the date of reference of the dispute and shall be deemed to have been concluded on the date on which the award became enforceable under section 17(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Under section 17(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act, an award shall become enforceable on the expiry of thirty days from the date of its publication in the Gazette. So, it is clearly defined in the Act the date of commencement and the date of conclusion of a proceeding before the Tribunal, and therefore the period of pending is well defined. It is contended by the learned Counsel for the Company in paragraph 7 of the written statement that on February 1961 a joint petition was filed to Tribunal in the main case praying that a 'con award' be passed in terms of the settlement between the parties. I find upon reference to main case that such a joint petition had been before me on 15th February 1961. In that petition the terms of compromise had been in porated. The only issue for adjudication in main case was relating to fixation of the ag superannuation of the workmen including staff. By the settlement the age of retirement raised from 55 to 58. The award was, howe made by me on 28th February 1961 after due sideration of the terms of settlement wh found to be fair and reasonable. The award published indicates that. It is urged by the lea Counsel that there remained nothing for determ tion by the Tribunal after the parties came settlement and prayed for an award in accord with the terms of settlement. I am of opinion even though the parties came to a settlemen course of adjudication proceedings and prayed an award be passed in accordance with the t as settled, it still remained a duty of the Trib to consider whether the terms were fair, re able and proper, and if effect should be give the same. The responsibility to pass an a upon applying the judicial mind still rema even though the parties chose to settle the dis on certain terms which were liable to be exam by the Tribunal as to determine a fair solutio the dispute. It is stated by the Company in written statement that the Labour Departm passed the order for publication of award on March 1961. Naturally, therefore, it took s time for publishing the award in the Gazette the pending continued up to 30 days after t Therefore, the dismissal of the workman by letter, dated the 28th March 1961, was m during the pendency of the proceedings before Tribunal. It is further urged by the lear Counsel for the Company that this settlement made by the Conciliation Officer on 16th Febru 1961. I am not concerned with such settlem made by the Conciliation Officer in order to fix the period of pendency of the proceedings be me. So, whether the Conciliation Officer had j diction to take up a matter of dispute for se ment which was already pending before Tribunal, is a point which does not come up for decision. In the result, I find that there wa clear contravention of provisions of section 3 the Industrial Disputes Act, as the proceeding the main case were pending before me when action was taken against the workman, wit any application being filed for approval of action.

I can, therefore, assume jurisdiction to de mine the point of grievance raised by the w man in his application under section 33A in same manner as I would have done if a refer of a dispute had been made by the appropr government to me. Now, the workman was char with theft with respect to the Company's prop and this is described as a misconduct under 16(b) of the Standing Orders (vide Ext. C). offence is said to have been committed on the 1 March 1961, at about 13-20 hours, by the w man concerned [vide Ext. B(1)—the charge-she t is admitted by the workman in the written tatement that he received the charge-sheet and hat he was directed to submit an explanation by 21st March 1961. It is, however, clear from the harge-sheet itself and the evidence adduced that he workman concerned was not asked to submit ny written explanation. According to the vidence of O.P.W. 1, Shri Datta, the Personal Officer, who conducted the enquiry, he did not onsider it necessary to have any written explanaion. In the charge-sheet it was clearly mentioned hat the workman was required to attend the nquiry to be held on the 21st March 1961, at 0-30 a.m., and that he should produce such witnesses as he wanted to examine in defence. The first principle of natural justice is that no man should be judged unheard. It is necessary that he should be given a reasonable opportunity of offering an explanation. But at the same time in the departmental enquiry there is no hard and fast rule as to the manner in which the opportunity should be given to the workman proceeded against. At the departmental enquiry held on 21st March 1961, the Company examined Shri Gopal Ch. Behura, and he got full chance to explain his conduct. Shri Behura had cross-examined Shri Him Bahadur Khettry, a durwan of the Caretaker's Department, who detected the theft and caught hold Shri Behura, Shri Amar Bahadur Gurang, another durwan and Mr. Leeming, the Caretaker, to whom the stolen articles had been made over by Him Bahadur. There is nothing to show any irregularity in the enquiry proceedings. It may be noted that the enquiry proceedings clearly indicate that Shri Behura cross-examined the witnesses at length and signed in English at several pages in the enquiry proceedings after the conclusion of the evidence of such witness. At the enquiry proceedings he himself was examined at length wherein he admitted his guilt. The statement of Shri Behura in the course of enquiry proceedings really gives out, whatever explanation he offered, and this shows that reasonable opportunity was given. Simply because of the fact that a separate written explanation had not been given, I do not think that the principle of natural justice had been violated. The other point urged by the learned lawyer appearing for the workman in support of his contention is that the action of the employer cannot be said to be bona fide, proper and regular as that the workman had been dismissed with effect from the date of his suspension, i.e., on the 20th March 1961, and not from the final order of dismissal passed on 28th March 1961. The point for consideration is that if such an order of dismissal which is made with retrospective effect from the date of suspension of a workman can be maintained. Dismissal from service with retrospective effect is no doubt illegal and invalid in law. Of course, suspension of a workman pending domestic enquiry by which the workman concerned is deprived of his wages can be done only if there be a provision in the Standing Orders or in the contract of service. I.. rule 17 of the Standing Orders of the Company it is provided that if on enquiry (i.e., the domestic enquiry) the order is confirmed or modified the employee shall be deemed suspended during investigation and to be absent from duty for the period of suspension and shall not be entitled to any remuneration for such period. In the charge-sheet, Ext. B(1), it had been specifically mentioned that the workman would remain suspended pending enquiry. But even then I would say that the question of non-payment of wages for the period of suspension pending enquiry should not be mixed up with the question of passing the order of dismissal with retrospective effect and, therefore, to this extent, the order of dismissal is irregular to the extent that a mistake was committed by the employer in the matter of passing the order of dismissal. In that view I hold that the order of dismissal is not lawful as it suffers from a technical defect arising from a mistake committed by the employer, however, much it be said to have been done bona fide. At the same time I shall have to consider whether in the particular circumstances of the case wherein some defect in the matter of dismissal, as stated above, is found to have occurred, it would be appropriate to pass an order of reinstatement which is, of course, the relief in case of wrongful dismissal. Considering the circumstances of the case I think that it would be enough for the purpose of meeting the ends of social justice to allow the workman wages for the period of suspension and also wages for one month in lieu of notice. A similar decision was given in a case reported in 60 C.W.N. at page 1023 (Damodar Valley Corporation versus Provat Roy) by the Calcutta High Court. When it is crystal clear that the entire domestic proceedings had been done faithfully and honestly and the guilt of the man had been proved, I think that it would unwise to give any further relief to such a workman who stole away the company's property, even though I find that there is just a technical error in the order of dismissal itself as pointed out above.

This is the award.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Chandranath Press, 169 Cornawallis Street, Calcutta-6, and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association, 249-B Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, over the following issues, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 989-I.R./IR/13L-6/61, dated the 28th February 1961.

Issues

(1) Pay Scale.

(2) Working hours.

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 11th March 1961, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

AWARD

After the notices were served, the Press Employees' Association (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed the written statement on 12th April 1961, duly signed and verified by Shri Jatin Chakraborty, described as the General Secretary of the Union. The case as made out by the Union is that even though the Company, i.e., Messrs. Chandranath Press, is a prosperous concern, they were not paying the bare minimum wages to the workmen and in order to redress the grievances a charter of demands had been submitted by the Union on 20th May 1960 demanding decreases the working hours increased from 42 to 48 hours all on a sudden, and for introduction of pay scales with proper increment. All attempts for solution of the dispute through the Conciliation Officer having failed due to the adamant attitude of the employer, this reference has been made by the Government. The Union demands that the wages of the workmen, numbering 8 in all, employed in this concern should be fixed in proper scales and the starting pay of the workmen should also be fixed at the rates as mentioned in Annexure "A" attached to the written statement.

Messrs. Chandranath Press, i.e., the employer, filed the written statement on 13th June 1961. It is stated therein that this printing press is small concern started from 1952 with 18 workm and due to dearth of work and losses from ye to year it is now working with one treac machine out of three, and one flat machine out two, employing only eight workmen. It is furth alleged that this printing press is not a comparal unit with those printing presses who are cover by the omnibus printing awards of 1948 and 19 and therefore the scales of pay as laid down those awards should not be imposed upon th concern. Besides, it is contended that there w a tripartite settlement, dated 12th August 19 which had not been lawfully terminated a therefore, the reference of the same dispute alrea covered under that settlement is not maintainal in law.

Parties adduced both oral and documenta evidence on the date of hearing fixed on 1 September 1961. From the side of the Uni three workmen, viz., Shri Panchanan Misra, Sh Manmatha Nath Das and Shri Jaladhar Das we examined. The employer examined only o witness, Shri Purnendu Sekhar Chakraborty, part-time Accountant of the Company.

Before entering into the merits of the dispu it is necessary to dispose of the preliminary poi of objection raised by the Company.

It appears that a tripartite settlement had be made on 12th August 1957 whereby five workm including only Shri Amulya Ch. Panja among the present workmen were allowed increment their wages. The memorandum of settlemen Ext. A, does not show what were the issues, o point of difference between the parties over whi the settlement was made. Upon careful reading the memorandum of settlement with due regar to the short recital of the case and the terms settlement as embodied in that document, I a satisfied that it does not cover any point as to t settlement of the dispute regarding scales of p or the wages to be paid to the workmen in t concern. In fact, the terms of agreement are n happily worded and are vague and indefinite nature. It is simply stated that if the employe are found to be working satisfactorily, their p would be fixed at the minimum of their scale the expiry of two years when the matter would reviewed. The plain and simple meaning of th words are that the question of fixation of minim wages stood deferred for consideration by t years. Naturally, therefore, there was no sett ment arrived at on the question of fixati a scales of pay as it was expected to be consider at a later date. Admittedly, the matter as to t fixation of wage-rates had never been consider by the Conciliation Officer in arriving at th settlement. The question of termination of a sett ment under section 19(2) of the Industrial Dispu Act arises only when there is a settlement of particular industrial dispute which comes up f adjudication in a reference case. As there was settlement of the dispute or of any matter dispute regarding fixation of wage-scale a working hours by the previous so-called sett ment, dated 12th August 1957, I find that th arises no question of attaching any binding for to the same. The preliminary objection thus fai

Now I take up for consideration the issues o by one.

; is demanded by the Union that six of the kmen are doing the job of compositors and, efore, they should get wages in the scales of 55—8/2—95—E.B.—5/2—120 as fixed by the nibus Award in 1951 in the case of 90 Printing sses of Calcutta and Howrah, published in the lcutta Gazette" on 22nd February 1951, under ernment order No. 995-Lab., dated the 14th ruary 1951. Admittedly one of these workmen of in service now. It is stated by the Company paragraph 11 of the written statement that all se workmen are, in fact, doing the job of junior positors. At the time of hearing the learned resentative of the Union stated that Shri Amulya ja is doing the job of junior compositor. For rest of the compositors whose names appear in al number 1 to 4 in Annexure "A" to the tten statement, it is contended that they are petent to do all kinds of job independently , therefore, they are full-fledged compositors. may be mentioned that a scale of pay of 50—90 has been prescribed by the last nibus Award of 1951 for such a junior positor who specialises in four of the intricate s, viz., (i) correction, (ii) page make-up,) ranging and justifying the lines, (iv) tabular rks, (v) display works, (vi) advertisement,) catalogue works, and (viii) cheque. From evidence of P.W. 1, Shri Panchanan Misra, claims himself as a full-fledged compositor, is clear that he cannot composite Hindi or rsee script. Obviously, job analysis and job luation in a scientific manner is essentially essary before it can be decided what grades and les of pay should be allowed to a workman. may be however be mentioned that out of four positors, two are drawing basic pay at Rs. 65 month and the other two at Rs. 60 per month ce 1953 with no increment in course of these ht years. The present basic pay falls within scale of Rs. 55—120 meant for senior positor as well as within the scale of Rs. 50—90 ant for specialised junior compositors. viously, this is not a big printing press and am inclined to hold that the jobs performed by e compositors are not associated with the rformance of all classes of jobs as done in big esses.

The employer pleaded inability to give remental scales of pay to the workmen on the round of financial disability. It is now well ttled that the workers engaged in a particular dustry in a particular region, should be paid ages at a uniform rate and an exception can be ade with respect to a particular concern only if re be very strong and cogent ground to make ch exception. This press came into existence ter the publication of the Omnibus Award of 51. In the Omnibus Award of 1951, as many 90 printing presses were parties. From the idence I find that the Katyani Machine Press, e Gurudas Press, the Reliance Printing Press nploying about 8 or 10 workmen were made rties in the Omnibus Award. I, therefore, do ot find any reason why any exception should be ade with respect to this concern merely because is employing similar number of workmen. The nployer submitted a statement of accounts which ows that the Company suffered loss at s. 2,217.23 nP. in 1960-61, and earned a profit at Rs. 861.17 nP. in 1959-60. The learned representative of the Union challenged the correctness of the statement of accounts on the ground that these are not audited by expert. There is some force in this contention. Besides, it has got to be noted that when a particular scale of pay is applicable to the workmen engaged in the Printing Presses of Calcutta and Howrah, any differential treatment with respect to the workmen of this particular Press will lead to industrial discontentment. So an attempt should always be made to stand near the scale of pay in a particular industry in the region. It is pertinent to note that these workmen in this concern got no increment whatsoever since their appointment six or seven years back. They can legitimately feel a grievance for that. It has got to be noted that the scales of pay as prescribed in the previous award ensures increment enduring for about 20 years and that the increments are allowed at small rate bi annually. Clearly, such rates of increment spread over such a long period go to increase the financial liability year by year in a very small degree when the total complements of workmen stand at a small number.

I therefore decide that these workmen should get the benefit of the scales of pay as prescribed by the previous Omnibus Award of 1951.

I now take up for consideration the particular scales of pay which should be given to these workmen. From the evidence I hold that the four compositors as in serial Nos. 1 to 4 should get scales of specialised junior compositors, i.e., Rs. 50—4/2—70/E.B.—4/2—90. Regarding fixation of pay in the proposed scale, I decide that it be fixed after pulling up the present pay to the next stage in the scale and adding one increment to the same so that the two workers who are now drawing Rs. 65 would draw Rs. 70 per month, and the other two compositors who are now getting Rs. 60, would draw Rs. 66 per month. As for the junior compositor, i.e., Shri Amulya Punja who is now getting Rs. 37, his scale of pay shall be Rs. 35—2/2—45—E.B.—1/2—50, and I fix his initial pay at Rs. 39 per month.

Manmatha Das is now getting a basic pay of Rs. 75 per month. P.W. 1, Shri Misra, stated that he (Manmatha Das) does the work of Machineman as well as of Jamadar. The employer's version is that he is a machineman and he does not do any work of Jamadar. The duty of Jamadar is, more or less, of a supervisory nature with respect to work at the machine done by machineman. Virtually, only two workmen are working here at the machine. Admittedly Manmatha does the work of machineman. Considering the facts and circumstances, I find that he cannot be said to be a Jamadar and should get the scales of pay meant for a machineman, i.e., Rs. 45—6/2—75—E.B.—5/2—100. His initial pay in the proposed scale shall be Rs. 80 per month. It is stated that the remaining workman, i.e., Jaladhar Das, who is now getting Rs. 58 per month, is a machineman and that he should be given the scale of pay applicable to such category of workmen. The employer's version is that he is an assistant machineman, and not a machineman. I have already stated that for all practical purposes Shri Manmatha Das is a machineman. There is no reliable evidence that there is any Inkman or Paper Feeder in this concern, and in this view I hold that Jaladhar Das has to do virtually the job of an assistant machineman. He should therefore be given the scale of pay applicable to Assistant Machinemen, i.e., Rs. 35—4/2—55—E.B.—2/2—65, and his initial pay should be fixed at Rs. 61 per month. I further direct that the workmen should be paid wages at the rates stated above with effect from 1st August 1961, and that the next increment in accordance with the scales laid down should be due after two years.

The demand of the Union is that the working hours should be fixed at 42 hours in a week. There is no controversy on that this Company followed the rule of working hours at 42 hours per week up to February 1959. All on a sudden without giving any notice under section 9(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act, the working hour was raised to 48 hours per week. The Omnibus Tribunal in its award fixed the weekly working hours at 42 hours for all the printing presses covered by the award. The learned Tribunal after carefully considering all the facts and circumstances fixed the working hours at 42 hours when the working hours were varying from 40 to 46 hours a week in the different printing presses. I find that it should not be fair to fix a greater number of working hours for this particular concern when so many concerns are following one uniform system. There can be no controversy on the point that in spite of the Factories Act which prescribes a limit of 48 hours in a week, the Tribunal can fix in appropriate cases a lesser period of weekly hour of work. It has got to be noted that this Company all through adhered to a rule of 42 hours a week and all on a sudden increased the working hours which by itself was an infringement of the provision of law and such rise gave rise to a legitimate and reasonable cause of grievance from the workmen. I, therefore, fix the working hours at 42 hours in a week. The Company must revert to the old conditions of service and restrict the hours of work at 42 hours in a week in the same manner as prescribed in the Omnibus Award of 1951.

This is my award.

AWARD

By its order No. 2610-I.R./IR/14L-4/60, date 25th May 1960, the Government of West Bengal Labour Department referred under section 10 the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispu between the Kotrung Municipality, P.O. Kotrung district Hooghly, and its workmen represented b the Hooghly District Workers' Union, 346 G Road, Belur, Howrah, on the sole issue of for the strike period from 20th April 1960 to 2 April 1960.

The facts as far as they are beyond dispute, briefly that by a Government circular, dated 7 8th May 1959, the Government of West Ben requested the Municipality to put into effect recommendations of the Minimum Wages C mittee. But the Municipality in view of financial position was not able to implement t recommendation. On the 15th February 1 there was a settlement arrived at between Municipality represented by the then Vi Chairman Shri P. K. Dutta on the one hand a the Hooghly District Municipal Workers' Un represented by J. N. Pandey, President, a S. N. Singh, Secretary, on the other. Amo other things, one of the terms of this settleme is that the arrears will be paid by the 31st Mar 1960 at the latest. Another of the terms is th the strike notice already served by the Union w formally withdrawn ie case that there was no further notice of strike rved by the Union on the Municipality after the ettlement of the 15th February 1960 and onsequently the strike was illegal. After the only witness for the Municipality had been examined nd after arguments for the Municipality had been eard the Union made its appearance through its resident Shri J. N. Pandey and I allowed im to adduce evidence and to argue the ase. Its only witness Shri Somnath Singh, ecretary of the Union, stated that another notice f strike had been sent to the Municipality under certificate of posting on the 1st April 1960 and e actually proved a copy of the notice. The witness for the Municipality was then questioned s to whether a notice like Ext. 1 was received by he Municipality and he denied having received ny such notice. In cross-examination, however, e admitted that there was a record of letters and notices received in the Municipality. He was ecordingly called upon to produce that register. On production of the register however, it appeared from the relevant entry, Ext. B, that the notice Ext. 1 was actually received by the Municipality on the 6th of April 1960. The clerk concerned also admitted on the second day that the notice had been received and he actually produced it. Questioned as to why he had said on the first day of hearing that no such notice had been received by the Municipality he stated that he had not found the notice on search in the appropriate file and that was why he had said so and when he found the entry in the register he went to the Ex-Vice-Chairman who delivered the notice to him. It is thus clear that the Union did serve a notice of strike on the Municipality and this notice reached the Municipality on the 6th of April 1960. Admittedly the strike began on the 20th April 1960.

The first question for decision now is whether the strike was legal. Admittedly the strikers consisted entirely of the conservancy staff of the Municipality. Section 2(n), clause (v) of the Industrial Disputes Act brings any system of ublic Conservancy or Sanitation within the eaning of the expression "Public Utility Service" defined there. Consequently, the conservancy aff comes within the meaning of that definition. nder section 22, sub-section 1, clauses (a) and b) "no person employed in a Public Utility ervice is entitled to go on strike in breach of ontract-

(a) without giving to the employer notice of strike, as hereinafter provided, within six weeks before striking; or

(b) within fourteen days of giving such notice."

Then section 24, sub-section 1 provides as ollows: -

"A strike for a lock-out shall be illegal if—

(i) it is commenced or declared in contravention of section 22 or section 23;".

Mr. Dasgupta on behalf of the Municipality argued in the first place that in spite of the service of the notice, Ext. 1, which reached the Municipality on the 6th of April 1960 the strike was illegal because on general principles of law the day on which the notice reached the municipality has to be excluded from computation and if at day is excluded the strike which commenced on the 20th April 1960 began on the 14th day after the receipt of the notice so that it was really a strike within 14 days of giving such notice. He challenges the legality of the strike, in the second place, on the ground that the strike offended against the provisions of section 71(1) of the Bengal Municipal Act which provides that "a methar or other servant of the Commissioners employed to remove or deal with sewage, offensive matter or rubbish shall not withdraw from his duties without the permission of the Commissioner unless he has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw." On behalf of the Union Shri Pandey argued first that the 6th of April on which the Municipality appears to have received the notice should not be excluded from the computation in calculating 14 days from the day of receipt of the notice and consequently it was not illegal under the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. He further argues that in deciding whether a strike is legal or not under the Industrial Disputes Act the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act only can be considered and the provisions of the Municipal Act cannot be considered.

Sub-section (1) of section 9, General Clause Act of 1897, provides that "in any Central Act or Regulation made after the commencement of this Act, it shall be sufficient, for the purpose of excluding the first in a series of days or any other period of time, to use the word 'from' and for the purpose of including the last in a series of days or any other period of time, the use of the word 'to'." Strictly speaking this does not seem to me to mean that whenever any Central Act uses the expression that a certain thing has to be done within a certain time the first day should be excluded but it has been laid down in a number of cases that where an order of a Court directs a party to deposit in Court a certain sum of money within a month it must exclude the day on which the order is passed. Section 9 of the General Clauses Act after all, lays down an equitable principle of computation of the period of time prescribed for anything to be done by a party. When a certain thing has to be done with a certain time, i.e., when the time within which the thing is to be done is fixed by the statute, the parties must be given that time, no more and no less. On the day from which as a result of one party doing an act within the knowledge of the other party, time begins to run against the other party, the first day is to be excluded on the equitable ground that till the other party comes to know that the time has begun to run against it is not in a position to avail itself in full of the time prescribed. In other words, in doing its duty within the period specified by the statute or the order, it is not actually given the specified period unless the first day when it knows that time was begun to run against it is excluded. There is thus no reason why in calculating 14 days the 6th April 1960 when the notice appears to have been received by the Municipality should not be excluded and if it is excluded, the strike which admittedly began on the 20th must be held to have begun on the 14th day or within 14 days of the notice. Clearly then it contravened the provisions of section 22, sub-section (1)(b).

There is nothing in sections 22, 23 or 24 of the Industrial Disputes Act to suggest that the legality of a strike must always be judged with reference to the relevant sections of the Industrial Disputes Act alone and the provisions of other Acts are simply to be left out of account in deciding whether a strike is legal or not. In the absence of any words anywhere in the Industrial Disputes Act generally or specifically in sections 22, 23 and 24 of that Act, to suggest that the provisions of other statutes are to be excluded from consideration, one must hold that a strike may be illegal even apart from or independently of the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. In other words, these provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act cannot be said to derogate from the provisions of other Acts but they are merely supplementary to other acts. Otherwise the prohibition in section 71, sub-section 1 of the Bengal Municipal Act will be rendered completely meaningless and nugatory. Section 71, sub-section 1 by prohibiting the conservancy staff of a Municipality to withdraw from duties without the permission of the Commissioners unless they were given notice in writing not less than one month previously of their intention so to withdraw clearly makes such withdrawal illegal. As there is nothing in the section even to suggest that the prohibition makes it illegal only for the purposes of the Municipal Act, it must be held to be an illegality for all purposes and not merely for the purpose of the Municipal Act. That being so, the strike must be held to be illegal also under this provision of the Bengal Municipal Act. As the strike was illegal the question of its justifiability does not arise. If a strike is illegal the strikers would not be entitled to their wages for the strike period in any event. My award therefore on this issue is that the strikers are not entitled to their wages for the period of the strike from the 20th April to the 29th April 1960.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labo Department order No. 15-I.R./IR/7L-47/60, dat the 3rd January 1961, referred to this Tribun an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shr Lachminarayan Jute Mfg. Co. Ltd., 107 C. Mukherjee Street, Konnagar, Hooghly (hereaft referred to as the Company), and their workme represented by Lachminarayan Jute Mill Cott Sections Workers' Union, C. S. Mukherjee Stre post office Konnagar, Hooghly (hereafter refer to as the Union), for adjudication under sect 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudi tion is as follows:

Is the dismissal of (a) Shri Ashutosh Das, (Shri Benode Bhadra and (c) Shri Nepal Je justified? To what relief, if any, are the entitled?

AWARD

The workmen's case in short is this: The se Company has a cotton mill also and this cotto section of the Company's business employs abou 300 workmen. The management of this cotto section cherishes a hostile attitude towards Unio activities of the workmen, and indulges in all sor of unfair labour practice. The three workme directly concerned in this case were permanen workmen of the said cotton section. On 11th an 12th July 1960, they were served with show-cau notices by the management for alleged absenc without leave for more than 10 days. They dul submitted their replies explaining the position But in spite of it, the management dismissed the 20th and 21st July 1960 without any enquiry tsoever in utter violation of all principles of ural justice. The management refused to nsider the matter in spite of all representations the workmen.

The Company, on the other hand, inter alia ges that the workmen were duly served with rge-sheets for absence of more than 10 days hout leave. But the workmen did not submit ir explanation within time as required by the ices containing the charges although they had eived the said charge-sheets in time. In the cumstances, the Company had no alternative but dismiss the workmen. After the said orders dismissal had already been sent to the workmen cerned, replies purporting to be explanations re sent, and the management could not take the me into consideration after the dismissal. The mpany denies any ulterior motive or mala fides its action.

Decision

It may be mentioned here that neither party as adduced any oral evidence before this Tribunal. oth parties rely on certain documentary evidences e, marked exhibits with the consent of the ies. Ext. A, A-3 and A-7 are the three notices ed on the three workmen calling upon them how cause, if any, within seven days from the of issue of the letters asking them to show se why they should not be dismissed for misduct under clause 14(e)v of the Standing Orders being absent without leave for more than 10 s. From the said notices, it will appear that y were issued on the 12th July 1960. The kmen were asked to submit their explanations, any, within seven days of the date of issue of notices. It is the definite case of the management or the Company that none of them showed y reason or explained any circumstance within ne, and so they were dismissed by orders, dated th and 21st July 1960. It is not at all in pute that these workmen remained absent for re than 10 days without previous leave or ssion and under clause 14(e)v of the Standing s such continued absence without leave nts to a misconduct meriting dismissal, and the management has right to dismiss a workfor such absence without leave for more than ys. But the relevant Standing Order further down that no workman shall be dismissed s he is informed in writing of the alleged nduct and is given an opportunity to explain circumstances alleged against him and to ce evidence, if any, in his favour. From the es—Exts. A, A-3 and A-7 —it will appear that workmen absented for more than 10 days re the issue of these notices. The manage- t by serving the said notices clearly gave the kmen sufficient opportunity to explain the umstances. The alleged misconduct was clearly tioned in the notice. It is nobody's case that notices did not reach the workmen in time, or they got no sufficient time or opportunity to in the circumstances or show cause, if any, n the time mentioned in the notices. Shri de Bhadra and Shri Nepal Joy admittedly got notices, and they had sufficient time to give es or explain the circumstances within the od fixed by the management. But they failed it in time. Similarly, it is not the case of Ashutosh Das also that he did not get any such notice. There is no evidence also to show that the notice did not reach him in time. On the contrary, the clear case of all the workmen including Shri Ashutosh Das is that they duly submitted their replies to the charge or show cause notice. From Exts. A-1 and A-9 it will appear that Shri Bhadra and Shri Joy purported to send their explanations on 22nd July 1960. But they were already dismissed on 21st July 1960. They were required to send their explanations if any within one week of 12th July 1960, but they failed to do it. There is no evidence on record to show that they were prevented by any sufficient reason from sending their explanations within the said period. There is also no circumstance on record to show that these two workmen were not in a position to send their explanations in time. I do not think that one week's time allowed to the workmen for explanation was an unreasonable period for the purpose. In their belated explanations, the two workmen simply allege that they could not inform the management of their condition due to postal and some other circumstances and difficulties. But the vague explanation for delay is neither here nor there, and carries no conviction with me. There is no evidence to establish any unavoidable difficulty in this connection. So, I think, the Company was perfectly within its rights to pass an order of dismissal on 21st July 1960. If the Company failed to reconsider the matter after the receipt of explanations Exts. A-5 and A-9—and if it was not pleased to vacate the order of dismissal on account of this belated explanation, it cannot be held or deduced therefrom that the Company is guilty of violation of the principles of natural justice. The workmen were evidently guilty of misconduct, and they were allowed sufficient opportunity to explain the circumstances, but they by their own laches again failed to avail of that opportunity also in time. So, the Company in its discretion decided the matter in its own way. A simple belated explanation after the dye was already cast is not by itself sufficient to undo the managerial action or render the dismissal unjust. The management is not bound to reconsider the matter, and the Tribunal also cannot interfere with the management action on this ground alone. So, I think, Shri Bhadra and Shri Joy are not entitled to any relief in this case.

As to Shri Ashutosh Das, the case is slightly different. Notice to show cause against the alleged misconduct of absence without leave for more than 10 days, was issued to him also on 12th July 1961 asking him to explain the circumstances within a week of that date. It is true—and it is admitted that he did not get this notice in time. So it must be presumed that he was given sufficient opportunity to explain his misconduct. But he actually sent no reply to the said notice or explained no explanation for the said misconduct at any time before or after the date of dismissal. It appears that Shri Das along with two others got connected with this case sent an application from the Jalpaiguri Sub-Jail for one month's leave on the ground that they were arrested and detained in jail custody in connection with a criminal case. This petition was apparently forwarded from the Sub-Jail on 12th July 1960. It is not clear when this petition was actually despatched or posted by the Jail authorities. The Company's case is that this letter reached the Company's office after the order of dismissal was already passed. From an endorsement in the corner of the letter, it is argued that this petition did not reach the Company's office before 21st July 1960, whereas Shri Das was actually dismissed on 20th July 1960. So, the question arises whether the Company's order of dismissal can be supported inspite of this petition (Ext. A-2). If this Ext. A-2 also reached the Company after the order of dismissal, my observation regarding belated explanations of Shri Joy and Shri Bhadra apply mutatis mutandis to this case also. Assuming that this petition reached the management before the order of dismissal was passed, I may yet point out that the hands of the management could not be restrained by that petition alone. It is not really a sufficient explanation to the charge or the alleged misconduct. It is simply a prayer for long leave, and the Company was not bound to grant such a long leave practically for an indefinite period, simply because Shri Das was arrested and detained in jail custody on a criminal charge. In such a case, the Company may refuse to grant leave and discharge the workman in exercise of powers provided in the Standing Orders. In this connection, I may refer to the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Indian Iron and Steel Company Ltd. and another versus "their workmen" reported in 1958 L.L.J. Vol. I, page 260. The substance of the decision of their lordships in this reported case may be briefly stated as follows:—

"The Standing Orders of a Company inter alia provided for discharge of a workman remaining absent without permission for 14 consecutive days. Some of the workmen who were taken in police custody in connection with criminal prosecution against them applied for leave which was refused by the management. The services of such workmen were terminated for remaining absent without permission for 14 consecutive days. The contention, that the absence in such cases was considered justified by the Tribunals below, must be rejected. It is true that the arrested men were not in a position to come to their work because they had been arrested by the police. This may be unfortunate for them; but it would be unjust to hold that in such circumstances the Compnay must always give leave when an application for leave is made. If a large number of workmen are arrested by the authorities in charge of law and order by reason of their questionable activities in connection with a labour dispute, the work of the Company will be paralysed, if the Company is forced to give leave to all of them for a more or less indefinite period. Such a principle will not be just; nor will it restore harmony between labour and capital or ensure normal flow of production. It is immaterial whether the charges on which the workmen are arrested by the police are ultimately proved or not in a court of law. The Company must carry on its work and may find it impossible to do so if a large number of workmen are absent. Whether in such circumstances leave should be granted or not must be left to the discretion of the employer. It may be readily accepted that if the workmen are arrested at the instance of the Company for the purpose of victimisation and in order to get rid of them on ost pretext of continued absence, the positi be different. It will then be a coloura mala fide exercise of power under the r Standing Order."

In the present case also, the worker was a by the police not at the instance of the Co and so the question of victimisation Company does not arise. The leave prayed f more or less for indefinite period. Nobody when Shri Das would be released. So, th stood refused expressly or impliedly. The tinued absence was for more than 10 days w leave. So, it cannot be held that the discha dismissal was improper. Opportunity to e was given though not availed of in time charge from service when in continued det or for absenteeism when without formal el sheet has not been held to be improper. S any view of the case, Shri Das's dismissa cannot be held improper, and the Tribunal c interfere into the matter.

So, none of the three workmen concern entitled to any relief in this case.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Bird & Co. Private, Ltd., Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Railway Godown Workers' Union, 4 Nityadhan Mukherjee Road, Howrah (Government order No. 3157-I.R /IR/4L-55(A)/60, dated 23rd June 1960).

For the Company: Shri P. K. Ghosh, Advocate.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Bird & Co. (P.) Ltd., Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Railway Godown Workers' Union, 4 Nityadhan Mukherjee Road, Howrah, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, over the following issue, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3157-I.R./IR/4L-55(A) 60, dated the 23rd June 1960.

Issue

Whether the discharge of 97 workmen (lists attached) is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 29th June 1960, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

AWARD

After the notices were served, the Union, i.e., the Railway Godown Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed the written statement on 27th August 1960, duly signed and verified by Shri Ram Chandra Sarma, described as the General Secretary of the aforesaid Union. The case as made out by the Union is that Messrs. Bird & Co. became the contractor of Railways for handling goods and parcels in Howrah Railway Station. Before Messrs. Bird & Co. became the contractor Messrs. B. R. Agrahari & Co. was the contractor for the goods section and Messrs. S. C. Kundu & Co. was the contractor for the parcels section. A tripartite agreement was made on the 30th April 1959, just on the eve of Messrs. Bird & Co. becoming the contractor, through Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee, the Assistant Labour Commissioner, wherein it was settled that the old workmen as working under Messrs. B. R. Agrahari & Co. would be engaged by the new contractor. But, in spite of the agreement this Company employed about 250 old workmen and engaged 250 new hands on the 1st May 1959, even though these 250 workers were available for the job. Besides, it is alleged that the Company began to discharge the old workers in small batches without any charge-sheet and without assigning any reason thereof, and in this way all the 97 workers who are concerned in this dispute, were discharged by the Company beginning from 3rd May 1959, and ending by October 1959. In discharging the workmen, it is further contended that the principle of "last come, first go" had not been followed by the employer, i.e., Messrs. Bird & Co.

Messrs. Bird & Co. (P.) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed the written statement on 31st October 1960. It is stated by the Company that they took up the contract for handling parcels at the first instance for a temporary period of one month commencing from 1st May 1959 which was further extended by a month twice to suit the interests of the Railway and it was finally terminated with effect from 1st August 1959. Regarding the contract for the goods section, it is contended that the contract with the Railway which also commenced from 1st May 1959, was terminated with effect from 1st October 1960. With regard to 97 men concerned in this dispute, the Company's version is that these persons left on their own accord – their terms of employment being casual on the basis of "no work, no pay".

After both the parties filed the written statements, the appropriate Government by an Addendum, dated the 22nd December 1960, made Messrs. R. P. Pandey & Co. a party as an employer in the case. As such the newly-added party was given an opportunity to file a written statement and the said Company filed their written statement on 6th March 1961. It is contended by Messrs. R. P. Pandey & Co. that none of these persons has ever been their workman and that there was no contract or agreement with them to employ any of these workmen. It is further alleged that these persons had never been discharged by them and, therefore, the order of reference making them a party is not maintainable in law. The substance of their contention is that they have been unnecessarily made party to the order of reference as their is no industrial dispute as far as they are concerned.

Parties adduced evidence on 29th August 1961 and on 31st August 1961. From the side of the Union, Shri Ram Chandra Sarma, the Secretary of the Union, Shri Becharam Dey, a marker man in goods section, Shri Bem Tindal, a discharged workman of the godown section (serial No. 1 of the order of reference) and Raj Kishore, a Tindal, were examined. Messrs. Bird & Co. examined Mr. O. A. Clarke, an Assistant in the Labour Department of the Bird & Co. and Messrs. R. B. Pandey & Co. examined Shri Shribastav, the Manager of the Firm. Besides, parties filed some documentary evidence to which I would refer to in course of my adjudication as and when necessary.

At the conclusion of evidence parties advanced their arguments in respect of their respective contentions.

There is no controversy on the point that Messrs. Bird & Co. acted as contractor under the Railway for loading and unloading of parcels at the Howrah Railway Station for a period of three months from 1st May 1959 to 31st July 1959. There is also no dispute on the point that the said Company took such contract lasting for one month, i.e., the month of May at first, and then it was extended for another month and then extended by another month. So far as the goods section is concerned, the said Company worked as contractor for loading and unloading goods for a period of 17 months from 1st May 1959 to the 30th September 1960. It appears from the evidence that the Railway Administration had engaged different contractors for doing this type of job at different terms. At the end of the contracted period, new contractors had been engaged by the Railway, upon inviting tenders. Admittedly, Messrs. B. R. Agrahari was the contractor for goods section and Messrs. S. C. Kundu & Co. for the parcels section up to 30th April 1959. Messrs. Bird & Co. became the contractor from 1st May 1959 when those contractors left. The persons concerned in this dispute who have been alleged to have been dismissed by Messrs. Bird & Co. are stated to have been employed by this out-going contractor. Naturally, so long as Messrs. S. C. Kundu & Co. and Messrs. R. B. Pandey & Co. happened to be the contractors, they had kept in engagement certain workmen. According to the version of the Union, Messrs. Bird & Co. discharged 31 workmen out of those previously employed in the parcels section by Messrs. R. B. Pandey as mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference and that similarly the Company dismissed 66 porters who were previously engaged in the goods section by Messrs. B. R. Agrahari. Obviously Messrs. Bird & Co. cannot be said to be a successor of either of the two outgoing contractors. These contractors were selected on acceptance of their tenders by the Railway Administration and naturally there remained no liability on the part of the newly-appointed contractors to treat the persons employed as porters and Tindels as their workmen, who might have been engaged by the previous contractor. It is not a case of transfer of the ownership or management of an undertaking whether by agreement or by operation of law. Normally speaking, Messrs. Bird & Co. had the fullest discretion to engage the old workers or not. The relationship as master and servant, obviously fell to the ground on the cessation of the contract in favour of Messrs. B. R. Agrahari and Messrs. S. C. Kundu & Co. It has been alleged by the Union in paragraphs 13 and 14 of the written statement that the Company did not pay wages to the porters at the same rate at which the old contractors used to pay. Now, that is the point which is completely outside the scope of determination in course of this adjudication though a grievance like that had also been made out by P.W. 4, Shri Raj Kishore, a Tindal (serial No. 3 in the order of reference parcel porter). According to the evidence of Mr. Clarke, none of these workmen except Shri Ananta Tewari had been discharged or dismissed. The system of work as followed by the Bird & Co. was that only such porters who reported to duty by 8 a.m. were employed and the number of workmen depended upon the volume of work. There was thus no fixity in the number of porters engaged either in the parcel or in the goods section. The Union's contention is that there was a tripartite agreement made on 30th April 1959 whereby it was agreed that Messrs. Bird & Co. would not employ fresh hands until the present workers as employed by Messrs. B. Agrahari have been absorbed. The said agreem has been made annexure A to the written sta ment and it appears to have been signed by Sahedo Singh on behalf of Messrs. Bird & Now, Mr Clarke denied all knowledge about tripartite agreement. He stated that Sahe Singh was no more than an organiser of the Co pany. It is contended by the learned lawyer the Company that Sahedo Singh had no power enter into any agreement on behalf of the Co pany. No such assertion has been specifically ma in the written statement though, of course, it generally stated that the Company did not adm any of the assertion contained in the writte statement of the Union except those which we expressly admitted. Considering the evidence am inclined to hold that this agreement was n made by the representative of the Company and not binding upon the Company. Besides, there nothing in the agreement itself to indicate that th new contractor was bound to engage the entir labour force as might have been employed b Messrs. B. R. Agrahari and to accept them as matter of course their employment. Simply a ba was imposed against employment of outsiders when the old hands were available.

So far as the workmen in the parcels section is concerned, as might have been employed by Messrs. S. C. Kundu & Co., this agreement whatever be its worth, is completely silent. As already stated, the case of the employer Messrs. Bird & Co is that no relationship of master and servant had been created and there was no dismissal of workmen and furthermore that these persons could not be engaged as there was no sufficient work for them and that they failed to report to duty by 8 a.m when attendance had been recorded. Now, it is very significant to note that the Union did not mention in the written statement the particular dates on which these persons are alleged to have been dismissed. It is simply stated that they were dismissed in batches. Shri Sarma, the Secretary of the Union, wanted to say that these persons h been discharged on different dates between M and October 1959. He made it clear that none these persons had been discharged or dismissed Messrs. R. B. Pandey. At the time of hearin only on 31st August 1961, the Union submitted statement showing the dates of discharge (v Ext. 6). Considering the evidence as a whole, have no hesitation in holding that these dates discharge as given in Ext. 6 cannot be relied o Besides, the oral evidence on the point is high discrepant in nature. Moreover, it has got to b noted that the Union did not examine the concern ed workmen except Beni Tindal and Raj Kishore There is no evidence to show that Messrs. Bird Co. took in employment these workmen and th relationship of master and servant had been create before the alleged termination of service. It i only with respect to Shri Ananta Tewari (seria No. 28 in the list of parcel porters) that some dependable evidence is forthcoming. It appears from Ext. 2 and Ext. 2(a) that he had been dismissed as a result of confidential enquiry into certain charges levelled against him with effect from 23rd May 1959. Evidently the persons had been taken in employment. It appears from the evidence that over his dismissal there was a strike 25th May 1959 for a short period in the evening the parcels section. The employer did not duce any record as to the enquiry proceedings to have done as against Shri Tewari before the on was taken. I am thus inclined to hold that workman had been dismissed in violation of principles of natural justice. Admittedly he a porter in the parcels section and as such it have been continued in service up to the of July 1959, under Messrs. Bird & Co. From evidence of P.W. 4 Shri Kishore, it appears porters were paid at the rate of Rs. 48 by rs. S. C. Kundu & Co., and on that basis I him compensation on the basis of his wages 22nd May 1959 to 31st July 1959 amounting . 116. So far as the other workmen, I find they had never been taken in employment at o that a relationship as master and servant be created. I also find that the employer sufficient justification in not engaging them. arises therefore no question of terminating services either by dismissal or discharge or ichment.

far as Messrs. R. B. Pandey & Co. is con-l, it is clear from the evidence of P.W. 1 Sarma, that none of these workmen had been rged by that concern The entire cause of , it any, arose before they become contractor. ally, therefore, they had no hand in the of terminating the services of these work-nd they are not in any way liable for the quence arising from non-employment of these ien. So, even though they have been made by the Government in this dispute, the ien cannot have any relief against them when ad no hand in the matter of the alleged ation of services of these workmen is my award.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour department order No. 1378 I.R. IR/4L-70/60, dated 17th March 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jamair Co. Private Ltd., 42 Cowringhee Road, Calcutta (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Jamair Employees' Union, 2 N. G. Basak Road, Calcutta-28 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication is this:

Whether the change in the leave rules introduced by the Company from 1st January 1960 as per its notice, dated 19th September 1959, was justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

AWARD

The workmen's case in short is this: The Company is a highly prosperous concern carrying on the business of carriage of passengers and goods, and formerly used to employ about 166 workmen. Though the volume of business of the Company remains the same, the number of the workmen was gradually reduced by the Company to 148, 140, 130 and 106 in 1956, 1957, 1958 and 1959 respectively, and thereby increased the work-load of the staff employed. The prevailing wages, leave, allowances, etc. for the workmen of the Company were low and insufficient. The employees formed a Union on 25th November 1956 and the same was registered on 7th February 1957. The Company did not accept the formation of the Union in good grace, and the Manager started holding out threats openly. On 3rd March 1957 the Union submitted a charter of demands in respect of different matters including leave. The Company did not negotiate with the workmen regarding their demands, but introduced certain leave rules on 1st December 1957 and these are mentioned in Annexure A to the Union's written statement. However during conciliation proceedings before the Conciliation Officer, a settlement was arrived at on 22nd May 1958 in respect of the different demands, and the said leave rules also were confirmed by the workmen on settlement. Since then, the two parties treated those leave rules as conditions of their service. On 19th September 1959, however, the Company purported to issue a notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act, and proposed to introduce revised leave rules much to the prejudice of the workmen and curtailment of their rights with effect from 1st January 1960. The previous settlement was never terminated according to the provisions of section 10(2) by either of the party. Hence, it is alleged that the new leave rules curtailing the rights and amenities of the workmen were introduced illegally and without justification, and hence this dispute.

On the other hand, the Company's case in short is this The leave rules mentioned in Annexure A to the Union's written statement were nothing but written confirmation of the existing practice regarding leave, and it would not be correct to say that they were introduced for the first time on 1st December 1957. The agreement, dated 22nd May 1959, simply signified recognition by the employees of the existing leave rules as a condition of their service. As the said leave rules were not the outcome of any agreement between the parties, no notice of termination under section 19(2) of the Act was necessary for changing those leave rules. Still the Company by way of extra precaution gave more than two months' notice before introducing the revised leave rules. Bad financial position of the Company required drastic curtailment of expenditure and other economic measures. Consequently, the Company had to partially curtail the over generous leave facilities which were much in excess of the statutory provisions. So, there was nothing illegal or mala fide or unjustifiable in the Company's action complained of.

Decision

From what I have stated above, it is clear that certain leave rules were there for the workmen from 1st December 1957 at least, if not from before. Certain changes were admittedly introduced by the Company in these leave rules with effect from 1st January 1960 as per notice, dated 19th September 1959. The workmen challenge the validity and justifiability of these changes on different grounds The first contention of the workmen is that the earlier leave rules having been the subject-matter of a settlement or agreement binding upon the parties, they shall continue to be binding upon the parties until the expiry of two months from the date on which a notice in writing of an intention to terminate the settlement is given by one of the parties to the other party or parties to the settlement as per provisions of section 19(2) of the Act, and that the Company has not yet lawfull terminated the settlement by a valid notice. On the contrary it is urged on behalf of the Company that the old leave rules in question were never introduced by the said settlement and so no notice of termination under section 19(2) of the Act is called for a change thereof, and yet the Company has given more than two months' notice before introducing the change, and the intention of the Company was quite evident from the notice. It is further contended that the earlier leave rules were conditions of service of the workmen from long before the settlement, and so a notice under section 9A was purported to have been given on 19th September 1959, and as an additional precaution instead of 21 days' notice contemplated by section 9A, more than two months' notice was given because section 19(2) prescribes two months' notice. It is submitted that the notice is not bad under either of these sections.

The question is from when the earlier leave rules were first introduced. According to the Union of the workmen, they submitted a charter of demands for leave also amongst other matters on 3rd March 1957, and the Company introduced the said leave rules unilaterally on 1st December 1957 without consulting the workmen or the Union. The Company's General Manager's evidence is that these leave rules were there all along, and the Company simply notified the same in writing on 1st December 1957 for information of all concerned. As against this, the workmen's evidence is that the leave rules at the time of submission of the charter of demands were not similar or uniform for all workmen or departments, and the Compnay standardised the leave rules for the first time by its notice, dated 1st December 1957. In fact, Ext. 4 will show that the workmen demanded that the leave rules should be standardised. It is evident therefrom that there were some leave rules no doubt even before, but they were never reduced to writing or notified to the knowledge of the workmen in precise terms. There are reasons to believe that presumably the leave rules were more or less uncertain or vague. So, the Company felt the need of formulating the precise rules and publishing the same on 1st December 1957. So, for the purpose of the present case, it must be held that the leave rules as mentioned in Ext. 1 were introduced for all practical purposes on and from 1st December 1957, and the workmen in their settlement with the Company on 22nd May 1958 accepted the said leave rules already introduced by the Company on 1st December 1957.

The next question is whether the said leave rules are hit by the section 19(2) of the Act The Company is correct when it says that the leave rules were not introduced as a result of any conciliation or settlement between the parties. The leave rules were introduced by the Company unilaterally no doubt before the settlement, but due to some psychological impact of the demand on the Management. Nevertheless, as a result of the settlement arrived at on 22nd May 1958, what was unilateral became bipartite or tripartite, and the acceptance of the leave rules by the employees of the Union was mentioned as one of the terms of settlement agreed between the parties. Thus the acceptance of the existing leave rules becomes the subject-matter of a tripartite settlement, and thus acquired the sanctity of being a binding agreement. One can easily see that after this acceptance, the employees could not agitate for changing the leave rules without lawfully terminating the settlement. So, the Company also is precluded from changing the same without complying with the provisions of section 19(2) of the Act.

So, the next question is whether the Company actually terminated the settlement in respect of the leave rules before introducing the revised leave rules. Apparently, the notice in this connection was purported to have been issued under section 9A of the Act which contemplates 21 days' notice for changing any condition of service.

ereas section 9A provides for notice of change respect of condition of service, section 19(2) rides for notice for termination of a settlement n a settlement actually relates to some condi- of service, and a change of such condition of ice is intended after the termination of such lement, two months' notice for such termina- is necessary under section 19(2) of the Act, a mere 21 days' notice for change of a lition is not sufficient. But in this case, more two months' notice was given before the ge was introduced. The question is whether notice as given in this case may be deemed to ufficient under section 19(2) of the Act. ion 19(2) prescribes no particular mode of ice or form of notice. It is simply provided the notice under this section shall be in writ- with the intention of terminating the settle- t, and two months' notice shall be given for the ose. Ext. 5 will show that the notice as given his case was for more than two months' and it was in writing and addressed to the work- concerned who were parties to the settlement. notice, of course, did not expressly mention the Company intended to terminate the settle- regarding leave. So, unless it can be said the intention of termination of settlement was ly impleid by the notice, section 19(2) could said to have been fully complied with. The e issued, however, clearly shows Company's ition to effect changes specified in the revised rules in supersession of the earlier leave rules ertain sections of the employees. The inten- to change this condition of service was more clear. Two months' notice contemplated by n 19(2) was also purposely given. So, there escape from the conclusion that the Company ly intended to terminate the previous agree- in this respect, and the notice clearly implies nation of the former settlement in this ct. Thus though the notice is apparently r section 9A of the Act, it should also be ed as one under section 19(2) of the Act cons- ively. So, the introduction of revised leave cannot be held illegal simply on the ground sence of statutory notice. It is urged on lf of the workmen that the settlement cannot rminated in part. The Company, it is alleg- as not terminated the entire settlement, but one of the terms thereof; and this is illegal. I may point out that the Compnay has not ssly said anywhere that it intends to nate only a part of the settlement The nation is simply by the notice for change of ave rules. If the law is that the settlement stand or fall as a whole, it may be presumed in this case also the entire settlement stands nated with all legal consequences thereof. So, nk, there is no substance in this part of the ntion also.

the last but not the least question is whether ompany had any justification for introducing evised rules, partially curtailing leave facili- f the employees. The Company's contention t it was rather over generous in regard to facilities previously. But due to bad financial ion of the Company, lately it failed to continue over generous system of leave. From the ment of his Lordship, Mr. Justice Sinha, in r No. 4 of 1960 in the Original Side of the Court of Calcutta between the present s, it will appear that due to shrinkage of business of the Company, the Compnay had to retrench a large number of its employees. Even then, it appears that the Company is still suffering loss year to year, and the Company for its very existence has to tighten up its belt and is compelled to curtail the extra facilities of leave granted to its workmen only for the purpose of economy. There is hardly any scope for doubt that the Company is passing through bad days economically, and it has therefore every right to reorganise its business. I do not see any mala fides in it. Formerly the Company used to grant 30 days' privilege leave per annum, and now it has been reduced to the scale laid down in the Factories Act. Casual leave was 14 days' previously, and now it has been brought down to 10 days. I do not think the curtailment has brought down the leave perio beyond reasonable limit. This curtailment has been mainly aimed at factory workers or workshop men, and the revised leave rules cannot be said to be very bad for them. Judge by the standard of the Factories Act, 14 days' sick leave on half average pay in a year is not an unreasonable provision. The earlier rule regarding sick leave was vague, uncertain and undefined. So, I do not think that the new leave rules can be challenged on the ground of absence of bona fides. The change was necessitated by sufficient reasons of economy, and cannot be said to be without justification. The present Company undoubtedly runs a non-scheduled air transport service within the country, and this Company cannot be compared with big and established Air Companies like BOAC Pan American, Air Lines Corporation or Air India International, etc. There is no evidence to show that any comparable unit actually grants better leave facilities than those of the revised leave rules. So, my considered opinion is that the revised leave rules cannot be set aside on the ground of absence of justification.

The result is that the issue is answered in the affirmative. The Tribunal has no reason to interfere in the matter, and the workmen are not entitled to any relief in this case.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 6735-I.R.-IR/9L-55/59, dated the 19th December 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield Ltd., 6 Church Lane, Calcutta-1 (hereafter be referred to as the "Company"), and their workmen, represented by the Harrisons and Davenport Employees' Union, 7 Krishna Laha Lane, Calcutta-12, (hereafter be referred to as the "Union"), regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

The present reference was received from the Government on 23rd December 1960. Notices were issued to both parties who entered appearances in time and filed their respective written statements and documents relied upon. The Union examined two witnesses and adduced no other evidence. The Company examined one witness and tendered into evidence quite a number of documents. The facts of the case will appear from the decision.

The dispute which requires adjudication is "Whether the termination of employment of Shri Nurkhan is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled"?

Decision

Admittedly the workman Shri Nurkhan was in service of the Company, Messrs. Harrisons and Crosfield Ltd., as a durwan. The office of the Company is located in premises No. 6 Church Lane, Calcutta. The office of another Company, viz., Messrs. Devenport and Co. Private Ltd. was also located in the same room without any demarcating partition wall in between the offices of the two Companies. Previously the two Companies was under a common Management but now they have separated from each other and the office of Messrs. Davenport & Co. has been shifted to another building. There is a common door for the purpose of entrance and exit leading to the spacious hall where the two offices were located. There is of course, another door for the use of the Managing Director only, attached to his room situated just by the side of the main staircase and one may, however, get into the office room through the Managing Director's room, but the Managing Director's room is for his exclusive use and is not open to any staff, not to speak of any outsider.

The Union's case is that the workman Nurkhan was serving as a durwan and would remain in charge of key of the doors of the common office room and while he was on duty, there was theft of a typewriter machine belonging to Messrs. Davenport & Co., which was kept in the common office on a table. The workman Nurkhan was charge-sheeted for the missing of the typewriter machine from the office room. There was a departmental enquiry. Upon consideration of the report of the enquiry officer, the Management discharged the workman. According to the Union, it was an arbitrary action on the part of the Company without any proper materials to prove that the concerned workman was guilty of the charge of theft. Therefore the Union has prayed for reinstatement of the workman with all back wages including bonus for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company has resisted the Union's claim by denying the allegation of arbitrary action against the concerned workman and by pleading that there was a thorough enquiry and the concerned workman was given full opportunity to place his case and prove his innocence but the workman failed to do so. Although there was no direct evidence to prove the pilferage of the typewriter machine by the said workman himself but there was sufficient evidence to satisfy the Enquiry Officer and the Management that due to his negligence the typewriter machine was stolen from the office, but the Company took a lenient view of his offence and discharged him instead of dismissal and thereby made some financial benefits available to him.

The only point at issue is whether the discharge of the workman Nurkhan is justified. To what relief, if any, is he entitled? It is common ground that he was serving as a durwan of the Company and he was entrusted with the keys of the main door of the office room in which the typewriting machine, which was lost, was kept on a table. It is not disputed that this Company and Messrs. Davenport & Co. had a common Management and the two offices located in the same room. There was no separate durwan engaged by Messrs. Davenport & Co. The concerned workman Nurkhan and another person, Abdul Majid were the two durwans used to remain on duty by rotation. But admittedly, the keys used to remain with the concerned workman, who was the head durwan. Admittedly his duty hours were from 7-30 a.m. to 10-30 a.m. and again from 1-30 p.m. to 5 p.m. on week days except on Saturdays. 16th of December 1959 was a weekday and the concerned workman was on duty at the door up to 5 p.m. and the other durwan, Abdul Majid was on duty on 3 p.m. to 7-30 p.m. The workman admits in his statement before the enquiry officer that he was in possession of the keys and on the 17th of December 1959 at 7 a.m. when he opened the door of the office room, he found the windows and the in order. So it was not a case of theft by king a door or window. According to him as on duty at the door of the office room and aw nobody to take away the typewriter hine from the office room. So he cannot be responsible for the loss of the typewriter hine. The Company, however, immediately eceipt of report of the loss of the typewriter hine from the office room, caused a preliminary iry and thereafter charge-sheeted the work- Nurkhan who submitted a written explana- An enquiry was held. The concerned kman attended the enquiry. Several witnesses examined. The workman himself also made ements. After due consideration of the evi- e, the Mangement discharged the workman one month's wages in lieu of notice and also amount of Povident Fund money, lying to his it, was made available to him.

t is well settled by the Hon'ble Supreme rt that the Management of a concern has er to direct its own internal administration discipline but the power is not unlimited and n dispute arises, Industrial Tribunals have e given the power to see whether the termina- of services of workman is justified and to give ropriate relief. It is further held that in es of dismissal on misconduct, the Tribunal s not, however, act as a Court of appeal and stitute its own judgment for that of the nagement. It will interfere—

(1) When there is a want to good faith;

(2) When there is victimisation or unfair labour practice;

(3) When the Management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of principles of natural justice; and the present case, admittedly there was a agerial enquiry which was attended by the man. Not only there was an anquiry after workman was charge-sheeted, but immediately detection of the loss of the typewriter hine from the common office room, the con- d workman was asked to explain how this possible without his knowledge and connivance (vide letter, dated the 17th of December , Ext. C/1). Exhibit C/2 is the written anation of the workman. Then there was a mmary enquiry held by a responsible officer e Company and the notice of the enquiry was n to the workman vide Ext. C/3 That er is D.W. 1, Mr. Peter Andrew L. Papys. is the Accountant of the Company. Exhibit F he proceeding of the enquiry. The enquiry attended by a representative of Messrs. Daven- & Co. (Private) Ltd. and also a representa- of the Union. The workman himself along h others made statements before the enquiry er and he admitted to have remained in session of the keys. He also admitted this t in his evidence before this Tribunal. After preliminary enquiry the workman was charge- eted on 7th January 1960, vide Ext. A. hibit B is the explanation that was submitted the workman. The Management, not being isfied with the explanation submitted by the rkman, held an enquiry into the charge that was levelled against the workman. Exhibit F(1) is the proceedings of the said enquiry held by Mr. Peter Andrew L. Papys, in presence of Shri Nishi Bhusan Bose, President of the Union, and another gentleman Shri J. N. Banerjee. The concerned workman admits to have attended the enquiry and made statements. Witnesses were examined in his presence. In fact, the concerned workman was given full and free opportunity at the departmental enquiry. Several witnesses were examined and their statements were recorded not only in presence of the workman himself but also in presence of the President of the Union. The Management considered the evidence so recorded and came to the conclusion upon the facts revealed that the Management can have no reasonable confidence in the workman for the protection of their property. Accordingly, the Management decided to discharge the workman. The Management further decided that the workman will be paid one month's wages in lieu of notice and will receive the Provident Fund money, the amount to which he is entitled under the Rules, vide Ext. D. The decision of the Management to discharge the workman with immediate effect was communicated by letter, dated 29th of January 1960, Ext. C. So the domestic enquiry was a fair enquiry and the Management observed the principles of natural justice to conduct the enquiry. The workman was given due notice of the proposed enquiry. Not only the workman himself attended the enquiry but also he made statements and several witnesses were examined in his presence and also in presence of the President of the Union. The Manager, in coming to the conclusion, relied upon the statements made by the witnesses before the Enquiry Officer. On perusal of the enquiry proceedings, I find that there is justification for the conclusion arrived at by the Manager relying upon the evidence of the witnesses examined by the Enquiry Officer in presence of the concerned workman and of the President of the Union. There is nothing to show that the Company in taking the action against the concerned workman, acted mala fide or with a motive of victimisation or uniair labour practice. This has not been pleaded either on behalf of the workman. On the contrary, the Company acted bona fide on receipt of report of missing of a typewriter machine from the common office and immediately called for an explanation from the concerned workman who was the durwan entrusted with the keys of the common office room and the main gates and on receipt of his explanation, caused a preliminary enquiry made by a responsible officer. Both the enquiries were held in presence of the concerned workman and also in presence of representative of the Union and also representative of Messrs. Davenport & Co. The workman had nothing to complain about the enquiry in which he had full and free opportunity to place his case and there is nothing to show that the Company had any previous grudge against the workman or with a motive to punish him initiated the proceedings without sufficient cause. The Manager of the Company relied upon the evidence, recorded at the enquiry, held in presence of the workman and President of the Union and arrived at the conclusion as will appear from Ext. G. It has been held by Calcutta High Court in a case, reported in 1960, Vol. I, L.L.J., 175 that "If the evidence at the Managerial enquiry it believed justifies the conclusion arrived at, then there should be no interference on the ground that the Tribunal itself would like to arrive at the different conclusions". In the same case his Lordship was further pleased to observe that "Where there has been a Managerial enquiry and provided that the rules of natural justice have been observed and that there has been a full and fair enquiry and in the absence of any basic error, mala fides, victimisation, or unfair labour practice, the conclusion arrived at by the domestic forum cannot be disturbed". In the present case on the facts and circumstances, disclosed in evidence and discussed as above, I find there is hardly any justification for interference excepting the punishment meted out. The concerned workman, as will appear from the charge-sheet, Ext. A, was charged for the missing of the typewriter machine either on account of his negligence or participation for the theft. The Manager observed in his finding, Ext. G, that "It is transparently clear that the machine was taken away during the time Nur Khan was in charge. The doors were not found broken and there was no sign of burglary. It is obvious that either the machine was taken away by Nur Khan or with his connivance, or that he was grossly negligent in his custody of the keys. There was however no eye witness to the removal of the machine by Nur Khan or with his connivance. It is not therefore intended to punish him by dismissal. The facts however reveal that we can have no reasonable confidence in him for the protection of our property. We have therefore decided to discharge him". So in the domestic enquiry the charge against the wokman was found to have been established by circumstantial evidence and the Management found it difficult to have any more confidence and reliance on the honesty and integrity of this workman. There is, therefore, justification for the Company for its loss of confidence in the workman and therefore the workman is not entitled to reinstatement. But the Company, as will appear from the finding Ext. G, appreciated the hardship of the workman, who after putting up a good many years' service, has been thrown on the street and he will have to face the grim problem of unemployment at this old age of his. Therefore he deserves some consideration and the Company in consideration of his past services, should bestow on him a little more mercy by payment of some amount by way of compensation to enable him to tide over the difficult period of unemployment. He still remains unemployed, as transpired in the evidence. Therefore, on considerations of social justice, I direct the Company to make payment of six months' wages to the workman by way of compensation for his loss of employment. This payment will be made within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

(4) When on the materials, the finding is completely baseless or perverse.

This is my award.

The original reference out of which the presen complaint under section 33A of the Indu Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government order No. 3965-I.R./IR/111L-217/58, dated 18th September 1960.

The company has raised a preliminary objection that this complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable. The relevant facts, so far as this preliminary objection is concerned, are as follows:

A charge-sheet was issued to the complainants on 16th June 1960. The enquiry about the charge-sheet was to be held on 29th June 1960. The enquiry was not however held on that day or any subsequent date. According to the complainants, the reason why the enquiry was not held is that at the enquiry Shri Babulal Binani, the Manager Partner of the company, asked the complainants either (1) to resign on receipt of retrenchment compensation, bonus, etc., or (b) to accept the charge of guilt, apologise and work. The complainants chose the first option and so the enquiry was not held. The company denies that Shri Babulal Binani presented any such options to the complainants at the enquiry. The company contends that the complainants of their own accord agreed that the enquiry should not be held and decided to resign their jobs. It was also decided that the complainants would settle their accounts, take their dues and resign their jobs. The company denies that there was any talk of paying retrenchment compensation or bonus to the complainants. The complainants however contend that such an offer was made, but the company did not act according to that offer. So the complainants approached Shri Babulal Binani to allow them to resume work, but were told by the latter that their services stood dismissed with effect from 6th June 1960. The company has denied the above allegation. It also appears from the letter of the complainants addressed to the Manager of the company, dated 25th July 1960 (annexure D to the complaint), that the complainants did not make any allegation that they were dismissed. The company says that the two complainants resigned on the day of enquiry, i.e., on 29th June 1960. Even if it be held that the complainants did not resign on that day and only offered to resign subsequently, this does not mean that they have been discharged or dismissed by the company. It is admitted by both sides that the complainants were suspended on 6th June 1960. So if the contention of the complainants that they did not resign is accepted, the position is this that they are still on suspension. Obviously, that suspension was pending enquiry. Suspension pending enquiry cannot be described as discharge, dismissal or any sort of punishment. So suspension of an employee pending enquiry does not attract the provision of clause (b) of sub-section 2 of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act or any other provision of that section. Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate, appearing for the company has referred me to a decision of the Supreme Court of India in the case of British India Corporation Ltd. reported at page 133 of L.L.J. 1961, Volume II. But as the complainants in the present case have not admitted that they resigned their jobs, that decision does not apply in this case. The legal position in this case is what I have described above. As the action taken by the company against the complainant does not come within any provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, it cannot be said that the company violated that section. So the present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

AWARD

The above dispute over the Issue given in the schedule to the order of reference and reproduced below was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 5209I.R./IR/10L-144/59, dated 3rd November 1959, and the same dispute was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 3850IR/IR/10L-144/59, dated 23rd July 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference and after the abolition of the said Court.

The only Issue for decision stands thus:—

Issue

1. Whether Shri S. K. Jumman is entitled to get wages for the period from 23rd February 1959 to 11th August 1959 ?

The case put forward on behalf of the Union and the concerned worker in the written statement filed by the Union is that on 23rd February 1959 the concerned worker fell ill and he continued to be ill up to 10th April, 1959 and he reported for duty on 11th April, 1959, but the Company did not allow him to resume his duty. It is then alleged that the Union took up the matter with the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, and a conciliation proceeding was initiated and finally the dispute was settled in the conciliation proceeding on 11th August, 1959 and one of the terms of the settlement was that the concerned worker would be reinstated with effect from 12th August, 1959 and the dispute about his wages for the period of absence would be settled through adjudication. This reference is in respect of the dispute for wages for the period of the worker's absence from 23rd February, 1959 to 11th August, 1959. It is finally alleged that the concerned worker was victimised for his Union activities. The claim is for full wages for the period from 23rd February, 1959 to 11th August, 1959.

The Company, in its written statement, has pleaded that the concerned worker continuously absented himself from duty from 23rd February, 1959 without any notice and without taking any leave and the Company notified him about the difficulties to which it was put by his continued absence by its letter, dated 27th February, 1959, but there was no response to this letter and then the Company had some correspondence with the Assistant Labour Commissioner in the matter. It is further pleaded that the Company received a letter of the worker, dated 31st July, 1959, through the Labour Officer, Howrah, under his memorandum No. 3451/Howr., dated 4th August, 1959, and in that letter of the worker, he claimed wages for the period of his unauthorised absence before he agreed to resume his work. He did not, however, resume his duty under the Company on 12th August 1959 and he did not at all report for duty on that date. The Company at once informed the Labour Officer about the worker's not reporting for and resuming duty under the Company on 12th August, 1959. It is finally pleaded that in the aforesaid circumstances, the Company was compelled to terminate his service by its letter, dated 18th August 1959, and this action of the Company was justified.

The case was finally heard 'ex-parte' in the absence of the concerned Union and worker on 12th September, 1961, because the concerned Union and worker did not appear at all on that date, which was the final date of hearing fixed after the concerned Union had taken several previous adjournments. On the last date of the hearing, Shri Jagarnath Pandey, representative of the Union, at first appeared before the Tribunal and said that the concerned worker had not turned up and at his request the Tribunal waited till 12 noon for taking up the hearing of the case. When the case was taken up for hearing at 12 noon, it was found that Shri Jagarnath Pandey had also left and none was present on behalf of the Union and worker.

The Company examined its Manager, Shri M. V. Nair (O.P.W. 1) and proved a number of documents which were marked Exts. A to I(1). The evidence of the Comppany's Manager and the documents proved on behalf of the Company stand unchallenged. It is satisfactorily established by the evidence of the Manager and the proved documents that the concerned worker continuously absented himself from duty from 23rd February 1959 without any notice or without taking leave and he did not show any cause or report for duty in spite of the notice issued by the Company on 27th February, 1959 (Ext. A), and then the Company received the Labour Officer's memorandum, dated 4th August, 1959 (Ext. G), with Ext. G(1), a complaint by the Union on behalf of the concerned worker about non-payment of his wages for the period of absence, and there after a conciliation proceeding was started and the proceeding ended in a tripartite settlement (Ext. H), in terms of which the concerned worker was to report for duty on 12th August, 1959 and his demand for wages for the period of absence was to be referred to adjudication. It has been proved that the concerned worker did not report for duty on 12th August, 1959 in terms of the tripartite settlement. It may be held, therefore, that it was a case of deliberate absence from duty. It further appears that the Company suo motu wrote to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, the Labour Officer, and the Employees' State Insurance about this worker stating its own case of continued absence of this worker from duty and it received a definite reply from the Employees' State Insurance that no medical certificate was taken by this worker from the office of the Employees' State Insurance for the period from 23rd February, 1959. Upon the facts proved, it must be held that the concerned worker was guilty of deliberate absence from duty and absention from work while under the service of the Company from 23rd February, 1959 without showing any cause and without any application for leave and such conduct on his part practically amounted to his voluntary renunciation of service under the Company and in view of such conduct, the Company acted in a bona fide manner in formally terminating his service by its letter, dated 18th August, 1959 (Ext. I). As it is proved that the termination of his service was due to deliberate absence from duty amounting to voluntary renunciation of service, he is not certainly entitled to wages for the period of absence before formal termination of his service. The Issue is decided accordingly.

view of the above decision, I award that the erned worker is not entitled to any wages for period from 23rd February, 1959 to August, 1959.

AWARD

By its order No. 6989-I.R./IR/11L-393/59, ed the 26th December 1959, the Government West Bengal, Labour Department, referred er section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Gas Co. Ltd., and their workmen represented by Hindusthan Gas Co. Workers' Union on the following issues:—

(1) grades and scales of pay;

(2) dearness allowances.

The parties in due course filed their written statements and then on the date of hearing they filed a petition of compromise setting the grades and scales of pay and also the dearness allowances for a period of three years. This is an agreement between the Company on the one hand and the Hindusthan Gas Company Workers' Union on the other. The parties in their compromise petition at present that there is no other Union in existence in the present establishment and that this agreement would be enforced with effect from 1st of September, 1961. The terms regarding the grades of pay and dearness allowances appear to be quite reasonable.

Accordingly I accept these terms and pass an award in terms of the petition of compromise with the annexure thereto embodying the terms of settlement. Let this petition of compromise and the annexure thereto form part of this award.

AWARD

By order No. 6346-I.R./IR/10L-218/60, dated 3rd December 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Ashoke Iron & Steel Works (hereafter be referred to as the Company), 12/3 Girish Ghosh Road, Belur, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union (hereafter be referred to as the Union), 26 I Dayaram Naskar Lane, Ghusury, Howrah, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R., IR 3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

This reference was received by this Tribunal on 13th December 1960 and immediately thereafter notices were issued to both parties fixing 10th January 1961 for appearance and for filing written statement of claim by the Union. Notices were duly served and both parties entered appearances in time but both parties took some adjournments before filing their respective written statements. The case was fixed for hearing on 6th July 1961 but the hearing had to be deferred on the prayer of both parties for effecting an amicable settlement. However, the dispute was ultimately settled by the parties out of Court and they filed a joint petition of compromise before this Tribunal on 13th September 1961

The issue that was formulated in the order of reference for adjudication is –

> Whether the termination of employment of Shri Baidyanath Patra is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On perusal of the joint petition of compromise it appears that the concerned workman Shri Baidyanath Patra has been paid by the Company a sum of Rs. 200 (two hundred) in full and final settlement of his claim. The joint petition of compromise has been signed by the worker himself and also by the Secretary of the Union, and on behalf of the Company, by Shri M. The terms of settlement appear to be lawful, fair and reasonable. Accordingly, on acceptance of the terms, I direct that an award be given on compromise in terms of the joint petition of compromise which will form part of the award as an annexure.

This is my award.

Simon-Carves l. (Site Office—Durgapur, P.O. Durgapur Steel oject, Durgapur), Standard Buildings, 32 Dal-isie Square South, Calcutta-1, and Messrs. idge & Roof Co. (India) Ltd., 427/1 G. T. And whereas during the pendency of proceed-s before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri dul Azim, a workman of Messrs. Simon-Carves d., made a complaint in writing to the said dustrial Tribunal against the said Company eging that the said Company had dismissed the d workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in pursuance of the Government West Bengal, Labour Department, notification . 1916-I.R./IR/3A-1/58, dated the 13th May 58, the said complaint was transferred by the d Second Industrial Tribunal to the Second bour Court constituted under notification No. 1727-I.R./IR/3A-1/58, dated the 26th April 1958, for adjudication;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Abdul Azim, C/o Shri A. L. Roy, 3 Joy Krishna Paul Road, Calcutta-23, a workman of Messrs. Simon-Carves Ltd., P.O. Durgapur Steel Project, district Burdwan, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 76 of 1960 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. N Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser of Indian Engineering Association.

For the Complainant: None.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Simon-Carves Ltd., and their workmen was referred to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication by Government order No. 3580-I.R./IR/10L-10/59, dated 29th July 1959. During the pendency of the dispute Shri Abdul Azim, a workman of the above Company, filed a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act before that Tribunal on 27th January 1960. On 19th February 1960 that Tribunal transferred the case arising out of the above complaint to this Court, as authorised under Government order No. 1916-I.R., dated 13th May 1958, for disposal.

Findings

The case was fixed for hearing on 24th August 1961. The complainant Shri Abdul Azim or anybody on his behalf was not present. Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser of Indian Engineering Association, appeared for the Company. He argued the case of the Company. He has raised a preliminary objection. The Company has stated in its reply to the complaint of Shri Abdul Azim that it filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act before the Second Industrial Tribunal for its approval of the dismissal of Shri Abdul Azim. I find from the record that the Company made such an application on 14th December 1959. So the Company has complied with the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. So the present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable. Hence I reject it.

Findings

The case was fixed for hearing on 24th August 1. The complainant Shri N. Goswami or body on his behalf was not present. Shri J. Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser of Indian gineering Association, appeared for the npany. He argued the case of the Company. has raised a preliminary objection that the nplaint under section 33A of the Industrial putes Act is not legally maintainable. It has n stated by the complainant in his complaint t he was suspended for eight days as a measure punishment after the issue of a charge-sheet. proviso to clause 2(b) of section 33 of the ustrial Disputes Act requires an application ler that section if a worker is discharged or nissed. Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes nowhere says that such an application should made when a workman is punished by suspen-. So by not applying for approval of the er of suspension before the Second Industrial bunal, the Company has not violated the visions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes . Hence the present complaint under section is not maintainable. So I reject it.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Oriental Distributors (India), 3 Kundu Lane, Calcutta-37, and their workmen represented by Sheet Metal Workers' Union, 14/2/C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6. (Case No. VIII-25/61.)

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

For the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Labour Adviser of the Company.

For the Union: Shri Nilmoni Goswami, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 169-I.R./IR/11L-553/60, dated the 12th January 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Oriental Distributors (India), 3 Kundu Lane, Calcutta-37 (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Sheet Metal Workers' Union, 14/2/C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case runs as follows:—

Whether the dismissal of Shri S. K. Chatterjee is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The workman's case in short is this: He was appointed Accountant of the Company since March 1959 on a salary of Rs. 225. Previously he was attached to Messrs. H. V. Low & Co. (P) Ltd. in the same capacity on a salary of Rs. 175 only. He was assured by the present Company that his salary would be raised to Rs. 300 per month on expiry of one year and on Company's sales and production going up. At the time he joined this Company, there were huge arrears of account work pending from 1956, and he had to work very hard and beyond normal hours to make up the arrears. The sales and productions also have gone up since his joining the Company. So, he wanted the promised increment in pay after expiry of one year of service, but this demand highly enraged the Management. Though increments were allowed to other members of the staff, nothing was allowed to this workman. Shortly thereafter and early in the month of May 1960, the Management unceremoniously discharged him without any charge-sheet, notice or enquiry. Hence, this dispute.

Briefly stated, the Company's case, on the other hand, is that the dispute, if any, between the parties is not an industrial dispute at all, and is thus not within the jurisdiction of this Tribunal. Shri Chatterjee, it is alleged, was a probationary Accountant only, and he was never dismissed from service. His services were simply terminated on the ground of habitual irregularity in attendance.

The Company denies that any assurance for raising this workman's pay to Rs. 300 per month after one year was ever given to him. On account of his habitual irregularity in attendance and consequent dislocation of work of the Company, it was obliged to warn him on several occasions and stop his confirmation also. As he failed to correct himself in spite of it, the Management was compelled to terminate his services, and offered him extra one month's pay also as ex-gratia payment. The workman refused to accept the payment offered. It is alleged that the workman raised the present dispute on untrue allegations.

Decisions

Before I take up the issue on merit, I must first consider the preliminary objection of the Company in respect of maintainability of this dispute before this Tribunal. It is alleged on behalf of the Company that the factory workers of this Company are not actually espousing the cause of the workman—Shri Chatterjee, and even if they are doing it they have no community of interest with him. The Sheet Metal Workers' Union has no right or locus standi to raise any industrial dispute in the matter, and Shri Chatterjee was not a member thereof. Membership, if any, as he claims is not a bona fide one. The learned lawyer for the Company contends that the Union being unconnected with the present employer or the particular industry concerned and the individual dispute of Shri Chatterjee not being espoused by a large or any section of the workmen having community of interest with him, cannot transform the individual dispute into an industrial dispute. Thus this preliminary objection is a mixed question of law and fact, and I must refer to the relevant evidences in this connection. The case of Shri Chatterjee has been taken up by Sheet Metal Workers' Union. This trade union is not a union of the workmen of this particular concern or Company only. As the name of the union shows, it is a union of workers of many a concern working with sheet metals. The factory workers of this Company also are no doubt members of the said Union. The present Company manufactures tin-containers of pheniol in its factory, and the office of the Company is housed in a contiguous room. There were 3/4 members including Shri Chatterjee in the office staff of the Company, and Shri Chatterjee was appointed as Accountant in early March 1959. Though Shri Chatterjee for obvious reasons tries to say that clerks and other members of this Office staff are also members of the said Union, he is given a lie on the point by his own witness—Shri Susil Kumar Ganguli, Secretary of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union, and he candidly admits that no other member of the office staff of this Company is a member of his Union. It is stated by him that Shri Chatterjee first became member of this Union in January 1960, i.e., three or four months before his discharge. The Company challenges the bona fides of Shri Chatterjee's membership also. I am referred to the deposition of Shri Chatterjee in this connection. In his deposition Shri Chatterjee says that he paid Rs. 2 in the second week of January 1960 as subscription for 8 months and paid another sum of Rs. 2 in April 1960. Re. 1 out of the last payment was towards subscription for the remaining months of the year, and the other sum of Re. 1 was a contribution for some function. No receipt is produced to show these alleged payments. In cross-examination, Shri Chatterjee says that he cannot say whether the last-mentioned extra rupee was realised from him. Be that as it may, there is nothing positive to prove that his membership of the Union was bogus. But this much is clear that no other workman of this Company, except the factory workers of the manufacturing side of this Company and Shri Chatterjee, is a member of the said Union, the membership of which is not admittedly restricted to the workmen of this Company. Though clerks and supervisors also are eligible for being members of this Union, no other member of the office staff of this Company except Shri Chatterjee is a member thereof. Shri Chatterjee's case being espoused by this Union, and so the question is whether the individual dispute of Shri Chatterjee has been transformed into an industrial dispute to give jurisdiction to this Tribunal. From the above facts, it may be argued by the workman concerned that his case is being espoused by the said Union as representative of the factory workers of the very concern who are members of the Union. The other members of the Union who have no connection whatsoever with the employer or the employee in question cannot, of course, by themselves transform the dispute to an industrial one. So, it remains to be considered whether the party or group of the factory workers who are members of this Union can transform Shri Chatterjee's dispute into an industrial one. Of course, there is nothing positive on record to show that the factory workers of the Company have actually taken up Shri Chatterjee's case or that they have passed any resolution to that effect. But the fact remains that the Union representing all the workers, i.e., the majority of the workmen of the Company has taken up the cause, and so the presumption is all the workers of this Company have taken up Shri Chatterjee's case. The Company stated in its written statement that the factory workers were not parties to this dispute. But it has not adduced any positive evidence to that effect. On the other hand, there is a presumption to the contrary. So, assuming that the factory workers at least of this Company have taken up the case through their Union, the question arises whether that alone will be sufficient for transformation of the dispute into industrial dispute. In the case of Dimakuchi Tea Estate versus their workmen, (1958 I. L.L.J. 5) the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that person regarding whom the dispute is raised must be one in whose employment or non-employment terms of employment or conditions of labour (as the case may be), the parties to the dispute have a direct substantial interest. In other words, there must be a community of interest between the party which has taken up the cause and the person whose cause has been taken up. So, it will have to be seen if the supporter workmen have direct and substantial interest, i.e., a community of interest with the workman concerned. It is thus clear that it is the community of interest of the class as a whole—class of employers or class of workmen which furnish the real nexus between the dispute and the parties to the dispute. But the real import of the word 'interest' and the extent to which its import may be expanded is not r, and this has given rise to different judicial ion also. The question is whether the category orkmen classed as operatives or manufacturing may be said to have same condition of service clerks including an Accountant, and whether operatives can be said to have community of rest with clerks. From a decision of Mysore h Court in the case of M. S. K. Mills Co. Ltd. us Vettal Kamath and another (1959 II L.L.J. , it appears that the Union cannot be interest- the conditions of service of the concerned kmen unless a majority of the workmen of the gory and class to which the concerned workman nged were amongst the members of the Union, clerks cannot be said to have same condition of ice with the manufacturing staff. But to me ppears that the said Mysore case has different s, and that decision does not apply to the facts he present case. In that case, the concerned kmen of the manufacturing department—the ject-matter of the dispute—did not belong to Union of clerks who took up the cause. In the ent case, the concerned clerk or accountant all the operatives of the employer belong to the on which is espousing the cause of the work- . There are 3/4 clerks only including the untant concerned in the office attached to the ory of the Company. No other clerk of the pany except the accountant himself is a ber of the Union. But all the workers of the tory are members of this Union, and their ber is more than 50. Moreover, in the present , there is no positive evidence to show that the ditions of service of the office clerks and the tory workers are really different in all respects. ir duties may be dissimilar, but their condi- s of service may be identical or similar in tain respects including leave, attendance, disci- e, absence during sickness, etc. The Company no standing orders or any established rules arding conditions of service. So, I think, in present case, the espousing the cause of the rkman—an Accountant—by a Union whereof concerned workman and all the factory work- of the Company are members, is sufficient to nsform the individual dispute into an industrial pute. The dispute is really between the ployer and a majority of the workmen of the mpany espousing the cause of one man through ir Union. So, I think, the preliminary objec- n raised on behalf of the Company cannot be epted in this case.

ow let me see how far the dismissal or termi- on of service of Shri Chatterjee can be justi- He was appointed by the Company as an untant from March 1959 on a pay of Rs. 225. used to serve Messrs. H. V. Low & Co. (P) previously in the same capacity on a salary Rs. 175 only. He was tempted to join this mpany by offer of a higher pay of Rs. 225 per nth. But his services were terminated on the of May 1960 on the allegation that he was very gular in attendance. Thus, it is clear that i Chatterjee served the Company for about months only. Yet there is no escape from the clusion that he served the Company for more n 240 days, i.e., he had more than one year of tinuous service. No charge-sheet was issued inst him, nor was he allowed to defend himself against the alleged charge of irregularity in attendance. It is alleged that he was only a pro- bationer, and his services were not confirmed at all even though his confirmation was due in early March 1960. But it may be pointed out that he was an Accountant of considerable experience too, and after he was allowed to serve for more than one year continuously, he must be deemed to have become a permanent hand. The allegation of pro- bation has no meaning against him even after 14 months' service. There is nothing in writing that he was appointed on probation. Even according to the Company, his confirmation was due after the expiry of February 1960. There is no allegation of inefficiency against him. The story is that he absents himself too much. But he was not dis- charged during the period of alleged probation. He was retained for a further period of alleged probation. So, I see no substance in the allegation that his services were simply terminated during the period of probation and before confirmation. I do not like to seriously enter into the details of the question as to whether Shri Chatterjee used to absent himself too much and whether this absence amounted to misconduct meriting dismissal, or summary termination of service. All that I may at once say, is that before the Management took such action, it should have given an opportunity to Shri Chatterjee to explain the circumstances to the last absence or other absence, which is taken to be the last straw to break the camel's back. There is no sufficient material before this Tribunal to warrant a summary dismissal. The Company has filed its attendance register and a list of leave or absence which Shri Chatterjee took. There is no proper evidence before this Tribunal to show what leave or holidays if any were due to Shri Chatterjee, and what excess if any he has committed. So, it is difficult for this Tribunal to express any final opinion on the point justifying the dismissal or termination. The Management took no step or action against Shri Chatterjee on any previous occasion on any such ground. So, it is difficult to support the extreme step taken by the Company all on a sudden and without given the alleged delinquent a chance to explain the circumstances, if any. So, I think, the rules of natural justice have been transgressed.

It is admitted by Shri Chaterjee also that he was offered pay for April and extra one month's pay on the 4th of May 1960. This is the case of Com- pany's Partner—Shri K. K. Basu also who states that he offered two months' pay to Shri Chatterjee on 4th May. If one month's pay was offered as compensation in lieu of notice, Shri Chatterjee should have been paid pay for April as well as pay for first four days of May also. So, the offer was short of total legal dues of Shri Chatterjee. No other amount as compensation was tendered or paid. So, Shri Chatterjee's case cannot be treated as a case of valid retrenchment also. So, in any view of the case, the order of dismissal or termi- nation of service of Shri Chatterjee cannot be supported or justified. So, I think, Shri Chatterjee must be reinstated and his services must be deemed to have continued without break. The Company shall pay two months' pay to him as compensation for the period of his forced unemployment. This award must be given effect to within one month of the publication of the award.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 110-I.R./IR/11L-549/60, dated the 9th January 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred u section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1 the industrial dispute between Messrs. Madhal and Co., 11 Ezra Street, Calcutta, and their w men represented by Calcutta Traders and Merch Workers' Association, C/o Association Employees' Unions, Commercial Buildings, B No. 3 (2nd floor), 23 Netaji Subhas R Calcutta-1, regarding the matter specified in schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, con tuted under section 7A of the Industrial Disp Act, by notification No, 808-I.R./IR/3A-2 dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether the dismissal of Shri Brij Nan Missir is justified? To what relief, if any, is entitled?

The reference relates to an industrial dis existing between Messrs. Madhablall and 11 Ezra Street, Calcutta (hereinafter be refer to as the Company), and their workmen repres ed by the Calcutta Traders and Merchants W ers' Association (hereinafter be referred to a Union), over dismissal of one workman, Shri Brij Nandan Missir.

The reference was received on 13th Janu 1961 and immediately thereafter notices w issued to both parties fixing 11th February for filing written statement of claim by the Un Both parties entered appearance in time and their respective written statements. The case w heard and finally concluded on 8th August 19

The Union examined four witnesses and Company examined two witnesses. Besides number of documents were tendered into eviden by both parties.

Union's case in short is that Shri Brij Nand Missir was under the employ of the Compan about 12 years and lastly he served in the capac of a Jethy Sircar at a monthly salary of Rs He was an active member of the Union. He su mitted a charter of demands in the early part 1960. Since then the management attempted get a declaration signed by the workmen to sho that the workmen have no grievance against th Company. The concerned workman Shri Br Nandan Missir went on leave for two months his return from leave he was asked to sign su a declaration but on his refusal to do so, he w dismissed forthwith without any charge-sheet enquiry. Hence the Union's prayer is for h reinstatement with back wages.

The Company opposed the claim of the Unio contending that the workman Shri Brij Nanda Missir voluntarily left the service in June 196 and hence the question does not arise about h reinstatement.

The Company has in the same breath stated t in the first half of June 1960 the said workm was verbally told by the employer that his servi were no longer required.

The Company has, however, raised a preliminar objection that the dispute is not an industr dispute but is an individual dispute and the Uni which purports to represent the workman of t

Company has no locus standi to do so because it was not the Union of the workmen of the Company. The dispute between the parties to be adjudicated upon by this tribunal is embodied in the issue formulated in the order of reference.

Decision

Before taking up the main issue first of all I propose to dispose of the preliminary objection regarding jurisdiction of the Tribunal to entertain the present dispute which, according to the Company, is not an industrial dispute, but is an individual dispute and the Union which purports to represent the workmen of the Company has no locus standi to do so because it is not the Union of the workmen of the Company. The learned Counsel appearing for the Company has contended that the majority of the workers of the Company are not members of the Union and as such the Union which does not represent the majority of the workers of the Company, cannot properly represent the workers of the Company, or in others words, the Union which is not a representative of the majority of the workmen of the Company by taking up the cause of an individual workman cannot thereby transform the individual dispute into an industrial one. In support of his contention he relied on the decision of our Calcutta High Court reported in A.I.R. 1959, Calcutta 265 in which it was held by His Lordship that "an individual dispute might be transformed into an industrial dispute, provided that the cause of the particular workman concerned is taken up by a majority of workmen concerned in the particular industrial establishment or by an Union of such workmen." But in a later decision reported in 1960, Vol. I, L.L.J., 491 it was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that "a majority rule is inapplicable in the matter of reference of an industrial dispute under section 10 of the Act. Even a minority group of workmen can make a demand and thereby raise an industrial dispute which in a proper case would be referred to for adjudication under section 10."

Moreover, the facts of the instant case are also quite different from the facts of the case relied upon on behalf of the Company. In the above case relied upon by the Company there was a solitary workman of the Company who became a member of the Union and as such the Union's authority to represent the workmen or majority of the workmen was found doubtful for the purpose of transforming the dispute into an individual dispute.

In the present case there is sufficient evidence to show that six of the workmen of the Company became members of the Union before the cause of the individual workman was taken up by the Union. Ext. F shows that there are 10 workmen including clerks, cashier and typists but the statement Ext. G that was submitted by the Company to the Deputy Labour Commissioner on 5th December 1960 shows that there are 20 employees of the Company including cashier, clerks and typists. In fact, nine of them only are ordinary workmen, and out of them, six became members of the Union in 1959 and 1960. The learned Counsel for the Company questioned the bona fides of their becoming members of the Union but from the documents Ext. I series, G series and subscription receipt books (Ext. 7) and also from the evidence of the Union Secretary P.W. 1 and of the Assistant Secretary P.W. 3, I have no doubt in my mind that they are genuine members of the registered Union No. 4063 (Calcutta Traders and Merchants Workers' Association). P.W. 4 Shri Kanaiya Singh is a workman of the Company in service, has supported the Union's case and the cause of the concerned workman. It is in evidence that two other workmen of the Company who are also members of the Union were summoned by the Union to appear before this Tribunal, but the Company prevented the said workman from attending. D.W. 1 Shri Madhab Lal B. Vanshali, the Partner of the firm, had to admit that two other workmen also showed the summonses to him, presumably for permission to attend the Tribunal. Be that as it may, there is enough material before me to show that the cause of the concerned workman was espoused by other workmen who are also members of the same Union.

The workmen of the Company had no other Union and the Union of which six of the workmen of the Company are members, is not unconnected with the industry concerned. It is in evidence of P.W. 3 Shri Uday Raj Tewari, the Assistant Secretary of the Union, that all the members of the Union are workers of the Calcutta Tea Traders. The Company is admittedly a trader in tea. There are about 200 members of the Union and all of them are workmen employed in the firms of tea traders of Calcutta.

Therefore, from the above facts and circumstances, I have no hesitation to conclude that there is an industrial dispute and as such this Tribunal has jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the existing industrial dispute. Thus, I dispose of the preliminary objection.

Next, I take up the real issue. Admittedly P.W. 1 Shri Brijnandan Missir, the concerned workman, was in the employ of the Company for some years. He was lastly drawing Rs. 75 per month as his emoluments. He was not altogether a stranger to the Company inasmuch as it is admitted by the Company that he was introduced to the Company by his uncle D.W. 3 Shri Narad Muni Missir, who has long been in service of the Company for nearly 40 years [paragraph 14(g)(ii) of the Company's written statement]. Of course, it transpires in evidence of D.W. 3 Shri Naradmuni Missir that he is no longer on good terms with his nephew P.W. 2 Shri Brijnandan Missir with whom he is now having some litigations regarding properties in their native village. But this old and faithful employee of the Company has not admitted even in his examination-in-chief the Company's allegation that it was through him, his nephew, viz., Shri Brij Nandan Missir had to be warned on several occasions for indiscipline. Then again, this old man has stated before the Tribunal that he does not know how his nephew Shri Brij Nandan Missir maintains himself since the loss of service of the Company. But D.W. 1 Shri Madhablall B. Vanshali unhesitatingly stated to the Tribunal that from this old employee, namely, D.W. 3 Shri Naradmuni Missir, he came to know that the concerned workman Shri Brij Nandan deals in grass. The workman himself, on the contrary, has disclosed in his cross-examination by the Company that he remains unemployed still. So, the Partner of the Company Shri Madhablal has not spoken the truth. He is said to have heard about the workman's present avocation from his old employee Shri Naradmuni Missir. But Shri Naradmuni has not supported him at all. The Union contends that the workman was dismissed by the Company for his active participation in trade union activities and for his refusal to sign a "no dispute" declaration as done by some other workmen.

The Company denies this and states that it was a case of voluntary surrender or relinquishment of job by the workman. But this story is hardly consistent with probability and circumstances of the case. The concerned workman Shri Brij Nandan served for 12 years. There is no evidence of his making himself too rich in the meantime to continue in service anymore. On the contrary, he is going without a job since the loss of service of the Company and as such he finds himself in financial difficulties and consequently he is very anxious for his reinstatement.

Then again, this story of voluntary relinquishment of job as alleged by the Company is found to be self-contradictory. The Company has stated in paragraph 15 of the written statement that the workman Shri Brij Nandan was verbally told by the employer that his services were no longer required and at the same time it is stated in paragraph 14(g)(iii) and also in paragraph 17 of its written statement that the said workman had voluntarily left the service. So, it seems that the position of the Company is just like a drowning man catching at a straw.

The Union served a charter of demands (Ext A) upon the Company in January 1960 and thereafter had correspondence with the Company as will appear from the letters Exts. B and B/1. But the Company pleaded to have had no knowledge of his workmen becoming members of the said Union before the Company received a letter from the Labour Directorate in August 1958. It was stated in paragraph 16 of the Company's written statement which was verified by Shri Madhablal B. Vanshali (D.W. 1) a partner of the firm that:

> "for the first time from a letter being No. 2667/L.C.N., dated 25th August 1960, together with a copy of an alleged letter, dated 11th August 1960, purported to have been written by the Secretary, Calcutta Traders and Merchants Workers' Association, this employer came to learn that Shri Brij Nandan Missir belongs to any Union."

But the said Partner (D.W. 1 Shri Madhablal B. Vanshali) had to admit in his evidence that on receipt of the demand notice he came to know that Shri Brij Nandan became a member of the Union. The demand notice (Ext. A) is dated 5th January 1960 and the Company appears to have received the same in a registered cover on 7th January 1960. So, it will be crystal clear that D.W. 1 Shri Madhablal Bhansali the Partner of the firm has contradicted even his own statement made in the written statement and he admitted in his evidence that he became aware of the fact of the concerned workman becoming a member of the Union as early in January 1960, but futile attempt was made to suppress this fact. Obviously this attempt was made with a view to give a denial to the Union's allegation that the Company being aware of trade union activities of the concerned workman Shri Brij Nandan and of some other workmen who became members of the Union forced them to sign a "no dispute" declaration and on his refusal the concerned workman was sacked. Some of the workmen who had to sign the "no dispute" declaration at the instance of the Company backed out and accordingly they reported to the Secretary of the Union with a copy to the Labour Commissioner (Ext. 4 is the document, dated 20th July 1960). The copy that was forwarded to the Labour Commissioner has been perused by me from file of the Labour Directorate which was called for at the instance of the parties.

So, the fact remains that the Company became aware from the very beginning that some of its workmen became members of the Union and the Union submitted a charter of demands and also there had been correspondence between the Union and the Company and the Company forced its workmen to sign a "no dispute" declaration but some of them reported the matter immediately to the Union with intimation to the Labour Commissioner. The evidence of the concerned workman is that he went to his native village in the early part of June 1960 taking two months' leave and returned to duty on 11th August 1960 and resumed his duties but in the afternoon Shri Madhab Lal B. Bhansali (D.W. 1) asked him to sign a "no dispute" declaration but he refused to do so and on his refusal he was immediately sacked. It may be mentioned here that in the written statement of the Union it was stated that Shri Brij Nandan went on leave on 11th April 1960 and on his return from leave he reported for duty on 11th June 1960. The Union has, of course, subsequently filed a petition for making necessary corrections by stating that he actually went on leave on 11th June 1960 and returned to duty on 11th August 1960. The learned Counsel appearing for the Company made much of it but the principal Partner of the Company, namely, D.W. 1 Shri Madhablal B. Bhansali, has admitted in his evidence that Shri Brij Nandan went home in June 1960 and the letter Ext. 3 which is dated 12th August 1960 shows his resumption to duty on 11th August 1960. (This letter in original has been perused from the file of the Labour Directorate which was called for on requisition.) The Company admits to have received a copy of this letter from the Labour Directorate as I have already mentioned. The Company's cashier D.W. 2 Shri Popot Lal had to admit that there is an attendance register maintained by the Company. According to the concerned workman he actually resumed his duties on the 11th August 1960 and this fact will appear from the attendance register. He has specifically stated that he was asked to attend the Jetty on that date and he produced mate receipts from the ships "Malaya" and "Mongla" which were made over to the cashier Shri Popot Lal. There is hardly any doubt that the concerned workman was serving as a Jetty Sircar under the Company and ds the requisite licence (Ext. 5) which shows e has been holding the said licence from ; the beginning of the year 1953. Company to have produced the attendance register to the real state of thing. But the Company erversely withheld it and has not assigned ason for its non-production before the Tribu- though its existence is admitted by the Com- cashier D.W. 2. The Company could at me time have placed documents before the al to show as it had no transaction with the named by the concerned workman on the August 1960 as stated by the said workman, t a word has been stated. According to the ned workman on his refusal to sign a "no e" declaration as proposed by the Partner . 1) for the Company he was forthwith l. The workman had no other alternative rush to the Union for relief and the Union liately wrote to the Labour Officer a letter 3) which is dated 12th August 1960. This ent coming into existence at the earliest le hour throws good deal of light on the facts ircumstances leading to the dismissal of the rned workman. I have already found that ompany set up self-contradictory stories and f which is that the Company verbally dis- d the concerned workman from his service. t is admitted that there was no charge-sheet o enquiry into the allegation of offence, if committed by the concerned workman. fore, regard being had to the entire facts and mstances I come to the conclusion that there o justification for the Company to dismiss the rned workman who put up 12 years' service against whom there was no charge sheet and quiry into alleged offence, if any, committed m and he was given no opportunity to explain was found to have committed any wrong or nduct. So, there was complete failure of al justice in dismissing the workman by the pany without giving the concerned workman r opportunity to explain and without holding r and proper enquiry into alleged misconduct ffence, if any, against the concerned workman.

the result, the concerned workman is entitled et relief by way of his reinstatement and rdingly I direct that he be reinstated by the pany and be paid 50 per cent. of the total luments due to him for the period of forced mployment (i.e., from 11th August 1960) in a month from the date of publication of this rd in the "Calcutta Gazette". The period of ed unemployment be treated as the period of e without any break of service.

No. 5837-I.R./IR/IIL-615/58.—5th October 1961.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5321-I.R./IR/IIL-615/58, dated the 26th December 1958, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Asha Ram Maniklal, 203/1 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Calcutta Bale and Box (Patiwala) Packing Workers' Union, 7-B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Labour Court;

And whereas the said Second Labour Court has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Asha Ram Maniklal, 203/1 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Calcutta Bale and Box (Patiwala) Packing Workers' Union, 7-B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-C-2/59.)

AWARD

The Government Order of Reference mentions Messrs. Asha Ram Maniklal as the Company which is the employer of the workman mentioned in the issue of Order of Reference. That Company filed its written statement on 30th March 1959. On 18th December 1960 Shri Bhajan Mallick, the workman mentioned in the issue of the Order of Reference, filed an affidavit stating that the above Company changed its name to Messrs. Sibnarayan Sankarlal of the same address. Accordingly a notice was issued in the name of the latter Company. That Company filed a petition stating that it was not connected with the present dispute. After several adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 23rd August 1961. None of the Companies appeared on that date. The case was again adjourned to 8th September 1961; none of the Companies appeared on that date also. The case was then adjourned to 22nd September 1961. None of the Companies appeared on that date. So I decided to hear the case ex parte and accordingly heard the case ex parte.

The case of Calcutta Bale and Box (Patiwala) Packing Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), briefly stated, is as follows:

Shri Bhajan Mallick was a Patiwala under Messrs. Asha Ram Maniklal (hereinafter referred to as the Company). As the designation indicates, the work of Shri Bhajan Mallick was to put hoop iron around bales of cloth. He was a piece-rated worker. At the time of his appointment the rate was 0-3-6 p. per Pati; later the rate was reduced to 0-3-0 and at last the rate was reduced to 0-2-6 p. On 8th August 1958 the Company refused employment to Shri Bhajan Mallick on the ground that he was a member of the Union and he would try for enhancement of the rate with the help of the Union.

The Company, on the other hand, contends that Shri Bhajan Mallick was never its employee. It contends that he worked casually as a Patiwala for putting hoop iron around bales of piece-goods which the Company sold to its customers and that his wages were paid by those customers through the Company. As Shri Bhajan Mallick was not an employee of the Company, there is no question of his dismissal.

Findings

The Union has examined two witnesses in support of his case. None of the Companies mentioned above examined any witness or cross-examined the witness of the Union. So the evidence of the Union goes unchallenged. Shri Bhajan Mallick, the first witness of the Union, has described the case of the Union. He says that he was an employee of the Company and was dismissed on 8th August 1958. As his evidence has not been contradicted by any evidence, I believe his evidence and hold that he was dismissed on 8th August 1958. The Company has not tried to state any reasons for his dismissal. So I hold that the dismissal of Shri Bhajan Mallick is unjustified. Hence I order that he would be reinstated. He states in his evidence that his weekly earning was about Rs. 40. Allowing for any exaggeration that he might have made and for the fact that he might be employed elsewhere for some period in the meantime, I order that he shall be paid compensation at Rs. 100 per month from 8th August 1958 until the date of reinstatement on account of the loss of earning forced on him. As Messrs. Sibnarayan Sankarlal did not adduce any evidence to refute the statemnt of Shri Bhajan Mallick in his affidavit that Messrs. Asha Ram Maniklal are carrying a business in the above name, this award will be binding both on Messrs. Asha Ram Maniklal and Messrs. Sibnarayan Sankarlal.

My orders in this award shall be carried within a month of its publication in the "Calc Gazette."

This reference relating to an industrial dispute between Messrs. B. S. Engineering Corporation (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by B.S. Engineering Corporation and Auto Welders and Engineers Workers' Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union) was received on 28th January 1961 and immediately thereafter notices were issued to both parties. After service of notices both parties entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The order of reference was subsequently amended by corrigendum issued by the Government (vide order No. 4372 I.R., dated 13th July 1961). Both parties were duly informed of the amendment. The case was actually taken up for hearing on 22nd September 1961. Evidence was gone into in part. At this stage, parties proposed amicable settlement of the existing disputes. The settlement was actually effected and accordingly both parties filed a joint petition of compromise in course of the day (22nd September 1961).

I have perused the joint petition of compromise. The first issue relating to dismissal of workman Shri Kalipada Mondal was so amicably settled that he would be reinstated with continuity of service, with effect from 1st October 1961 and he would get wages at the rate of Rs. 2.31 nP. per day for the present. The period of his unemployment will be treated as special leave without pay but he will be paid Rs. 100 as compensation for the period of unemployment and the said amount will be paid on the 10th October 1961.

The other issue relates to changing of designations of nine workmen named in the order of reference. It is agreed upon that the Company has already granted the said workmen the cadre of regular and permanent workers and they are accordingly being paid their wages. Therefore, the Union does not press this issue any further.

The aforesaid terms of settlement are fair, reasonable and as such they are accepted. The joint petition of compromise bears the signature of the Secretary of the Company and also that of the legal Adviser of the Company and on the side of the Union it has been signed by the Seiretary as well as by the learned Advocate appearing for the Company.

Both parties have prayed for an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition filed by them. The terms being fair, legal and reasonable, let their be an award on compromise. The joint petition containing the terms of agreement will form a part of the award as an Annexure.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Station Road, Burnpur district Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-C-125/59.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate.

By order No. 1612-I.R./IR/10L-36(Q)/58, dated Calcutta, the 22nd April 1959, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, and their workmen represented by the United Iron and Steel Workers' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

1. Whether the dismissal of Sk. Alauddin, Ex-T. No. 193/6 is justified? What relief, if any, he is entitled to?

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:

Shri Sk. Alauddin, the workman mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, was a permanent workman of Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company). He along with some other workmen was kept out of employment after the lock-out which took place in or about the month of August 1953. The dispute about their non-employment was referred by the Government of West Bengal to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal and that Tribunal gave an award directing their reinstatement. The Company then moved the Labour Appellate Tribunal and the Supreme Court in successive appeals which were eventually dismissed. Accordingly they were taken back in service some time in the month of November 1957. Since then the departmental bosses adopted a policy of repression towards Shri Sk. Alauddin and subjected him to harassment off and on for nothing. He made several representations to the departmental manager against this attitude but to no effect. Further communal feeling was fostered by some of the officials of the department, and as result it became well nigh impossible for Sk. Alauddin to carry on his normal duties in a balanced state of mind. The vindictive attitude of the officers found culmination on 21st October 1958 when he was arge-sheeted for alleged denial to work overne. He gave an explanation to the charge-eet stating inter alia that the charge revealed mmunal feeling and nepotism. Thereupon nother charge-sheet was issued to him asking m to explain why he had made the above remark his explanation to the first charge-sheet; he gave reply to the second charge-sheet also. The mpany, without considering the replies given him to both the charge-sheets and without lding any enquiry into the charges, dismissed m summarily and in a most arbitrary manner 29th October 1958. The Union therefore conds that the dismissal of Sk. Alauddin is justified.

The Company admits the history given by the nion in that Shri Sk. Alauddin along with others as reinstated as a result of the award of the ifth Industrial Tribunal which was upheld in ppeal by the Supreme Court. But the Company enies the conclusion which has been sought to be rawn by the Union from the above history, i.e., ie conclusion that after reinstatement Shri Sk. lauddin was subjected to harassment and repression. The argument of the Company is that hri Sk. Alauddin is not the only person who had een kept unemployed and was later reinstated fter the decision of the Supreme Court. There s no reason why out of so many such persons k. Alauddin should be selected by the Company r the purpose of victimisation. The circumtances leading to the present dismissal of hri Sk. Alauddin, according to the Company, are s follows:

On 20th October 1958 Shri Sk. Alauddin was irected to work overtime in B shift in place of ne Shri N. Chatterjee, helper, who was absent. When the letter directing him to work overtime ras tendered to him, he refused to accept the same nd did not work overtime, as directed. On the natter being reported to the management, a harge-sheet was issued to him. He gave a reply o the charge-sheet. In his reply he stated, inter lia, that (1) he was neither legally or morally ound to work overtime, and (2) the charge gainst him revealed communal feeling and nepotism on the part of the management. These accusations against the management were very serious and the management therefore issued another charge-sheet to him on 27th October 1958 asking him to explain why he had made those accusations. He gave a reply to that charge-sheet also. That explanation clearly showed that he was not at all repentant about his conduct in making such vile allegations against the management. On the contrary the explanation contained further accusations against the management, which, to the knowledge of the management, were absolutely false and vile. The management deeply considered the matter and decided to dismiss him from service. Consequently by a memo., dated 29th October 1958, he was informed that he was dismissed from service. The Company therefore contends that in the circumstances stated by it above the dismissal of Shri Sk. Alauddin is justified.

Findings

Both sides have elaborated their respective cases in the evidences adduced before me. From the evidences the following facts are admitted:

(a) In the first charge-sheet issued to Shri Sk. Alauddin he was asked to explain his conduct in not accepting the letter asking him to do overtime work and in not doing overtime work, as directed.

(b) In his explanation to that charge-sheet he stated, inter alia, that he was neither legally or morally bound to work overtime and that that charge revealed communal feeling and nepotism.

(c) Shri Sk. Alauddin did not do overtime work on that day.

(d) In the second charge-sheet Shri Sk. Alauddin was asked to show cause why he should not be summarily dismissed from service for his stating in his explanation to the first charge-sheet that that charge revealed communal feeling and nepotism, which statement was regarded as grossly insolent and mischievous by the management.

(e) In reply to the second charge-sheet Shri Sk. Alauddin stated, inter alia, that what he had stated in his explanation to the first charge-sheet was true and that the statement in question made by him in that explanation was neither insolent nor mischievous.

From the evidences of both sides and the arguments of the lawyers of both sides, the following points emerge for decision:

(1) Whether a person working in the general shift can be asked to do overtime work in A, B or C shift.

(2) Whether Shri Sk. Alauddin had any excuse to refuse to do overtime work on 20th October 1958.

(3) Whether the charge of communal feeling and nepotism made by Shri Sk. Alauddin in his explanation to the first charge-sheet is correct.

(4) Whether any enquiry about the two charge-sheets issued to Shri Sk. Alauddin was held.

Point No. 1

P.W. 1 Shri Chandra Sekhar Mukherjee, the General Secretary of the Union, says in his evidence that a worker in the general shift is never asked to do overtime work in A, B or C shift. P.W. 2 Shri Sk. Alauddin also says so in his examination-in-chief; but in his cross-examination he admits that sometimes workers in the general shift did overtime work in A, B or C shift. O.P.W. 1 Shri Anilesh Chandra Mukherjee, Head Chemist of the Company, has explained the system of overtime work in the Company. He says that generally a workman working in A, B or C shift is asked to do overtime work in the succeeding shift. But when a workman in a shift cannot do overtime work in the succeeding shift on account of his personal reasons, a workman in the general shift is asked to do overtime work. So it is the evidence of both sides that a person working in the general shift can be asked to do overtime work in A, B or C shift. So the order of O.P.W. 1 asking Shri Sk. Alauddin to do overtime work in the B shift on 20th October 1958 was perfectly legal. As a matter of fact, the Company in its evidence has stated some instances where other workmen in the general shift have done overtime work in the B shift.

Shri Sk. Alauddin in his evidence before me has stated that his wife was ill and he himself was not in a fit state of health on account of his having to wake up nights due to his wife's illness. He also says that he reported the above to O.P.W. 1 when the latter asked him to do overtime work. But it is surprising that this important point was not stated either in the explanation of Shri Sk. Alauddin to the first charge-sheet or in the written statement of the Union. On the other hand, O.P.W. 1 has stated that when he asked Shri Sk. Alauddin why he had not accepted the order to do overtime work, he replied that he did not accept it because he would not do overtime work; he also requested O.P.W. 1 to ask other helpers to do overtime work. There is no reason why the above statement of O.P.W. 1 should be disbelieved. That statement is also supported by the explanation of Shri Sk. Alauddin to the first charge-sheet. There he says that he was neither legally nor morally bound to work overtime. Again in his evidence Shri Sk. Alauddin has stated that Shri N. K. Banerjee, Assistant Metallurgist, was aware of the illness of his wife. He has not explained how Shri N. K. Banerjee was aware of this. On the other hand, Shri N. K. Banerjee (O.P.W. 3) has stated that he was not aware whether the wife of Shri Sk. Alauddin was ill, not to speak of the latter informing him of such illness. So the plea of wife's illness raised by Shri Sk. Alauddin before me is clearly an after-thought. Hence I disbelieve this plea, and hold that Shri Sk. Alauddin had no excuse to refuse to do overtime work on 20th October 1958, in spite of the orders of O.P.W. 1.

Point No. 3

The Company has taken exception to the charge of communal feeling and nepotism made against it by Shri Sk. Alauddin in his explanation to the first charge-sheet. Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate, appearing for the Union, has argued that that charge is true and has actually been admitted by O.P.W. 1 in his evidence. The portion of the evidence of O.P.W. 1 to which Shri Sengupta has referred is the following. O.P.W. 1 has said that he asked Sk. Alauddin to do overtime work on 20th October 1958 which was the Austami day of Durga Puja, as he was not a Hindu. O.P.W. 1 also admits that obviously he chose him for overtime work in consideration of his religion. He has also admitted that he showed a favour to Shri Ramesh Chandra Dighal in exempting him from doing overtime work in the B shift on that day, as he was a Hindu. It is admitted that 20th Octob 1958 was the Austami day of Durga Puj O.P.W. 1 gave consideration to the religio sentiments of the available Hindu workmen wh wanted to be exempted from doing overtime wor on that day which was a day of very great festiva for the Hindus. But does this mean that he wa guilty of communal feeling and nepotism? Whe Shri Sk. Alauddin requested O.P.W. 1 to as Hindu helpers to do overtime work, the latte explained to him with similar facilities are give to Muslim workmen on the days of Muslim festival What the evidence of O.P.W. 1 on this poi means is that Shri Sk. Alauddin was chosen to th exclusion of Hindu workmen to do overtime work because that day was a great festival day of th Hindus. It is obvious that if that day had been festival day for Muslims, a Hindu workman woul have been chosen to the exclusion of Shri Sk Alauddin and his co-religionist to do overtim work. Communal feeling means a feeling whic prompts a person to show favour to a person or t cause inconvenience to another person witho justification simply because they profess certai religions or belong to certain communities. I the present case Shri Sk. Alauddin was asked t do overtime work not because he is a Muslim bu because he is not a Hindu and as such was no interested in the festival of that day. For simila reason Shri Ramesh Chandra Dighal who is a Hind was exempted from doing overtime on that day The fact that O.P.W. 1 who asked Shri Sk Alauddin to do overtime work is himself a Hind is immaterial. Any fair minded Muslim in h position would have asked Shri Sk. Alauddin t the exclusion of Shri Ramesh Chandra Dighal an other Hindu workmen ot do overtime work. S it cannot be inferred by any stretch of imaginatio that the order to ask Shri Sk. Alauddin to do ove time work on 20th October 1958 was actuated b communal feeling or nepotism. Hence the charg of communal feeling and nepotism made by Sh Sk. Alauddin in his explanation to the first charg sheet is false.

The Union has tried to prove the allegation o communal feeling against Shri Sk Alauddin b its own evidence before me. Shri Sk. Alaudd says in his evidence that some workmen of h department taunted him for being a Muslim an asked him to go to Pakistan. P.W. 1, the Gener Secretary of the Union, also says that Sk. Alaudd reported to him to the above effect. It is o evidence that there are other Muslim employee It is not understood why the Hindu workme should pick up Shri Sk. Alauddin for tauntin him for being a Muslim. If those Hindu work men actually did so, one would expect Shri Sk Alauddin or the Union to make complaints again those Hindu workmen to the management; bu there is no evidence that they did so. Even if be believed that those Hindu workmen taunte Shri Sk. Alauddin for being a Muslim, that show the communal feeling of those Hindu workme and not of the management. So the evidence the General Secretary and of Shri Sk. Alaudd even if believed in toto, does not show any c munal feeling on the part of the managem against Shri Sk. Alauddin.

Ancillary to the charge of communal feeling, the Union has raised the allegation of victimisation as the reason for the dismissal of Shri Sk. Alauddin. It is the case of the Union that ever since the reinstatement of Shri Sk. Alauddin as a result of the award of the Tribunal the Company has been harassing him. The Company, on the other hand, argues that there is no reason why the Company should pick up Shri Sk. Alauddin for harassment out of the 144 persons who were reinstated as a result of the award of that Tribunal. This argument of the Company is irrefutable. Shri Sk. Alauddin has stated in his evidence what he considers to be the harassment caused to him by the Company. He says that before his discharge in 1953 he was working in the shifts, i.e., A, B or C; a workman working in the shifts can work on Sundays, if he likes, and earn wages for two days for working on each Sunday. After reinstatement as a result of the award of the Tribunal Shri Sk. Alauddin was put in the general shift; a workman in the general shift cannot work on a Sunday and therefore cannot earn anything on a Sunday. As a result Shri Sk. Alauddin's monthly earning after the reinstatement was less by 8 days' wages than his monthly earning before his discharge in 1953. O.P.W. 1 has explained the reason why Shri Sk. Alauddin was put in the general shift after his reinstatement. His evidence on this point is as follows. After the dismissal of Sk. Alauddin in 1953 a worker from the general shift was transferred in his place. When he was reinstated in 1957 there was no vacancy in the shifts and so he was taken in the general shift where there was a vacancy on account of a worker in the general shift having been transferred to the place of Shri Sk. Alauddin in the shifts in 1953. O.P.W. 1 admits that after reinstatement in 1957 the management could transfer a junior worker to the general shift and put Shri Sk. Alauddin in his place in the shifts. As we find, the management did not do so. This is an instance of the management not showing a favour to Shri Sk. Alauddin and not of the management doing him an injustice. O.P.W. 1 says he does not know whether the management did not put Shri Sk. Alauddin in the shifts after reinstatement on account of an unfavourable attitude towards him. This answer is only quite natural, as this witness cannot be expected to probe into the intention of the management. So it must be conceded that this witness is a fair-minded witness. Yet Shri D. L. Sengupta, in his desparate attempt to prove the plea of victimisation to his client, I mean Shri Sk. Alauddin, has suggested to this witness that the Company indulged in improper actions with the assistance of this witness. I must say that the attempt of Shri D. L. Sengupta in this respect has been futile. So I hold that the plea of victimisation is absolutely false one.

It is the case of the Union that no enquiry about the two charge-sheets issued to Shri Sk. Alauddin was held. But O.P.Ws. 1, 2 and 3 say that on 28th October 1958 O.P.W. 3 held an enquiry in presence of O.P.Ws. 1 and 2 and that Shri Sk. Alauddin was present at that enquiry. What took place at the enquiry was recorded in a sheet of paper; Ext. A(3) is that paper. There is no reason why O.P.Ws. 1, 2 and 3 should fabricate such a paper. So I hold that an enquiry was held on 28th October 1958. Ext. A(3) however does not show that the enquiry was thorough; specially it does not show what decision was taken about the first charge-sheet. So it is not possible to come to any finding on the basis of that enquiry report (Ext. A3). But, as I have discussed above, the Company has adduced before me evidence in support of the allegations made against Shri Sk. Alauddin in the two charge sheets. As I have discussed above, there is no reason to disbelieve the evidence of the Company in this respect. So I hold that though no thorough enquiry was held about the charge-sheets, the Company has proved before me the allegations mentioned in those charge-sheets.

Hence I hold that Shri Sk. Alauddin is guilty of the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets issued against him. Disobedience to do overtime work on a single day may not be considered by some to be a very serious misconduct; there may be two opinions as to whether such a misconduct merits the extreme punishment of dismissal. But no employer worth the name can take lying down a nasty and unfounded allegation made by an employee of the kind mentioned in the last paragraph of the explanation given by Shri Sk. Alauddin to the first charge-sheet. The management has acted properly in dismissing Shri Sk. Alauddin for such a charge. If the management had not dismissed him, it would have erred on the side of leniency. So I hold that the dismissal of Shri Sk. Alauddin is justified; hence there is no question of any relief.

For the Union: Shri P. K. Nandy, Advocate.

By order No. 860-I.R./IR/11L-55/59, dated Calcutta, the 4th March 1959, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Dying & Cleaning Co. and their workmen represented by the Laundry Workers' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issues mentioned in the order of reference.

Issues

1. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified:

(a) Shri Prabhakar Barua.

(b) Shri Sher Mohammed.

(c) Shri Dindayal.

To what relief, if any, by way of reinstatement and/or compensation are they entitled?

2. Bonus for 1957.

On 13th June 1961 the Union filed a petition that the workmen would accept wages for two weeks as ex gratia payment for the year 1957 and that the workmen have no other claim for bonus for the year 1957. So I hold that there is no industrial dispute as regards issue No. 2 mentioned in the order of reference, i.e., bonus for 1957.

As to issue No. 1, the case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:

In a dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Dying and Cleaning Company (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by the Union, the Sixth Industrial Tribunal awarded that the workmen were entitled to wages for one month as bonus for 1954. From then the workmen were getting a month's pay as bonus. In the year 1958 the workmen placed a demand for two months' wages as bonus for 1957 on account of higher cost of living and improved business of the Company in 1957. The Company however offered them half month's wages as bonus. The workmen refused to accept this offer. The dispute about the above bonus was referred to the Labour Directorate where conciliation proceedings were continuing. Suddenly at this stage the Company wrongfully terminated the services of Sarbasri Prabhakar Barua, Sher Mohammed and Dindayal who were respectively Vice-President, Joint Secretary and a leading member of the Union. The allegations made by the Company against the above three workmen were all false. The Company dismissed them in order to terrorise the workmen with a view to defeat the just claim of the workmen for bonus. So the Union contends that their dismissal is an instance of victimisati and is therefore unjustified.

The Company has raised a preliminary objecti that after the issue of the order of reference t above three workmen filed a title suit ben No. 151 of 1959 against the Company in the C Civil Court in Calcutta for declaration that t orders of dismissal passed against them we illegal and that they were in the service under t Company. As the subject matter of the adjud cation before me is also the subject matter of suit before the City Civil Court, the proceedin before this Court are not maintainable in law A regards the merits of the issue, the case of th Company, in brief, is as follows:

Sarbasri Sher Mohammed and Dindayal com mitted certain acts of misconduct on 28th Octobe 1958 for which charge-sheets were issued to them on 1st November 1958 and both of them wer suspended without wages pending enquiry. They submitted their explanations by their letters, dated 5th November 1958. Notices of enquiry fixing th enquiry on 15th November 1958 were issued them and they duly acknowledged the receipt those notices. Accordingly the enquiry was he on 15th November 1958 in their presence, a they took part in the proceedings of the enquir but they did not produce witnesses in their defen and refused to sign the enquiry proceedings. A a result of the enquiry they were found guilty o the charges mentioned in the respective charg sheets issued to them and were dismissed fro service with effect from 24th November 1958 an the periods of their suspension till the date of di missal were treated as leave without wages. Th orders of dismissal were communicated to them 24th November 1958.

Shri Prabhakar Barua committed certain act misconduct on 3rd November 1958, for whic charge-sheet was issued to him on 4th Novem 1958 calling for his explanation within 1 November 1958, and he was suspended with wages pending enquiry. He submitted his exp nation by his letter, dated 6th November 1958. 18th November 1958 a notice of enquiry fixing t enquiry on 22nd November 1958 was issued a he duly acknowledged the receipt of the notic Accordingly the enquiry was held on 22nd Novem ber 1958. He attended the enquiry and took pa the proceedings by cross-examining the witnesses on behalf of the management and examining ree witnesses on his behalf. But he and his itnesses refused to sign the proceedings of the quiry. As a result of the enquiry he was found ilty of the charges mentioned in the charge-eet issued to him and was ordered to be dismissed om the service with effect from 24th November 58; it has also ordered that the period of his spension would be treated as leave without ages. The order of dismissal was communicated him by a letter, dated 24th November 1958.

The Company denies that the charges mentioned the charge-sheets issued to the above three rkmen were false or that they were dismissed, the Company wanted to terrorise the workers in der to defeat their claim for bonus. The Comny therefore contends that the dismissal of rbasri Prabhakar Barua, Sher Mohammed and ndayal is justified.

Findings

Shri Prabhakar Barua (P.W. 1) admits that he d the other two workmen filed a suit in the City vil Court. He states that later they withdrew it suit. This later statement of Shri Prabhakar rua has not been challenged by the Company. it is clear that at the time when I took up the aring of this case the suit filed by the three rkmen in the City Civil Court was no longer ding. So there was no bar to my taking up hearing of this case. So I hold that the preliary objection raised by the Company is not intainable, and hence I reject it.

The charges against Shri Prabhakar Barua are follows:

He entered the shop of the Company and took seat in his usual place of work at about 0 a.m. though his work was to start at 9 a.m. inking that his attempt to start work before the eduled time was a trap for making out a charge violation of the provisions of the Shops and ablishments Act, Shri Ambalal Patel, the istant Manager of the Company, asked him to begin his work before the scheduled time also asked him not to come to the shop before scheduled time in future. He thereupon ed up and began to abuse the Assistant nager and threatened him with violence.

The charges against Sarbasri Sher Mohammed Dindayal are as follows:

ne Shri Abdul Rahaman is an independent tractor of the Company; he does the work of ning of costly saris and other cloths of the npany. On 28th October 1958 he came to the p of the Company to deliver the cloths ironed him and to take delivery of cloths for ironing. about 5-25 p.m. Sarbasri Sher Mohammed and ndayal who were working in the factory behind shop came to the shop and asked Shri Abdul aman not to take delivery of cloths unless Company granted the demand of bonus le by the workmen. Shri Abdul Rahaman lied that he had nothing to do with question of bonus; but they did not pay any d to his argument. Shri Ambalal Patel ordered m not to interfere with the work of Shri Abdul Rahaman and asked them to go back to their work at once. But instead of obeying his orders they abused and insulted him and threatened him with dire consequence, if the workmen were not granted bonus equal to one month's wages instead of ex gratia payment of half month's wages.

The main contention of the Union is that the above three workmen were victimised as they took a leading part in placing the demand of the workmen for bonus for the year 1957. The Company contends that they were not the only workmen who made the demand for the bonus; so there is no reason for the Company to pick them out for penal action. It however appears from the charge-sheets issued to Sarbasri Sher Mohammed and Dindayal that at least on 28th October 1958 they did something in order to realise the demand for bonus. But if an action taken by them for realisation of the demand for bonus be itself a misconduct, it cannot be said that disciplinary action taken against them for that misconduct is an instance of victimisation on account of their taking part in the realisation of the demand for bonus. It has been admitted by some of the witnesses on behalf of the Union that all the workmen requested the management to give them bonus equal to one month's wages for 1957. So the contention of the Union that the three workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference were victimised on account of their placing the demand for bonus falls to the ground.

The Company says that it issued charge-sheets to the three workmen, received their explanations, issued notices of enquiry to them and held enquiries on the notified dates. This has been admitted by the Union. The contention of the Union is that the enquiry was not properly held. The witnesses on behalf of the Company say that the enquiries were properly held in presence of the charge-sheeted workmen. The charge-sheeted workmen themselves say that they were present at the enquiry. The proceedings of the enquiries produced before me do not show that the enquiries were not properly held. As regards Shri Prabhakar Barua, before the enquiry he requested the management in writing to allow three employees to depose on his behalf at the enquiry. They appeared at the enquiry and disposed as witnesses of Shri Prabhakar Barua. This portion of the evidence of the company has been admitted by the Union. This is an indication of the fairness of the Company in conducting the enquiry. It is true that the proceedings of the enquiry do not bear the signatures of the charge-sheeted workmen or of the three witnesses of Shri Prabhakar Barua. Shri Ambalal Patel, O.P.W. 2 who was present at all the three enquiries as also the other witnesses who deposed at the enquiries on behalf of the Company say that the three charge-sheeted workmen and the three witnesses of Shri Prabhakar Barua were asked to sign the proceedings of the enquiries; but they refused to sign them without assigning any reason for this. The three charge-sheeted workmen and one of the three witnesses of Shri Prabhakar Barua, however, say that after the statements of witnesses had been recorded they requested the enquiring officer to allow them to take the proceedings of the enquiry outside so that they could have them explained by men of their confidence, and that on the refusal to allow them to do so they refused to sign the proceedings of the enquiry. The witnesses on behalf of the company have denied the above allegation. Even if it be believed that the enquiring officer refused to allow them to take the proceedings of the enquiry it cannot be a reason to hold that the enquiry was vitiated. In the case of Woodbriar and Sussex Estates, reported at page 673 of L.L.J. 1960, Volume II, the Madras High Court has gone to the extent of saying that even if an enquiring officer makes corrections in the enquiry proceedings that does not mean that the record of proceedings is in any way vitiated. The law does not say that an enquiring officer is bound to allow charge-sheeted workmen to take the proceedings of an enquiry outside. So I hold that the enquiries were properly held. The three witnesses who deposed on behalf of Shri Prabhakar Barua did not support the case of the Company in regard to charge-sheet issued against him. The enquiring officer considered their evidence and still came to the finding that Shri Prabhakar Barua was guilty of the charges mentioned in the charge-sheet against him. The reasons on which the enquiring officer disbelieved the evidence of these three witnesses may not be convincing to a Court of Law; but it has been held in a large number of cases that an adjudicating court does not act as a Court of Appeal in considering the maintainability of a domestic enquiry. In view of the evidence adduced at the enquiries it cannot be held that the findings of the enquiring officer at the three enquiries are perverse. So I find no reason to interfere with those findings.

Before me also the Company has adduced satisfactory evidence in support of the charges made against the three workmen in the respective charge-sheets issued against them. As regards Sarbasri Sher Mohammed and Dindayal, the evidence on behalf of the Union is that at the factory and not at the shop Shri Dindayal asked Shri Rahaman as to how he was. The latter replied that he was alright. Thereupon Shri Ambalal Patel came there and asked Dindayal why he was talking to his man, meaning Rahaman. If this was the incident, it is unthinkable that the management should issue charge-sheets against Sarbasri Dindayal and Sher Mohammed. It has been proved before me that the incident took place in the shop and not at the factory, further there is no reason why Rahaman should go into the factory. Again P.W. 2 Shri Mihir Barua gives the version of the Union as regards this incident; but he was not cited as a witness by Shri Sher Mohammed or Shri Dindayal at the enquiry; this shows that the evidence of P.W. 2 is not believable. On the other hand, the version of the Company as to the incident is not only probable but has been proved by believable evidence.

As to Shri Prabhakar Barua, the evidence on behalf of the Union is that when Shri Ambalal Patel asked him not to come to the shop before the scheduled hour in future, he agreed to do so. If this were so, it is unbelievable that the management should issue a charge-sheet against Shri Prabhakar Barua. Further immediately after the incident Shri Ambalal Patel made a diary at the thana, as he was afraid that he might be assaulted by Shri Prabhakar Barua. It is not that the apprehension of Shri Ambalal Patel was unfounded. It is in evidence that in 1955 Shri Ambalal Patel brought a case against Shri Prabhakar Barua for having beaten him, and that the case ended in a compromise on Shri Prabhakar Barua expressing unqualified regret for what had happened. This also shows the attitude of Shri Prabhakar Barua. So it is quite likely that he would flare up when he was asked by Shri Ambalal Patel not to come to the shop before the scheduled time in future. So the version of the Company as regards the incident is very probable. There is also nothing in evidence to disbelieve this version of the Company.

In view of the above considerations, I hold that the charge-sheets issued against Sarbasri Prabhakar Barua, Sher Mohammed and Dindayal have been proved beyond any shadow of doubt. As the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets are serious misconducts, the punishment of dismissal for those misconducts is not harsh. Hence I hold that their dismissal is justified. As such, they are not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

By order No. 3817-I.R./IR/11L-197/59, dated 7th August 1959, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between (1) Messrs. National Galvanizing ". Private Ltd., 66 B. T. Road, Kamarhatti, l-Parganas, (2) Shri Badri Singh, 30 Mali anchghara Street, Howrah and (3) Shri Joy ayal Singh, 48/1 Mali Panchghara Street, on the ne part and their workmen represented by ational Galvanizing Shramik Union, Shramik hir, Talpukur, 24-Parganas, on the other, relatg to certain issues to this Court for adjudication. n 19th October 1959 Shri Mathura Ram Kahar escribing himself as a worker of the above lessrs. National Galvanizing Company Private td. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) led before this Court a complaint under section 3A of the Industrial Disputes Act against the hree employers mentioned above. His case, in rief, is as follows:

On 1st September 1959 the Company served on him a charge-sheet under the signature of Shri Badri Singh on the false allegation that he had disobeyed the orders of Shri Joy Dayal Singh and had shown violent attitude. He was asked to show cause in writing within 48 hours. He handed over his explanation to the Manager of the Company, but the latter threw away the said explanation and abused him in filthy language. Thereafter he sent his explanation under registered post, but it was refused by the Company. Thereafter without holding any enquiry the Manager of the Company verbally dismissed him on 23rd September 1959. The Company did not seek the approval of this Court to the dismissal of the complainant. Hence the complainant contends that his dismissal is unjustified

The case of the Company is that Shri Mathura Ram Kahar was not an employee of the Company and that the Company did not issue any charge-sheet to him or dismiss him. As there is no relation of employer and employee between the Company and the complainant, the present complaint is not maintainable as against the Company.

The case of Shri Joy Dayal Singh is that the complainant was not his employee and as such the complaint is not maintainable as against him.

Shri Badri Singh admits that the complainant is his employee, but says that he has not dismissed him. Shri Badri Singh says that he issued a charge-sheet against the complainant and suspended him pending enquiry as a security measure with effect from 1st September 1959 on account of a major misconduct committed by him on 31st August 1959. Thereafter the complainant was repeatedly asked by letters, dated 4th September 1959, 16th September 1959, 24th September 1959, 1st October 1959, 4th October 1959 and 22nd October 1959 to appear at an enquiry to be held about the charge-sheet, but he has not appeared before the enquiry as yet. Shri Badri Singh contends that the relationship of employer and employee between him and the complainant still exists. As such there has been no violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act; hence the present complaint is not maintainable in law.

Findings

At the very inception of the case the Company filed a petition stating that the complaint was void ab initio on the ground that the complaint has been made against three parties. I rejected that petition by my order No. 5, dated 25th June 1960, as I held that there was nothing illegal in the naming of three parties against whom the complaint was filed. As I have mentioned above, these three parties were also the parties on one part in the order of reference mentioned by me above. In my award, dated 9th May 1961, in the case arising out of that order of reference I held that Shri Mathura Ram Kahar, the complaint, was an employee of Shri Badri Singh. At the beginning of the hearing of the present complaint the Company filed a petition that the complaint was not maintainable, as though in my award I held that only Shri Badri Singh was the employer of the complainant, the complainant did not make any correction to that effect in his complaint. But in spite of my above award the complainant is entitled to get a fresh decision as to who his employer is and to adduce evidence in support of his contention. So the complainant was not bound to correct his complaint on account of my above award. Hence I rejected that petition of the Company. Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee appearing for the Company has drawn my attention to a decision of the Supreme Court in the case of S.K.G. Sugar Ltd., reported at page 303 of 15 F.J.R. There it has been held that the employer contemplating by sections 33 and 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act must be the identical employer concerned in the dispute which is the subject matter of the adjudication. In the present case three identical employers have been mentioned both in the order of reference and in the complaint. So my above decision is in line with the above decision of the Supreme Court.

Having disposed of the above two preliminary objections, I now enter into the merits of the complaint. The complainant has not adduced any evidence justifying the revision of my decision in the above award that he was an employee of Shri Badri Singh. On the other hand, in his evidence he says that when on 23rd September 1959 the Manager of the Company told him that he was dismissed, he referred the matter to Shri Badri Singh; thereby he admits in a way that Shri Badri Singh was his employer. So the other two parties mentioned in the complaint, viz., the Company and Shri Joy Daval Singh are not concerned in the dismissal of Shri Mathura Ram Kahar; so I hold there is no complaint against the above two.

Shri Badri Singh says that he first issued a notice of enquiry, dated 4th September 1959, under registered post, but it was returned undelivered. He next issue another notice, dated 16th September 1959, fixing 23rd September 1959 as the date of enquiry. Shri Mathura Ram Kahar admits that he received that notice. He says that he went to the factory of the Company accordingly on 23rd September 1959; but no enquiry was held. Tarak Babu, the Manager of the Company, asked him to go away saying that he had been dismissed and there would be no enquiry. He then told Shri Badri Singh that the notice of enquiry had been signed by him and asked him about the enquiry; the latter replied that what Tarak Babu had said was all right. Shri Badri Singh, on the other hand, says that Shri Mathura Ram Kahar never turned up for any enquiry though several dates were fixed for the enquiry. It is interesting to note that though the first two notices of enquiry were sent by registered post, the notices of enquiry of dates posterior to 23rd September 1959 were sent under certificate of posting. The language of the subsequent notices is also a little different from that of the first notices in that in the later notices, Shri Mathura Ram Kahar was asked to note that he would be given every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses and to adduce evidence. There is no evidence that Shri Mathura Ram Kahar received those later notices. Again it is not understood why Shri Badri Singh should wait indefinitely for Shri Mathura Ram Kahar to attend the enquiry specially in view of the evidence of Shri Badri Singh (O.P.W. 3) that when he asked Shri Mathura Ram Kahar to attend an enquiry after handing over the charge-sheet to the latter, the latter refused to attend a enquiry and questioned his authority to hold enquiry. When Shri Badri Singh was satisfi that the notice, dated 16th September 1959, w received by Shri Mathura Ram Kahar, he co legally hold an ex parte enquiry and decide t matter. So the story of the issue of subseque notices is not believeable. This again leads an inference that the statement of Shri Mathu Ram Kahar as to what took place on 23rd Se tember 1959 is true. Tarak Babu (O.P.W. says that Shri Mathura Ram Kahar did not appe before him on 23rd September 1959. He sa that he does not know any of the employees the contractors. In view of the fact that t number of such employees is only about 25 a the employees work in the factory managed O.P.W. 1, it is difficult to believe the statemer that he does not know any of the employees the contractors. He further says that he do not know whether in the case arising out of t above reference the two contractors submitte two lists of their respective employees, thoug he looked after that case on behalf of the Com pany and was a witness in that case. He says tha he does not remember whether he was shown thos two lists, while he was in the witness-box in tha case. All these show that it is not possible to rel on the evidence of such a witness. Again h refused to receive a registered envelope from Shri Mathura Ram Kahar. The reason stated b him is that whenever a registered letter come from an unknown person he refuses it. It is diffi cult to believe such a statement. His refusal t accept the registered envelope from Shri Mathura Ram Kahar shows his bias against him. So he is clearly an interested witness and as such his evidence cannot be relied upon. There is no reason to disbelieve the statement of Shri Mathura Ram Kahar to the effect that O.P.W. 1 told him on 23rd September 1959 that he was dismissed and that Shri Badri Singh (O.P.W. 3) accepted the decision of O.P.W. 1.

So I hold that the complainant is no longer under suspension after 23rd September 1959 and that the relationship of employer and employee between Shri Badri Singh and him was shapped by his dismissal which took place on 23rd September 1959. Shri Badri Singh does not claim that he filed any application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act before me. Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee appearing for him has referred to a decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Sasa Musa Sugar Works, reported at page 388 of L.L.J., 1959, Volume II, but that decision is beside the point in the decision of the present complaint. Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee has also referred to certain decisions where it has been held that suspension pending enquiry does not attract the provision of section 33 and hence of section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. But since I have held that this is not a case of suspension pending enquiry, those decisions are of no avail to the client of Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee. As I have held that the complainant was dismissed on 23rd September 1959 and as there has been no application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, I hold that the present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is maintainable.

Shri Badri Singh has not tried to justify his ion in dismissing the complainant. As a matter fact, Shri Badri Singh has denied that he dis-ssed the complainant. As there is no evidence justify the dismissal of the complainant, I hold t his dismissal is unjustified. Hence I order t Shri Badri Singh shall reinstate the com-inant Shri Mathura Ram Kahar and pay him l wages from 1st September 1959 to the date reinstatement.

The above order shall be carried out within a nth of the publication of this award in the alcutta Gazette".

AWARD

By its order No. 6172-I.R./IR/4L-72/60, dated the 29th November 1960, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, an industrial dispute between Messrs. Air Assam and their workmen represented by Calcutta Transport Employees' Association on the sole issue whether the dismissal of (a) Ajit Kumar Das and (b) Bipul Bhattacharjee was justified and to what relief, if any, they are entitled.

The Union in its written statement makes the case that the workmen of Messrs. Air Assam together with those of some other companies organised themselves in 1959 for legitimate collective bargaining and for realising for themselves just and fair conditions of service and the Calcutta Transport Employees' Association was registered in May 1959 for this purpose. This was not taken in good grace by the employers including Messrs. Air Assam. There was a Charter of Demands on behalf of the workers of Messrs. Air Assam submitted to the Labour Commissioner in August 1960. The Labour Officer convened a joint conference between Shri Ajit Kumar Das and 10 others on the one hand and the Company on the other by his letter, dated 9th September 1960, and the said conference was held on 21st September 1960. At that conference Shri Ashok Das Gupta, Vice-President of the Association, Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Ramtosh Chakravorty, both workmen of Messrs. Air Assam, Ramtosh Chakravorty having been already discharged, attended the conference on behalf of the Association. But when on the 22nd September 1960 Shri Ajit Kumar Das went to resume his duty he was threatened by the management that if he did not leave the premises he would be physically assaulted and was told that his services with the Company stood terminated. The case of the Association, as far as Shri Ajit Kumar Das is concerned, is that he joined the services of the Company on the 15th April 1960, served it with a clean record till the 22nd September 1960 when his services were terminated in an unjust and illegal manner and by way of victimisation. Admittedly his pay during the tenure of his service was Rs. 70 a month. As to Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee the Association's case is that he was also one of the Union leaders having signed the Charter of Demands presented on behalf of the workmen of the Company in August 1960 and he was dismissed from service with effect from 13th October 1960 by way of victimisation. The Association further makes the case that there was a charge-sheet, dated 13th October 1960, submitted against him to the effect that his attendance was not regular and also that he had become surplus and that Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee replied to the charge-sheet denying both the allegations but the Company dismissed him with effect from the 13th October 1960 without holding any enquiry. He claims to have joined the Company on the 1st May 1960 and to have served it with a clean record of service on a monthly salary of Rs. 75. It is further the Association's case that both Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee were dismissed during the pendency of conciliation proceedings without the Company taking approval of the Conciliation Officer.

The written statement filed on behalf of Messrs. Air Assam is to the effect that Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee was appointed purely as a temporary hand under trial on 1st May 1960 and he worked in all for 5½ months during which he had been found unsuitable because his work was unsatisfactory and although he was repeatedly instructed verbally as per prevailing practice in the concern and cautioned to pick-up the work properly but he still failed to attain the requisite standard of work and conduct to be absorbed in the Company as a permanent hand like others and as such his temporary services were terminated by the Company's letter addressed to him on 15th October 1960. As to Shri Ajit Das the case of Messrs. Air Assam is that he too was appointed as a purely temporary hand on 15th April 1960 and worked as such up to 19th September 1960 and despite frequent instructions and cautions verbally given to him according to the prevailing practice of the Company he proved absolutely unsuitable for the job by his work and conduct and consequently his services were terminated with effect from 20th September 1960 and he was informed of this. The Company definitely denies that Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee was discharged on the ground that he was a surplus hand. It is further the Company's case that according to the rules and regulations of the Company in force an employee is made permanent in the service of the Company after he has completed 240 working days in a year and that during the temporary period if any one is found unsuitable the Company has the full authority to terminate his temporary services at any time without notice.

It is common ground between the parties that Shri Ajit Kumar Das was appointed with effect from the 15th April 1960 and that Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee from 1st May 1960 and further that the services of both were terminated without notice, although as regards the dates of such termination there is a dispute between the parties. There is also a dispute between the parties as to whether Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee were recruited as temporary hand or permanent hands.

In deciding the issue referred to this Tribunal it is first of all necessary to decide what was the precise status of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee as workmen of Messrs. Air Assam. Shri Ajit Kumar Das wa admittedly employed by Messrs. Air Assam with effect from the 15th April 1960 on a fixed salary of Rs. 70 a month. Exhibit 1 is his employment record. Admittedly Shri Ajit Kumar Das himself filled columns 1 to 6 of this employment record Ext. 1 and he also signed it. Someone else in the office filled up the column No. 8 mentioning the salary. It is the evidence of Shri Swarag that he filled up columns 13 and 14 showing tha Shri Ajit Kumar Das left on the 19th September 1960 and the reason why he left was that his worl was not satisfactory. In this employment recor there is column 7 with the heading "pos (temporary". No entry however was made i this column in Ext. 1. On behalf of the Associatio it was argued that the fact that this column wa not filled in would go to show that probably Shri Ajit Kumar Das was taken in as a permanen hand. It is argued on behalf of Messrs. Ai Assam on the other hand that it is significant tha there is not in the employment record any colum with the heading "post—(permanent)" and i column 7 was left unfilled it does not necessarily mean that the employee was taken in permanently but it means merely this that through over-sight or for some other reasons, the column was not filled in. On behalf of Messrs. Air Assam reliance was also placed on Ext. 3, the Rules and Regulations brought into force with effect from the 2nd January 1957. On behalf of the Union Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee deposed that they were never shown these rules at the time they were recruited, o at any other time before the hearing of this reference. The evidence on the other hand of Shri Swaragi and Shri P. N. Dutta is that those rules were brought into use in Messrs. Air Assam with effect from the 2nd January 1957 and tha these were shown to new recruits at the time when they were called upon to fill in the employment record forms. Whatever might be said of the evidence of Shri Swaragi it is difficult to brush aside the whole of the evidence of Shri P. N. Dutta, simply because he is still an employee of Messrs. Air Assam or because he came to depose in favour of the Company. It is not that Shri P. N. Dutta supported Shri Swaragi on all points. He has definitely contradicted the evidence of Shri Swaragi as to the issue of letters to employees when they are made permanent. It is also his evidence that he was not selected as a witness for the management in this case by the management itself but by his colleagues. In all these circumstances I find it impossible to disbelieve Shri P. N. Dutta at least when he says that the Rules and the Regulations, Ext. 3 were brought into use with effect from the 2nd January 1957 and that a new recruit is made to read the Rules and the Regulations before he fills in the Employment Record Forms. As against this there is the evidence of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee, both of whom are personally interested in denying the existence of Ext. 3. No disinterested witness has been examined on behalf of the Association to show the non-existence of the Rules and Regulations, Ext. 3. In these circumstances it must be held on the evidence that Ext. 3 came into use with effect from the 2nd January 1957, the date which the Rules and the Regulations bear and that the rules were shown to the employees at the time ey were recruited, as stated by Shri P. N. Dutta. he first rule runs as follows:—

"All the employees will initially be appointed on temporary measure and will only be made permanent after continued employment under this establishment for a period of 240 consecutive working days in one year and whose services have been confirmed in writing by the Company having been found suitable on successful completion of the above period, in Company's appointment."

hen rule 2 runs as follows:—

"Company may appoint probationers and those appointed will remain as such for a period of one year—unless otherwise extended by the Company in specific case or found otherwise not suitable for absorption in the Company's permanent roll."

Rule 3 runs as follows:—

"Selection of the an employee and probationer rests on the management and the person so employed will be required to accept the terms and conditions prevalent in the establishment."

Rule 4 runs as follows:—

"Any employee who has become permanent shall be entitled to one month's notice of termination or wages for the period in lieu of notice. Similarly, the employee concerned wishing to leave the job will be required to give one month's notice. Services of probationers and temporary employees can be terminated at any time without adducing any reason".

Both Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee were employed after Ext. 3 had come into force. Consequently, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary it may reasonably be presumed that they were employed in terms of these Rules and Regulations. Under these Rules nd Regulations they could be appointed to start ith only on a temporary basis or on probations. s far as Shri Ajit Kumar Das is concerned, the ompany in its letter Ext. 4, dated 10th October 960, to the Labour Officer states that Shri Ajit umar Das had been appointed as a clerk on 15th pril 1960 as "a probationer on a purely emporary basis". Then in letter Ext. 4(1) from . C. Swaragi to the Labour Officer, dated 25th ctober 1960, it is stated that as regards Shri Ajit umar Das they had already explained in their etter, dated 10th October 1960, that he had been mployed as "extra temporary hand" although, as already stated, in Ext. 4, he had merely stated that then Shri Ajit Kumar Das had been employed as "a probationer on a purely temporary basis". Obviously therefore, Shri Swaragi who is the writer of both these letters does not believe in sticking to the same terminology or in using in his letters terminology carrying anything like a precise meaning. Otherwise there is no sense in his stating in Ext. 4(1) that he had already explained in his letter, dated 10th October 1960, that Shri Ajit Kumar Das had been employed as "extra temporary hand" though in his letter, dated 10th October 1960, he had only stated that Shri Ajit Kumar Das had been taken as "a probationer on a purely temporary basis". The precise status of probationers in this concern appears from rule 2 which lays down that a probationer will remain for one year unless this period is extended in a specific case or unless the probationer concerned is found otherwise not suitable for absorption in the Company's permanent roll. This seems to me to indicate that as far as this Company is concerned, the probationers do not enjoy any higher status than that of temporary employee, beyond probably this that while a temporary employee could under rule 4 be liable to the termination of his services at any moment a probationer under rule 2 may expect a tenure of one year unless in the meanwhile he is found otherwise not suitable for absorption in the Company's permanent roll when his services may be terminated without notice. This probably accounts for the confusion which Shri Swaragi seems to have been labouring under in Exts. 4 and 4(1). On the materials therefore, on the record all that can be found is that Shri Ajit Kumar Das was appointed as "a probationer on a temporary basis" as stated by Shri S. C. Swaragi in Ext. 4.

Exhibit 6 is the employment record of Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee. He was admittedly employed with effect from the 1st May 1960 on a fixed salary of Rs. 75 a month. In his case, columns 1 to 6 and column No. 8 were filled in not by Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee himself as in the case of Shri Ajit Kumar Das but the entries in these columns were typed and Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee merely wrote the date on top of the form and signed twice, at the bottom of the first part of the form. In this employment record also column 7 was left unfilled. In Ext. 7, dated 15th October 1960, Shri Swaragi tells Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee that he had been employed "on probation" and "on extra temporary" basis. Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee also says in his evidence that he was not told whether he was being taken as a temporary or permanent hand but he was told that he would be made permanent after two months and his pay would then be increased and he would be given a letter of appointment. There is however, no indication in the written statement of the Association that Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee had been told at the time of his recruitment that he would be made permanent after two months. As a matter of fact under the rules, Ext. 3, a probationer could not expect to be confirmed before the completion of a year's probation. In the circumstances it is difficult to accept the statement of Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee at its face value. On the strength of Ext. 7 viewed in the light of the rules, it must be found that he was employed on probation and on a temporary basis. In other words both Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee must be found to have been recruited as probationers on a temporary basis, or in other words as temporary hands on trial, although I must confess it hardly makes any sense to employ anyone both on a temporary basis and on trial, because the temporary character itself of a person's employment is a kind of trial. But as far as I could make out from the evidence, of the manner in which this concern recruits its employees I am not surprised that there should be this confusion in the mind of those responsible for the recruitment of its employees.

The next question of fact in dispute between the parties centres round the dates of termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee. Admittedly Shri Ajit Kumar Das attended up to the 19th of September 1960 and did not attend on the 20th which was the Mahalaya Day nor on the 21st when he attended the conference in Labour Commissioner's office. It is the case of the Association that Shri Ajit Kumar Das was told on the 22nd September that his services were terminated from that date, whereas it is the case of Messrs. Air Assam that Shri Ajit Kumar Das was told on the 19th September and a letter was delivered to him on that very day at about 6 p.m., when he was about to leave the office at the end of the day's work that his services were being terminated. It is curious however, that in the Attendance Register Ext. 8 Shri Ajit Kumar Das was marked absent with the capital letter 'A' on the 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th and then the letters 'A' were scored through from the 20th to the 26th. It also appears that Shri Ajit Kumar Das has not received his salary for that month, for he does not appear to have signed against his name in the proper column. Even according to Shri Ajit Kumar Das he was told on the 22nd September, that his services were terminated. In that case there is hardly any reason why he should be marked absent on the 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th. It seems to be extremely curious that the same thing should have happened in the case of Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee also in October 1960. He appears to have attended the office up to the 14th October 1960 and was marked absent on the 15th, 17th, 18th, 20th, 21st, 22nd and 24th and then the letters 'A' from the 17th onward were scored through. He also does not appear to have received his pay for the month. Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee was alleged in the Association's written statement to have been dismissed with effect from 13th October 1960. That however, is obviously not correct because he appears to have attended the office up to the 14th and is marked absent from the 15th onward. Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee in his evidence states that he was discharged with effect from the 17th October 1960 and he had worked on the 16th October also. The 16th October 1960 appears to have been a Sunday and there is no marking in the register against that date. Obviously therefore Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee was not correct when he stated that he worked on the 16th October 1960. He was marked absent even on the 15th and he appears to have been marked up to the 14th October only. In any event, whether his services were terminated with effect from the 15th as stated in Ext. 7 a letter from Shri Swaragi to Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee himself, there is hardly any sense in marking him absent from the 18th onwards. That seems to suggest that whoever is responsible for these markings was not aware of the day with effect from which either Shri Ajit Kumar Das or Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee had his services terminated, or it might be that after having marked these two absent on days when their services had not yet been terminated, the officer responsible for the markings continued this device for some days even after their services had been terminated, in an attempt to suppress the truth. This however, is a possibility which can hardly be ruled out on the evidence. In other words, these markings namely the marking of Ajit Das absent from the 20th September to the 26th September 1960 and the marking of Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee as absent on the 17th, 18th, 20th, 21st, 22nd and 24th October 1960 are extremely suspicious so that it is impossible to say from these alone that Shri Ajit Das's services were terminated with effect from 20th September 1960 and those of Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee from the 15th October 1960.

This, however, does not solve the question from what date either of these two men had his services terminated. Exhibit 2, dated 19th September 1960, tells Shri Ajit Das that his services were being terminated from 20th September 1960 and the evidence of Shri Swaragi as well as of Shri P. N. Dutta is that at the time Ajit Das was about to leave, the original of Ext. 2 was handed over to Shri Ajit Kumar Das. Of course Shri P. N. Dutta does not go to the length of saying either that his services were terminated on 19th September 1960 or that it was the original of Ext. 2 that was handed over to Shri Ajit Kumar Das at the time. But he saw a letter being handed over to him. Shri Ajit Kumar Das denies having received any such letter either on the 19th or at any time later on. His whole case is that it was on the 22nd when he came to the office that the Manager told him that unless he left the premises he would be subjected to personal violence and that his services were terminated. He admits at the same time that he did not complain to the police of this threat of personal violence. He claims however, to have informed the Labour Commissioner in writing that he had been threatened with assault. But that letter to the Labour Commissioner of the 22nd September 1960 has not been called for from the Labour Commissioner or proved. He says that he informed Shri Ashok Das Gupta, Vice-President of the Association also of this, but Shri Ashok Das Gupta, the Vice-President says nothing about it in his examination in chief and in his cross-examination, he states as follows:—"Ajit Kumar Das saw me on the day following the day of the conference and he informed me that he had been turned out of the office and on the same day some other employees also came to me with a request that something should be done about it." The statement of Shri Ajit Kumar Das is that it was on the 22nd September 1960, the day following the day of conference at the Labour Commissioner's office that his services were terminated. The question was put to Shri Ashok Das Gupta about it and he did not say that Shri Ajit Kr. Das complained to him of any threat of physical violence. It, however, strikes me as significant that Shri Ajit Kumar Das did not sign against his name in the Attendance-cum-Payment register Ext. 8, in token of payment of his dues for the month of September 1960. If, as a matter of fact on the 19th the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das were terminated as testified to by Shri Swaragi it seems to me strange that Shri Ajit Kumar Das was not offered his dues for the month at the time he was being served with the notice of termination of the service. Both Shri Swaragi and Shri P. N. Dutta are silent on the point. It might have been that even though he was offered his wages for the month he might have refused to accept the same that is not the case of the management and i Swaragi and Shri P. N. Dutta threw no light this. Of course, it may quite reasonably be that the fact that the dues of Shri Ajit Kumar were not tendered to him at the time his rices were being terminated throws no light on day of this termination, probably beyond this if he was told on the 19th that his services e being terminated, he might normally expect i Swaragi to offer him his dues but if on the r hand, his services were being terminated on 22nd immediately after he was called to the sence of Shri Swaragi, Shri Swaragi might not e offered him his wages. There is also another nificant fact, namely that while Shri P. N. tta speaks of the termination of the services Shri Ajit Kumar Das he does not mention the e when his services were terminated nor does say anything as to whether the entries in umns 13 and 14 of Ext. 1 the Employment ord of Shri Ajit Kumar Das were made by ri Swaragi in the presence of Shri Ajit Kumar s when he was about to leave. On that point re is the evidence of Shri Swaragi and against evidence there is the evidence of Shri Ajit mar Das. It is, therefore, obvious that as gards the date of termination of the service of ri Ajit Kumar Das there is on the one hand the dence of Shri Swaragi and on the other evidence Shri Ajit Kumar Das. The silence of Shri P. N. tta on the point seems to me to be significant d it is impossible to hold on this evidence that e services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das must have en terminated on the 19th September, 1960 with ect from the day following and not on the 22nd ptember 1960 as stated by Shri Ajit Kumar Das. other words on the evidence I am inclined to ld that in all probability the services of ri Ajit Kumar Das were terminated with effect m the 22nd September 1960 and not with effect m the 20th September 1960. The fact remains at in the Attendance-cum-Payment Register Ext. 8) Shri Ajit Kumar Das did not sign in ken of his receipt of his pay for the month. hat entitles one at least to doubt the case of the anagement that the services of Shri Ajit Kumar as were terminated with effect from the 20th d that the original of the letter (Ext. 2) was nded over to Shri Ajit Kumar Das on the 19th at bout 6 p.m. when he was about to leave the ffice.

As regards Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee the ssociation's case that his services were terminated ith effect from the 13th October 1960 is clearly ot correct. Its case that, charge-sheet had been ssued against him is also clearly incorrect, for ot merely Messrs. Air Assam denies this in its ritten statement, but Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee imself admits in his evidence that no charge-heet was served on him. Even Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee in his evidence states that he worked the 16th October 1960 and his services were minated with effect from the 17th October 1960. cording to the written statement of the Company services of Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee were minated by the Company's letter addressed to on 15th October 1960. But the evidence of i Swaragi is that Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee rked up to the 14th October 1960 and left on t day and he handed over to him at the time en he left a letter of which the office copy is Ext. 7. It is significant that Shri P. N. Dutta does not say anything at all as to this. It is still more significant that although on the 15th October 1960 Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee was marked absent the letter 'A' was not scored through, but the same letters from the 17th onwards were scored through. That suggests that Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee was still in service on the 15th, otherwise one would expect even the marking for the day to have been scored through. The other significant fact is that Ext. 7 bears the date the 15th October 1960 and not the 14th October 1960. If Shri Swaragi is to be believed that letter was handed over to Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee on the 14th and if it was handed over to him on the 14th, there is no reason why it should have borne the date of the 15th October and the fact that it bears that date and not the 14th when according to Shri Swaragi it was handed over to Bipul Bhattacharjee would go to indicate that Shri Swaragi was not telling the truth in this matter. This would justify the conclusion that no such letter was in all probability handed over to Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee at all as testified to by Shri Swaragi. Consequently, on the evidence, it is impossible to hold that the services of Shri Bipul Bhattacharjee were terminated with effect from the 15th October 1960 and not with effect from the 17th October 1960 as stated by Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee himself.

The next question for consideration is whether in the first place the termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee amounts to their dismissal, in the second whether each of them had his services terminated on sufficient grounds and in the third whether the termination of the services of each was legal. The issue in the reference used the word "dismissal" and it has been argued on behalf of the Association that the Tribunal must hold prima facie that the termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee amounted to a dismissal and it would be for the Company to prove that it did not amount to a dismissal. This, however, does not appear to be correct. The mere fact that the word used by the Government in making the reference is 'dismissal' cannot mean that the Tribunal must hold prima facie that the termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee actually amounted to a dismissal and that it would be for the Company to prove the contrary. It will have to be held on the evidence whether the termination of the services of these two men actually amounted to a dismissal. To my mind, the dismissal of an employee from his employment implies two things namely first the termination of the services of one holding a substantive or permanent appointment and secondly, the termination imposed as a kind of punishment. Where that is not the case, the termination of the services of the employee cannot to my mind amount to a dismissal. In this case, as I have already held, neither Shri Ajit Kumar Das nor Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee was employed by Messrs. Air Assam on a permanent basis and they were employed as probationers on a temporary basis although as I have pointed out, the expression used by the Company is the result of a certain amount of confusion in the mind of those responsible for its use. This much however is quite clear that neither was appointed on a permanent basis. When neither was appointed on a permanent basis, one of the essential conditions of his dismissal was missing. The termination of their services therefore, cannot be said to have amounted to their dismissal. It merely amounts to their discharge.

It is now to be seen whether the discharge of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee was made on sufficient grounds. One of the grounds of the termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee is that they used to absent themselves without permission and that sometimes they used to leave the office without permission after doing half-a-day's work. The Attendance-cum-Payment Register Ext. 8 throws some light as to whether these allegations are correct or not. It appears from this register that Shri Ajit Kumar Das absented himself for one day in April, 1960 without any deduction of his pay. In May he absented himself for two days and there was a deduction of his pay to the extent of Rs. 4.67. In June, he was absent for 1½ days and there was a deduction of Rs. 3.50 from his pay. In July he absented himself for one day and there was a deduction of his pay to the extent of Rs. 2.34. In August, he absented himself for two days and there was a deduction of his pay to the extent of Rs. 4.64. Although he did not receive his pay for September, it appears to have been calculated on the basis of 18½ days, i.e., for half-a-day on the 1st when he appears to have worked for half-a-day. It is the evidence of Shri Ajit Kumar Das that he used to take oral permission for his evidence. At the same time he said that whether he took permission or not his pay for the period when he happened to be absent would be deducted in any event. It appears, however, that in April 1960 although he was absent for one day there was no deduction. It is therefore, more than likely that there was no deduction of his pay in April 1960 because he had absented himself with permission and that on the other days when he absented himself he did not take any such permission. It is the evidence of Shri Swaragi and also of Shri P. N. Dutta that neither of them used to attend regularly and both used to go out without permission and Shri Swaragi also said that they used to absent themselves without notice. The Attendance Register Ext. 8 shows that Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee did not absent himself at all in May but in June, he was absent for five days and there was a deduction of Rs. 12.5 from his pay. In July he was absent for half-a-day and there was a deduction of his pay to the extent of Rs. 1.25. In August, he appears to have absented himself for three days and there was a deduction to the extent of Rs. 7.50. In September again he was absent for two days and there was deduction of his pay to the extent of Rs. 5. In October, he did not absent himself at all. The Attendance Register therefore, would go to confirm the evidence of Shri Swaragi and Shri P. N. Dutta that Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee used to absent themselves without notice. As regards leave, the rules Ext. 3, contain the proviso that anybody who wishes to avail himself of leave will be required to apply in writing before and to obtain sanction. Evidently, as far as one can judge from the materials on the reco Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Bar Bhattacharjee were not complying with the provisions.

As regards the other allegations, namely th Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Bhattacharj used to talk with others in the office and distu others, there is of course the evidence of Sh Swaragi and Shri P. N. Dutta. Shri Bipul Bar Bhattacharjee and Shri Ajit Kumar Das of cour deny this. I am inclined to prefer the eviden of Shri P. N. Dutta to the evidence of eith Shri Swaragi or Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Sh Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee and to hold that the two gentlemen Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bip Baran Bhattacharjee used sometimes to distu others by talking to them in the office. B whether that is so or not, the mere fact that the were not regular in their attendance and th they used to absent themselves without noti would to my mind constitute sufficient ground f their discharge during their employment in Messr Air Assam as temporary workmen on probation for under rule 4 of the Rules and Regulation Ext. 3, in force in that concern, the services o probationers and temporary employees could b teminated at any time even without adducing an reason. When an employee is discharged on suc a ground, it can hardly be said that the discharg amounts to a punishment. As no question o punishment is involved in this, there is no questio of any inquiry as a preliminary to the discharge Nor is it possible to say that Shri Ajit Kumar Da who has been found by me to have been dischargec on 22nd September 1960 after he attended th joint conference on 21st September 1960, wa discharged on that ground and victimised for hi trade union activities, for it is admitted by Shr Ashoke Das Gupta that there are even now activ members of their Association among those stil in the employ of Messrs. Air Assam and by Shri Ajit Kumar Das that most of the employees who had become members of the Association before him were old employees of the concern and were still in the employ of the Company.

The next question is whether the termination of the services of either of these two gentlen Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Ba Bhattacharjee is in any way illegal. I ha already found that it was a proper order termination of the services of these two under rules in force in the concern, i.e., Ext Consequently, it is not illegal on the ground th it has contravened the rules in force. The legal of the termination of the services of Shri Bip Baran Bhattacharjee has not been questioned any other ground, while that of those of Shri A Kumar Das has been questioned as illegal on t ground that it contravened the provisions section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It h to be seen whether in the case of either there h been a contravention of the provisions of section 3 It is argued that the Conciliation proceedings we in progress when the services of Shri Ajit Kum Das were terminated and consequently th termination of his services must be held to b illegal. Exhibit C is a notice from the Labou Officer to Messrs. Air Assam calling upon th Company to attend a conference with th representative of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and h others on the 21st September 1960. The notice lf is dated the 9th September 1960. A copy this notice was sent under memo. No. 3009/1, ed 9th September 1960, to Shri Ajit Kumar s and 10 others. Then the conference was tually held according to the evidence on both les on the 21st September 1960 and according the evidence of Shri Ajit Kumar Das and ri Ashoke Das Gupta it was attended by Shri it Kumar Das and others on behalf of the ployees and by Shri Swaragi on behalf of the mpany. I have already found that the services Shri Ajit Kumar Das were in all probability rminated not with effect from the 20th Septem- r 1960 as alleged on behalf of Messrs. Air Assam it with effect from the 22nd September 1960 as leged by Shri Ajit Kumar Das. According to ie evidence the conference held on the 21st ptember 1960 proved abortive and no settlement as arrived at on the Charter of Demands for hich as the notice (Ext. C) itself indicated the nference had been called. Evidently, therefore, ie efforts of the Conciliation Officer to bring bout a settlement presumably still continued after 1st September 1960. The question now is whether the circumstances the termination of the services f Shri Ajit Kumar Das on the 22nd September 960 can be said to have been during the pendency f the conciliation proceedings. According to the lefinition of the expression conciliation proceedings n section 2(e) of the Industrial Disputes Act it neans any proceeding held by a Conciliation Officer or the Board under this Act. Section 12 ays down, the duties of a Conciliation Officer. Sub-section 1 of section 12 makes it obligatory on the part of the Conciliation Officer to hold a conciliation proceeding in the prescribed manner when there is either an actual industrial dispute or apprehended industrial dispute relating to a public utility service and makes it discretionary with him to hold such proceedings in other cases actual or apprehended industrial disputes. Sub- ction 2 makes it obligatory for him to investigate r the purpose of bringing about a settlement of e dispute, in all matters affecting the merits and e right settlement thereof. Then sub-section 3 ovides that if a settlement of the dispute or of y of the matters in dispute is arrived at in the urse of the conciliation proceedings the nciliation Officer shall send a report thereof to e appropriate Government together with a emorandum of the settlement signed by the rties to the dispute. Sub-section 4 provides that f no such settlement is arrived at, the Conciliation fficer shall, as soon as practicable after the close f the investigation, send to the appropriate overnment a full report setting forth the steps aken by him for ascertaining the facts and ircumstances relating to the dispute and for bringing about a settlement thereof, together with ull statement of such facts and circumstances, l the reasons on account of which, in his opinion, ettlement could not be arrived at. Sub-section entitles the appropriate Government on a sideration of the report mentioned in sub- tion 4 to refer to a Board, Labour Court, ibunal or National Tribunal if it is satisfied at there is a case for such reference and where e appropriate Government does not make such ference, it has only to communicate to the rties concerned its reasons therefor. Then sub- ction 6 lays down the time-limit for the bmission of a report under the section. Obviously, therefore, under this section whatever the Conciliation Officer does either in the way of investigation of the facts and circumstances of the dispute or in bringing about a settlement form part of the conciliation proceedings before him. Section 20 however which fixes the starting point as well as the point of termination of conciliation proceedings and other proceedings seems to me to introduce a certain measure of difficulty. As to the starting point of conciliation proceeding before a Conciliation Officer, section 20, sub-section 1 runs as follows:

> "Conciliation proceeding shall be deemed to have commenced on the date on which a notice of strike or lock-out under section 22 is received by the Conciliation Officer or on the date of the order referring the dispute to a Board, as the case may be."

Sub-section 2 provides when the conciliation proceedings shall be deemed to have concluded. It is obvious from sub-section 1 that it contemplates only two classes of disputes namely first a dispute in which a notice of strike or lock-out under section 22 has been received by the Conciliation Officer, i.e., a dispute in a public utility service and secondly a dispute referred to a Board of conciliation why the starting point of conciliation proceedings in other disputes has not been fixed by section 20(1), though section 20(2) fixes the conclusion of such proceedings in all cases, it is difficult to say. Whatever has under section 20(2) a point at which it concludes must obviously have begun at an earlier point of time. Why then the Legislature has confined itself in section 20(1) to only two types of conciliation proceedings to the exclusion of certain other kinds while it does not do so in section 20(2) in fixing the point of termination of conciliation proceedings is more than one can say. Whatever the explanation of this omission from section 20(1) may be, what we are concerned with here is primarily its effect. Does it mean that other classes of conciliation proceedings have no commencement, though under section 20(2), they have an end? An affirmative answer would be clearly absurd. Such proceedings must be held to begin as soon as the Conciliation Officer begins to act under section 12. This seems to follow from the very definition of conciliation proceedings in section 2(e). If in spite of this definition, the Legislature found it necessary to fix in sections 20(1) and 20(2) the points at which conciliation proceedings are deemed to begin and end, and if in fixing the point at which such proceedings are deemed to begin, it left out of account certain types of conciliation proceedings, a meaning, if possible, must be attributed to it. My attention has been drawn in this connection to an observation of the Supreme Court in the case between Andheri-Marol-Kuria Bus Service and another and State of Bombay, 1959, II, L.L.J., 236, at page 238. The observation is as follows:

> "The Act provides for commencement and conclusion of conciliation proceedings under section 20 but the first sub-section of section 20 deals with what are called utility services and sub-section (2) of that section provides as to when the conciliation proceedings conclude."

With the utmost deference to their Lordships of the Supreme Court and in all humility, I think I shall be failing in my duty if I refrain from pointing out that section 20(1) fixes the starting point or the date of commencement of conciliation in two types of cases, the first being cases where the Conciliation Officer receives a notice of strike or lock-out under section 22 and the second being cases referred to a Board of Conciliation, evidently under section 12(5). While the first type is limited to disputes in Public Utility Services, as section 22 itself makes clear, the second type is not necessarily so limited. It was not probably necessary for their Lordships of the Supreme Court to go into a detailed discussion of sub-section (1) of section 20 and as a matter of fact their Lordships did not go into any detailed discussion of that sub-section. The question however, that arises is whether sub-section (1) of section 20 which omits to fix any starting point for conciliation proceeding before a Conciliation Officer has any effect on the beginning of such proceedings before a Conciliation Officer. Section 20 by using the expression "shall be deemed" in all its three sub-sections makes it clear that whenever the proceedings contemplated in this section actually begin in fact, in law they shall be deemed to begin at a certain stage. As regards proceedings which have been left out of the section the actual commencement is not to be treated as a matter of legal fiction, introduced by section 20(1) but in each case it is to be factually determined. The only explanation of the existing term of section 20(1), I can think of is that though there is no reference in this section to sections 22 and 23, sections 20(1), (2) and (3) had to be introduced for the purpose of determining the period during which a strike under sections 22 and 23 would be illegal. In this connection, one might refer to a noticeable distinction between sections 22 and 23 in the matter of strikes and lock-outs being illegal during the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a Conciliation Officer. Under section 22, sub-section (1)(d) and sub-section (2)(d) strikes and lock-outs in public utility services would be illegal during the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a Conciliation Officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings. Under section 23(a) however, strikes and lock-outs in other kinds of industrial establishment would be illegal during the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a Board and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings. Section 20 makes it clear that conciliation proceedings before a Conciliation Officer in a dispute relating to public utility service starts with the receipt of the notice of strike or lock-out under section 22 by a Conciliation Officer and in other cases, coming within the provision of section 23, such strikes and lock-outs become illegal only during the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a Board of Conciliation and not before a Conciliation Officer. Section 20(1) fixes the starting points for both of these types of cases and so it is not probably unreasonable to say that section 20(1) was enacted with an eye to sections 22 and 23, and that it does not in any way affect the beginning of other types of conciliation proceedings which begin as soon as a Conciliation Officer begins to act under section 12. If I am correct in this, there is really no conflict between section 12 and section 20 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In this view, it must be held that conciliatio proceeding before the Conciliation Officer were stil in progress when the services of Shri Ajit Kuma Das were terminated with effect from the 22nd September 1960, because it does not appear whe he submitted his report and because this reference to the Tribunal was not made till 29th Novembe 1960. The question now arises whether under section 33 this termination of his services would be illegal. The Conciliation Officer was, as appears from Ext. C holding such proceedings on the Charter of Demands submitted by a number of employees of the concern. Section 33 sub-section 1 prohibits the discharge or punishment whether by dismissal or otherwise of any workman concerned in the dispute for any misconduct connected with the dispute, except with the permission in writing of the authority before which the proceeding is pending. It further prohibits the alteration to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute the conditions of services applicable to them in regard to any matter connected with the dispute except with such permission. But evidently, the termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kumar Das was not for any misconduc If it was an alteration of the conditions of h service it was not an alteration in regard to an matter connected with the dispute. Consequently sub-section 1 of section 33 has no manner o application to the facts of this case. Sub-section also would have no application for the simpl reason that this was not a termination i accordance with the Standing Orders becaus there were no Standing Orders in this concern The rest of section 33 has obviously no manner o application to the facts of the case. Evidently therefore, the termination of the services o Shri Ajit Kumar Das does not come within the purview of section 33 at all and there is thus nothing illegal in the termination of his services by the Company. The same remark would hold good of the termination of the services of Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee.

In the result I find that the services of both Shri Ajit Kumar Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee were legally terminated sufficient grounds and this is my award.

In conclusion I think it is my duty to add t although on the materials on the record I h not been able to come to the conclusion that termination of the services of Shri Ajit Kum Das and Shri Bipul Baran Bhattacharjee w unjustified, there are indications available fr the evidence that the management of this conc is not always fair and straight-forward in dealings with its workmen. I have serious doul if when an employee is made permanent, a letter embodying the terms and conditions of h employment are issued to him. Whenever an one is recruited whether on temporary permanent basis, the terms and conditions of h employment must be made known to hin preferably by a copy of the rules and regulation in force being annexed to the letter of appoint ment, and the management should try to avoid, a far as it is practicable to do so, having discharge even a temporary workman without tice in spite of its undoubted right under the le to do so.

AWARD

By its order No. 3643-I.R./IR/7L-49/60, dated the 20th July 1960, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shamnagar Jute Factory Co. Ltd. (North Mills) and Messrs. Angus Co. Ltd. on the one part and their workmen represented by Thomas Duff Group Mills Clerks' Association, "Akhoy Kiron", on the other on the single issue whether the clerks of the Shamnagar Jute Factory Co. Ltd. North Mills and of the Angus Co. Ltd. at Angus are entitled to get additional wages for paid festival holidays falling on Saturdays.

After the Company as well as the Union filed their written statements, they filed on the 5th September 1961 a petition embodying an agreed settlement in the dispute. The terms of settlement are that if a Festival holiday falls on a Saturday and that Saturday is a short working day of five hours then the clerks will be paid three hours' extra pay for that Festival holiday and the special payment will apply only to existing clerks and no new entrants after the date of this agreement will be entitled to any such extra payment. It is also stipulated in the terms of settlement that the agreement will stand terminated should the conditions governing Festival holidays with pay for Jute Mills as a whole be an issue before a Tribunal and the Tribunals Award will govern payments for Festival holiday thereafter. It is also stated in the petition that this arrangement is to be treated as an ad hoc arrangement and is not to be cited as a precedent. The terms of settlement appear to be quite reasonable and fair and I accordingly accept the same and pass an award on the basis of these terms. The petition filed by the parties will form a part of this award.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

The original reference out of which this present complaint has arisen was made under Government Order No. 1835-I.R., dated 22nd April 1960.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Shrimati Satya Bhama on 21st November 1960 alleging therein that the management without showing any reason verbally discharged her from service with effect from 13th August 1960. Messrs. Shree Krishna Gnanodaya Flour Mills, i.e., employer, filed the written objection on 8th February 1961 stating therein that the workman concerned left the service on her own accord and, therefore, there was no violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The case was fixed for hearing on 30th September 1961 and on that date the workman concerned did not turn up to proceed with the case. In the circumstances, I hold that the dispute does not subsist and an award in terms as "no dispute" is accordingly passed.

K. K. MITRA,
Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.
5-10-61.

By order of the Governor,
S. C. MUKHERJEE.
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

Oriental Research & Chemical Laboratory Ltd., 61 Harraganj Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Oriental Research & Chemical Laboratory Workmen's Union, 4 Panchkori Mohanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the issues mentioned in the said orders, being matters specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), were referred to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Dulal Chandra Ghose, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had discharged the said workman concerned in such dispute;

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by Dulal Chandra Ghose against Oriental Research and Chemical Laboratory, 6 Harganj Road, Salkia, Howrah, in connection with Government No. 4853-I.R., dated 13th September 1960. No. 269/33A/1960.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL OF WEST BENGAL

Present:
Shri P. C. PAL, M.A., LL.B., Judge.

(Misc. Case No. 269/33A of 1960.)

For the Applicant: Shri Amar Prasad Chakra Advocate.

For the Company: Shri N. C. Chatterjee, Adv

This is an application under section 33A of Industrial Disputes Act for reinstatement of complainant with full benefits on the follo allegations. The applicant had served the Com for over 10 years in the Packing Department o Company, opposite party, with full credit, r taining a clean record of service. There reference to the Tribunal for adjudication rega bonus payable in 1958 and 1959, during the pend of which the opposite party discharged the tioner from service arbitrarily and illegally, and contravened the provision of section 33 of Industrial Disputes Act. There was no ch sheet against the complainant nor was he given chance to defend himself. There was no re whatsoever for his discharge, and the opp party acted quite mala fide and by way of vict sation and unfair labour practice, quite regar of the principles of natural justice.

The opposite party Company filed a wr objection contending in substance thus: The c plaint is not maintainable in law as there was contravention of provisions of section 33 of Industrial Disputes Act. The applicant wa missed by reason of his misconduct quite unc nected with disputes about bonus. The Comp has no Standing Orders applicable to its workr and thus section 33(2) of Industrial Disputes Ac not attracted. The allegations of unfair lab practice, mala fide act and victimisation are unt The principles of natural justice were also violated by the Company. The complainant found guilty of misconducts, namely, deliberat insulting the Managing Agent in charge, refusal speed up production against the pecuniary ders of the Company, grossly defiant and palpably mi fest insubordinate conduct. So the Company w fully justified in summarily dismissing the co plainant as no useful purpose would have be served by holding any formal enquiry. During h service of the complainant, he was found guilty bad conduct and unsatisfactory work, but the Co pany always let him off previously with veri warnings; yet the complainant did not mend h ways. The complainant held an important posit in the matter of production and had the confiden of the Company, which he flagrantly abused b slowing down production and inciting other willin workers to strike. For all these reasons, the for the complaint must fail and the complainant i not entitled to any relief.

The complainant has examined himself as th only witness on his side. On the other side ajeswar Mitra (a partner and Director of the Company and also the Managing Agent thereof) and nsu Bhusan Banerjee (in charge of the Packing epartment of the Company) have been examined O.P.W. 1 and O.P.W. 2 respectively. The complainant has put in a Certificate of Honour (Ext. 1) nd a petition of complaint (Ext. 2). The same mplaint has been filed by the opposite party t. A) along with a letter of withdrawal of allega- (Ext. B), copy of charge-sheet (Ext. C), letter pology (Ext. D) and order from the Patna Pharceuticals (Ext. E).

Regarding the legal objection as to the maintainlity of the present complaint under section 33A the Industrial Disputes Act, the contentions on alf of the Company are two-fold. Firstly, it is ted, the misconduct of the complainant has no nnection with the original dispute which was in spect of claims of bonus. Secondly, it is urged by ri Chatterjee that as the Company has no anding Orders, section 33(2) of the Industrial Disutes Act, which would have otherwise applied, is t attracted in the present case and so there is no uestion of violation of the provisions of section 33 the Industrial Disputes Act; and as such the etition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes ct does not lie.

On the other hand, the case for the complainant that the Tribunal had passed an Award for onus in favour of the workmen but yet the Comny did not pay any bonus; on the contrary, the mpany obtained workmen's signatures in writing coercion to show relinquishment of their claim bonus, to which the complainant protested and himself refused to sign in such a writing. So, it id, the Company got enraged and displeased ith him and terminated his service on pretext of leged misconduct. It is argued by Shri Chakrarty that the matter arose out of claims of bonus nd hence the connection with the original dispute, that the matter would come under section 33(1) f the Industrial Disputes Act and in that case the uestion of Standing Orders is quite immaterial. fter the passing of the Award, nothing remained bout the original dispute, and there is nothing to how (except the complainant's only statement) that he Company obtained workmen's signatures by ce or coercion about relinquishment of claims of nus. Anyway, the alleged connection is too ote to be taken notice of. So this part of ection of Shri Chatterjee holds good, and the tter in question would fall under section 33(2) of Industrial Disputes Act.

It is true that for the maintainability of a comaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes t, it must be shown that section 33 of the Act s been violated. Now, section 33(2) of the Act ads thus:

"(2) During the pendency of any such proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute, the employer may, in accordance with the Standing Orders applicable to a workman concerned in such dispute:

(a) alter, in regard to any matter not connected with the dispute, the conditions of service applicable to that workman immediately before the commencement of such proceeding; or

(b) for any misconduct not connected with the dispute, discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise that workman:

Provided that no such workman shall be discharged or dismissed, unless he has been paid wages for one month and an application has been made by the employer to the authority before which the proceeding is pending for approval of the action taken by the employer."

In view of the above provisions, the present case would fall under section 33(2)(D) of the Industrial Disputes Act. In such a case the employer may, in accordance with the Standing Orders applicable to workman, dismiss or discharge the workman concerned for any misconduct not connected with the dispute. This means that the employer is empowered to do certain acts mentioned in sub-clause (b) in accordance with the Standing Orders. According to the argument advanced by Shri Chatterjee, the employer is not bound to come under this section when there are no Standing Orders and hence the section 33 is not at all attracted. Reference is made to 1958 (I) L.L.J. 377 (Anthony vs. Messrs. Good Year Tyre & Rubber Co.) of the Bombay Industrial Tribunal which supports his view and enjoins that in the absence of Standing Orders the relief of the aggrieved workmen is not under section 33A but under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by way of a regular reference. This view has, however, been disapproved by my learned brother, Shri K. K. Mitra, Judge of the Fourth Industrial Tribunal of West Bengal, in the case of Ram Lout Ahir vs. Messrs. Karamchand Thapar & Bros. (vide Award published at page 2891 of the Extraordinary "Calcutta Gazette", dated 25th August 1960). In his judgment, Shri Mitra has not only referred to and discussed Anthony's case of the Bombay Industrial Tribunal, but he has also referred to and disapproved a similar view expressed by the Patiala Industrial Tribunal in the case New Valley View Transport Ltd., vide 1960 (I) L.L.J. 104. Not only that; he has also referred to the contrary views expressed in the Madras Industrial Tribunal's case of Muruglan and others vs. Messrs. Pioneer Mills Ltd., vide 1959 (I) L.L.J. 327, and Rajasthan High Court's case of Manshingh vs. Messrs. Mewar Textile Mills, vide 1959 (I) L.L.J. 637. The decision of Shri Mitra, who observed that in case there were no Standing Orders, that did not give a plenary power to the employer to proceed with the action in dismissing a workman arbitrarily has been upheld by the Hon'ble High Court of Calcutta in a proceeding under Article 226 of the Indian Constitution. (Not reported.) The observations of the Hon'ble Judge are as follows:

"Sub-section (2) of section 33 gives power to the employer to do certain acts (mentioned therein) for any misconduct not connected with the dispute. These things must be done in accordance with the Standing Orders. This does not mean that no action can be taken if there are no Standing Orders. All that it says is that if Standing Orders exit, action must be taken in accordance with it. I agree with the Tribunal that simply by omitting to frame Sanding Orders an employer cannot acquire plenary powers of discharge or dismissal against its workman. On the other hand, simply because Standing Orders have been formulated, it does not mean that the employer is powerless to take any step in that behalf, however deserving the case may be."

The views of the Hon'ble Judge give a go-by to the decisions of the Bombay and the Patiala Industrial Tribunals mentioned above. In my view also, an employer having no Standing Orders cannot have a greater power than an employer who has Standing Orders. If the Company's contention is to be accepted as the correct exposition of law, then an employer with Standing Orders would have to come under section 33(2) whereas an employer having no Standing Orders would not be compelled to come thereunder. This is against commonsense and could not have been the intention or contemplation of the Legislature. For all these reasons therefore I come to the conclusion that section 33(2)(b) is attracted in a case like this. In view of the mandatory stipulation in the proviso mentioned above, an employer in a case like this must pay one month's wages to the aggrieved workman and also apply for Tribunal's approval of the action taken by him. In the present case, not only the opposite party Company has not made any application for approval but also it does not appear to have paid one month's wages to the complainant. Hence the provisions of section 33(2)(b) proviso has been contravened and hence the present case under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is maintainable. The legal objections raised by Shri Chatterjee on behalf of the Company fall through.

This leads me to the consideration of the case on merits. Admittedly, there was no formal charge-sheet or any domestic enquiry against the complainant at any time before his dismissal. The allegations against him are found from the Company's letter (Ext. C, dated 21st September 1960) intimating his discharge with effect from the following day, 22nd September 1960. This letter shows following charges: (i) that the complainant deliberately refused to speed up production or render extra time labour to meet the problem of packing, particularly in respect of a huge order from Bihar in spite of request by a Partner-Director of the Company; and (ii) the last and the most serious of all is that the complainant waged a complaint to the Chairman of the Board of Directors against the Managing Agent in charge on baseless and false grounds and insulted the Managing Agent in charge thereby. The complainant has denied having acted in the way as mentioned in this letter. It is said for the Company that the complainant, after making the vile allegations against the Managing Agent, had subsequently rendered an apology; the Company could not find its way to accept the apology, considered him to be an undesirable workman and had to chuck him off for its own safety.

It is an admitted fact that on occasion of the Silver Jubilee Day (20th May 1955) the Company granted a Certificate of Honour to the complainant in thankful recognition of his 12 years' loyal and efficient service rendered to the Company. (See Ext. 1). It is further admitted that the workman was awarded a gold medal (produced before and shown to the Tribunal) for his good service. It is therefore very difficult to understand why such a workman of merits and confidence would suddenly become antegonistic and adopt an attitude to the instructions of management or to insult Managing Agent by making vile allegation aga him. This workman denies knowledge about order from Bihar. He also denies the story gi by the Company's witnesses that he induced o workers to slow down works, or that, after secu the said certificate and gold medal, began threaten the management with bringing chaos with insult to the management in one way or ot

O.P.W. 2 says that on the particular day question when he asked Dulal and others to h on with work of packing medicines as per order f Bihar, there was no other work of packing in department. If that is true then there is no me ing of his admission that Dulal and others left factory after 5 p.m. though they were asked to the said work at about 10 a.m. on that date. T witness further admits that there is no office rec of the Company to show that Dulal and oth refused to do the work. It is not explained v they stayed on in the factory after 5 p.m. with doing any work at all.

It is true that Dulal and others had on 3rd S tember 1960 made a written complaint against t behaviour of Radharaman Mitra, the Manag Agent. (Vide Ext. A or Ext 1). By a letter, da 15th September 1960 (Ext. B), Dulal and some oth withdrew the allegation letter, dated 5th Septeml 1960 and begged to be excused. But Ext. A Ext. 1 does not appear to be the same letter, da 5th September 1960, mentioned in Ext. B.

In view of the above I do not find my way accept the contentions of the Company about t alleged misconduct of Dulal, the complainant. Ev if Ext. A or Ext. 1 be taken to be the very letter allegations levelled against the Managing Agent, y it does not disclose such a conduct as might ent the complainant's dismissal. It appears that of t persons mentioned in that letter only the prese complainant has been picked up as victim of t Company's wrath. This may go to indicate in way about the truth of the complainant's story th he refused to relinquish the claim of bonus aft getting a contested award. There was admitted no charge-sheet or enquiry before the complaina was dismissed. This is against all principles natural justice. In my view there was also want good faith of the Company. That being so, th Company's act in dismissing the complainant ca not be justified. (Vide 1958, Vol. I, L.L.J. 260 the case of Indian Iron & Steel Co.). So the appl cation under section 33A of the Industrial Dispute Act succeeds on merit also.

In view of the above decisions the Compan opposite party is directed to reinstate the com plainant Dulal Chandra Ghose within a month fro the date of publication of this decision in the "Cal cutta Gazette" and also to pay him half the wage including dearness allowance for the period fro the time of his dismissal to the date of his reinstate ment. This period of his forced unemploymen shall be treated as special leave in favour of the applicant.

Award accordingly.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Star Textile Ltd., 3 Chingrighata Lane, Calcutta-15, and their workmen represented by the Star Textile Mazdoor Sabha, 36/1/1 Tangra Road, c/o Shri Narayan Mazumdar, Calcutta-15, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4576-I.R./IR/8L-37/61, dated the 25th July 1961:

Issue

Is the retrenchment of the following 20 workmen justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

1. Darbhangi Ram, 2. Paras Koiri, 3. Ganga Deo Ram, 4. Ram Chandra Ram, 5. Krit Narayan Mahoto, 6. Sumangal Ram, 7. Tapeswar Ram, 8. Naresh Ram, 9. Ram Sakkal Roy, 10. Biro Das, 11. Biswanath Patnaik, 12. Basudev Nandi, 13. Ram Sahu, 14. Badhar Pani, 15. Sudhir Mondal, 16. Ram Chandra Sarkar, 17. Narayan Mondal, 18. Chitta Dey, 19. Malin Mondal, 20. Rajendra Mondal.

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 29th July 1961, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

The workmen represented by the Star Textile Mazdoor Sabha, entered appearance on 2nd September 1961 and prayed for adjournment which was allowed. The Company in the meantime entered appearance on 16th August 1961 and authorised Shri N. Das Gupta, Advocate, to represent them in the proceedings.

On 22nd September 1961 the Tribunal received a letter signed by Shri Kamal Bose, described as the General Secretary of the Union, wherein it is stated that the Union had decided not to take any part in this proceeding inasmuch as the industrial dispute as referred to for adjudication does not exist at present even though an industrial dispute on the question of reinstatement of Sankar and others and the dispute over the question of bonus had not been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication. Obviously, it is entirely for the appropriate Government to decide which particular dispute betwen the parties will be referred to for adjudication. The Tribunal can decide such issues as are referred to the same by the Government. In order to get the matter further clarified I wrote to the Union asking them to appear before me. Both Shri Kamal Bose, Secretary and Shri Bhanjan Das Gupta, President of the Union, appeared before me on 6th October 1961. They stated that the dispute under reference does not exist. They made a grievance that the Government did not refer certain other points of dispute for adjudication. As already stated, the Tribunal has got no saving in the matter. The position, therefore, is that the dispute as referred to for adjudication does not exist in admission of the Union representing the workmen.

"No dispute" award is accordingly passed.

AWARD

The workmen represented by the Shree Mah Cotton Mills Employees' Union (hereinafter r to as the Union) filed the written statement o October 1960. The case as made out by the is that the workmen in serial Nos. 1 to 8 o order of reference had been discharged/dismis the Company on different dates in the mon June and July 1960, without any charge-shee without giving them any opportunity for d As for Abhimanyu Das (serial No. 9), the case Union is that he was on sick leave up to 24t 1960, and during the period of leave his service been wrongfully terminated with effect fro July 1960, and that the employer took such against him as Shri Das happened to be the Sec of the Union with a spirit of victimisation. with the written statement the Union file annexures the letters of termination of services to the workmen individually.

Messrs. Shree Mahalaxmi Cotton Mills (h after referred to as the employer), filed the w statement on 4th March 1961. It is contende the employer that the mills changed hands more once before it went into liquidation in 1955 whe official liquidator took charge of the mills and the present firm brought the mills from the o liquidator who before giving possession of the terminated the services of the employees by p notice. This firm, however, gave employment each and every old employee, but that the discharged from no mala fide motive but in interest of the industry and for the maintenanc discipline. It is further contended that all t persons were, so to speak, new hands with re to the present firm and had put in 2 to 4 mo service when discharged. It is admitted by employer that all these nine persons are work within the meaning of the word as defined in Industrial Disputes Act. In short, it is conte that the discharge of these nine workmen was j justified in the circumstances of the case.

Both parties adduced evidence, oral and docum tary, in support of their respective contentions shall refer to the same as and when necessary course of my decision.

The only issue referred to me for adjudicat relates to the question of discharge of nine workm

The Union did not press the cases of discharge three of the workmen, viz., Shri Adhir Choudh (serial No. 3), Shri Parimal Chakraborty (serial No. and Shri Sukumar Sarkar (serial No. 5). I am the fore to consider whether the dismissal of the oth six workmen was justified. All these six workm had been examined by the Union. It appears fr the evidence that Sukumar Sen (serial No. 1) was Assistant Engineer having put in 22 years of conti ous service. Shri Moni Roy (serial No. 2) was Assistant Weaving Master, who had served t Company for 28 years. Shri Bhabesh Bhattacher (serial No. 6) was the Head Time-Keeker who put 23 years of service. Shri Arun Gupta (serial No. a Clerk, had put in 18 years of service. Shri Krish Chandra Debnath (serial No. 8) was an office who had put in 12 years of service. Shri Abhimanyu Das (serial No. 9) was a piece-rated Weaver, having served for 14 years in this mill. There is no dispute on the point that the present employer became the owner of this cotton mill by purchasing the same at Rs. 13,00,001, and issued a notice asking the old employees to attend their respective departments at the scheduled time on the 6th April 1960 (vide Ext. 2 and Ext. 3). It appears from the letters of discharge issued to Sukumar Sen (serial No. 1), Moni Roy (serial No. 2), Bhabesh Bhattacherjee (serial No. 6) and Arun Gupta (serial No. 7), dated 23rd June 1960, 11th July 1960, 16th July 1960 and 1st July 1960, respectively, that the only ground assigned by them was that the management was not satisfied with their services and, therefore, their services were considered to be no longer required. While in the cases of Bhabesh Bhattacharjee, Moni Roy and Arun Gupta, it was stated in the relevant letters that their services were no longer required, in the letter issued to Sukumar Sen it was not even stated that his services got terminated. So, the reasons behind the dismissal can only be gathered from the contents of these notices. All these workmen were asked to collect their dues from the Cash Office, and the workmen who were occupying quarters were asked to vacate the same within a day or two as specified in the letters. Obviously, these notices indicate a sort of summary dismissal, so to speak, of all these four workmen. Nothing had been mentioned in the letter of dismissal as to what was the fault of these workmen and for what reasons the management felt dissatisfied with their work. There is no doubt that the management had a right to dismiss a workman in appropriate case when there is misconduct on the part of the workman concerned. It is also the sole discretion of the management to define what acts of negligence or insubordination would be deemed by them to be misconduct. But at the same time the workman has got a right to know before his dismissal what specific act of commission or omission, done by him, amounted to a misconduct. The workman has also a right to explain away his conduct and have an opportunity for defence in a domestic enquiry. This obviously means that a charge-sheet has got to be given narrating the acts constituting the misconduct and that proper opportunities to explain away the fault should be given to the workman concerned and upon consideration of that an appropriate enquiry, as necessary, is to be held by the management. A workman can be dismissed provided all these steps are taken. Nothing of the sort had been done by the employer with respect to any of these four workmen. In the letters of termination of services it was simply mentioned that the employers were not satisfied with their work. Even in the written statement no case was made out as to what was the particular acts of commission or omission constituting misconduct which had been done by the workmen concerned leading to their summary discharge. At the time of hearing Shri Sukumar Sarkar was asked in cross-examination if a Transformer got burnt and he stated that such an incident did happen when he was on off duty. Even the evidence now adduced to make out a case that the Transformer got burnt due to some fault of Shri Sen could not be established. The employer produced a statement of production in the Weaving and Spinning Department as well as Daily Production Register to indicate that there was lesser production and for that Shri Moni Roy was responsible. Even assuming the correctness of the figures in the Production Register Book, Ext. B, in which daily production from 1st June 1960 had been recorded, it can by no means be said that there was less production compared to the past record of production. At least from that Register, Manindra Roy, the Assistant Weaving Master, cannot be held responsible to merit dismissal. Shri Bhabesh Bhattacharjee has been asked in the cross-examination that he failed to submit return as to attendance in proper time and he denied the same. It appears from Ext. D, the letter written by Shri Bhattacharjee, that he submitted a written explanation to state how discrepancies in the total of the attendances had occurred. This is the matter which took place before the present management took charge. Besides, it is idle to think that the employee could be dismissed on 16th July 1960 with reference to a certain acts of negligence on his part committed in May 1960, when except for asking for an explanation no further step had been taken against him. Presumably the explanation was accepted and the matter ended there. So far as Arun Gupta is concerned, even at this stage the employer does not led any evidence directly or by through the cross-examination of the witness that the management had any reason to be dissatisfied with his work.

The case of Krishna Chandra Debnath (serial No. 8) stands on a different footing inasmuch as no reason was given as to why his service stood terminated with effect from 27th June 1960 on which date the letter of termination of service was given to him [vide Ext. 4(c)]. Thus upon examination of the facts and circumstances of the case, I hold that the termination of services of these persons by way of dismissal was completely in violation of the principles of natural justice as no opportunity had been given to them to explain away any charge and that the entire thing had been done in the most arbitrary manner.

The learned lawyer for the Company urged that the termination of services of these persons should be treated as termination of employment simpliciter, and not as dismissal by way of punishment for misconduct. It is urged that the employer had full right to terminate the services of these workmen in accordance with the provisions of the Standing Orders which are binding upon the parties. I would say that the management had clearly stated in the letters of termination of services that they were not satisfied with the work so far as the workmen in serial Nos. 1, 2, 6 and 7 are concerned. Merely because an employer feels dissatisfied with the work of a workman, he cannot at once decide to terminate his service without proper charge-sheet and enquiry. A case of discharge simpliciter cannot, therefore, be made out so far as these four persons are concerned. At the same time I would say that the case of discharge simpliciter cannot be pleaded by the employer in justification of their action when they try to prove a case that there had been acts of misconduct committed by the workmen concerned. It is true that this employer took charge of this concern on 6th April 1960 and the termination of service took place within 2 to 4 months of their assumption of their ownership. But it cannot be said that these workmen were treated as temporary workmen. Temporary workman as defined under the Standing Orders means such workman who is engaged in job which is temporary in nature. There is no evidence, oral or documentary, to show that these persons were employed as temporary workmen. On the other hand I find that they were employed on such jobs which were of permanent nature. In this view I hold that a case in support of the action of the employer on the basis of discharge simpliciter cannot be sustained. Thus I hold that the dismissal of these five workmen was completely arbitrary and against the principles of natural justice.

It was only in the case of Abhimanyu Das, the Weaver, that some reasons had been given by the employer for termination of his service. Shri Das filed an application, dated 21st June 1960, praying for medical leave on the ground of his illness (vide Ext. E). The management by the letter, dated 29th June 1960, informed Shri Das to the effect that they were very sorry to learn that he was ill. They sent their Medical Officer to his residence to render medical help for his treatment [vide Ext. E(1)]. On the next day, i.e., 30th June 1960, another letter was written to him informing that the Medical Officer did not find him at his residence and the said officer was against being sent for the purpose. Shri Das stated in his evidence that he was examined by such Medical Officer on the second day. But as he had been examined by his own doctor, he wanted the Company to supply the medicine as prescribed by the doctor [vide Ext. E(3)]. The management wrote to inform Shri Das by the letter, dated 2nd July 1960, that they had arranged for his treatment by a good physician in Calcutta. Shri Das while thanking the management for such good behaviour informed that he wanted to remain under the treatment of his own doctor [vide Ext. E(4)]. The management then wrote to Shri Das that he should join his duty at once [vide Ext. 1(b), dated 4th July 1960]. After that the management terminated his services by the letter, dated 6th July 1960 [vide Ext. 1(e)] presumably because he did not resume duty. Now the evidence as disclosed clearly indicate that Shri Das had applied for leave and his leave had never been refused. The Company was insisting that Shri Das must be treated by a doctor as chosen by the management and to this Shri Das did not agree. This unwillingness on the part of Shri Das and, as a matter of fact, his refusal in getting treatment by the Company's doctor, are described by the employer as an act of insubordination for which they terminated his services. I do not find anything in the Standing Orders to show such an act on the part of a workman can be termed as a misconduct within the meaning of rule 14(d) of the Standing Orders, as framed by the Tribunal in the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Industry Award, published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 10th June 1958. Besides, in his case as well no charge-sheet and no opportunity for defence was given and the management took the action in hot haste without holding any domestic enquiry. Besides, it is established by evidence that he was the Secretary of the Union. I hold that his dismissal was mala fide and without any justification.

In the result, I find that the action of the employer in terminating the services of these workmen must be treated as dismissal without justification. Shri Das, as the Secretary of the Union, filed an application for self and on behalf of employees of the mill before the Hon'ble High C praying therein that the workmen should be gratuity at the rate of 15 days' pay for each ye service by the Official Liquidator who had t nated their service with effect from 2nd April The Official Liquidator, Shri Proval Kumar denied in the counter-affidavit the liability to gratuity as the mill was sold to Messrs. C Pannalal Limited as a going concern. The que if the workers can reasonably claim gratuity o compensation for loss of their service from liquidator is completely outside the scope o determination. Even if there be any break ir continuity of service, the status of the workme permanent workmen remained the same. I find that the dismissal of these workmen is il and that the action of the employer cannot sustained. I do not find any reason as to wh the circumstances of the case the normal reli to reinstatement should not be given. The lea lawyer for the Company urged that this is not case wherein an award directing reinstate should be made and that it would appropriat allow adequate compensation to the workmen. not find sufficient reason to uphold the conten It is therefore directed that all these six work be reinstated to their former posts at the same as they were getting at the time their services terminated, within a month from the date of p cation of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". intervening period should be treated as leave out pay with respect to these six workmen in Nos. 1, 2, 6, 7, 8 and 9. So far as the other w men, naturally there is no dispute.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the ndustrial Disputes Act by Shri Anil Kumar Ghosh nd nine others, all permanent monthly rated mployees of Messrs. India Electric Works Ltd. at he Entally Works of the Company. It is their case hat one of the conditions of service of the monthly ated workmen of Messrs. India Electric Works Ltd. s that they are entitled to a half holiday on Ratha- atra day with full pay and that it is also the condi- tion of service of these workmen that they are to rk up to 3-30 p.m. on Ulta Rathajatra Day for ich full wages for the day are paid. It is further ir case that in 1959 the Rathajatra Day fell on 8th y 1959 and Ulta Ratha on 16th July 1959. Their evance is that while the monthly paid workmen of e Behala Workshop were allowed these holidays full pay, these holidays were refused to the onthly rated workmen employed at Entally d also to the section of those monthly ted workmen who were working in Entally ction but shifted to Behala Works. The application nder section 33A was filed on 22nd October 1959 hen a reference under section 10, dated 15th lovember 1958, was already pending. This according o the applicants amounts to a contravention on the art of the Company of the provisions of section 33 f the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company's written statement inter alia the Behala Workshop and the Entally Workshop of the Company are entirely separate establishments having been registered separately under the Factories Act and that the applicants who were employed in Entally Works are in enjoyment of separate and distinct holidays and leave benefits which bear no comparison with the corresponding terms of the Behala factory employees. It is further the Company's case that at no relevant period the monthly rated staff were paid holidays with full pay on the Rathajatra Day or that they were required to work only up to 3-30 p.m. on the Ulta Rathajatra Day. The applicants did not appear at any time after the application had been filed and on 29th June 1961 Shri Anadi Chakravorty appeared for the workmen and represented that the case might be withdrawn and then the Tribunal's order was that the workmen have to file an withdrawal petition and or they might authorise Shri Chakravorty to do so. Thereafter the workmen never appeared and on 29th September 1961 the matter had to be dealt with ex parte. No one appeared for the applicants. No evidence was either adduced on their behalf. Only one witness, Shri J. N. Sanyal, Labour Welfare Officer, was examined on behalf of the Company. His evidence is that the Entally factory of the Company and its Behala factory are registered factories under the Factories Act and while the award of the Tribunal has fixed the number of holidays to be observed in a factory it has not touched the question of half holidays and half holidays are at the discretion of the management. When the employees want a half holiday they have to approach the management and if the management likes it can give the workmen a half holiday or may refuse the same. As to the Rathajatra Day his evidence is that in the year 1959 the management did not allow any half holiday either on the Rathajatra or on the Ultarathjatra Day on the 8th and 16th July respectively of that year. As the whole matter according to the evidence of this witness is discretionary with the management it is impossible to hold that a half holiday on the Rathajatra Day or a partial holiday on the Ultarathjatra Day are some of the conditions of service of the workmen. In that view the applicants have no right to enjoy half holiday on the Rathajatra Day or a partial holiday from 3-30 p.m. on the Ultarathjatra Day and they had no such right in 1959. There was, therefore, no contravention on the part of the management of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The application must accordingly be dismissed.

Issue No. 1:

On this issue the evidence of Shri J. N. Sar the Labour Welfare Officer of Messrs. India Electr Works Ltd., is that Kharag Bahadur was appoi on a temporary basis sometime in the year 1957 a Durwan and on the 1st of May 1958 when also was employed on a temporary basis he was cau red-handed during duty hours while he was mak a lamp stand with some reels belonging to Company and without the permission of Company to make use of these reels. Shri Kha Bahadur admitted his guilt in writing. The witn further says that as far as he knows Shri Kha Bahadur is not at present in India. On this evider it must be held that the discharge of Shri Kha Bahadur who had been employed on a tempor basis was justified and that he is not entitled any relief either in the way of reinstatement or the way of compensation.

Issue No. 2:

As regards issue No. 2 the evidence of the s witness of Shri J. N. Sanyal is that Shri Ash Bahad has been already made permanent and he has grievance or at any rate he has not approached t Company with any grievance. In any event, as has been made permanent, the question whether should be made permanent hardly arises because has already got the relief which the Associatio was pressing for. My award therefore on this issu is that as he has been made permanent the Tribun has only to confirm the fact that he has been mad permanent.

Issue No. 3:

As regards this issue the evidence of Shri J. N Sanyal is that the factories of the Company a Entally and Behala are registered separately under e Factories Act and are for all practical purposes e two different units or the two different factories. ıe number of holidays in factories in West Bengal ıs been fixed by an award and both the Entally ıd Behala factories observe the same number of ıolidays. But the holidays observed in the two ifferent factories are not exactly identical. Each ctory decides through its Works Committee the ys when holidays will be observed in the factory d the procedure is that the Works Committee of ch factory meets for fixing the holidays to be served in the next financial year. He further says at for the clerical monthly paid staff of either of ese two factories it has never been the practice that ey should be allowed a paid holiday on the 1st of ay. The issue is about the clerical and other staff ployed at the Entally Workshop. Evidently, the rical and other staff means only the monthly paid ff and not the workmen attached to the factories. that be so, on the evidence of Shri J. N. Sanyal has got to be held that for the monthly paid staff the Entally factory or for the matter of that of hala factory 1st May or in other words May Day s never been observed as a paid holiday. If that so, for the monthly paid staff of the Entally Workop for work on the 1st of May 1958 would not be itled to any pay or allowance for that particular y for the pay or allowance for that particular day already included in their monthly pay. In that w this issue must be answered in the negative.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Caltex (India) Ltd., 22 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Petroleum Workers' Union, 3 & 4 Hare Street, Calcutta-1. (Case No. VIII-492 of 1960.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:
Shri P. C. PAL, M.A., LL.B., Judge.

For the Company: Shri P. P. Goswalla, Counsel (with Shri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor).

The present dispute has been referred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4576-I.R./IR/15L-10/60, dated the 25th of August 1960, for adjudication of the following issue, namely:

"Whether the dismissal of Shri D. K. Chatterjee is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled"?

In a pretty long written statement filed by the General Secretary of the Union on behalf of the workman concerned, he has asserted thus: On the 2nd of December 1958, Shri Dilip Kumar Chatterjee (D. K. Chatterjee) was appointed as a B Class Clerk by Messrs Caltex (India) Ltd. (hereinafter called the Company) as a probationer, the period of probation being six months with effect from that date. During that probationary period, which expired on the 1st of June 1959 he worked satisfactorily and his services were highly appreciated by his section, the Company having at no time complained of any unsatisfactory work against him. Thus Shri Chatterjee became confirmed on the 1st of June 1959. By a letter, dated the 2nd June 1959, the Company, however, informed him that it had decided to increase the probationary period by three months, i.e., up to the 1st of September 1959, without any just cause or previous intimation, and quite illegally too. Next, the Company by a letter purporting to be dated 31st August 1959 simply informed him that his services were no longer required with effect from 1st September 1959, without disclosing any reason whatever. On 4th August 1959, after the expiry of his three days' sick leave, he usually came to the office for work, but was not allowed to join, but was told that his services had been terminated on and from 1st September 1959. On the same day he laid a written protest before the Company. In reply thereto the Company wrote to him on 7th September 1959 to say for the first time that his works were unsatisfactory and hence the termination of his service. That allegation was quite untrue, mala fide and an after-thought. Next the Union took up his cause and wrote to the Company for his reinstatement but in vain. Then conciliation proceedings followed, but proved abortive. On these allegations, the Union claims reinstatement of Shri Chatterjee with full benefit of continuity of his service.

The Company's case, as per its written statement, is briefly this: It is untrue that the works of Shri Chatterjee during the first six months of his service were highly appreciated by his section and/or by the management. It was not at all incumbent on the part of the Company to apprise any probationer as to performance of his work. The probationery period of six months was extended by three months with consent of Shri Chatterjee. It was not necessary for the Company to give reasons for which a probationer is not confirmed after his probationery period. Shri Chatterjee asked for two days' sick leave for the 1st and the 2nd of September 1959 but the Company informed him by its letter, dated 1st September 1959, that as he had been released from service the question of granting leave to him did not arise. From the fact of extension of the probationery period by three months Shri Chatterjee was fully aware that his works were unsatisfactory. The allegations that the reason given by the Company for not confirming Shri Chatterjee were false, mala fide and an after-thought are strongly denied by the Company. In fact those reasons were just and proper. His "Performance Rating Form" would show that he did not and could not secure, even after the probationery period was extended, the necessary marks required to be confirmed in service. The Company therefore contends that the case of Shri Chatterjee has no substance and must fail.

Shri D. K. Chatterjee has examined himself (P.W. 3) and two Clerks who were his immediate superiors in the same section of the Company's office, namely, P.W. 1 Shri Kalish Ch. Sen Gupta and P.W. 2 Shri Harendranath Mandal. He has also put in some correspondences, etc. (Exts. 1 to 11). The Company, on the other hand, has not examined any witness at all, though it has produced some letters, etc. (Exts. A to D).

Admittedly, Shri Chatterjee entered service as a probationer on 2nd December 1958 and his probationery period was ordinarily to expire on 1st June 1959. According to the Company, the said period of probation was extended for further three months which expired on 1st September 1959, and Shri Chatterjee was then discharged as his service was no longer required by reason of his unsatisfactory works during both these periods. According to Shri Chatterjee, the extension of the probationery period was illegal, he worked satisfactorily all along, and his dismissal was quite mala fide and without any justifiable cause. The Company's case is that the extension of the first probationery period was with full consent of Shri Chatterjee. In proof of this an endorsement bearing his signature in letter (Ext. B, dated 2nd June 1959) to the effect "I accept and confirm the arrangements above set forth" has been put in by the Company. The letter itself runs thus:

> "Your service has been reviewed and the six months probationery period, on which you were originally employed, expired on 2nd June 1959. In your case we have decided to increase the probationery period for a further period of three months, i.e., up to September 1, 1959. Please sign duplicate copy of this letter in acknowledgment of the above and return to us."

Shri Chatterjee says that he signed in the duplicate copy in which the alleged endorsements "I accept, etc." were not written. At any rate he got letter and was aware that he was to act probationer for a further period of six months. says that he did not protest at that time as thought that it was merely a matter of po According to him, his posting should be deeme have been confirmed on the expiry of six mo from 2nd December 1958. It is his allegation grievance that until on 7th September 1959 he not informed that his services were unsatisfacto

Generally speaking, a probationer has no reg status until he is confirmed, and it is in competence of the management to discharge him or even before the expiry of that probation period for good and valid reason, such inefficiency, etc. Such discharge should be in g faith, not with any mala fide intention. The mana ment would also not be generally bound to disc the reason before the actual time of dischar (Vide 1952 Vol. I, L.L.J. 504—Bulan Sugar Co. M. M. Dargan.) The Company has referred to t case and also to another case reported in 1953 L.L.J. 269, where it was held that apart from ca of victimisation or other ulterior motives management is the sole judge to decide whether t works of the probationer were satisfactory or n I shall have occasion to further discuss these poin in connection with some other cases referred to n after considering some important facts and eviden of this case.

In the letter of appointment (Ext. 2, dated 2 December 1958) it was stated as follows, among other things:

> "It is clearly understood that you have bee employed on probation for a period of s months and that during that period you employment may be terminated by us at an time with or without notice or pay in lieu notice and in accordance with Standin Orders or relevant Government Act an rules..... If your services proved satis factory during your probation, you will b confirmed from initial date of entry therein."

This letter states some other things as well, and is a pretty long one. Although certain conditions were laid down in this letter, it was not specifically stated that the period of probation would be extended if necessary, such as if the works proved unsatisfactory. On the contrary, the above descriptions would rather indicate that the probationer would not be confirmed if his works were not satisfactory during the period of probation, i.e., six months. But still, in the present case, the Company, instead of confirming Shri Chatterjee or even discharging him on the expiry of 1st of June 1959, went to extend the probationery period by three months. This seems to be against the terms of contract as per Ext. 2. Besides, the case of Shri Chatterjee was also to be regulated by the Standing Orders or Government Act or rules. But the Company has not produced its Standing Orders to show how the case of probationer was to be regulated. It is said that there are no such Standing Orders framed for the Head Office of the Company. It is very difficult for me to accept this explanation particularly when Ext. 2 mentions about Standing Orders. Such Standing Orders could show whether the first probationery period could be extended at all. The matter is therefore very doubtful. Perhaps e Company has been conscious of this drawback, d hence it insists on establishing that the extension the probationery period was with consent of ri Chatterjee. Even if it be taken that the obationer had his consent thereto, still that would t operate against his case if in fact that period uld not be extended otherwise as in that event the obationer should have been confirmed after expiry the initial period of six months, especially when he is not discharged during that period or immediately er its expiry.

Now I come to the question of discharge. On st August 1959 the Company wrote its letter xt. 4) to Shri Chatterjee, intimating that his vices were no longer required with effect from ptember 1, 1959. If the Company had no necessity indicate the reasons of discharge during the period (extended) probation in view of 1952 (I) L.L.J. 504, thing prevented it from making the disclosure of reasons about the time of discharge proper. On September 1959, when the Company replied to ri Chatterjee's letter asking for leave and intimated t the question did not arise. it did not think it essary to disclose the reasons. It was as late as 7th September 1959 that the Company gave out reasons (Vide Ext. 6). There is no explanation such delay. In the circumstances Shri Chatterjee ght well venture to contend that the said reasons re all after-thoughts and mala fide.

Thus we are led to the consideration of the point ether the reason alleged for Shri Chatterjee's charge was just and bona fide. It is said for the mpany that unless the contrary is proved, good h of the Company must be presumed. True, it is Shri Chatterjee to show that the Company had ed mala fide and with some ulterior motive in charging him from service. Mr. Ginwalla has rred a Mysore High Court case (1956 Vol. I, 41) and a Bombay Appellate Tribunal case (1957 .C. 348) in support of his contentions that the vice of the probationer was at the will of the nagement and that there would be no remedy if discharged worker fails to prove about his good k and mala fide of the management. The other s to which he referred have been mentioned ve. The Mysore case relates to termination of vice of a probationer before expiry of probationery iod of one year and dismissal of the discharged 's suit for compensation. Though it was held the lower court that there was not very good son for discharge yet it was held that the employ- nt was at the will of the employer and hence no ef. That decision was confirmed by the Mysore h Court. That case, however, is not exactly to point with which I am now dealing. In the er case (1957 L.A.C. 348) some discharged bationers, except one, failed to prove their case inst the management by adducing evidence that r works were satisfactory. But the other single ker gave evidence which stood unchallenged and e was no counter-evidence; and as such only his was allowed by the Tribunal which, without ering reinstatement, directed the management to ndraw its action against that particular worker to terminate his service on payment of one nth's pay and allowance in lieu of notice. It is cult to appreciate the nature of the relief given hat case. The present case of Shri Chatterjee ds on a somewhat different footing and is much nger in this that not only he has deposed in his lf and none for the Company but also he has examined two Clerks of the Company's establishment, under whom he had opportunity to work. Both of them were Shri Chatterjee's immediate superiors and both say that Shri Chatterjee worked satisfactorily. Of course they also say that Shri Mathur and Shri Gupta are superior to them and that Shri Keegan is superior to Sarbashri Mathur and Gupta. In view of P.W. 1, those officers are judges to say about the quality of works of employees and that his personal views are not called for by those officers as to works done by his immediate subordinates. It is not understood how the superior officers would then make their judgment. No such officer has at all been examined on the side of the Company. The evidence of P.W. 2 is much more valuable. He says that Shri Chatterjee had worked under his direct and personal supervision, that the latter worked satisfactorily, that no superior officer ever told him that Shri Chatterjee's work was unsatisfactory, that the officers used to take his opinion as to the works of the employees. This evidence cannot but be accepted as giving the true picture of things. There is total lack of evidence on the Company's side to show why, when and by whom the adverse opinion was formed against the works of Shri Chatterjee.

Early in April 1960, during the conciliation proceeding, the Conciliation Officer wanted to know from the Company about any specific instances of unsatisfactory works of Shri Chatterjee (Vide Ext. 9). In reply the Company wrote to say that specific instances were irrelevant and that the Company would produce the worker's "Performance Rating Form" for scrutiny (see Ext. 10). In paragraph 15 of the Company's written statement it promised to produce before the Tribunal the "Performance Rating Form" to show that the worker did not and could not secure the necessary mark required for confirmation. But the said "Performance Rating Form" was not produced before the Conciliation Officer or before me. This circumstance, therefore, goes against the Company.

Even in 1953 (1) L.L.J. 269, cited by Shri Ginwalla, it is held that the Tribunal can examine the grounds on which the management refused to confirm the probationer and also other facts only for the purpose of seeing whether the management was actuated by ulterior motives in not confirming the probationer. In the present case also I have examined and discussed the necessary points in the light indicated above. One other fact ought to be mentioned in this connection. Prior to his joining the service under the Company, Shri Chatterjee worked for sometime in the Zoological Survey of India. It appears that the Company asked for a report from that department about the conduct of Shri Chatterjee by its letter, dated 21st January 1959, and the said department purports to have sent a confidential report, dated 4th February 1959 (Ext. A), stating that Shri Chatterjee's conduct as recorded there was not satisfactory. It is surprising that the Company could get such report so easily on mere asking. Nor is it understood why that report had to be obtained at all. We are concerned not with the conduct but with the quality of work of Shri Chatterjee. As a counter-blast against Ext. A, he has produced a certificate of "satisfactory works" from the said department (see Ext. 3, dated 10th July 1958). This is more to the point and more relevant.

In consideration of the above I hold that the Company has not acted in good faith and has not shown the real or genuine cause for terminating the service of Shri Chatterjee and as such his discharge was unjustified. His case is therefore allowed. The Company is directed to reinstate Shri Chatterjee to his former job within one month from the date of publication of this Award in the "Calcutta Gazette", with continuity of service, and to pay half of his original pay from the date of his discharge till the date of reinstatement. After reinstatement, he shall be paid full pay, and it shall be within the Company's right to confirm him or not for valid and genuine reason by bona fide exercise of its powers.

Award is passed accordingly.

Issue

Whether the transfer of Shri R. K. Bh resulting in increasing working hours is justi To what relief is he entitled?

The case of the Union, briefly stated follows:

Shri R. K. Bhaduri had been appointed o about the 23rd March 1942 as a Clerk in the St Department as a Stores Accounts Clerk with same duty hours as those of other office Clerk wh then had been from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. In or ab September 1946 the said Stores Accounts Sect was transferred to the main Accounts Departm and accordingly Shri R. K. Bhaduri had to att at the Accounts Department as such Sto Accounts Clerk with the then office working ho from 8-30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Some time in 1948 said Stores Accounts Section was retransferred the Stores Department; and consequently S Bhaduri went back to the Stores Department wi the then office working hours from 9-10 a.m. 5 p.m. In or about July 1950 Shri Bhaduri w transferred to the Accounts Department wo with office working hours from 9-10 a.m. to 5 p. From the facts stated above it is clear that Sh Bhaduri had from the very beginning of his emplo ment in the above Company been exclusive employed in various types of Accounts work an also doing only usual office working hours. Sin June 1957, Shri R. K. Bhaduri has been a prominen member of the Nisco Karmachari Sangha and a such he has had occasions to come in conflict wit the unenlightened self interest of the management And a dispute between the Company and its work men became referred to the Third Industrial Tribuna for adjudication on the 7th day of June 1958 I order to victimise Shri Bhaduri for his legitima trade union activities the management by the order, dated the 12th July 1958, illegally an wrongfully altered his conditions of service b transferring him to the Mechanical Maintenanc Department for a job which is decidedly inferior t to the job so long done by him ever since hi employment in this concern and his duty hours wer altered from office duty hours to the factory dut hours which are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. As a result of th aforesaid illegal and wrongful alteration of th service conditions Shri Bhaduri has been put the following loss of privileges and inconveni viz.

(a) His duty hours have been increased by hour and ten minutes without his b compensated for such increase in manner.

(b) As an Office Clerk he would have b required to put in any qualifying period earning annual leave nor would he ha been required to take his annual lea according to certain spells as required cases of shop Clerks.

(c) As an Office Clerk he would have been entitled to four additional half holidays as festival leave, and he has already lost two such half holidays.

(d) His transfer from the job of an Accounts Clerk to the post of a Shop Clerk is considered by all concerned as a demotion.

(e) He has been compelled to incur extra family expenses of Rs. 25 per month in the circumstances of his case which are well-known to the management.

The Union, therefore, submits that the aforesaid transferred of Shri R. K. Bhaduri is highly unjust and unfair and the same is clearly mala fide and has been effected to victimise him for his trade union activities.

The Union therefore prays—

(a) For an award declaring the transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri as unjustified.

(b) For an award directing the Company to reinstate Shri R. K. Bhaduri into his former post and service and to allow him all privileges attached to the said post.

(c) For an award directing the Company to pay Shri R. K. Bhaduri as compensation for his putting in extra hours of work from the 6th day of August 1958 being the date of his joining the Mechanical Maintenance Department at the rate of Rs. 68-11-0 per month.

(d) For such further or other incidental reliefs or interim awards as the nature of the case may require.

The Company, on the other hand, contends that transfer from one department to another department in the establishment is an incident of service. The transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri to the Mechanical Maintenance Department was a bona fide one in the exigency and/or in the bona fide interest of the business of the Company. The Company denies that it transferred Shri R. K. Bhaduri as he had incurred the displeasure of the Company on account of his trade union activities. The Company states that before being transferred to the Machanical Maintenance Department, Shri R. K Bhaduri was working as a Stockyard Clerk in the Stores Department and not as an Accounts Clerk, as claimed by the Union. So the nature of his work in the Machanical Maintenance Department is not much different from that of his work in the Stores Department. So the Company contends that the transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri to the Mechanical Maintenance Department is justified and as such he is not entitled to any relief on account of the transfer.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Basu, Counsel.

For the Union: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

Findings

After the filing of written statement by both sides the Company filed a petition supported by an affidavit stating that the present dispute was not an industrial dispute. By my Order No. 27, dated 21st November 1960, I held on the reasons stated therein that this was an industrial dispute. I now enter into the merits of the issue mentioned in the order of reference.

The contention of the Company that transfer from one department to another is an incident of service is no doubt irrefutable. But it is now a settled law that in an industrial dispute raised about the justifiability of an order of transfer an adjudicating court has the power to enter into the question whether the right to transfer an employee from one department to another has been exercised by an employer in a proper manner. In the present case the Company claims that it has transferred Shri R. K. Bhaduri in the exigency of the business of the Company and/or in the interest of the business of the Company. The Company has not tried to adduce before me any evidence as to the exigency which arose or as to the interest which was served by the transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri to the Mechanical Maintenance Department. This leads at once to a suspicion that there might be some truth in the allegation of the Union that Shri R. K. Bhaduri has been victimised on account of his trade union activities. The Company has pointed out that Shri R. K. Bhaduri deposed in the dispute between the Company and its workmen before the Third Industrial Tribunal long after his transfer; so the Company contends that his deposition or taking part in that dispute cannot be a reason for his transfer. But it is well-known that a lot of things happen before an industrial dispute is referred for adjudication. The dispute mentioned above before the Third Industrial Tribunal was referred on 7th June 1958, i.e., two days before the date of the order transferring Shri R. K. Bhaduri to the Mechanical Maintenance Department. There is of course no substance in the contention that the Company victimised Shri R. K. Bhaduri for his deposing in that dispute; but there is no escape from the contention that Shri R. K. Bhaduri as an office bearer of the Union took a leading part in raising the dispute. The Company has said that another Union of workers was also a party in that dispute and that the Company did not take any action against any office-bearer of that Union. But it is not possible to probe into the line of thinking of a management in such circumstances. The management in the present case might have thought that penalising Shri R K. Bhaduri would serve as an example to all who might take into their head to move against the Company in future. So the fact that the Company did not take any penal action against anybody else does not prove that it had no animus against Shri R. K. Bhaduri So the circumstances lead to an inference of victimisation against Shri R. K. Bhaduri The Company has stated that other Clerks have been transferred from the office to the shop which includes the Mechanical Maintenance Department with consequent increases in the hours of their work, but they were not paid any additional emoluments on account of the additional hours of work. By this the Company has wanted to support an inference that Shri R. K. Bhaduri was not singled out for transfer from one department to another. O.P.W. 1 Shri Bireswar Banerjee, the Head Time-keeper of the Company and O.P.W. 2 Shri Promode Ranjan Sarkar, another Clerk of the Company, have cited some instances of transfer of Clerks from the office to the shop involving increases in the hours of their work But it is clear from their evidences that O.P.W. 2 who is one such Clerk worked in the shop only for about 3/4 months in 1956 and was later transferred to the shop only on 1st April 1961 i.e., more than two years after the transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri. None of the above O.P.W.s has given any satisfactory evidence as to the transfer of the other Clerks mentioned by them. Again O.P.W. 1 the Head Time-keeper who ought to know things says that in an order transferring an employee from one department to another the hours of new duty are not stated. But we find that in the order Ext. 2 transferring Shri R. K. Bhaduri to the Mechanical Maintenance Department the hours of work in that department have been specifically stated. The Union itself has produced two orders transferring two Clerks from the office to the shop in April 1959. In those orders it has been stated that the hour of work of those Clerks in the shop will be from 9-20 a.m. to 5 p.m., as usual. All these evidences clearly show that it is not the usual practice of the Company to transfer Clerks from the office to the shop and that where the Company transfers Clerks from the office to the shop, the hours of duty of those Clerks do not change. But in the case of Shri R. K. Bhaduri the hours of work have been increased as a result of the transfer and the Company has made no mistake in stating specifically the increased hours of work in the order transferring him. This is clearly a proof of the animus that the Company has against Shri R. K. Bhaduri. The Union has also contended that transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri from the office to the shop means a demotion for him. But the Union does not say that his salary was reduced or that he was put to a lower grade on account of the transfer. The contention of the Union is that the work of Shri R. K. Bhaduri in the shop is inferior to his work in the office. The Union contends that he was an Accounts Clerk, hinting thereby as if he was an expert accountant and could not be utilised for other work. But it is clear from the evidence that the work that he was doing in the office was the work of an ordinary Clerk, and the work that he is now doing in the shop is also that of a Clerk. It is not that he has to do manual work or any work derogatory to the prestige of a gentleman coming from a middle-class family. So I reject the contention of the Union that the transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri from the office to the shop is a demotion. Nevertheless, the fact remains that the transfer has resulted in increased hours of work for him. In view of the considerations stated by me above, I hold that the transfer of Shri R. K. Bhaduri from the office to the shop resulting, as it does, in increased hours of work is unjustified.

I now come to the question of relief. The Union has prayed that the Company may be ordered to pay a compensation at the rate of Rs. 68-11-0 per month to Shri R. K. Bhaduri from 6th August 1958, the date of his joining the Mechanical Maintenance Department on account of the increased hours of work. But the Union itself has elicited from O.P.W. 2 that after his transfer to the shop he was allowed to attend his duties at 9 a.m. instead of 8 a.m. with the permission of the manager of the department. There is no evidence that Shri R. K. Bhaduri requested the manager of the Mechanical Maintenance Department or any higher authority to allow him to attend his duty at the hour at which he was attending his duty while working in the office. So it does not now lie in his mouth to claim any compensation on account of the increased hours of work resulting from the transfer.

Shri R. K. Bhaduri has also made a grievance that he has to incur an extra expense of Rs. 25 per month as a result of the transfer on account of the peculiar circumstance of his family. But there is no evidence that he brought these peculiar circumstances to the notice of the management. So he cannot claim any compensation on account of any financial loss that he might have suffered on account of his peculiar circumstances.

So the only relief that I award is that the Company shall either re-transfer Shri R. K. Bhaduri to the office or reduce his hours of work in the shop to those in the office, i.e., from 9-10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The above order shall be carried out by the Company within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

NOTIFICATION

No. P.H./5803/2R-40/61.—25th October 1961.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the municipal area of Panihati in the district of 24-Parganas is threatened with an outbreak of smallpox;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of smallpox, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from or suspected of being infected with small-pox in the said municipal area for a period of six months.

Temporary Regulations for the Prevention and Control of Smallpox

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context:

(a) "Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the municipality;

(b) "Sanitary Inspector" means a Sanitary Inspector appointed by the municipality;

(c) "Smallpox" means any disease accompanied by an eruption of vesicles or pustules;

(d) "Patient" means a person suffering from or suspected to be suffering from smallpox;

(e) "Medical practitioner" means any person practising the medical profession.

Notices

2. If in any case the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the issue of a notice under these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of smallpox, he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

3. If any measure which the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector has, by a notice issued under these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Cost and compensation

4. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the municipality except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by such person:

Provided that where the conditions, which led the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the person in possession of the property, the municipality may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The municipality may recover all expenses incurred by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

5. The municipality shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations, if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

Location of disease

6. When a case of smallpox occurs in a house, the nearest male relative in attendance upon the patient, or in the absence of any such relative the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the patient, the senior male inmate of the house other than patient of the house shall, within twenty-four hours of the onset of the disease, give information regarding the occurrence of such case either personally or in writing to the nearest Sanitary Inspector. When the inmates of the house are all females the medical attendant or the senior male inmate of the nearest house shall give the required information.

7. (1) Every medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of smallpox shall forthwith give notice of the case by a special messenger to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the municipality.

(2) The Doctor-in-charge of a hospital or a dispensary within the municipality shall forthwith give notice of any case of smallpox brought to such hospital or dispensary for treatment to a Sanitary Inspector or to the Health Officer by a special messenger and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the municipality.

8. Registrars of births and deaths shall supply to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector such periodical returns of case of smallpox as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

9. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine any person who is or suspected to be, suffering from smallpox or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread smallpox.

Isolation of patients

10. When the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is, in his opinion, impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

11. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from smallpox, shall be segregated for a period not exceeding a fortnight in a manner and in a place to be approved by the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

12. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from smallpox shall be vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order.

13. No person shall enter any place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 10 without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

14. When a patient has been removed from a house for isolation under regulation 10, the municipality shall provide for him free of charge a suitable place with necessary attendants, diet, etc.

15. No person, who is or has been suffering from smallpox, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

16. No person while suffering from evident symptoms of smallpox or in the convalescent state of the disease with scabs of pocks on his body shall expose himself in any street, road, public place, shop, bazar or any place used in common by persons, other than members of the family or household to which such infected person belongs or shall move from place to place unless he is proceeding to a hospital for admission and treatment.

17. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, during the prevalence of any outbreak of smallpox, order that any bazar, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela or other gathering at which people from several villages commonly or periodically resort.

24. No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance a patient except in the case where a patient is carried to a hospital with the following precautions against spreading the disease, namely:—

(i) that he is so well covered that the discharge and scabs from the lesions do not come directly into touch with the body of the conveyance;

(ii) that he is taken to the hospital direct and the conveyance does not halt at any other place for transacting any business; and

(iii) that excepting one or two attendants for the patient no other person is carried in the conveyance at the same time.

25. No person shall expose in any street, shop, bazar or any public place any clothing, bedding or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such articles to be carried in any public conveyance, but nothing in this regulation shall apply to a person, who

32. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that no dome or other servant of the municipality employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector unless such dome or other servant of the municipality has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

33. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may through any person authorised by such officer or inspector in that behalf seize and dispose of any corpse which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector is infected with or is likely to spread smallpox, unless the relatives or friends of the deceased person satisfy him that they are prepared and able to dispose of the corpse in a manner which will prevent the spread of smallpox.

34. (1) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case or suspected case of smallpox to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him or her by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him or her to any criminal charge.

36. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may, with such assistants (if any), as he thinks fit, enter upon any land or after two hours' notice in writing, into any premises or building used for human habitation at any time between sunrise and sunset for the purpose of carrying out any measure or making any enquiries authorised by these regulations.

AWARD

The workmen represented by the Asiatic Research Laboratories Employees Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed their written statement on 24th January 1961. The case of the Union is that the workmen of this concern formed this Trade Union in April 1960, for the purpose of collective bargaining in a constitutional manner and to seek redress of their long standing grievances. According to the version of the Union, this company is a prosperous concern established in 1941 and engaged in the production of certain medicines, viz., Calcium Gluconate injection with Vitamin 'C', Alkerel, Arocod, Aludin with Balladonna, Arozone tablet, Haemola, etc. The Union sent a letter on 8th August 1960 to the company requesting for recognising the Union and to concede the demands of the workmen as shown in the Annexure 'A' to the written statement. The Company failed to give any reply in spite of reminder. The Union then sought for the intervention of the Labour Commissioner by a letter, dated 19th September 1960, and the Conciliation Officer made all attempts to bring about a settlement of the dispute which ultimately proved fruitless and hence the Government made the reference for compulsory adjudication. I shall discuss about the specific demands of the Union as made out in the written statement while considering the issues one by one.

Messrs. Asiatic Research Laboratory Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the company) filed the written statement on 8th April 1961. It is stated that the Company was registered as a Public Limited Company in 1946, and the manufacturing establishment is accommodated in a very small rented single-story house, and that its licence for manufacturing of drugs is liable to be cancelled for inability to comply with the provisions of the Drugs Act, which prescribe rules as to the definite sizes and construction of the various production sections. The Company further states that its financial conditions is very bad and no dividend could ever be paid to the share-holders and that it is unable to bear any further financial liability in wages etc. as demanded by the Union.

At the time of hearing from the side of the Union four witnesses have been examined. The Company, on the other hand, examined Shri Chunilal Bose, a Director of the Company, who is an M.B.B.S. Besides certain charts and balance-sheets have been produced by the Company which are marked as exhibits. The Union also proved some documents.

Issue Nos. 1 and 6

The Company has submitted a statement showing therein the designation of the workmen, the dates of appointment, their wages at the time of appointment and their present wages (vide Ext. A). All the workmen are being paid wages at consolidated rates per month. The lowest paid workman is Shri Gopal Chandra Roy, who is getting a consolidated wages at Rs. 33 per month. Two of the workmen—(i) Nakul Ch. Das and (ii) Panchu Singh are getting consolidated wages at Rs. 3 per month. The chart, Ext. A, shows their dates of appointment. According to the version of the company these three persons are Apprentices. From the typed-copy of the chart, Ext. A, it appears that Nakul Das is an Assistant Filler and Sealer, Gopal Roy is a Packer and Panchu Singh is a Phial Washer. The word 'apprentice' is written in ink subsequently in the typed sheet. According to the evidence of Shri Chunilal Bose, O.P.W. 1, it takes about 3 years time to learn the work of packing filling and sealing, and two years time to learn the job of phial washer. Taking the dates of appointment of these three persons to have been correctly shown in Ext. A, it can be said that Nakul Das and Panchu Singh can by no means be said to be learners. It is curious to note that there is no scheme for imparting training to learners in this concern. As for Gopal Roy as well, it is clear that he had completed nearly three years of service. There is no reason to treat any of these three persons who are described as learners in paragraph 12 of the written statement of the company as less than full fledged workers though junior in service. Undoubtedly, the wages paid stand much below even the bare subsistence level of minimum wages. It is now well settled that no employer should be permitted to pay less than the bare subsistence minimum wage to the workmen. The responsibility to make such payment is irrespective of any consideration as to the financial position of the company. According to the case of the company their are only 11 workmen, i.e., (i) a Chemist drawing Rs. 20 per month, (ii) one Laboratory Assistant drawing Rs. 81 per month, (iii) one Tablet Maker drawing Rs. 65 per month, (iv) three Packers including Gopal Ch. Roy, (v) one Phial Washer and (vi) one durwan. The chart, Ext. D(1), shows that the paid up capital of the company is Rs. 50,0 and that there is no reserve. The Company also produced the balance-sheets of all the years from 1951 to 1960 (vide Ext. D). There is no cogent evidence challenging the correctness of the balance-sheets. The chart, Ext. D(1), is prepared by Shri C. L. Bose, O.P.W. 1, with reference to these balance-sheets. It appears from the balance sheets that the company earned profit at Rs. 6,3 in 1957 and Rs. 3,901 in 1958. In the years 195 1956, 1959 and 1960, the company suffered loss to the extent of something like Rs. 2,000 or there about every year. The learned lawyer for the Union challenged the correctness of the balance sheets at the time of argument by refering to the amounts shown as wages and salaries paid to the staff. But curiously enough, Shri Bose was not cross-examined while proving the chart and the audited balance-sheets. For the year 1960 the amount shown as wages and salaries stand at

Rs. 23,696. This amount consist of Rs. 12,808 as wages, Rs. 710 as bonus to workers, Rs. 9,606 paid as salary and Rs. 572 as bonus to staff. Now, the wages as paid to the workmen are shown in Ext. A, and it comes out to be (724 × 12) Rs. 8,688 per annum and not Rs. 12,808. It is not a case of the employer that the rates of wages had been reduced after 1960 or that the number of workmen got decreased. It thus seems rather peculiar as to how this discrepancy arose. Even then I would say that such a point should have been clarified through the cross-examination of Shri Bose, O.P.W. 1, who proved the audited balance-sheets. No opportunity had been given to him to explain away the position. The learned lawyer for the company urged that there is no discrepancy at all if it is considered with reference to the wages paid to the clerical staff, numbering 7, employed at the Head Office. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, as a whole, I do not see sufficient reason not to rely upon the balance-sheet showing the financial position of the company.

The question therefore arises for consideration as to what minimum wages I should fix for the workmen. The learned lawyer for the company in course of his argument conceded that no worker should be paid less than Rs. 50 per month. It is now a settled principle that the floor level of wages of an industrial worker must be such as would enable him to maintain three consumption units including himself in a state of efficiency with provision for education, medical expenses and amenities. This is the minimum which the worker must have irrespective of the capacity of the industry or of his employer to pay. At the same time it has got to be noted that this pharmaceutical concern is a very small type of industry having no reserve, and run mainly through the efforts of Shri C. L. Bose, a doctor, who is one of the Directors of the Company, with a small capital. The Union produced a chart showing the conditions of service and the emoluments of the workers of Messrs. Calcutta Chemical employing 1,500 workmen, Messrs. East India Pharmaceutical employing 600 workmen and Messrs. Indian Health Institute employing 450 workmen. Assuming that the statements [Ext. 1 to 1(b)] showing the starting salary of the basic pay of the different categories of workmen as correct, it appears that the lowest paid man get Rs. 57 in one of these concerns. I would say that none of these three concerns is comparable with this concern and it is difficult to lay down a standard of pay scale to the workmen engaged in this concern, on the basis of the wages paid by those concerns having large capital and which are also presumably big in size. For the purpose of wage fixation a suitable and comparable unit of the same industry need be chosen. In the case of Messrs. Indian Chemical and Therapeutical Works Ltd., which is a concern wherein ampule for injection are made and tinchers are prepared and mixed and bottled, the Tribunal in the award published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 28th February 1957, fixed the minimum wage at Rs. 55. I think it should be appropriate in the present case to fix the minimum wage at Rs. 55. Considering the financial position of the company I do not think that the time is opportune for prescribing any incremental scales of pay for the workmen. According to this award, the wages of Nakul Ch. Das, Gopal Chandra Roy and Panchu Singh should be pulled up at Rs. 55 per month. This would naturally be above 50 per cent. increase in wages of these three workmen. Such pay, in my opinion, is not below the subsistence level of minimum wage. At the same time I feel that any further increase would abruptly increase the wage-structure so much which the company might be unable to pay, and thus compelled to close down. In such a situation the Tribunal cannot but proceed cautiously so that the industry might not be faced with a closure. I now take up the case of other six workmen whose names appeared in serial numbers 3, 4, 5, 6, 10 and 11 in Ext. A. Two of them (i.e., serial Nos. 6 and 10) are getting Rs. 43 per month. For these persons I fix the wages at Rs. 57 per month, by giving an increase by Rs. 14. Considering the length of service and the present emoluments of the workmen in serial Nos. 3, 4, 5 who are drawing Rs. 65, Rs. 63, and Rs. 59 respectively, I allow an increase in wages by Rs. 4 and thereby fix their wages at Rs. 69, Rs. 67 and Rs. 63 respectively. As for Mohawir Show, durwan, who is getting Rs. 61 per month, I fix his wage at Rs. 64. The Union produced a certificate granted by the Comilla Medical Institute showing that Shri Nagendra Saha, who is really a Laboratory assistant, is a qualified doctor. Admittedly, he is not a registered medical practitioner. Besides, he is performing the job of a laboratory assistant and the value of the job would determine his wages. Considering the nature of work done by him and also the fact that he is in service from September, 1947, I fix his wage at Rs. 90 per month. So far as Swadesh Ranjan Bhadra, who is a B.Sc., Chemist, working here since 1954 and is now getting Rs. 200 per month. I do not find any reason to increase his wages. His wages had been substantially increased in the meantime. There is no evidence to show that there is any store-keeper engaged in the factory and, therefore, there is no question of fixing the wages of Chitta Babu. He appears to be an employee at the Head Office. In fact, in Annexure 'B' attached to the written statement of the Union, no demand was made with respect to such a person.

The Union demanded that the wages as fixed should be available to the workmen with retrospective effect, i.e., from 8th August 1960. Considering the financial position of the company, I think that such a decision would have a serious repercussion of the financial position of the company. In this view, I hold that the wages as now fixed would be applicable from 1st September 1961. The employer is now paying wages at consolidated rates. I consider it proper and appropriate to split up the wages into basic wage and dearness allowance. For that I direct that out of the wages as fixed by me, Rs. 30 would be treated as dearness allowance and the balance as basic pay, with respect to all the workmen except Swadesh Bhadra, Chemist, for whom a sum of Rs. 50 be deemed as dearness allowance.

This issue relates to the question of giving annual increment. While deciding the issue as to pay scale, I considered that the time is no opportune to lay down any incremental pay scale. Upon consideration of the low level of the present wage rates, I have increased the wages of the workmen at different rates on the basis of the length of service of the workmen, the value of jobs and the wage differential. So, whatever relief the workmen can expect in the present financial position of the company, in the matter of fixation of wages had been given at the time of deciding the Issue No. 1. The question of giving annual increment in the present situation therefore does not arise. In fact the issue is misconceived.

Issue No. 3 (Security of service)

It is simply demanded by the Union that the workers should be made permanent after one year of service. Upon consideration of the nature of work done by this industry, I direct that the workers would acquire the status of permanent workman after putting in one year of service. I further direct that no disciplinary action on the ground of misconduct or insubordination should be taken against any workman without giving proper opportunities to the workman concerned to explain away his conduct, a proper charge-sheet and enquiry by the employer. I do not consider to make any further elaborate provision under the head of this issue for this small concern.

Issue No 4 (Service card)

Though the number of workmen in this concern stands at 11 persons, I think it is necessary to have a Service Book with respect to each of these workmen. It is therefore directed that a Service Book should be opened with respect to all existing workmen and for all new entrance showing therein the name, address, designation of the workmen, and that proper entries be contemporaneously made therein as to the leave granted, increment allowed and disciplinary action, if any, taken. The learned Lawyer for the employer stated that the company would have to under some additional clerical work upon imposition of such rule as to keeping Service Book. Now, such Service Books are to be maintained for the safety and convenience of both parties. I think it unwise not to keep any record of service of the employees and for that even though maintenance of such record would involve some extra clerical work, the employer must undertake that responsibility.

Issue No. 5

This issue relates to leave and holidays. There is no controversy on the point that the company grants 21 holidays in a year to the workmen (vide Ext. B). Apparently, the provision as to holidays is sufficiently liberal in this manufacturing concerns. In the omnibus awards given in 1948, relating to Engineering Industry, Cotton Textile Industry, Jute Industry and Jute Presses in West Bengal, generally speaking, the number of Festival holidays had been fixed at 8 days or thereabout. There is thus no scope for increasing the number of Festival holidays. I find the provision on that account to be already sufficiently excessive.

It appears however that there is no provision regarding leave to be enjoyed by the workers. The Union demands 10 days' casual leave in a year. Some provision for casual leave has got to be made as every-one occasionally need go away from work at the time of certain domestic emergencies. Considering however that the workmen are already enjoying too many holidays and the financial conditions of the company, I think it fair that a provision for casual leave at 5 days in a year would be quite adequate. Regarding sick leave, it may be said that in most of the manufacturing industries in West Bengal, the workers enjoy 15 days' sick leave at half-pay in a year. I direct that the workers would get 15 days sick leave at half-pay in a year which would be granted on medical certificate with the right of the Company's reserved to have the applicant for sick leave examined by its own doctor and its own cost.

The Union demands previlege leave for one month in a year. This concern is not governed by the Factories Act and, therefore, the workers do not get any benefit as to full pay leave. Some provisions for such leave with full pay should therefore be made. I accordingly direct that every workman on completion of one year of service would be entitled to get six days leave with full pay in a year. The sick leave and annual leave as provided under this award would be cumulative up to two years.

This is my award.

This reference relating to an industrial dispute between Messrs. Raj Metal Industries of 57A B. T. Road, Calcutta-2 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Raj Metal Industries Workers' Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union) was received by this Tribunal on 13th December 1960 and immediately thereafter notices were issued to both parties calling upon them to appear and file written statement of claim by the Union on 10th January 1961. Both parties, on service of notices, entered appearance in time, and the President of the Union filed written statement of claim on the very first date. Thereafter the Company filed written statement on 17th April 1961. The case was fixed on 19th May 1961 for fixing the date of hearing. But in the meantime on 16th May 1961 nine of the workmen submitted by registered post nine separate applications stating that none of them has any dispute with the Company, and as such their common prayer is not to proceed with the reference so far as they are concerned. Out of these nine workmen names of eight of them appear in the list enclosed with the order of reference. All these workmen have been identified by a Partner of the Company as well as by the Company's Advocate.

The Union was duly informed about this fact by a letter. But since then the Union has been absenting and in spite of second reminder sent by registered post with acknowledgment due which was duly received by the Union's President himself on 20th September 1961, the Union has not turned up on the fixed dates to proceed with the reference.

Therefore, in the circumstances, and also in consideration of the petitions filed by individual workman, it may be presumed that the dispute under reference is no longer in existence and as such "no dispute" award is given.

This is my award.

Titaghur, 24-Parganas, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 315-IR/IR/7L-18/60, dated the 24th January 1961.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Samiran is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 2nd February 1961, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

AWARD

After the notices were served, the Union, i.e., the Khardah Jute Mill Mazdoor Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed the written statement on 16th March 1961, duly signed and verified by Shri Kamal Kanta Banerjee, Secretary of the Union. The case as made out by the Union is that Shri Samiran Jadav was a workman of the Company, who was confirmed in service with effect from 12th April 1954, and before that he was working as a badli workman for few years. Shri Jadav was the Organising Secretary of the Union and for that the Company, with a mala fide motive of victimisation, started teasing and cajoling the said Samiran Jadav in a determined organisation of the workers and for that the co pany was anxious to break or bend the Union. Sh Jadav was working as a weaver in Loom No. 4 which was a plain machine, and went home on week's leave on or about 19th September 196 Having returned from leave on 26th Septemb 1960 Shri Jadav found to his surprise that difficult machine producing 'Twill' had be allotted to him by adding some parts of machi No. 323 which was previously producing 'Twil As Shri Jadav was not accustomed to work wi such complicated machine, he made represent tions for a change to his original work on a pla machine and this was turned down by both t Manager and the Labour Officer. Being unacc tomed with work at such machine Shri Jadav m with an accident on 27th September 1960 8-45 a.m. and was granted medical leave for th week-ending on Saturday, the 1st October 1960, the certificate of the Medical Officer.

On the expiry of the leave when Shi Jadav ca to resume work on 3rd October 1960, he aga made a request to the Manager and the Labo Officer to allow him work in the plain machine. the meantime the Management engaged a ba worker named Srikant, to work with that machi In such a situation Shri Jadav told the Mana that he would resume his work at the second sh which started from 1 p.m.

On that very day one Mahboob, an aili employee, asked for further leave which w mostly unkindly refused by the management the said man fell unconscious on his machine about 12-45 p.m. For such an incident all the weavers of the Company at once stopped work a therefore, the Weaving Section could not resu work at 1 p.m. The Management then decla lock-out on 5th October 1960, which continued to 29th October 1960. The Company served u Shri Jadav a charge-sheet. He gave reply on 3 October 1960 on receipt of the same on 29th Oc ber 1960, denying the allegations. The Mana ment asked Shri Jadav to appear at the dep mental enquiry to be held on 7th November 19 Shri Jadav appeared at the enquiry on 7th Nov ber 1960 only to be told that he would come the next day, and on 8th November 1960 he insulted at the enquiry when no business of enquiry was done. He was again called on 1 November 1960 when he gave his evidence and 16th November 1960 he appeared for furt enquiry but the Company did not allow him know what had been recorded as his evidence. appeared on 21st November 1960 when only t of his witnesses were examined. It is furt contended that no opportunity was given to Jadav to cross-examine Shri Jha fully and evidence was not correctly recorded. In spite that the Management found him guilty and missed him by way of victimisation by a let dated 21st November 1960.

The Union therefore lodged a complaint agai the wrongful dismissal to the Labour Director where conciliation proceedings had been held the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackp but the same proved abortive due to the adam

The Union along with the written statement made annexures certain letters written by the Union on various dates to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore, and also other documents in support of their contentions.

Messrs. Khardah Company Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), filed the written statement on 20th May 1961. It is contended by the Company that Shri Jadav had been working in the Weaving Department since 1957 as a Sacking Weaver and, as such, he was weaving both plain and twill cloths. On the 3rd October 1960, when Shri Jadav reported for duty on return from medical leave, Shri Jha, the Departmental Overseer, asked him to go to his loom but he refused to obey his orders saying that he must be allowed to weave plain cloth by the loom and not twill. Shri Jadav persisted in refusing to carry out the orders of his superior and the Management had to engage a badli worker in his place. According to the version of the company, Shri Jadav did not leave the factory but moved inside and incited the other workers to stop work which he became successful at about 1 p.m. on that day when the workers went on strike. For such misconduct he was charge-sheeted under rule 14(c)(i) and (viii) of the Company's Standing Orders. Shri Jadav submitted his explanation and the date of enquiry was fixed on 7th November 1960, on which date, however, the enquiry could not take place as the Labour Officer was absent due to illness.

The enquiry took place on the 8th November 1960, and Shri Jadav left the enquiry in the midst of the same by making false excuses. The management gave a further opportunity to Shri Jadav by fixing the date of hearing on 14th November 1960, on which date the enquiry proceedings were carried on to some length and it was adjourned till the 16th November 1960 for further enquiry. On the 16th November 1960, Shri Jadav insisted that the enquiry would be postponed as the Law Officer of the Company was absent. This was a flimsy and lame excuse but in spite, the Management gave further opportunities to Shri Jadav to attend the enquiry which was fixed on 21st November 1960. The enquiry was completed on that day. The management found both the charges proved and dismissed him. The Company categorically denied the allegations made by the Union regarding unfair labour practice and victimisation.

Regarding the incident of Mahboob the Company's version is that Mahboob was absent on the 3rd October 1960 and, therefore, no question of his working on any machine arose on that date. During the period of recess time (i.e., 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.) machines did not operate and, therefore, there could not be any question of Mahboob's working at 12-45 p.m. on any loom or falling unconscious near a loom as alleged by the Union.

At the time of hearing both parties adduced evidence, oral and documentary, in support of their respective contentions.

From the side of the workmen some documents have been filed in support of their contentions that the Union was enthusiastic in ventilating the grievances of the workmen to the Labour Commissioner in 1960 and thereby incurred the displeasure of the company so much so that the Management was anxious to crush the aforesaid Union. Ext. 5, the letter, dated 1st August 1960, indicates that this Union lodged a protest for keeping the mill closed and deduction of the wages of workmen for 16th July 1960. The letter, dated 24th August 1960, addressed to the Assistant Labour Commissioner by P.W. 1, Shri K. K. Banerjee, Secretary of the Union, indicates that the Union made protests against the change in duty time and introduction of shift duty. The union also produced copy of the order, dated 29th March 1960, issued by the Magistrate, Barrackpore, against Shri K. K. Banerjee, on the basis of the report of Officer-in-Charge, Khardah, asking him to execute bonds as under section 107, Cr. P.C.

Upon examination of the relevant file regarding Registration of the Union, called for by me from the Registrar of Trade Union, I find that the application for registration of this Union was made on the 17th December 1959, and the registration was approved on 24th March 1960 and the certificates of registration was given on 8th July 1960. It appears to me that since the formation of the Union, the grievances of the workmen had been taken up by the same very often. It is thus not unlikely that the company was not favourably disposed towards the Union. In the background of the circumstances it would got to be considered how far the employer proceeded bona fide and held a proper enquiry and came to a reasonable conclusion with respect to charges levelled against Shri Jadav and whether the charges were based on facts. The charge-sheet, Ext. A, dated 3rd October 1960, indicates that Shri Jadab was charge-sheeted on two count (i) that he denied the lawful and reasonable order of Shri Jha, the Overseer, and did not operate his loom from 6 a.m. and (ii) that he moved from one place to another and incited the other workers of the weaving department and ultimately forced them to stop work from 1 p.m. In the explanation Ext. C submitted by Shri Jadab on 31st October 1960, he completely denied the charge regarding inciting workers to stop work. About the first charge as well his version was that a badli worker had already engaged when he came to his work on 7-30 a.m. on being discharged from the hospital at 7-15 a.m. His case is that was completely innocent and he had intention to work from 1 p.m. but that the work did not start and on enquiry he subsequently learnt that the Weavers stopped work for certain reasons concerning one Mahaboob. There is no denying the fact that the Weavers of the Mill No. 1 went on strike at or about 1 p.m. when the noon shift was due to begin after the midday recess. The case of the Union as to how the strike started is to the effect that Mahaboob prayed for leave as he was ill and the same was refused. At that time, things took a different turn. The man who was ill fell on the ground and for such heartless conduct on the part of the employer and on account of the conditions of Mahaboob, the workers in a body stopped work. From the side of the Union two eye-witnesses, P.W. 3, Shri Durga, P.W. 4, Shri Mahabir, stated that the strike started on that account, and that Shri Jadav had no hand in the matter. At the departmental enquiry as well three witnesses, Sabir Khan, Mohabir and Chhabilal, examined by Shri Jadav on 21st November 1960, stated that the strike started because Mahaboob, a weaver, though ill, was not granted leave. Shri Musafir Sahi, a member of the Works Committee, examined by the employer at the departmental enquiry also stated that about 250 weavers told him that they had stopped work on 3rd October 1960 on their own accord and Shri Jadav had nothing to do with it. The Management produced a copy of the minutes of the proceedings of the Works Committee meeting held on that very day, i.e., 3rd October 1960, at 3 p.m. (vide Ext. 18). From that as well it appears that at least one of the reasons of the strike was that no heed was paid to Mahaboob for extension of leave on that very date. According to the version of the management Mahaboob did not attend the mill at all on the 3rd October 1960. O.P.W. 2, Shri Purakeastha, stated that Mahaboob was on leave from 18th July 1960 to 10th September 1960. He was due to resume his duty on 12th September 1960 and that he applied for sick leave for four weeks which was refused as a fit certificate had already been granted to him. According to his evidence Mahaboob did not resume his duty. Now, under the Standing Orders a person who is absented for more than 10 days stands dismissed for misconduct. It is, however, curious that Mahaboob had been paid gratuity which is normally not payable to a workman dismissed for misconduct. It is suggested by the Union that the Company won over Mahaboob by making handsome payments to him and that why he cannot be examined. There are reasons to uphold that suggestion. Upon consideration of the facts and circumstances I have no doubt in the point that the strike started at about 1 p.m. was spontaneous in nature and it was mainly due to the attitude taken by the employer as against Mahaboob. It is also clear to me that the management is deliberately suppressing the fact that Mahaboob came to the mill on the 3rd October and prayed for extension of leave which was refused. The very document, Ext. P, produced by the employer proves the fact. Then let me consider what is the evidence adduced at the departmental proceedings to show that Shri Jadav incited the workers to go on strike. Mr. Jha, the departmental overseer, stated that he saw Shri Jadav was moving in the loom shed at 10-30 a.m. and talking with the weavers. This is practically the only evidence adduced in the departmental enquiry, upon which the employer built up the case that Shri Jadav was responsible for the strike by inciting the worker. There is no doubt that my jurisdiction to examine the departmental proceedings and the evidence recorded over there is extremely limited. All that is necessary is to examine if the management held a proper and bona fide departmental enquiry adhearing to the principles of natural justice before punishing a workman. But at the same time if the evidence to prove the charge be formed to be so worthless that no person acting fairly and honestly can come to a finding as to guilt of a man, the Tribunal cannot act as a rubber stamp and give sanction to the same and refuse to interfere. Apart from the fact that there is no findings recorded by the management upon which they came to the conclusion about the built of Shri Jadav upon proper assessment of the evidence adduced at the departmental enquiry, I would say upon examination of the evidence that it is impossible to arrive at conclusion as to the guilt of Shri Jadav under th head of the charge as to inciting the workers t go on strike. Rather, the real reasons behind th strike which was concerning Mahaboob had bee deliberately suppressed.

Next point for consideration is whether Shr Jadav deliberately flouted the lawful and reason able orders of Mr. Jha by not operating his loom It is the common case of both the parties tha Shri Jadav was on leave for a week as he sustained an injury in his finger while operating the loom on 27th September 1960 for making twill cloth and he was discharged on 3rd October 1960 by the Medical Officer after he attended the dispensary on that date. Dr. C. N. Chowdhury, the Medical Officer of the Mill, who was examined in the departmental enquiry, stated that he came to the dispensary at 6 a.m. and within five minutes he gave Shri Jadav a fit certificate. Naturally it took sometime before Shri Jadav could come to the Mill from the dispensary. Mr. Jha at the departmental enquiry stated that Shri Jadav came to him with a fit certificate after the accident leave at about 6-15 a.m. and asked for transfer from his own loom to a plain weave loom or to change the quality from twill to plain on his own loom. He further stated that Shri Jadav became angry and insisted in a threatening mood that the quality of weave of his loom should be changed. It appears from the evidence of the departmental enqui that he (Mr. Jha) engaged a budli weaver 6-30 a.m. It is apparent from his evidence tha Shri Jadav had not been charge-sheeted for su lisobedience of lawful orders, even up to 1 p.m on that date. The other witness, Md. Ismai examined at the departmental enquiry, stated tha Shri Jadav when asked to work in the twill loom wanted an assurance, in writing, that no actio would be taken against him for his low productio or defective cuts, and this was refused. Accordin to the version of the management Shri Jadav ha worked in the loom meant for manufacturing twill on some occasions beforehand, and in sup port of that a statement, marked as Ext. 8, i produced. From that statement it can be sai that for a few days in the first half year of 195 Shri Jadav worked with such loom. O.P.W. Shri Chitlangia, the Manager of the Mill, admitte that Shri Jadav worked all along in the plain loom except for those days as noted in Ext. 8. He further admitted that there are different rates for plain cloth and twill cloth. It is also to be noted that Shri Jadav was suffering from injury in his finger while working in the twill loom. From the facts and circumstances I believe that Samiran Jadav had reasonable apprehension that he would not be able to give proper production without defect if he was to work in the twill loom to which he was not accustomed. It is urged by the learned lawyer for the company that the differences between the working of a plain loom and twill loom is very small in nature and Shri Jadav had no excuse not to work with such a loom. The whole evidence shows that Shri Jadav just wanted an assurance that he would not be penalised in any way for his work at the twill loom and this was refused. I do not think in the circumstances of this case that his prayer was unreasonable. It is absolutely clear from the file of the Registrar

Trade Union that Shri Jadav was the ganising Secretary of this Union. It has got to considered in the background of the circumnces as to whether the punishment inflicted on Shri Jadav is quite out of proportion as to gravity of his offence, and it is motivated ause he incurred the displeasure for being an ive member of the Trade Union.

The Management, as I have found, wanted to e a colouring that Shri Jadav was responsible the strike and I have found that this part of charge was unjustly levelled against him. A ve charge unjustly levelled indicates want of d faith. I have carefully gone through the ole proceedings and the correspondences made either party and I find that besides Mr. Jha, only other witness Md. Ismail who deposed in our of the Management, was examined in ence of Shri Jadav to prove the first charge of ubordination. Even assuming for the sake of ument that Shri Jadav had no justification to ve the enquiry on 16th November 1960 while I. Ismail was deposing and, therefore, his dence, in chief, is acceptable, I would say, upon sideration of the evidence as a whole that the nagement proceeded vindictively against this rkman, an important member of the Trade ion. I therefore hold that the dismissal is justified and, therefore, the normal relief of nstatement should follow. I direct that Shri dav be reinstated to his old post within a month m the date of publication of the award in the alcutta Gazette". Considering the circumstances the case I also direct that the period starting m the date of dismissal till his reinstatement uld be treated as leave without pay, and as h, this period would be counted towards the gth of service.

This is my award.

AWARD

By its order No. 4928-I.R./IR/8L-2(D)/60, dated the 17th September 1960, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial disputes between Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union, Q-17 Akra Road, Calcutta-24, on the sole issue as to whether the workmen are entitled to get further bonus for 1956-57 and if so what the quantum should be.

In its written statement the Union says that Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., was paying bonus at the rate of 11.76 per cent. of the total annual earnings of each worker since 1948 onward but only those workers who put in 220 days' work in the preceding financial year used to be paid a bonus for the year at that rate before the Durga Puja of the current year and these workmen who attended less than 220 days were denied any bonus. But on 6th December 1956 a tripartite agreement was signed between the parties and by that agreement bonus at the rate of 9.67 per cent. of the total annual earnings was to be paid to the workmen and all those who had more than 60 days' work in a year became eligible for the payment of this bonus. Actually however the Company did not pay bonus in terms of the agreement but paid the workmen at the rate of 9.67 per cent. of the total earnings multiplied by the number of days the workmen worked and divided by the number of days of the year. The Union's contention is that on this mode of calculation the workmen were paid much less bonus than was actually due to them according to the agreement, dated 6th December 1956. A reference was ultimately made to this Tribunal under section 36A(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act for interpretation of that tripartite agreement. There was an award as a result of that reference. The Company, thereafter, paid the difference between what was payable on the agreement as interpreted by the Tribunal and the amount actually paid by the Company on its own interpretation of the agreement for the year 1955-56. The same trouble, however, arose in the year 1957 in respect of the bonus for 1956-57. According to the Union the Company by its notice, dated 7th September 1957, declared bonus in terms of the modified agreement on bonus, dated 6th December 1956, but would not pay the same in terms of the agreement as interpreted by the First Industrial Tribunal. It is now the Union's claim that all the workmen eligible for bonus for the year 1956-57 are entitled to get the difference between the amount calculated in terms of the award as interpreted by this Tribunal and the actual amount paid as calculated by the Company.

The Company, on the other hand, alleges that the working results of the financial year 1956-57 were seriously affected by continuous labour troubles and hence there was no avilable surplus justifying the claim of bonus at the rate at which it was paid in the previous years or at all. It further alleges that the Government of West Bengal referred certain disputes between the Cotton Textile Mills in West Bengal and their workmen on a number of issues including "revision of bonus scheme" and award was made on the 10th of June 1958. In that reference there was an interim order, dated the 2nd September 1957, by which the mills that had paid bonus in the year preceding were requested to pay the same bonus at least in the current year and mills that did not pay any bonus in the year preceding were requested to pay bonus to the extent of two weeks' basic wages to their workers. It is stated in the Company's written statement that it was after that order that the Company issued a notice, dated the 7th September 1957, in which it is stated that the profits of the Company for the 1956-57 have been seriously affected and the financial position does not justify payment of bonus. But in order to maintain peace in the industry and harmony of relations with the workers and in compliance with the request of the learned First Industrial Tribunal, bonus is hereby declared for the year 1956-57 at the rate of 9.67 per cent. and on the same basis as paid last year. It is again stated in paragraph 7 of the Company's written statement that the workmen accepted the payment of bonus without any protest at the rate of 9.67 per cent. and on the same basis on which it was paid last year and in this way the Company complied with the request of the First Industrial Tribunal and the belated claim for a difference of bonus made by the workers at this stage, is not at all admissible or maintainable in law simply on the ground that the interpretation of the agreement, dated 6th December 1956, relating to the year 1955-56 revised the basis of calculation for that particular year. The Company further submits that in accordance with the law no claim for bonus can be raised or made after the close of the Balance Sheet of the Company. The Company further pleads that the interpretation given by t First Industrial Tribunal for the year 1955- cannot in law give rise to an industrial dispu as the workmen for long accepted the bonus the year 1956-57 under the orders of the Industr Tribunal, dated 2nd September 1957, and no cla can be based on the interpretation received 1960 as apart from any other consideration t same will be a belated claim. It is further t Company's case that the said agreement, dat 6th December 1956, does not apply to the questi of bonus for the year 1956-57 so that the interpre tion give by the First Industrial Tribunal applicable only to the year 1955-56 and not a to the year 1956-57.

That there was an agreement between the part relating to bonus in the year 1955-56 on 6 December 1956 is thus common ground betwe the parties. That agreement is embodied in E E. It is clearly a settlement within the meani of the word in section 2(p), because it was a writt agreement between the employer and the workm during a conciliation proceeding and the agr ment was signed by the parties as well as by t Conciliation Officer. The portion of the agreeme which is relevant for our purpose is paraghaph 5 which runs as follows: "Bonus at the rate 9.67 per cent. of the total annual earnings of ea worker during the year 1955-56 will be pai Bonus for the workers who have worked more th 220 days will be prepared and paid from 27 December 1956 and bonus for the workers who ha worked less than 220 days and more than 60 da will be prepared at the rate of 9.67 per cent. the total annual earnings and will be paid pro rata basis from 27th December 1956, provid normal working of the mills starts immediate with normal production and hands to the enti satisfaction of the Management and the Assista Labour Commissioner. Only the workers who a on the roll at the time of declaration of bonu i.e., on 29th September 1956 will be entitled get the bonus. Nothing will be deducted fro those who have already drawn their bonus mon this year." It appears from the award of n predecessor in the reference under section 36A the Industrial Disputes Act that the Compar pleaded that even the workers who had put in least 220 days' work in a year would be paid pro rata basis exactly like the workmen who h put in less than 220 days' but more than 60 day work in a year. The Union on the other han pleaded that the first category of workmen who h put in at least 220 days' work in a year would paid at the full rate of 9.67 per cent. of their tot annual earnings and there was no question of an reduction of their bonus on a pro rata basis an that in the case of the other group also of workme who had put in less than 220 days' work and mo than 60 days' work in a year bonus would be pai at the full rate of 9.67 per cent.

My predecessor rejected the contention of th Company in the case of the first group and th contention of the Union in the case of the secon group and found that in the case of the first grou bonus must be paid at the full rate of 9.67 pe cent. of the total annual earnings of the workme and in the case of the second group of workme who had put in less than 220 days' work in a yea but more than 60 days' in a year bonus would be calculated on the following formula: 9.67 per cent. of the total annual earnings multiplied by the number of days' worked by the worker in a year and the whole divide by the number of days during which the mill worked throughout the year.

This award is binding on both the parties for the year 1955-56. Admittedly bonus was paid on the basis of this interpretation the difference having been paid after the award.

The first point argued on behalf of the Company and raised in its pleadings is that the claim of the Union is belated. This is obviously untenable because even for the bonus of 1955-56 the Union questioned the Company's interpretation of the agreement Ext. E and that had to be referred under section 36A to the Tribunal. The Union has all the time contended that the construction of the agreement which the Company put upon it was wrong. That being so, it can hardly be held that the question of bonus for 1955-56 or for the matter of that for subsequent years to which the agreement Ext. E may be extended in view of section 19(2) has been a closed one so far.

The second and the more important question now is whether the agreement Ext. E applied at all to the bonus payable for the year 1956-57. In terms there is no doubt that it is applicable only to the year 1955-56. The question however whether this agreement is applicable only to the year to which it is expressly limited does not depend merely on the agreement but also on the terms of section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 19(2) provides as follows: "Such settlement shall be binding for such period as is agreed upon by the parties, and if no such period is agreed upon, for a period of six months (from the date on which the memorandum of settlement is signed by the parties to the dispute) and shall continue to be binding on the parties after the expiry of the period aforesaid, until the expiry of two months from the date of which a notice in writing of an intention to terminate the settlement is given by one of the parties to the other party or parties to the settlement. "It appears that the Appellate Tribunal in the case of employees of India Reconstruction Corporation Ltd., Calcutta versus India Reconstruction Ltd., 1953 L.A.C. 568 Calcutta held that "where there is a settlement there is no question of extension of two months after notice and that that clause comes into operation only if no periods agreed upon during which the settlement was to remain binding." But this intrepretation has been rejected by the Calcutta Court in the case of National Carbon Co. (India) Ltd., and Gan M. N., Judge, Labour Appellate Tribunal, and others 1953 L.L.J. 472. Although I was personally at first under the impression that where a settlement was expressly stated to be for a particular period the second clause of section 19(2) by which the binding character of the settlement is extended beyond the period agreed upon would not be applicable. But I now find that impression is totally erroneous, because the expression "the expiry of the period aforesaid" in the second clause clearly refers to such period as is agreed upon by the parties and where no such period is agreed upon, the period of six months from the date on which the memorandum of settlement is signed by the parties to the dispute and not merely to the period of six months from the date on which the memorandum of settlement is signed by the parties to the dispute. Consequently, the construction which Sinha, J, has put upon section 19(2) is, if I may say so with respect, quite correct and not the interpretation put upon it by the learned Appellate Tribunal. In any case the interpretation put upon it by the Calcutta High Court is binding on this Tribunal. There is thus no doubt that the agreement Ext. E must be held to be binding on the parties even after the expiry of 1955-56 for admittedly it has not been terminated yet by notice. In that view the agreement as interpreted by my prodecessor must regulate the question of payment of bonus even for the year 1956-57 because that interpretation must be held to have been the only correct interpretation of the agreement from the very beginning, though in this connection I may respectfuily point out that the interpretation which by predecessor put upon the agreement is more favourable to the Company than it should strictly have been for when bonus at the full rate of 9.67 per cent. of the total annual earnings of a workman was agreed to be given to the workmen who had put in at least 220 days' work in a year, the basis for the pro rata calculation for the group of workmen who had put in less than 220 days' and more than 60 days' work in a year should have been 220 days' and not the number of days in a year during which the mill worked. But whatever might be said of that award, it is clearly binding on both the parties and the Company must pay the workmen who are eligible under this agreement to the payment of bonus on the basis of this agreement as interpreted by my predecessor, i.e. at the rate of 9.67 per cent. of the total annual earnings of a workman who has put in 200 days' wrok during the year and at the rate of 9.67 per cent. of the total annual earnings of a workman who has put in less than 220 days' work but more than 60 days' work during the year 1956-57 on the formula of 9.67 per cent. of his annual earnings, multiplied by the number of days he has put in and the whole divided by the number of days during which the mill worked in the year 1956-57. The Company has admittedly paid the workmen who are eligible to bonus during the year according to its own calculation. It must now pay the diffenence between what is payable under the agreement as interpreted by my predecessor and the actual amount paid to each workman within a couple of months from the publication of the award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jiban Krishna Bhowmik, 5 Udwodhun Lane, Caluctta-3 and their workmen represented by West Bengal Tailors' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-C-298/59.)

By order No. 5016-I.R./IR/11L-286/59, dated Calcutta, the 22nd October 1959, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and their workmen represented by West Bengal Tailors' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

1. Whether the dismissal of Shri Basudev Saha is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

It is clear from the evidence adduced before me that the words "Messrs. Jiban Krishna Bhowmik" meaning a company in the order of reference are misleading; actually in this case the employer is a gentleman named Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick. So whenever I shall use the word "employer" in what I am stating below, I shall mean Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and not any company.

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:

Shri Basudev Saha was a permanent employee of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick who is engaged in the trade of tailoring and dress making; he worked under him as a tailor for about three years. Shri Basudev Saha like other tailors in that shop were working on piece-rate system. The arrangement between him like other tailors and Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick about payment of remuneration was that some money was paid against the work from time to time and the balance was paid at the end of a year or sometimes even after that. At the time of the Pujas of 1958 Shri Basudev Saha was pressing hard for the payment of his dues and he was assured of payment after the Pujas. But after the Puja holidays Shri Basudev Saha was refused work. He was told that he stood dismissed. So the Union contends that the dismissal of Shri Basudev Saha is unjustified. It prays for (1) reinstatement of Shri Basudev Saha with payment of wages from the time of dismissal and (2) payment of previous arrears amounting to Rs. 1,071.

Shri Jiban Bhowmick has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that this is not an industrial dispute inasmuch as this has not been taken up by his workmen.

As to the facts of the case, he states as follows:

One Shri Sudhir Kumar Saha, uncle of Shri Basudev Saha who is known to Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick, requested him to extend credit facilities to Shri Basudev Saha in the matter of supply of textile materials and offered himself as a guarantor in respect of the transactions. Accordingly Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick began to sell textile materials to Shri Basudev Saha on credit from December 1955. Shri Basudev Saha used to make garments out of those materials and to sell them on his own; occasionally he used to make payments to Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick on account of the price of the textile materials. This practice continued till 15th March 1956, when due to accumulation of large arrears on account of prices of textile materials, Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick stopped further sale to Shri Basudev Saha. Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick also pressed Shri Sudhir Saha, the guarantor, for the payment of the dues from Shri Basudev Saha. It was then settled that Shri Basudev Saha would continue to make the garments, but would return them to Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and a part of the making charge would be set off against the dues from Basudev Saha. This arrangement continued till 13th October 1958. Thereafter Shri Basudev Saha never came to Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick either to take further supply of textile or to settle up the accounts. Some time after the Pujas of 1958 Shri Sudhir Kumar Saha saw Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and took Rs. 66-14-0 in full and final settlement of the accounts of Shri Basudev Saha. From the above narration Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick contends that there was never any relationship of employer and employee between him and Shri Basudev Saha, and as such the question of refusal to employ Shri Basudev Saha does not arise. So he prays that the prayer of the Union may be rejected.

Findings

In view of the above statements of cases of the two sides, the following points emerge for decision:

(1) Whether the dispute was taken by the workmen of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick;

(2) Whether Shri Basudev Saha was an employee of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick;

(3) Whether Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick dismissed Shri Basudev Saha.

Point No. 1

It is clear from the evidence of the P.Ws. that the case of Shri Basudev Saha was taken up by the West Bengal Tailors' Union. P.Ws. 1, 2 and 3 say that most of the employees of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick except some of his relations are members of that Union. The fact that the case of Shri Basudev Saha has been taken up by the Union is clear from the correspondence, viz., Exts. 1(a), 1(b) and 1(c) that passed between Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and the Union. Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick has not been able to shake the evidence of P.Ws. 1, 2 and 3 that most of his employees are members of the above Union. Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick has produced a writing Ext. B purported to have been signed by five of his present employees. Therein they say that they have not raised the present dispute or authorised the Union to raise the dispute. But they do not say that they are not members of the Union. So whatever they may say in Ext. B, it remains a fact that most of the employees of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick are members of the Union which has raised the dispute. So it must be held that the dispute about Shri Basudev Bhowmick was taken up by the workmen of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick; hence I hold that this is an industrial dispute.

Point No. 2

Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick has contended that Shri Basudev Saha was not his employee. But it is clear from the evidence of both sides that the nature of work done by Shri Basudev Saha is the same as that of the work done by other tailors in the establishment of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick. Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick has not stated in his written statement that the other tailors are also not his employees. His Advocate Shri N. R. Roy has argued that the other tailors are also not employees of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick, but are independent contractors. But Ext. B proved on behalf of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick shows that at least five of the tailors call themselves as emloyees of Shri Jiban Kirshna Bhowmick and that Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick has not contradicted this. So it is clear that the tailors working in the establishment of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick are his employees. Even as regards Shri Basudev Saha, Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick admits in Ext. 1(a) that Shri Basudev Saha worked under him; he does not say therein that Shri Basudev Saha worked as an independent contractor. So I hold that Shri Basudev Saha was an employee of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and that as such the dispute about his dismissal is clearly an industrial dispute.

Point No. 3

Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick says that Shri Basudev Saha stopped coming to his shop about 4/5 days before the Pujas of 1365 B.S. corresponding to 1958 A.D., whereas Shri Basudev Saha says that after the Pujas of 1958 he asked Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick to pay his dues and gave him tagids for the same; he put him off for some days and asked him to go on a particular date, on that date he told him that he did not require his service. As against the contention of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick, the question arises why Shri Basudev Saha stopped going to the shop, i.e., resigned his job. It is not possible to get any answer. Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick says that he enquired about the absence of Shri Basudev Saha from the latter's uncle Shri Sudhir Saha who replied that Shri Basudev Saha would no longer work in his shop. But Shri Sudhir Saha says that Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick told him that Shri Basudev Saha had told him that he would no longer work. This is a material discrepancy in the evidence of these two witnesses as to when and to whom Shri Basudev Saha expressed his intention not to work under Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick. Again in the written statement Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick says that Shri Basudev Saha never turned up after 13th October 1958. But both Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and Shri Sudhir Kumar Saha say in their evidence that Shri Basudev Saha accompanied Shri Sudhir Kumar Saha to the shop of Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick after the Pujas of 1958 to square up the accounts. This shows that their evidence as to how the service of Shri Basudev Saha came to an end is unbelievable. This also lends support to the suggestion of the Union that Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick entered into a collusion with Shri Sudhir Kumar Saha for the dismissal of Shri Basudeb Saha. A pertinent question in this connection is why Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick should all on a sudden dismiss Shri Basudev Saha. The answer is that Shri Basudev Saha claimed a fairly big sum of money from Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick as his dues. There is of course no satisfactory evidence as to the amount of money that was due to Shri Basudev Saha. But rightly or wrongly Shri Basudev Saha claimed a sum of Rs. 1,071 from Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick. Obviously Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick took the easy step of terminating the service in order to free himself from the liability of paying that money. The way in which Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick and Shri Sudhir Kumar Saha squared up the accounts of Shri Basudev Saha lends support to that decision. Hence I hold that Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick dismissed Shri Basudev Saha. Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick has not adduced any reason why he dismissed Shri Basudev Saha. So I hold that the dismissal of Shri Basudev Saha is unjustified. Hence I order that he should be reinstated in service. Shri Basudev Saha says his evidence that he used to earn between Rs. 15 and Rs. 25 every week and that the weekly income rose to about Rs. 40 to Rs. 45 during the Pujas. It is also in evidence that he remained idle for about 1½ years after his dismissal by Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick. In view of the above considerations, I order that Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick shall pay Shri Basudev Saha compensation on account of forced unemployment at the rate of Rs. 50 per month from November 1958 up to the date of reinstatement.

The issue in the order of reference is the question of dismissal of Shri Basudev Saha and of any contingent relief. So obviously the relief mentioned in the issue means the relief arising out of the determination of the question whether the dismissal of Shri Basudev Saha is justified. I have awarded above the relief to which he is entitled to on account of my finding that his dismissal is unjustified. The claim of Rs. 1,071 made on his behalf by the Union relates to his alleged dues from Shri Jiban Krishna Bhowmick before the dismissal. That claim was not included in the issue of the order of reference. Shri Parimal Das Gupta, Advocate, appearing for the Union has argued that I am competent to grant that relief, as it is a matter incidental to the issue. But only such matters as arise out of the issue can be described as incidental to the issue. But the claim of Rs. 1,071 has not arisen out of the issue, though according to the Union this is connected with the motive behind the dismissal of Shri Basudev Saha. So the decision of the claim of Rs. 1,071 is beyond my competence; hence I do not enter into it.

The orders contained in the above award shall be carried out within a month of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 11 Sovaram Bysack Street, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union, 22-1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road Calcutta-2. (Case No. VIII-36 of 1961.)

AWARD

By order No. 287-I.R./IR/11L-343/59, dated the 19th January 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 11 Sovaram Bysack Street, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union, 22-1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2, regarding the matter specified in the Schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

(i) Shri Amal Bose.
(ii) Sm. Radharani Dutt.
(iii) Shri Basanta Sikdar.

The reference relates to an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union). The reference was received on 28th January 1961. Immediately notices were issued to both parties calling upon them to appear on 24th February 1961 and file written statement of claim by the Union. On the date fixed both parties entered appearance on receipt of notices, but the Union applied for time to file written statement of claim. Time was allowed till 15th March 1961. But on that date the Union failed to file any written statement of claim or to take any step. So, the Tribunal in its own motion adjourned the case to 30th March 1961 for steps to be taken by the Union. On that date the President of the Union applied for further time to file written statement of claim. The prayer was granted and 15th April 1961 was the extended date fixed for filing written statement of claim by the Union. But again on the fixed date the Union failed to take any step. There was an order for putting up the record on 24th April 1961 for orders, on which date the President of the Union appeared and applied for further adjournment to file written statement of claim. At long last the Union filed written statement of claim on 28th April 1961. Thereafter the Company filed written statement on 16th June 1961. Next date was fixed on 7th July 1961 for filing of documents by both parties and on that date the Company complied with the order, but the Union did not. Then on the next date which was fixed on 19th July 1961, the Union also did not take any step. Then again on 4th October 1961, which was the date fixed for hearing of the case, the Union again did not take any step and none of the concerned workmen also turned up. The tribunal waited in vain up to 12 noon because neither the Union nor any of the concerned workmen turned up to proceed with the case or to take any step. The Company's representative remained all along present for hearing of the case.

In the circumstances, the Tribunal had no other alternative but to dispose of the case ex parte under rule 21 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958. I presume, in the circumstances, that a dispute under reference is no longer in existence, and as such, a "no dispute" award is passed.

This is my award.

NOTIFICATION

No. 2569L.—28th October 1961.—The following Bill which was introduced in the Lok Sabha on the 18th August 1961 and in regard to which a motion was carried on the 1st September 1961 that the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon by the 1st November 1961 is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto. Written expressions of opinion by any person or public body should be sent so as to reach the Home (Constitution and Elections) Department of the Government of West Bengal not later than the 15th November 1961. BILL No. 24 OF 1961

The Constitution (Amendment) Bill, 1961

further to amend the Constitution of India

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Twelfth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 1961.

2. In Article 226 of the Constitution, in clause (1) the following proviso shall be added, at the end and shall be deemed always to have been added, namely:— Amendment of Article 226.

"Provided that nothing herein contained shall be deemed as excluding the jurisdiction of the High Court of any State in respect of any order passed by any authority inside the State, whether such order has been dealt with in appeal or revision by any authority outside the State or not".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Judicial interpretations have differed as to the place where an application under Article 226 of the Constitution should be filed. The Madras High Court (Collector of Customs versus Abdul Rahiman A.I.R. 1957 Madras 496) has held that this jurisdiction belongs only to the Court within whose territory the appellate or revisional authority has its office, if appeal or revision has been filed. The Calcutta High Court, on the other hand, has held (East India Commercial Ltd. versus Collector of Customs and another reported in A.I.R. 1960, Calcutta at page 1) that the application can be laid wherever the original authority is situate.

In this state of uncertainty, there has been a large influx of petitions under Article 226 of the Constitution to the East Punjab High Court. Thus the remedy provided by this Article has become expensive and is fraught with delay. If an aggrieved party does not prefer an appeal as provided in the statute, the application under Article 226 is liable to be dismissed in limine by the High Court on the ground that all the remedies prescribed by the law have not been exhausted whereas if the party does file an appeal and it is dismissed, he is obliged to file the application under Article 226 only in the East Punjab High Court having territorial jurisdiction over Delhi. The Lawyers' Conferences held in December 1959 in Patna and in Nagercoil in April 1960 both passed resolutions that suitable legislation should be enacted to remedy the situation.

The Law Commission also addressed itself to this matter and observed in paragraph 17 of its 14th report as follows:—

> "High Courts other than the High Court of the Punjab have found themselves unable to exercise jurisdiction under Article 226, when the statutory authority or official concerned has headquaters in Delhi. This tends to defeat the very purpose of the jurisdiction conferred by Article 226 which is to enable a person to seek a remedy under that article in respect of acts done in violation of his rights within the State by an application to the High Court of his own State.
>
> A later decision of the Supreme Court seems to have modified the earlier view but the matter is by no means clear.
> In our view, this hardship imposed upon a person seeking relief needs removal".

The present Bill proposes an amendment which will serve the purpose. In order to cover pending cases it provides that the amendment be deemed as operative from the date of commencement of the Constitution.

AWARD

By order No. 3091-I.R./IR/10L-30/58, dated 24th July 1958, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between the 12 principal contractors employed for Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. engaged in extension jobs at Burnpur site (as per list attached) and all other contractors working directly or indirectly under the principal contractors on the one hand and their workmen represented by the United Contractors' Workers' Union on the other, on as many as seven issues, namely:—

(1) Dearness allowance or any like allowance.

(2) Medical facilities.

(3) Accommodation facilities.

(4) General and medical leave with pay.

(5) Gratuity for long service.

(6) General increment to those workers under the major contractors or their sub-contractors who have not been benefited by the announcement of increments effective from 1st January 1958.

(7) Elimination of the sub-contractors by enlisting their employees in the rolls of the principal contractors or undertaking the responsibility by the principal contractors for the labour under their sub-contractors in matters of appointment, discharge, reinstatement, pay, bonus, leave, etc.

The principal contractors named in the list attached are 12 in number, namely: (1) Messrs. International Construction Co. Ltd., (2) Messrs. Braithwaite Burn & Jessop Construction Co. Ltd., (3) Messrs. International Combustion (India) Private Ltd., (4) Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd., (5) Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. (India) Ltd., (6) Messrs. Stewarts & Lloyds of India Ltd., (7) Messrs. Power Gas Corporation Ltd., (8) Messrs. English Electric Co., (9) Messrs. Lodge Cotterel Ltd., (10) Messrs. Gammon India (Private) Ltd., (11) Messrs. Cementation Patel Ltd. and (12) Modern Construction Co. In this order there is no mention of any of the sub-contractors by name.

By another order, which is a corrigendum No. 5604-I.R./IR/10L-30/58, dated the 30th December 1958, the preamble was changed. In place of the 12 principal contractors mentioned in the original order of reference the new preamble mentioned 11 principal contractors and in place of the expression "extension jobs at Burnpur site" in the old preamble the new preamble used the expression "extension jobs at Burnpur and Kulti sites" and in place of the expression "all other contractors working directly or indirectly under the principal contractors", occurring in the old preamble, there is the following "sub-contractors working directly or indirectly under the principal contractors (as per list attached)". The list attached contains 11 principal contractors and the sub-contractors under each principal contractors are also mentioned specifically. Under Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd. as many as 16 sub-contractors are mentioned, namely: (a) Messrs. Sramajibi Bros., (b) Messrs. Sakhawat, (c) Messrs. Srinath Tewari, (d) Messrs. Bishandeo Mistri, (e) Messrs. Kanailal, (f) Messrs. R. Choudhury, (g) Messrs. Mata (Charan) Serang, (h) Messrs. Paul & Roy, (i) Messrs. Bhagirathi Ray, (j) Messrs. Majhi & Mondal, (n) Messrs. Paul & Dey, (o) Messrs. A. Choudhury and (p) Messrs. B. B. Dutta (Kulti). Under Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. there are four sub-contractors, namely: (a) Messrs. Simplex Concrete Piles (India) Ltd., (b) Messrs. Singh Brothers, (c) Messrs. Indian Cable Co. Ltd. and (d) Messrs. Modern Construction Co. Ltd. Under Messrs. Gammon India (P) Ltd. there are five namely: (a) Messrs. K. V. Karan, (b) Messrs. Mela Singh, (c) Messrs. Moti Lall, (d) Messrs. Manasharan and (e) Messrs. Swaran Singh. Under Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd. there is only one, namely: (a) Messrs. G. N. Makhanwala. Under Messrs. International Combustion India Ltd. there are five sub-contractors, namely: (a) Messrs. H. L. Dhiman, (b) Messrs. Mohd. Yasim, (c) Messrs. Scott & Pickstock, (d) Messrs. Cementation Co. Ltd. and (e) Messrs. Steam & Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd.

It is noticeable that the corrigendum does not include items 1 and 11 of the list attached to the original order of reference. In other words Messrs. International Construction Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Cementation Patel Ltd. are left out of the list of principal contractors attached to the corrigendum and a new company, namely, Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd. (Building Department) was added by the corrigendum. The result is that there are now 11 principal contractors and some of these principal contractors have each a number of sub-contractors and these sub-contractors are also mentioned in the corrigendum. Thus the original order of reference as modified by the corrigendum, included 11 principal contractors and 31 sub-contractors.

By order No. 20, dated 19th October 1959/3rd November 1959 the Tribunal, i.e., my predecessor ordered 11 sub-contractors on whom notices could not be served to be struck off at the instance of the Union. The Union now also agrees that these 11 sub-contractors, namely, Messrs. Sakhawat, Messrs. Srinath Tewari, Messrs. Bishandeo Mistri, Messrs. Kanailal, Messrs. R. Choudhury, Messrs Bhagirathi Roy, Messrs. Ram Pritt, Messrs. Sarju, Messrs. Gobardhan, Messrs. A. Choudhury, all under the principal contractors Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Cementation & Co. Ltd., a sub-contractor under Messrs. International Combustion Ltd. are no longer before the Tribunal. The sub-contractors are thus reduced in number to 20.

Six other sub-contractors, namely, Messrs. Mata Serang and Messrs. Paul & Dey under Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd., Messrs. Singh Brothers under Simon Carves Ltd., Messrs. Swaran Singh under Messrs. Gammon India (P) Ltd., Messrs. Mohd. Yasin under Messrs. International Combustion India Ltd. and Messrs. Steam Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd. filed statements to the effect that there was no dispute between them and their workmen. There was no challenge to this on behalf of the Union and the Union admits that these should be left out of account. This reduces the number of sub-contractors to be governed by the award still further to fourteen.

Messrs. Power Gas Corporation Ltd., one of the principal contractors, pleaded that it was not tractor although it was mentioned in the rigendum as one of the principal contractors. e Union now accepts the position that it is not a ncipal contractor. The result therefore is that of the 11 principal contractors, one goes out, nely, Messrs. Power Gas Corporation Ltd. ving 10 principal contractors and out of the -contractors 11 have to be left out because no ice could be served upon them and six more have be excluded because as things stand there is no pute between them and their workmen. There thus 17 sub-contractors who have to be excluded l only 14 sub-contractors are left for considera-n.

)f these 14 sub-contractors again, nine though ved with notices did not file any written state-nt and one principal contractor, namely, Messrs. dge Cortterel Ltd. though served with a notice not file any written statement. The Union ims that as against these sub-contractors and the ncipal contractor who have not filed written tement although served with notices, the decision the Tribunal should be binding. There is doubt that if the Tribunal were in a sition on the materials before it to pass an ard as against these principal contractors l the sub-contractors that award would be ding on them though they have not filed written statement, nor have produced any idence but the difficulty is that no evidence pears to have been led specifically against any e of them on behalf of the Union either. Even ex parte matters evidence has to be led and on e basis of that evidence a Tribunal can come to a ding. In the evidence adduced on behalf of the nion, not a word has been said about any of these ntractors or sub-contractors. Even in the written tement of the Union there is nothing about any them on which any conclusion could be based, if all it was legally permissible. As to the ncipal contractor in this group Messrs. Lodge tterel Ltd. the written statement says nothing at l specifically and Annexure 1 thereto in para-aph 11 gives only the following description stablished in or about 1943 having its office in .K. and Branch Office of Barnpur". As the Union d not file any written statement after the rrigendum which brought in the sub-contractors name for the first time, annexure I does not en mention Messrs. Modern Construction Co. td., one of the sub-contractors of Messrs. Simon arves Ltd. The other sub-contractors in this roup, namely, Messrs. Paul & Roy and Messrs. Iajhi Mondal under Messrs. B. B. J. Construction o. Ltd., Messrs. H. L. Dhiman and Messrs. Scott nd Pickstock, sub-contractors Messrs. International bustion (I) Private Ltd., Messrs. K. V. Kosan anan. Messrs. Mela Singh, Messrs. Moti Lal, srs. Mansha Ram, sub-contractors of Messrs. mon (I) Private Ltd. are merely mentioned in exure I to the Union's written statement with arks that they were doing the same type of k as their principals and with the labour ngth of each of them. It is clear, therefore, even the written statement of the Union does provide any materials against any of these D. L. Sen Gupta, at one stage contended that hey had not appeared there could be an omnibus rd which would be binding on them. It is cult for me to accept this contention. Thus as far as Messrs. Lodge Cotterel Ltd., Messrs. Modern Construction Ltd., Messrs. Paul & Roy, Messrs. Majhi Mondal, Messrs. H. L. Dhiman, Messrs. Scott and Pickstock, Messrs. K. V. Koran and Messrs. Kanan, Messrs. Mela Singh, Messrs. Motilal and Messrs. Mansha Ram, are concerned there are absolutely no materials before the Tribunal to show if they are still working at Burnpur. This position hardly leaves the Tribunal any option but to make an award in somewhat indeterminate terms, so as to make it applicable only to those of the contractors and sub-contractors who are still engaged in the extension work. Whether or not there is any specific evidence against any one of them is a question which will have to be considered at the appropriate place.

Before I come to a consideration of the actual issue in the reference it is necessary to dispose of certain questions which arise either on the evidence or on the contentions of the parties during arguments.

The first question is whether the reference as it stands is limited to the work of the principal contractors and the sub-contractors, if any, under them, or some of them on the extension jobs of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. at Burnpur and Kulti sites or it can be extended to the other work of such contractors and sub-contractors. The question arises because Shri D. L. Sen Gupta representing the Union argued that although some of these concerns may have closed their work at these sites either before the reference was made or during the pendency of the reference before this Tribunal its award on the issues may still be made binding on them in respect of their other work and Shri Sen Gupta also argued that the word "extension jobs" in the original reference and also in the corrigendum must be treated as surplusage. This I may say at once is hardly correct, for the simple reason that such a construction is permissible only where it does not otherwise make any sense or defeats the object of the reference. The fact that some of the parties to the reference may have to be excluded on a strict grammatical construction being put upon every word in it would be no justification at all for the exclusion of the expression "extension jobs," for it does not by any means defeat the real object of the reference; though one might say their exclusion defeats the object of the reference as against some of the parties. At page 243 of Maxwell's interpretation of Statutes, IX Edition, there is the following passage: "Notwithstanding the general rule that full effect must be given to every word, yet if no sensible meaning can be given to a word or phrase, or it would defeat the real object of the enactment, it may, or rather it should, be eliminated" and he refers to certain English decisions. It is, therefore, clear that according to authorities every word of a statute must be construed so as to give a sensible meaning to the whole. It is only where no meaning can be attached to every word or phrase without defeating the real object of the enactment, it may be eliminated. Here we are concerned not with the interpretation of statute but with the interpretation of a Government order, but the same principle is applicable. In this case it is hardly possible to contend with any show of reason that the retention of the words "extension jobs" in the original order of reference and the corrigendum and the full effect given to these words in construing the order and the corrigendum would defeat the real object of the order although it might have the effect of placing some of the principal contractors and sub-contractors who have completed the work before the reference outside the scope of the reference.

It is admitted by Shri Kalyan Roy, the first witness for the Union, even in his examination-in-chief that all the workmen both under the contractors and the sub-contractors worked on the extension jobs. In his cross-examination by Shri S. C. Sen he further admits that the extension work means the work connected with the extension of the activities of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. which also includes the housing of the new workers taken in connection with the extension work. In his cross-examination by Shri J. N. Chatterjee he further admits that the dispute referred to this Tribunal is connected with the extension work of 1953 and 1955. In the evidence aduced on behalf of the different contractors and sub-contractors also there are statements to the effect that some of them took up the extension work of 1953 and some of 1955 and some of both. Clearly, therefore the reference as modified by the corrigendum itself shows that the dispute is connected with the extension work of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. at Burnpur and Kulti sites and that both the parties understood the dispute referred to the Tribunal as one connected with the extension work of 1953 and 1955. There is thus no basis for the contention of Shri D. L. Sen Gupta that in construing the reference the expression "extension jobs" must be eliminated as redundant or surplusage and I think on the reference and the corrigendum as they stand and on the evidence it must be held that the dispute is restricted to the work of the principal contractors and their sub-contractors on the extension jobs of 1953 and 1955 entrusted to them at Burnpur and Kulti sites.

The next question that arises on the evidence and on the contention of the parties at the hearing is whether some of the contractors or sub-contractors completed the work of the extension job of 1953 or 1955 or of both entrusted to them before the reference and if some of them did complete their work before the reference or the corrigendum whether this Tribunal would have any jurisdiction to deal with their cases at all. Shri G. N. Makhanwala is the only sub-contractor under Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. Ltd., the principal contractor in item No. 6 of the list in the corrigendum. Shri G. N. Makhanwala is the second party witness No. 3. He says in his examination-in-chief that he worked at Burnpur on 1953 extension, started the work there on the 28th April 1956 and completed the job on the 15th October 1958. In his examination-in-chief he says further that as the work came to a close they started retrenching the workmen and it began sometime in June, 1958. In his cross-examination by Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, he says that he has not got at the moment any document to show that he began his work from the 28th of April 1956 but there is no question put to him challenging his statement in his examination-in-chief that he completed his work by the 15th October 1958. The reference was made by an order, dated the 24th July 1958. But in this reference Shri G. N. Makhanwala is not mentioned by name. As a matter of fact none of the su contractors are mentioned there by name althou the preamble speaks of "other contractors worki directly or indirectly under the principal contr tors." This description of the sub-contractors much too vague and indefinite to enable t Tribunal to have notices on these sub-contract issued and served presumably in view of th lacuna in the order of reference, the corrigendu dated 30th December 1958, had to issue. Clear then Shri G. N. Makhanwala becomes a party the reference only from the 30th December 19 If on his unchallenged testimony it is to be held, it must be, that he completed his work by Octob 1958 having started retrenching his staff with effe from June 1958, he evidently completed his wo before the 30th December 1958 so that at the poi of time when the corrigendum was issued maki him a party to the reference there could not ha been any industrial dispute between his firm as sub-contractor of Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. on t extension job of 1953 and its workmen. T reference, therefore, as against Messrs. G. Makhanwala must be held to be witho jurisdiction.

The Simplex Concrete Piles India Ltd. is one the four sub-contractors of Messrs. Simon Carv Ltd. Shri Chavali Sharma looks after th labourers of Simplex Concrete Piles India Lt He is witness No. 5 for the second party and sa as follows in his examination-in-chief: "We wer to Burnpur in connection with the extension jo of 1953. He started the work in February 195 We were never at Burnpur prior to 1955 in co nection with any work. We completed the contra in February 1958 and we were not working a anything now at Burnpur and filed the origin Petty Cash Accounts showing the wages paid t the workers up to the 25th February 1958 and the the salary paid to the watchman for the month o March 1958 and half month of April. The lett No. RKS/BUR/7766/61, dated 17th June 1961, a confirmation of the fact by Messrs. Simon Carv Ltd. that we completed the work by January 1958." This letter is Ext. BBB, dated 17th June 1961 In his cross-examination he says as follows: "w retrenched the last batch of our workmen on th 26th February 1958. I have not produced an record to show this for this Tribunal but I ma on search be able to find that out. Mr. Swam signed the confirmation letter, dated 17th Jun 1961. Mr. Swami is still alive. He is in Calcutt in their office." There is no evidence on the side of the Union either way on the point.

It appears from the account filed on behalf of Simplex Concrete Piles India Private Ltd. Ext XX(1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) that the majority of its workmen were paid up to the 26th February 1958, some were paid even up to the end of the month and at least one watchman was paid up to the middle of April 1958. That proves the correctness of the statement of Shri Chavali Sharma and it also shows that the completion certificate given by Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. that the work was completed by January 1958 is not strictly accurate. Although the work might have reached its concluding stage by then it was not really complete and cannot be said to have been completed till near the end of February 1958. In any event on the evidence Messrs. Simplex Concrete Piles Ind rivate Ltd. must be held to have completed its ork well before the original reference, dated the th July 1958, and the corrigendum, dated the th December 1958, so that the reference as gainst Messrs. Simplex Concrete Piles India rivate Ltd. must also be held to have been with- t jurisdiction. Thus, two more sub-contractors, mely, Messrs. G. N. Makhanwala and Messrs. mplex Concrete Piles India Private Ltd. must so be held to be beyond the scope of this refer- ce. So far, therefore, there are left within the ope of the reference only twelve sub-contractors, cluding the eight who have neither filed any ritten statements nor appeared at the hearing.

Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. India Ltd. with only e sub-contractor Messrs. G. N. Makhanwala der it is item No. 6 of the corrigendum. It was own as item No. 5 without any sub-contractor in e original reference. In both it was shown as a incipal contractor. In paragraph 3 of the ritten statement of Messrs. Bridge & Roof India d. it is stated with reference to paragraphs 1, 2 d 3 of the written statement of the Union that far as the contract work at Burnpur is con- rned this Company was not a principal contractor t took some sub-contracts from Messrs. Power as Corporation and Messrs. Lodge Cotterel Ltd. d it started its contract work at Burnpur in ptember 1955 and that the only sub-contractor der this Company was Messrs. G. N. Makhan- ala. There is nothing in the whole of its some- hat lengthy written statement when this Company mpleted its work at Burnpur. The written state- ent of the Union in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 says thing specifically about this concern but refers Annexure "1". Item No. 5 of Annexure "1" als with Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd. and ter something like a historical account of the ncern it alleges that it came to Burnpur in or out 1950 for extension work and employed a large mber of men and only one sub-contractor Messrs. . N. Makhanwala but it does not say when this ompany began its work on the 1953 extension at rnpur or when it ended it." The second party itness No. 6, Shri Keshab Chandra Sen, Personnel fficer of Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd., says his examination-in-chief as follows: "Our ompany was doing some contract works at rnpur. Our Company was there in connection ith 1953 extension job. We started this extension b in September 1955. We were not connected ith any other extension job at Burnpur prior to 955. Our extension job was completed by the end f October, 1958. We were acting there as sub- ntractors of Messrs. Lodge Cotterel Ltd. and lessrs. Power Gas Corporation Ltd. We filed rtificates from both these companies regarding mpletion of our work..... We have submitted r final retrenchment sheet to show that our orkers were retrenched at the end of October 958." In his cross-examination he says "the ntlemen who issued the certificates on 24th of tember 1958 and 9th of October 1958 are both e. They stay at Burnpur. At present we have work with any of these two firms, Messrs. Lodge terel Ltd. and Messrs. Power Gas Corporation. Burnpur work was the only work with these firms." The two witnesses examined for the on, namely, Shri Kalyan Roy, the Joint Secre- of the United Contractors' Workers' Union Shri Kartick Chandra Ghose, an employee of Messrs. Braithwaite Burn and Jessop Construction Co. Ltd., say nothing at all on the point. The question now is whether the ex parte evidence adduced on behalf of Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd. should be accepted particularly when the Company did not mention in its written statement that it had completed the work prior to the corrigendum. In support of its statement that its work was completed by the 24th September 1958 and the 9th October 1958 Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. India Ltd. filed Ext. JJ, and Ext. KK. Extension JJ is a letter from Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd. to Messrs. Power Gas Corporation Ltd. dated 24th September 1958. It speaks of Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd. enclosing nine copies of certificates No. 29 which appears from the heading to the body of the lettter to relate to erection of Nos 3 and 4 blast furnace final certificates, No. 29. Similarly, Ext. KK is a letter by Messrs. Bridge & Roof India Ltd., dated 9th October 1958, to Messrs. Lodge Cotterel Ltd. It speaks of enclosing in quintriplicate their final erection certificate No. 28 and five copies of detailed statement of steel works erected by them The heading to the body of the letter shows that this relates to the final erection certificate No. 28. These are not, therefore, really completion certificate given by the principals of the Company. But these are really letters by the Company itself to its principals showing that the work was completed. I find it difficult to accept these letters at their face volue because these are not themselves the completion reports of the Company but merely letters speaking of enclosing such completion reports. Ext. KK is the original statement of accounts of final daily wages and retrenchment benefit from 16th October 1958 to 31st October 1958. As part of this exhibit, there are stamped receipts of the workmen showing the receipt by them of all their dues up to the date of retrenchment which was entered in the receipts at 31st October 1958. There is no reason why this evidence should be disbelieved, whatever may be said of the so-called completion certificates Exts. JJ and KK. There is nothing on the side of the Union to show that this was incorrect. It must accordingly be held on the evidence that Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. India Ltd. was shown as a principal contractor was not really employed on the extension work of 1953 or 1955 as a principal contractor at all but it was employed as a sub-contractor under Messrs. Lodge Cotterel & Co. Ltd. and Power Gas Corporation and that it completed its work by the end of October 1958. It is more than likely that as admittedly Messrs. G. N. Makhanwala was the only sub-contractor employed by Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. India Ltd. Messrs. Bridge & Roof Company India Ltd. was placed both in the original reference and in the corrigendum in the category of a principal contractor and not in the category of a sub-contractor. But on the evidence that description must be held to be incorrect and Messrs. G. N. Makhanwala must be held to be a sub-contractor under another sub-contractor, namely, Messrs. Bridge & Roof & Co. India Ltd.

I have already said that in the original reference Messrs. Bridge & Roof Co. India Ltd. is shown as a principal contractor in item No. 5 of the list attached to the order of reference so that it was made a party to the reference even before it had completed its work although the corrigendum, dated the 30th December 1958 which also included it as one of the principal contractors was not issued till it had completed its extension work at Burnpur. Its position therefore will be the same as that of any other contractor or sub-contractor or whose work was not completed before the reference but whose work was completed after the reference and before the award could be passed.

As regards Simon Carves Ltd., it has been shown as a principal contractor in item No. 4 of the list attached to the corrigendum. Its sole witness Shri D. W. Gaitonde, its Industrial Relations Officer, says that his Company was doing contract work at Burnpur on 1953 extension job, that the extension job was started at the end of 1954 and that at the present moment they have only about two chowkidars looking after the crane. He does not say anything at all in his examination-in-chief when the work of the Company at Burnpur in connection with the 1953 extension job was completed. His statement was left unchallenged in cross-examination by everybody. It does not appear from any of the accounts Exts. NN, OO and PP that it retrenched any of its workmen up to the end of May 1958, the last date for which accounts were exhibited on behalf of the concern. There is thus clearly an absence of evidence to show when this Company completed its work if at all it did so before the hearing. On the evidence, therefore, it cannot be held that this is a Company which completed its work before the hearing. An award must accordingly be passed in respect of it on issues Nos. 1 and 6 in terms which would make the award applicable only if it is still engaged in carrying out its extension work.

There is, however, a number of other principal contractors or sub-contractors who on the evidence must be held to have completed the work entrusted to them before the hearing. Messrs. Modern Construction Company is shown as a principal contractor in item No. 12 of the list attached to the original reference and in item No. 5 of the list attached to the corrigendum. One of its Partners Shri Pravakar Mukherjee is witness No. 2 for the second party witness. This witness says as follows: "I am a sub-contractor of International Construction Company. Messrs. International Construction Company was a party at first out them as far as I know its name has been deleted. He worked on the extension job of 1953 and that of 1955. We began our work in 1955..... Our work was completed on the extension job in July 1961. We have given our workmen the retrenchment compensation. Some of the workmen whom we had engaged in connection with our extension job are still on our pay roll and they are working elsewhere..... Some 60 of our workmen are still on our pay roll. They are working elsewhere." The only thing which he says in his cross-examination on this point is as follows: "The work which we completed in July 1961 was work in connection with the extension jobs." Exhibit Q series show that a number of workmen were retrenched in July 1960 and were paid retrenchment benefits but there are no vouchers to show that the last batch of the workmen of this concern engaged in extension jobs at Burnpur and Kulti was retrenched in July 1961. Even then, on the evidence as it is, there is really no reason to doubt that the work of this concern was completed by July 1961 although there still on its rolls about 60 of those of its worl who had been engaged in connection with extension jobs of 1953 and 1955.

Sramajibi Bros. is the first sub-contractor u Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd. as show item No. 1 of the list attached to the corrigend Its sole witness, Shri P. S. Patel, is witness N for the second party. He is a partner of Srami Bros. Admittedly this firm worked both on 1953 and 1955 extensions. He says in his exam tion-in-chief that their work was concluded th i.e., at Burnpur on 14th October 1960. This st ment of his does not appear to have been chall ed in cross-examination. In the documents file this concern there is nothing whatever to show the last batch of its workmen was retrenched payment of retrenchment compensation. Even t on the ex parte evidence of Shri P. S. Patel it to be held that the work was completed by the October 1960.

Messrs. Gamon India Ltd. is shown as princ contractor in item No. 10 of the list attache the original reference and in item No. 4 of the attached to the corrigendum. The sole wit examined on its behalf is Shri J. E. Erull second party witness No. 7. His statement in examination-in-chief is as follows: "I was Engineer-in-charge at Burnpur of Gamon In Private Ltd. I went to Burnpur for the constr tion of three cooling towers for 1953 extension. went in Burnpur in November 1955. We Burnpur in the beginning of 1960 after hav completed the work. We have submitted the c pletion certificate from International Construct Company No. 2. We had to construct three cool towers in connection with the 1953 project this we have filed completion certificate. We h completed all the contracts. We left Burn finally in the first week of January 1960. We so after completing all our contracts. We h submitted the payment register for the period 1 January 1959 and 14th February 1960." T witness admits in his cross examination that t completion certificate had been asked for by th and then these certificates were issued. He w questioned as to whether the gentlemen who issu the certificates are alive or not and he says he d not know. He further admits that the certificat were received by the Head Office at Bombay a not by him personally. There is no evidence the side of the Union about this. Exhibits RR a RR(1) are the completion certificates given by th International Construction Co. Ltd., dated 26 February 1960 and 4th September 1959, respe tively, for two jobs, the first for the 1953 extensio job and the second for the 1955 extension There is no reason why these two completion c ficates should be disbelieved. Of course, as ad ted by Shri Erulkar, no completion certificate produced for the other job although he says it completed. It appears that certain registers produced by the Company but not exhibited. the evidence, as it stands there is nothing to tradict what Shri Erulkar says as to when Company finally left the place after having c pleted all its works. It has therefore, got to held that it completed its extension job by Janua 1960.

The Indian Cable Company is not mentioned at in the list attached to the original reference. it it has been mentioned as one of the four sub-ntractors under Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. in e list attached to the corrigendum. Its sole tness Shri S. C. Chatterjee, a Resident Engineer, the site says in his examination-in-chief that e Company undertook contract for extension work ıder Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. at Burnpur in ıril 1957 to February 1959 and that all their ork was completed in February 1959. In his oss-examination he says that he left the site as e Resident Engineer on the 5th of March 1959 id this will appear from a document, dated the h of March 1959, which they have filed. He mits that they have produced nothing to show at their work was actually completed. Exhibit N hich is the document, dated 6th March 1959, is copy of a notice signed by Mr. W. K. Matheuw the Contract Department of the Calcutta Office the Company to other offices of the same mpany to the effect that their Burnpur Contract ffice had been closed with effect from 5th March 59. Shri Kalyan Roy, witness No. 1 for the nion, says in his cross-examination by Shri S. C. n representing this Company: "I do not exactly ow when the Indian Cable Co. Ltd. began its ork in the extension work. I do not know if the dian Cable Co. Ltd. completed its work by ebruary 1959. I am neither in a position to affirm or to deny the correctness of documents No. 5 of e list of documents filed by this Company, Indian able Co. Ltd." This document, Ext. 5 contains list showing the maximum strength of labour in une 1958 at Burnpur. As there is thus no vidence adduced on behalf of the Union to ebut the evidence adduced on behalf of the ompany there is hardly any reason why this vidence should be disbelieved. On this evidence has got to be held that Messrs. Indian Cable o. Ltd. completed its extension work by ebruary 1959.

Messrs. International Combustion is shown as ne of the principal contractors in item No. 3 of he list attached to the original reference and in tem No. 9 in the list attached to the corrigendum. ts sole witness Shri Arya Bhusan Basu, Assistant, oking after the contract work, says in his xamination-in-chief: "Our Company went to Burnpur in April 1958 in connection with the tension job of 1953. This job has been mpleted in the year 1959 in the month of August. nce August 1959 we are not carrying out any tension work at Burnpur. We have got another ntract of rectification of economiser. We have t started that work. We have been inspecting e damage done which has got to be rectified. e got this contract in January 1961. It is not connection with extension work."

In his cross-examination he says as follows: Ext. SS shows that our work was completed. xt. SS shows that certain jobs were still complete. Even these jobs were completed by ecember 1959." Ext. SS is a letter from the ternational Combustion India Ltd., dated 21st ugust 1959. It says that Boilers 11 and 12 have en taken over by the Indian Iron & Steel Co. td. and have been put into commercial use. But t the same time it says that competion certificates ill be issued when certain incomplete jobs have been resolved and the letter asked the International Combustion (I) Private Ltd. to look into the matter and to complete it soon. Evidently, therefore, Ext. SS shows that part of the work of Messrs. International Combustion India Ltd. was completed but not the whole. On that point there is only the statement of Shri Arya Bhusan Basu that even that work was completed by December 1959. As there is no evidence to the contrary adduced on behalf of the Union, the evidence of Shri Arya Bhusan Basu has to be accepted and it has to be found on the strength thereof that its extension work was completed by December 1959.

There is a group of principal contractors whose work has not yet been completed. These are Messrs BBJ & Construction Co. Ltd., Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Stewart and Lloyds of India Ltd. Shri Supravat Mittra, second party witness No. 9 examined on behalf of Messrs. B.B.J. Construction Co. Ltd., says in his examination-in-chief as follows: "We are in the process of winding up our contract on the extension work at Burnpur. We expect to complete our contract work at Burnpur in course of another three to four months. We are working in connection with the 1953-1955 extension of Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. at Burnpur. I cannot from my personal knowledge say when the extension work in 1953 started at Burnpur because I came to Burnpur in May 1956 only, when 1953 extension work was already in progress 1955 extension work began on or about September 1957." There is no challenge to this part of his statement in his cross-examination. S.P.W. 10 Mr. Lewis Duxbury, a Resident Engineer of Messrs. Messrs Electric Company at Burnpur, says that he has been at Burnpur in connection with the 1953-55 extension work and that he first went to Burnpur in October 1957. He admits that he is still working there and that they shall probably take further 2/3 months for the completion of the work. He says that some of their workmen have been already retrenched on payment of retrenchment benefits. This part of his statement is left unchallenged in his cross-examination. S.P.W. 12 Shri Premlal Pasracha, the Personnel Officer of Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds India (Pvt.) Ltd. says in his examination-in-chief as follows: "We began work on the 1953 extension in 1955. We are still working there. We are at the stage of almost closing our site, where there is installation of pipe lines." The witness was not cross-examined at all by any one. It is, therefore, clear that these three concerns, namely, Messrs. B.B.J. Construction Co. Ltd., Messrs English Electric Co. Ltd. and Messrs Stewarts & Lloyds of India Private Ltd. have not yet completed their extension jobs although they have reached the concluding stages of their work.

As regards the contractors and the sub-contractors who were working on the extension jobs at the time of the reference but who appeared to have completed their work before the hearing of the reference, the reference is clearly competent. The question in regard to them is whether an effective award is possible in this case as against them on issues all but one of which represent certain general economic demands of their workmen as voiced by the Union. These issues relate to D.A. or any like allowance, medical facilities, accommodation facilities, general and medical leave with pay, gratuity for long services, general increment to those workers under the major contractors or their sub-contractors who have not been benefited by the announcement of increments effective from 1st January 1958. In the case between Pipraich Sugar Mills, Ltd. and Pipraich Sugar Mills' Mazdoor Union (1957—I LLJ 235) which was a case relating to a business that had closed before the reference the Supreme Court observed as follows: "It cannot be doubted that the entire scheme of the Act assumes that there is in existence an industry, and then proceeds on to provide for various steps being taken, when a dispute arises in that industry. Thus, the provisions of the Act relating to lock-out, strike, lay-off, retrenchment, conciliation and adjudication proceedings, the period during which the awards are to be in force, have meaning only if they refer to an industry which is running and not one which is closed." And then the Supreme Court refers to its own decision in Burn & Co. Ltd. and their employees 1957, I, L.L.J. 226 where it observed as follows: "Legislation regulating the relation between capital and labour has two objects in view. It seeks to ensure to the workmen who have not the capacity to treat with capital on equal firms, fair returns for their labour. It also seeks to prevent disputes between employer and employees, so that production might not be adversely affected and the larger interest of the society might not suffer." Then, their Lordship in the Pipraich Sugar Mills case go on to say that both these objects can have their fulfilment in an existing and not a dead industry. Their Lordships there finally say that the view expressed in Indian Metal and Metallurgical Corporation versus Industrial Tribunal, Madras and Others 1952, I, L.L.J. 364 and K. M. Padmanabha Ayyar versus State of Madras and two others 1954, I, L.L.J. 469 that the industrial dispute to which the provisions of the Act apply is only one which arises out of an existing industry is clearly correct.

As far as I could find out there has so far been no case before the Supreme Court in which the question of an award on such economic issues in an industry which closed during the pendency of a reference under section 10 was gone into, so that no direct authority is available on the question which now arises in respect of those contractors and sub-contractors who were admittedly working on the extension jobs at the time of the reference and who continued their work for sometime thereafter but completed their extension jobs before the hearing of this reference. The question therefore, has to be decided on general grounds. After all, an adjudication seeks to ensure industrial peace which means the peace as between an existing industry and its workmen, i.e., workmen still in its employ. When however, an industry has already closed before the hearing of a reference no question of ensuring industrial peace as between the industry which has already closed down and the workmen who have already been retrenched and disbanded can possibly arise. If however, any of these workmen has a right as against the closed industry on account of the closure or any other ground and if an industrial dispute arises in conncetion with any such right before the closure or at the time of the closure, an Industrial Tribunal can easily adjudicate on that right. awards on economic issues like issues Nos. 1 6 in this reference are practically without value first because the workmen for whose ben they may be intended are no longer in the emp of the industries against whom such awards n be made and secondly because even if un section 17, sub-section 4 an award might be gi retrospective effect it becomes almost impossi for the employers to implement its terms even they want to do so, for the simple reason that workmen are no longer in their employ and it not possible or in any case easy for them to f them out particularly when the workmen un the principal contractors and their sub-contract were workmen of a temporary nature though t temporary work on which they were employ appears to have gone on for 3/4/5 years in so cases.

In the circumstances I do not think that a useful purposes can be served by making an awa on the first six issues in respect of the workmen those principal contractors and sub-contractors w have already completed their extension jobs Burnpur and Kulti sites before the hearing of th reference. As regards the 7th issue, namely t elimination of the sub-contractors by enlistn their employees in the rolls of the princi contractors or undertaking the responsibility the principal contractors for the labour appoi ment, discharge reinstatement, pay, bonus, leav etc., would also be equally ineffective, as far these principal contractors and their su contractors are concerned. The only cause open the Tribunal in these circumstances is to refra from a consideration of these issues as betwe these principal contractors and sub-contractors a their workmen.

Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd. (Building Depar ment) was included in the category of princip contractors only by the corrigendum, dated th 30th December 1958. The Union filed its writte statement long before the issue of the corrigendu and did not file any written statement after th corrigendum had been issued. Neither in it written statement nor in its Annexure I theret it had anything to say about Messrs. Martin Bur Ltd. (Building Department). Messrs. Marti Burn Ltd. (Building Department) in its writte statement alleges inter alia that this Company di not undertake any construction work in connectio with the factory extension of Indian Iron & Stee Co. Ltd., although it has been working from time to time as a contractor of Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., for construction of its buildings since before 1939, that such contracts for construction works have been confined to quarters, hostels and hospitals etc. in the town that these are regular building construction work and have nothing to do with the extension jobs mentioned in the order of reference.

It further alleges that the only work which this Company undertook on behalf of Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. near about the site (not on the site where extension works are being carried on is th construction of a canteen and this also is not an extension job as mentioned in the order of reference. It further alleges this construction work was started in 1957 and completed in 1958 and this Company at the relevant time, i.e., on the date of the order of reference did not employ any men in connection with any work on the site

e extension works are being carried on.
equently it pleaded that there could not be any ute between this Company and its employees oyed in connection with the extension jobs, nuch as no employees were employed by the pany at the relevant period or at any other on any extension job. Although the Union not say anything in its written statement about
rs. Martin Burn Ltd. (Building Department) use at the time it filed its written statement
rs. Martin Burn Ltd. (Building Department) not yet been made a party to this reference, Kalyan Roy says in his cross-examination by
S. C. Sen representing Messrs. Martin Burn (Building Department): "The extension work ns the work connected with the extension of activities of Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. which includes the housing of the new workmen en in connection with the extension work.
agraph 5 of written statement was introduced in er to make any of the work done by these work-n intelligible..... I have not got any proof t the houses that were being constructed ween 1952 and 1958 were constructed only for using men employed in connection with the ension work. I do not know if the housing struction began in 1936. As far as I have seen using construction began in 1953. The Company quired a new area in 1953 and housing struction began in that area in 1953. I cannot y if the new construction in this area was in y way connected with the extension scheme but e construction began after the extension scheme me into operation." It is, therefore, clear from e evidence of Shri Kalyan Roy that the Union ly knows nothing as to whether the construc-work done by Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd. ilding Department) as a contractor of the ian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. was really in con-tion with the extension work or not and if so, en it began or when it ended. Shri Sunil ndra Lahiri, Second Party Witness No. 1, who s Resident Engineer of Messrs. Martin Burn lding Department is as follows: "I am the sident Engineer, Building Department. I have n working there for 30 years. Martin rn Building Department constructs buildings, idential quarters, flats, in some cases water vers. I started building on behalf of Martin rn in the year 1936 first and it continued for ee years. Then I was transferred to Calcutta the year 1939. I was again deputed there in year 1940 and constructed some buildings, ks, etc., up to 1941 or the beginning of 1942.
n I again went there in the year 1954. Since n I am working there with a gap of 2/3 months asionally. I was not connected with any ension work. I do not agree that these quarters e meant for the extension purpose because the ff who are residing there are most of them are staff. Old staff means those employed since 0 or 1945. The house that we constructed or are constructing is not meant for extension
rk. It is generally meant for the staff who are rking there. These staff may be permanent ff or extension staff. These quarters may be upied by the permanent members of the staff by temporary staff such as extension staff.
arters are allotted generally according to the ar of service and the rank of the officers. In 1955 I built about 55 quarters. In 1956 I built 4/5 quarters. In 1952 I did not construct any building but other contractors built the quarters. To my knowledge most of the quarters were allotted to the old staff. About the rest of the quarters I am not sure whether they were allotted to the old staff or to the extension staff." In his cross-examination by Shri D. L. Sengupta he says as follows: "The Building Department of Messrs. Marti Burn Co. Ltd. is a permanent department. This Department is about 60 years old. The Building Department is one of the oldest departments of the Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd..... We take building contracts from different firms including private individuals. We have constant flow of contracts. Irrespective of the extension of the factory, quarters are being constructed. We got the contracts about building from 1953 onwards on different dates. I cannot give the dates offhand. I am responsible for the construction of the buildings. Although I am concerned only with the construction of the buildings I can see who are occupying the quarters. I can also find out from my friends, who are higher officers and who are occupying particular quarters. It is not generally my business to know the purposes for the construction of the quarters. I know some of the employees occupying the newly constructed quarters. I have built since 1953 about 80/90 quarters. They are almost all occupied now. I am not sure how many of them are now vacant. About 50/60 per cent. of the employees occupying these quarters are known to me. I have been staying there at Burnpur for six months or so since 1922..... I do not say that I live in any one of the 80/90 quarters I constructed. Most of the 40/50 persons who, I know, occupied these newly constructed quarters are officers. The clerks and labourers are not amongst my friends. I did not stay at Burnpur for six months at a stretch. I go there twice a month and stay there for a week on each occasion. Every month I stay at Burnpur for two weeks. My visits and stay at Burnpur are all in connection with my construction work." It is, therefore, obvious from the evidence of this Resident Engineer of Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. that most of the quarters he has built are occupied by members of the old staff of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. and some may be occupied by officers or employees employed on extension work. The mere fact however that some of the quarters which Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. (Building Department) built on behalf of the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. were occupied by officers or other employees connected with the extension jobs would not go to show that the contracts for construction which Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. was entrusted with by the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. was in connection with the extension work. The quarters, etc., constructed must necessarily be meant to last for a relatively long period. In other words, quarters that are built are for the residence of the members of the staff for a reasonably long period of, say, at least 50 years. But the extension work, as the evidence clearly indicates, is work the duration of which was limited at the most to 5/6 years. Consequently, this alone suggests, that Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. (Building Department) was not in all probability connected with the extension work at all, although some of the quarters that may have been built by it may happen to be occupied by some members of the staff engaged in extension work. That this was so appears to have been admitted in Ext. 4 which is a copy of the representation, dated 20th February 1958, by a number of men representing about 20,000 workers to the Hon'ble Minister, Department of Labour, Government of West Bengal, Calcutta. At the bottom of the first page of Ext. 4 occurs the following passage: "There are two categories of contractors. The extension contractors or the contractors who came here to develop and extend the factory of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. The extension involved in these constructions are arranged for Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. from the World Bank through the good offices of Government of India..... We have dealt with it in details in schedule I." Then at the beginning of page 2 of Ext. 4 occurs the following passage: "The other group of contractors are regular contractors, the contractors working with the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd..... We will deal in details about these contractors and labours in schedule II." Then in Schedule I which occurs at page 2 of Ext. 4. Ten extension contractors are mentioned such as:

(i) Messrs. International Construction Co. Ltd.
(i) Messrs. Simon Carve Ltd.
(iii) Messrs. Gammon India Private Ltd.
(iv) Messrs. Bridge and Roof Indian Ltd.
(v) Messrs. Power Gas Corporation.
(vi) Messrs. Cementation Patel Ltd.
(vii) Messrs. Lodge Cortterel Ltd.
(viii) Messrs. Stewarts Lloyds Ltd.
(ix) Messrs. B.B.J. Construction Co. Ltd.
(x) Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd.

It is significant that there is no mention, in this list of extension contractors, of Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. Building Department. Then in Schedule II occurs the following passage: "The regular contractors are the contractors who are doing, amongst others, the following types of work in the factory: (i) Rail Bank, 34 Mills, 18 Mills, Doloput Plant, Melting shop furnaces, Duples plants, Buttom House, Bricks Department, C. E. Department, N. E. Department, Coal Banker High and Coke Oven Department, Loading Unloading, Come Vreen Supply to Employees of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. Messrs. Indian Standard Wagon Co. Ltd." In this category also Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. Building Department is not mentioned. The non-inclusion, however, of Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. Building Department in the category of extension contractors although it might not be conclusive because of the non-mention of the same name in the list of the other category of contractors, namely, regular contractors, at least goes to confirm the evidence of the Resident Engineer of Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. and the inference from the mere fact that Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. Building Department was building for Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. residential quarters, etc., which are always meant for permanent accommodation of the members of the staff. In other words, on this evidence it must be held that Messrs. Martin Burn & Co. Ltd. Building Department was really engaged in any kind of extension work behalf of Messrs. India Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. it was engaged in constructing quarters, etc., accommodation of the staff of Messrs. Indian I & Steel Co. Ltd., a work which has no connect with the extension jobs, except that so employees engaged in extension work might h been temporarily accommodated in such quart or flats, but which was connected with its nor activity, apart from the extension work. Fr that point of view the inclusion of Messrs. Mar Burn & Co. Ltd. as one of the principal contract in the extension jobs at Burnpur and Kulti si does not appear to have been justifi Consequently, there cannot be any award in t reference as against Messrs. Martin Burn & Ltd. Building Department on any of the issues

This leaves only four main contractors, name Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. which, as I have alrea found, may or may not be still engaged in extension work, Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Ltd., Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd. and Mess Stewarts Lloyds India Private Ltd., which as have already found, are still at work in connecti with the extension jobs entrusted to them Burnpur and Kulti sites although even their wo appears to have reached its concluding stag Even as far as they are concerned, in view of t short term their extension work is still to r there cannot be any award in respect of iss Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7 which are issues meant cover a part of the conditions of services of wo men employed for a reasonably long term a cannot possibly be applied to men employed on temporary basis as in the present case. The cannot therefore be any award in respect of a of the issues except issues Nos. 1 and 6, as again even them. An effective award at least on t first and the sixth issues is possible as agai them. Although this effective award is likely benefit only a handful of workmen who are s in their employ there is no reason why the bene that can be awarded to these handful of m should be denied to them on the ground that m of the other workmen involved in this referen cannot be given the benefit of the referen None of these companies have pleaded th financial inability to give their workmen at le a bare subsistence wages if what they are n paying them does not amount to what are rea adequate subsistence wages. It appears fr Ext. EE that the Minimum pay in March 1961 Messrs. Stewards and Lloyds of India Private L at Burnpur was Rs. 2 although its sole witne Shri Premlal Pasracha, witness No. 12 for t second party, says that they gave the minimu wage of Rs. 1.75 nP. on 1st January 1958. The is no contradiction between his statement and t entry in the register from which it appears th at present the minimum wages is Rs. 2, becau what was the minimum wage on 1st January 19 may well have been raised by now to Rs. 2. behalf of Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd. wage sheets, etc., were filed to show the rates wages but it is the evidence of S.P.W. 10 a there is no reason to disbelieve him that th minimum wages paid by his Company at Burnp are Rs. 2 per day. It appears from Ext. GG the Muster Roll and Pay Sheet for the fortnigh dated the 30th May 1961, of Messrs. B. B. Construction Co. Ltd. at Burnpur, that th minimum wages per hour which are paid to its workmen was 18 nP. per hour. For a day of eight hours thus works out at Rs. 1.44 nP.

The reference as it stands does not include any issue on the daily wages. The only issue is about the D.A. or any like allowance. The question of D.A. necessarily brings in the question of basic wages. If the minimum basic wages given by a particular concern appears to be below the subsistence wages and if the aim of the adjudicators should be to raise the total emoluments of a workman to at least subsistence wages wherever at any rate the employers do not plead their financial inability to bear the strain of such a rise, the question is what would be the subsistence wages in this case. Without going into details, one can see that if a man's daily wages are no more than Rs. 2, his monthly earnings become only Rs. 52 on the basis of 26 working days in a month. This would not be quite an adequate subsistence wage. In an industrial dispute between Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. and their workmen in connection with a contract work on Durgaput Steel Project Shri P. K. Sarkar fixed in connection with issue No. 2 which related to minimum wages and annual increment, the rate of wages for the lowest category of the workmen, i.e., the unskilled workmen at Rs. 2.25 nP. per day. That would give the lowest paid workman Rs. 58.50 nP. a month on the basis of 26 working days a month. Burnpur and Kulti are not far off from Durgapur. Consequently, the rate that was found suitable for the lowest paid workmen at Durgapur should be found suitable for such workmen at Burnpur and Kulti. But, as I have already stated, the issue before me does not relate to basic wages but only to D.A. If there are workmen receiving wages at a rate below Rs. 2.25 nP., then the difference between Rs. 2.25 nP. and the daily rate at which he is being paid now should be made good in the shape of a dearness allowance. In other words if a workman is receiving now Rs. 1.44 nP. as in the case of the lowest paid workman in the employ of Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd. his D.A. should be fixed at 31 nP. If on the other hand, the lowest paid workman is receiving Rs. 2 as in the case of Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds India Private Ltd. his D.A. should be 25 nP. only. In other words, the total emoluments of any one in the employ of these concern on the extension jobs at Burnpur and Kulti should not be less than Rs. 2.25 nP. per day and whoever is receiving less than this should be compensated by the difference in the shape of D.A. My award, therefore, on issue No. 1 is that the lowest paid workmen in the employ of these three principal contractors, namely, Messrs. B. B. J. Construction & Co. Ltd., Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds India Private Ltd. should be compensated by a dearness allowance the amount of which will be equal to the difference between Rs. 2.25 nP. and their existing wages.

The sole witness on behalf of Messrs. Simon arves is Shri D. W. Gaitonde, witness No. 11 for e second party. He says that they were paying s. 1-10 and Rs. 1-6 to male and female workers spectively on 1st January 1958 and they did give ncrements as well in 1958. Their Attendance Register Ext. NN up to 21st May 1958 shows that the minimum wages were Rs. 1.37 nP. that is Re. 1-6 to female workers. As regards increment Shri Gaitonde says that they gave increments to other categories of workers as well in 1958 and they filed documents showing the increasing rates for male and female workers. There was no challenge to this statement of his in his cross-examination. Ext. NN which includes the daily attendance of workmen of Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. for December 1957 and January 1958 shows that it gave annas 2 increments to some of its workmen and annas 4 to others. It does not appear on what principle these increments of annas 2 were given to some and of annas 4 to others. I think in the case of those workmen of Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. who are still engaged at Burnpur or Kulti sites in the extension work entrusted to it, a D.A., should be paid so as to make the total emoluments of the lowest paid workers equivalent to Rs. 2.25 nP. per day whether they are male or female, or in other words, the D.A. payable to a workman is to be made equal to the difference between Rs. 2.25 nP. and the actual wages he or she is receiving at present.

The same award is made in the case of Messrs. Lodge Cetterel and nine sub-contaractors (1) Messrs. Paul & Roy, (2) Messrs. Majhi & Mondal, (3) Messrs Modern Construction Co. Ltd. ,(4) Messrs. K. V. Karan, (5) Messrs. Mela Singh, (6) Messrs. Moti Lall Kerat, (7) Messrs. Manasharam, (8) Messrs. H. L. Dhiman, and (9) Messrs. Scott & Pickstock which though served with notices, did not file any written statement, provided any of them is still engaged in in the extension work entrusted to it at Burnpur and Kulti sites and if any of them is not so engaged, the award will not be applicable to it.

Issue No. 6:

It appears from the evidence of Shri Supravat Mitter witness No. 9 for the second party who deposed on behalf of Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd. that this Company gave to all its unskilled workmen increments on 1st January 1958 and to other workmen also in 1958, with effect from 1st January 1958. He further says that to the unskilled workmen they gave general increments on 1st January 1958 as a result of the concilation proceedings before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansol, and to those who were not unskilled workmen, they gave increments between 2 annas and 4 annas per day with effect from 1st January 1958. This statement in his examination-in-chief was not challenged in cross-examination. It appears, however, from the Muster Rolls and Pay Sheets of the Company for February, 1957 and February 1958, Ext. CCC and Ext. DDD, respectively that all the workmen did not get the benefit of this increment and that those of the skilled workmen who were in receipt of wages below Rs. 4 got an increment of two annas per day and those who were drawing Rs. 4 per day or more got an increment of four annas per day. It appears that unskilled workmen, whatever the rates of their daily wages were, got an increment of two annas per day. The sole witness for Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds India Private Ltd. Shri Premlal Pasracha, second party witness No. 12, says in his examination-in-chief that they did not give any general increment on 1st January 1958 and at the same time he said that he gave an increment to all categories of their workmen in 1958. These two sentences in his evidence can only mean that although no general increment was given on 1st January 1958 an increment was given to every one later in the year 1958. There was no cross-examination of this witness at all. Ext. EE which is the register of wages of the Company at Burnpur for December of 1957 and March 1958, March 1959, March 1960 and March 1961 does not however show that any increments were given in the year 1958. It may of course be that there was a general increment to all categories of workmen later in 1958. But as no evidence has been produced to show that it has got to be held that no such increments were given although the unchallenged testimony of Shri Premlal Pasracha is to that effect.

Shri Lewis Duxbury, the sole witness for Messrs. English Electric Co. Ltd., does not say anything as regards any increment being given to its workmen in 1958 nor did the Company produce any relevant papers to show that any such increments were given. It must, therefore, be held that this Company did not give any increment to its workmen in 1958 and that Messrs. B. B. J. Construction Co. Ltd. gave some increments to some of its workmen and not all and Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds India Private Ltd. did not give any increment in 1958. My award therefore on this issue is that those workmen of these three companies who are still in their employ in connection with the extension work at Burnpur and Kulti sites and who have been in continuous employment for at least one year under one or the other of these principal contractors, will receive an increment of two annas or four annas according as his total daily emoluments including basic wages and D.A., if any, are below Rs. 4 or Rs. 4 or above irrespective of whether they are skilled or unskilled. Those however of the workmen of these companies employed in connection with its extension work at Burnpur and Kulti sites who have already got increments on 1st January 1958 will be excluded from this award because the issue No. 6 specifically contemplates the cases of those who have not been benefited by the announcement effective from 1st January 1958.

An increment or annas 2 should be granted to everyone who has completed at least one year in the employ of Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. in the extension job and who is still in its employ if his daily wages are bleow Rs. 4 and of -/4/- if his daily wages are either Rs. 4 or above. This award of course would be applicable to Messrs. Simon Carves Ltd. only if it is still engaged in its extension work at Burnpur or Kulti and only to these of its workmen who are still in its employ there in that work.

The same award is made in the case Messrs. Ladge Cotterel Ltd. and nine sub-contractors, namely, (1) Messrs. Paul & Roy, (2) Messrs. Majhi & Mondal (3) Messrs. Modern Construction Co. Ltd., (4) Messrs. K. V. Karan, (5) Messrs. Mela Singh, (6) Messrs. Moti Lall Kerat, (7) Messrs. Manasharam, (8) Messrs. H. K. Dhiman and (9) Messrs. Scott and Pickstock, which though served with notices did not file any written statement, provided any of them is still engaged in the extension work entrusted to it at Burnpur and Kulti sites and if any of them is not so engaged, the award will not be applicable to it.

This award will have effect from the 1st October, 1961.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Mahavir and Co., 54 Ezra Street, Calcutta-1 and their workmen represented by Calcutta Traders and Merchants Workers' Association, Commercial Buildings, Block No. 3 (2nd floor), 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1.

(Case No. VIII-597/60.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C PAL, M.A., LL.B., Judge.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri A K Bhattacherjee, Counsel

For the Union: Shri I P Chatterjee, Advocate.

This reference has been made to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No 5880-I.R. IR 11-487/60, dated 16th November 1960, for determination of the issue, namely:

"Whether the termination of employment of Shri Tashildar Singh is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?"

In the written statement filed by the Calcutta Traders and Merchants Workers' Association (hereinafter briefly called Association) on behalf of the aggrieved workman, Shri Tashildar Singh, the following case has been made out. This Tashildar Singh was employed as a Sirker by Messrs. Mahavir & Co. (hereinafter called Company) and he served for eight years. On 23rd April 1960 he took one month's leave and went home in the up-country. He became seriously ill and bed-ridden at home, and so he sent application, supported by medical certificate, for extension of his leave. On 4th August 1960, immediately after his recovery and on the expiry of his extended leave, he came back and reported to his duty and worked there for the whole day. At the end of that day the Management told him that he was dismissed from service, without any reason being shown and without any opportunity being given to defend himself. He was an active organiser of the Association and this infuriated the Company which dismissed him by way of victimisation and with mala fide intention. A Charter of Demands was placed by the Association before the Company, the matter being still pending before the Conciliation Officer. This added to the rage of the Company which took resort to the unfair means to dismiss the workmen. On these allegations, the Association prays for declaring dismissal of the workman as unjustified and for his reinstatement with all back pay.

The case of the Company, as per written statement filed by it, is this: Tashildar Singh was employed by the Company for four years continuously from 4th July 1956. No application was received from him after the expiry of authorised leave for one month only—only some medical certificates were received. On 4th August 1960 he came to the Company's office but did not do any work. On being asked to give a written explanation for unauthorised absence, he gave no reply and left the place there and then. The allegations made in the Association's written statement are entirely false and baseless. The dismissal of Tashildar Singh was based on good and justifiable reason, and it is not at all tainted with victimisation or unfairness. This dispute has no connection with the Charter of Demands. The Company next filed a petition taking a legal objection as to the maintainability of the reference on the grounds that this was a reference at the instance of a single workman and hence there could be no industrial dispute, that there was no Union of the workers of this Company. It is said, therefore, that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to try this case.

I first propose to deal with the legal objection. It cannot be gainsaid that a reference cannot lie at the instance of a single individual workman unless his cause is taken up by at least the majority of workmen or by a Union of which they are members. The case of the Association is that though all the workmen or majority of the workmen under the Company have not formed a Union of their own, yet at least four or five of these workmen, including Tashildar Singh, became members of the Association which was formed in relation to different concerns dealing in tea by export and import, and that the present Company is such a dealer and hence this Association relates to this concern as well. The Association has put in four membership forms (Exts. 3—3/C) to show that Tashildar Singh and three other workmen of the Company are members of this Association. In oral evidence given by Udoyraj Tewari (P.W. 1, Assistant Secretary of the Association), Tashildar Singh (P.W. 2) and Ramdhari Verma (P.W. 3, a workman of the Company), one or two more workers of this Company have been named as being members of this particular Association. It is said for the Company that more for mentioned above do not by themselves pr membership. This contention is not valid. Th is oral evidence to prove the membership of the s persons, besides the forms (Exts. 3—3/C). In view, their membership has been proved a although all the workmen of the Company may have concern with the Association, the disp relating to Tashildar Singh has been represented his behalf by the Association itself. Hence it be held that it is not a case of individual dispute the true sense. Accordingly this prelimin objection fails.

Now I turn to the question of merits of the ca It is an admitted fact that Tashildar Singh w granted one month's leave with effect from 2 April 1960 and he did not came back before August 1960. According to Tashildar (P.W. 2), fell seriously ill at home and sent applicatio successively, along with medical certificates (Exts. G and J), and got extension of leave, and on recovery he came on 4th August 1960, reported duty and did his works on that day. It is said th at the end of the day he was told that he w dismissed. It is rather improbable that he wou have been allowed to do works on that day and th told about his dismissal with effect from son previous date. If the Company had at all decid to dismiss him and actually dismissed him befo that date, he would not have been at all allowed do any work on 4th August 1960. P.W. 1 says th from Tashildar he learnt that he was not allowed do any work. This is the probable thing, no doubt Admittedly, the period of one month's leav granted to Tashildar Singh expired on 22nd M 1960. His case is that he got extension by sendin applications and medical certificates. The Compan admits having received medical certificates only, n applications. The fact of sending formal applicatio for extension of leave may or may not be correc But the fact remains that three medical certificate were sent, one after another. This indicates tha Tashildar really intended to get his leave extended On 25th May 1960 (two days after the period of on month's admitted leave) the Company sent telegram to Tashildar Singh, asking him "Join dut immediately." (Ext. B.) This was followed by confirmatory letter (Ext. C). On 1st June 196 another telegram (Ext. E), followed by a simila letter (Ext. F), was sent, stating "Last reminder- join duty immediately- latest 5th June." The third and the last telegram (Ext. H), followed by another letter of confirmatory nature, was sent on 28th June 1960, stating this: "Refer our telegram, dated 1/6. As you have not joined your services are no longer required. You can call for settlement of accounts." Tashildar does not remember having received such telegrams or confirmatory letters. There may be attempt on his part to suppress the fact about telegrams. But this is not very material in view of other facts and circumstances. It is to be noted that the medical certificates were sent after those dates of telegram. This indicates that the addressee might have got the telegrams and then sent the medical certificates.

In Ext. H, no mention is made as to from which date the services of Tashildar were terminated. From Ext. E, it is seen that the last date of resuming work was given to be 5th June 1960 which was exactly two weeks after the original period of one month's leave was over. So that period can be nstrued as extension period. The employers did ot terminate the workman's services from 6th May 960, and waited till 28th June 1960 to send the ird telegram intimating termination of service. If be taken that the dismissal took effect from 28th ne 1960, then up to that date there was extension f leave. To top all, in paragraph 5 of the Company's ritten statement it is clearly stated that as ashildar's arrived on 4th August 1960 he was asked give a written explanation for unauthorised sence. If he was dismissed before, there is no roper reason or explanation why he was asked to bmit written explanation on 4th August 1960. It in evidence on the side of the Company that, as ashildar was not coming back and its works were ffering much, another man was employed in his lace on higher pay—excess amount being Rs. 15. ven if that be so, there was something fundamentally rong in the matter of Tashildar's dismissal. He as not given any opportunity to defend himself. here was no charge-sheet or domestic enquiry gainst him. So the Company's act offended against he principle of natural justice, if not anything else. here was thus basic error and illegality in regard his dismissal, which cannot be justified. The sue, therefore, is decided in his favour. He is ntitled to get the reliefs asked for.

The Company is therefore directed to reinstate ashildar Singh within a month from the date of ublication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette", ith continuity of his service, and to pay him all ack wages till his reinstatement.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Vijoy Iron Foundry, 6 Ramkrishna Mandirpath, North Bantra, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Beneras Road, Salkia, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-385/60.)

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal

For the Company: Shri Sailesh Chandra Bhattacharjee with Shri A. K. Sarkar and Shri B Das

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the schedule to the order of reference and reproduced below was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1951-I.R./IR/10L-40/59, dated 19th March 1959, and the same dispute was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4209-I.R./IR/10L-40/59, dated 9th August 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference after the abolition of the said Court.

The only issue referred for decision stands thus:—

Issue

1. Bonus payable in 1958.

The Union has come forward with the case that the trading result of the Company for the year 1958 left it with sufficient profit to justify payment of two months' wages as bonus to the workmen. The Company has, on the other hand, contended that in the trading year 1958 the Company incurred heavy financial loss and as such the claim for bonus is not maintainable at all.

The evidence produced in this case is rather sh in extent. The Company has produced its balan sheets containing trading and profit and loss accou for the years 1957 and 1958 (Exts. A and B) and t account books containing entries [Exts. C and C(1 which were proved in support of certain item entries in the balance-sheet which were challeng in cross-examination of the only witness examin for the Company, O.P.W. 1 Shri Atmaram Goswa the Accountant of the Company. The Union h not produced any evidence, oral or documenta but it has only submitted a written comment on balance-sheet for the year 1958. In this comme it has been attempted to show practically by reco truction of the profit and loss account as given the balance-sheet that there was a profit Rs. 1,13,272.14 nP. or at least Rs. 53,272.14 nP the trading year 1958. According to the Compar balance-sheet and profit and loss account contain therein, there was absolutely no profit in the trad year 1958 but, on the contrary, there was a t loss of Rs. 84,426.30nP. (vide Ext. B). The Comp has based it whole case against the Union's claim bonus for 1958 upon the aforesaid balance-sh The balance-sheet was prepared by a firm chartered accountants. It is now well settled as a general rule the balance-sheet and the st ment of the profit and loss account contain therein should be accepted without submitting same to a close scrutiny except where it appe that entries have been made on the debit s deliberately and mala fide to reduce the amount gross profits and in such a case, it would be open the Tribunal to examine the question and to dec whether the impugned entries have been made m fide and if it finds that the impugned entries h been made mala fide, it would certainly disall them. It is further well settled that it would open to the parties to claim the exclusion of so challenged items either on the credit or on the de side on the ground that the impugned items wholly extraneous and unrelated to the trading p fits of the year and in such a case the Tribunal m consider the plea but in doing so it must resist temptation of dissecting the balance-sheet minutely or of attempting to reconstruct it in manner. The aforesaid principles have been l down in the case of A.C.C. and Ors vs their wo men [vide 1959(I) L.L.J. page 644 at page 66 These principles must be applied in the present c too. Here, except for the attempt at reconstr tion of the profit and loss account in the writ comment filed by the Union, there is practically challenge to the balance-sheet and profit and l account or to any particular item thereof T reconstruction of the account has also been sou to be made on the basis of the figures taken fr the balance-sheet itself. I have carefully consider the reconstruction of the account on the basis the balance-sheet for the year 1958 in the Unio comment in the light of the balance-sheet its and the evidence produced by the Company and am clearly of the view that neither the balan sheet and profit and loss account as a whole, n any part or item of it has been shown to be m fide or entered diliberately with a view to reduc profits and falsely showing loss to the extent Rs. 84,487.05 nP. No satisfactory explanation as the method of reconstruction was furnished at t hearing. In the Union's comment, the total cre has been shown as Rs. 16,53,930.99 nP. and this cre is been shown as the total of the following ems:

		Rs.
Sale proceeds	...	11,94,299.09
Stock in trade	...	4,44,170.96
Cash in hand	...	15,460.94

nd the total debit has been shown as s. 15,40.658.85 and this amount has been shown s the total of the following items:

		Rs.
Opening stock	..	2,61,933.33
Exp. as per balance-sheet	..	11,34,380.22
Exp. as per balance-sheet	...	1,44,345.30

The difference between the aforesaid credit and ebit has been shown as profit of Rs. 1,13,272.14, the alternative profit of Rs. 53,272.14 has been wn by deducting 6 per cent. return on the loans wn in the balance-sheet. In my view, the afore- reconstruction of the account is rather hazard and unsustainable. It is nothing but a ection of certain figures either on the credit or the debit side from the balance-sheet itself hout showing any reason why these particular ns only should be chosen to the exclusion of the er items on the credit and debit sides as shown the balance-sheet, according to which there was otal loss of Rs. 84,426.30 nP. In fact, no isfactory explanation has been offered to me as to w the second and the third items on the debit e was collected. The opening stock of 2,61,933.33 is of course there in the profit and s account contained in the balance-sheet. In t, the Union has not placed any satisfactory aterial before me on the basis of which it would justifiable to reject the balance-sheet and the ofit and loss account contained in it as a whole or y part or item of the same. I have already ticated above that practically no dispute has been sed about any particular item in the balance- eet and profit and loss account either on the debit on the credit side. I should record here that in e cross-examination of O.P.W. 1 Shri Atmaram oswami, some challenge was raised regarding the nount of Rs. 1,98,915.79 nP. shown as wages of e factory workers, but this witness supported this nount by proving the entry in the account book hit. C) which was an entry of this very same nount in the account book of the Company.

fter carefully considering all the above facts and umstances, I am fully satisfied that it is a case re the general rule of acceptance of the balance- et of the Company for the purpose of determining ether there was profit or loss to the Company in trading year 1958 should be applied without any dification or limitation. So, fully accepting and ing on the balance-sheet of the bonus year in estion (Ext. B), I hold that the trading result of t year was that the Company did not make any ofit at all but, on the contrary, suffered a nett loss Rs. 84,426.30 nP. The claim for bonus for 1958 mittedly relates to profit sharing bonus. When re was no profit at all, but on the contrary, there s loss to the Company, there can be no question granting any bonus to the workmen as claimed the Union. The claim of the Union must, efore, fail.

On the above decisions, I award that no bonus is payable for the year 1958 to the workmen of the Company.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Moraghat Tea Estate, P.O. Binnaguri, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by the Dooars Chai Bagan Mazdoor Sangh, P.O. Hamiltonganj, Jalpaiguri. (Case No. VIII-238/60.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors, Shri D. P. Agarwalla, Advocate and Mr. H. L. Hammond, Manager, Moraghat Tea Estate.

For the Union: Shri N. Roy, Advocate, with Shri D. Pal, Secretary of the Union.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the schedule to the order of reference and reproduced below was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4086-I.R./IR/9L-49/59, dated 21st August 1959, and the same dispute was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3647-I.R./IR 9L-49/59, dated 20th July 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference after the abolition of the said Court.

The only issue referred for adjudication stands thus:

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Kamakhya Dutta is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After service of usual notices of the present reference issued by this Tribunal upon the parties, the Union appeared and adopted the written statement it had already filed before the First Labour Court and then the Company filed its own written statement. After the usual preliminary proceedings, the case was finally fixed for hearing at Darjeeling on 27th September 1961 and 28th September 1961. At Darjeeling, the case was partly heard on 27th September 1961 and then it was adjourned to the next date on the prayer of the Union. On 28th September 1961, the parties did not proceed with the further hearing of the case, but filed a joint petition of compromise setting out the terms upon which the dispute had been amicably settled between them and praying for an award on the basis of those terms. I heard the learned lawyers appearing on both sides regarding the terms of settlement.

I have given careful consideration to the respective cases of the parties as contained in their written statements and also to the terms of settlement given in the joint petition of compromise. I am satisfied that the terms of compromise are quite fair and reasonable and there has been a bona fide compromise of the dispute between the parties on those terms The compromise should be given effect to and an award should be made on its basis.

In the result, I make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties before the Tribunal on 28th September 1961, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure thereto.

Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

Immediately thereafter notices were issued to both parties who entered appearance in time. The Union was not quite diligent to file written statement of claim in time. After several adjournments written statement of claim was filed by the Union on 1st July 1960. The Company too followed the suit and took as many as eight adjournments and lastly on payments of adjournment costs of Rs. 25 filed written statement on 24th January 1961. Ultimately, however, there was a happy end of the disputes under reference and both parties came to terms. They filed a joint petition of compromise on 28th September 1961 embodying the terms of settlement in respect of all the four issues formulated in the order of reference.

Perused the joint petition of compromise and considered the terms of settlement and found them to be fair and reasonable. AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Depart- ent of Labour, by order No. 1689-I.R./IR/10L-2/61, dated 4th April 1961, referred, under sections A and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs Otis Elevator Co. (India) Private Ltd., 207 Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-17, and their workmen represented by the Otis Elevator Employees' Union, 3 Commercial Buildings (2nd floor), 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, relating to the under- mentioned issues to this Tribunal for adjudication:

Issues

1. Grades and scales of pay.
2. Leave and holidays.

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 12th April 1961, notices were served upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

Issue No. 1:

The workmen represented by Otis Elevator Employees' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed their written statement on 29th April 1961. It appears from the written statement filed by the Union that this Company has got its Head Office at Bombay and Branch Offices in Calcutta and New Delhi. The Company undertakes the maintenance job of Escalators and their repairs as covered by the Company's Maintenance Contracts with the parties. Before 1st September 1954, Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., happened to be the Managing Agents of this Company and since then this Company started functioning in their old trade name independently and since then the Company made huge expansion of the business and converted itself into a public limited company with effect from 28th March 1961 which greatly increased its finance capital. According to the version of the Union, with the formation of the independent concern, all employees previously working under Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. became the direct employees of this Company. Even though the workmen were entitled to the grades and scales of pay in the same manner and way as enjoyed by the employees of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. they are deprived of such benefits after 1954, so much so that there is at present no grade or scale for the workmen. The Union, to mitigate the grievances of the workmen, placed some suggestions as to grades and scales of pay and other conditions of service by their letter, dated 7th March 1959, which is made Annexure A to the Union's written statement. On the basis of that demand, the Labour Directorate made attempts to bring about conciliation, which, however, failed and therefore this reference has been made to this Tribunal.

Messrs. Otis Elevator Co. (India) Private Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed their written statement on 13th July 1961. It is admitted by the Company that the Agency Agreement with Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. expired on 1st January 1954 and that this Company offered engagement to the employees who were in the employment of that Company under new terms and conditions, and after that the Company had no responsibility in respect of the past service of the workmen of the old employer. It is thus contended that these workmen have no claim with respect to terms and conditions of service applicable to the employees of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Besides, it is contended that there are only eight employees involved in this dispute and fixation of any grade or scale of pay for such a few workmen would be inappropriate and unwarranted.

At the time of hearing, two witnesses, Shri Nani Gopal Banerjee and Shri Santosh Kumar Banerjee, were examined by the Union, while the Company examined their Branch Manager, Shri G. P. Khungar.

Admittedly, there is no grade or scale of pay for the clerical and subordinate staff employed in this concern. According to the version of the Company, there are in all six clerks, including two Steno-cum-Typists. It appears from the statement in Ext. B filed by the Company that out of these six clerks, Shri N. G. Banerjee and Shri K. K. Sinha were employees of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. at the time of discontinuance of the Managing Agents. From the statement filed by the Union, Ext. 4, it appears that the basic pay of the Clerks remained stationary since 1957. This is really an unsatis- factory position. The employees obviously secure some efficiency in work with the passing of time and so, unless there is an incremental scale, there remains no incentive for work and increase in efficiency. The Company maintains and repairs installations which are covered by the Company's Maintenance Contracts and the only business of the Company is regarding installation, adjustment and testing of Elevators and Escalators. But at the same time, there is no controversy on the point that the workmen are to do clerical work The learned representative for the Company urged that it would be appropriate in the circumstances to give the Clerks the scales of pay applicable to the Clerks in Engineering concerns which had been fixed at Rs. 65—135 (20 years) and Rs. 75—165 (20 years) for the Matriculate and Graduate Clerks, respectively, awarded by the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal, as published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 5th November 1958. Considering the nature of the business carried on by the Company from the Calcutta Office, I have no doubt that they should be guided in accordance with the scales of pay generally applicable to the mercantile firms. It is true that Shri Nani Gopal Banerjee and Shri Santosh Kumar Banerjee were given fresh appointments by the Company, as evidenced by the letters marked Exts. A and A(1), dated 15th September 1954. They also received full payment of the balance of the Provident Fund account from Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Considering the evidence, I have no doubt that there was complete termination of employment with respect to these two persons by Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. and that they were appointed as new recruits by this Company. The question, however, arises for consideration as to what should be the particular scale of pay for the clerical staff. It appears from the statement filed by the Union in Ext. 5 that there are as many as five grades of pay applicable to the clerical staff. The number of employees in this Company being rather too small, I think that introduction of too many scales of pay would lead to discontent of the employees. It would appear from the statement in Ext. 4 that five of the Clerks are drawing salary between Rs. 77 and Rs. 127-8. All of them are under-graduates. The Union, in its written statement, demanded two grades and scales of pay for the clerical staff as follows:

Grade B: Rs. 70—160 (15 years).

It is now well settled that the minimum pay of the Clerks in mercantile firms should not be below Rs. 70. It is also to be noted that the maximum pay in the scale would be about 2½ times the starting pay and that the lower scale should be long-spanned. At the time of argument, the learned representative of the workmen, Shri Jiten Banerjee, pressed that the scale of pay awarded in the case of Messrs. Harrison & Crossfield (vide "Calcutta Gazette", dated 5th February 1955), viz., Rs. 75—5—110—6—140—E.B.—10—190 should be prescribed for the lower grade clerks, in which category should be placed Shri S. N. Chatterjee, Shri Santosh Kumar Banerjee, Shri N. K. Sarkar and Shri S. N. Sil. Considering the nature of work done by the Celrks, which appear to be more or less of the routine type, I lay down a scale of pay at Rs. 70—5—120—6—180 (20 years) with efficiency bar at the 11th stage. I do not find sufficient reason to prescribe any other scale of pay and, therefore, all the Clerks including Shri N. G. Banerjee and Shri M. L. Ghosh should be placed in that grade. Shri K. K. Sinha, the Senior Typist, who is drawing Rs. 245, is aged 58 years. His wages as paid by the Company appears to be not unreasonable. Obviously he is due to retire after a few years. The only point of grievance for this Clerk is that he got no increment since 1957. For him, I prescribe a scale at Rs. 160—10—260, which is the topmost grade usually prescribed for the employees in the mercantile firms. The Union has urged that the scale of pay for Shri C. I. Xavier, who is Estimator, should also be prescribed. He is member of the technical staff and no grievance w respect to him had been made out in the writ statement and, therefore, I make it clear that scale of pay as laid down by me should not applicable to him.

It appears from the evidence that Shri N. Sarkar, who has been promoted from a Peon to position of a Sub-Clerk and his duty is more or l in the nature of a Bill Clerk, is now getting Rs. I prescribe a scale at Rs. 60—3—90—4—1 (15 years) for him.

Besides the clerical staff, there is a Driver draw Rs. 65 and a Peon drawing Rs. 30. They also no increment since 1957. For the Driver, I prescr a scale at Rs. 60—1—65—2—75 and for the Off Peon a scale at Rs. 30—1—35—½—42½.

Regarding adjustment of pay of these persons the proposed scales, I direct that their pay be fix allowing one increment in the proposed scale al pulling up the wages, if necessary, to the next sta in the proposed scale.

It may be mentioned here that in considering t wage structure, I have taken into account the fa that the workmen enjoy dearness allowan according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce rul and tiffin allowance at Rs. 20 for the Clerks and lesser amount for others.

Issue No. 2:

The Union demands better leave facilities for th workmen. The workmen now enjoy 14 day privilege leave with full pay in a year, which cumulative up to 28 days. Under section 12 of th Bengal Shops and Establishments Act of 1940, person employed in commercial establishmen becomes entitled to the same amount of leave aft 12 months of continuous employment. I find tha some Companies, e.g., Messrs. Steel Brothers Lt and Messrs. Andrew Yule & Co. Ltd. permit greate period of leave in a year to employees who ha served for more than 10 years. I leave the provisio as to privilege leave as it is, subject to the modific tion that an employee after 10 years' of service in thi Company would earn privilege leave at 21 days i a year cumulative up to 42 days. The clerical staf enjoy 10 days' casual leave and the subordinate staf get four days' casual leave. The provision i adequate so far as the clerical staff is concerned For subordinate staff, it is awarded that they should get five days' causual leave with full pay and five days' casual leave without pay in a year.

The clerical staff enjoy seven days' sick leave with full pay and the subordinate staff 15 days' sick leave with half pay. There is no provision regarding accumulation of such kind of leave. Some provision regarding accumulation of leave would obviously be made. I, therefore, direct that for the clerical staff tegarding holidays, I find that all the workmen ept the Driver get the holidays as declared under Negotiable Instruments Act. I have already reased the number of days to be enjoyed as casual ve and the benefit of the same would be enjoyed the Driver as well. I do not find any reason to ke any change with respect to the existing rules arding holidays.

ie it noted that Shri Sarkar, the Sub-Clerk, would ve the option to be guided by either of the two kinds of leave rules prescribed for the clerical staff and the subordinate staff.

AWARD

By its order No. 4402-I.R. IR 10L-141/61, dated the 15th July 1961, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between Messrs. Dutson Engineering Co Private Ltd., and their workmen represented by G.T.R. Workers' Union on the following issues:-

(1) Pay scale

(2) Dearness allowance.

(3) Bonus for the years 1958 and 1959.

(4) Whether the management is justified in refusing employment to Sarbashri Jatindra Nath Adhikari, Sambhu Charan Das and Sukumar Dolui? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

When the Union was called upon to file its written statement, it took time and ultimately instead of filing written statement, filed jointly with the Management a petition of compromise to which a memorandum of settlement was annexed as annexure A.

While going through the petition of compromise and the memorandum of settlement I found out that in some copies of the memorandum the words in the fourth line from the bottom of the first page were "will will" and in some copies they were "will not" and further that in paragraph 6 of the 2nd page, the amount of Rs. 100 was payable to the three retrenched workmen Sarbashri Jatindra Nath Adhikari, Sukumar Dolui and Sambhu Charan Das, but there was no mention how the amount was to be distributed among the three.

The parties corrected the copies of the memorandum where the words "will will" occurred in the 4th line from the bottom of the first page by the words "will not" occurring in some of the copies and a copy of the receipt showing the payment of Rs. 100 to the three discharged workmen in the following manner has also been filed.

Shri Jatindra Nath Adhikari– Rs. 34.

Shri Sambhu Charan Das—Rs. 33.

As all the issues have been amicably settled and as there is nothing unreasonable or unfair in the settlement I accept the petition of compromise and the memorandum of settlement annexed to it and pass an award on the basis thereof. The petition of compromise and the memorandum of settlement as corrected by the parties will form part of the award.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by Shri Rabindra Mukherjee who was admittedly a workman of the Dishergarh Power Supply Co. Ltd. at Sanctoria complaining that the termination of his services with effect from 1st September 1960 without the approval of the Tribunal before which a reference under section 10 made on the 27th December 1958, amended by subsequent orders, dated the 23rd March 1959, and the 20th April 1959, was pending that was in contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and consequently there should be an award directing his reinstatement. Dishergarh Power Supply Co. Ltd. pleaded in its written statement inter alia that the services of the applicant Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherjee who was a probationer had been terminated by the Company strictly in conformity with the terms and conditions of its letter of appointment of which a copy is annexed to the written statement as Annexure A. It is thus the case of the Company that no action having been taken for any misconduct under section 33(2)(b) and the proviso thereto the provisions of section 33A are not attracted to the facts of this case.

The applicant examined himself and on behalf of the Company its Superintending Engineer, Operation and Maintenance, was examined. Certain documents were also marked exhibits on both sides. Ext. 1 is the letter of appointment of the applicant as a learner (Distribution), dated 22nd July 1958. It is stated in the letter that the Company was prepared to give him the post of a Learner (Distribution) for a period of 12 months, which may be extended if required. It is definitely stated in the letter that on receipt of a favourable report on his work and conduct during his training period he would be considered for appointment on probation in the grade of Sub-station Attendant. It is admitted that at the end of one year the applicant was appointed as probationer sub-station attendant. It is the case of the applicant that during his period of probation he got an increment of salary in May 1960, though prior to that he had no increment. While he was still Learner he was called upon by Ext. 2, dated the 1st July 1959, to appear at a test as to the knowledge gained by him about the operation of Gears. Evidently, he satisfied the Board of Interview in that test. Thereafter by Ext. 3 he was offered by the Company to be employed on probation as sub-station attendant from the 1st August 1959. Paragraph 2 of this letter makes it clear that subject to the provisions of paragraph 10 of this letter he would be on probation for an initial period of 12 months, and if found satisfactory, his probationary period and his confirmation will be determined as per paragraph 3 within a period of one year. Paragraph 3 speaks about confirmation and says that on receipt of a favourable report on his work and conduct during his probationary service he would at the end of that period be confirmed in his employment. Paragraph 10 provides that during his probationary period his services may be terminated without notice. Admittedly, the probation began with effect from the 1st of August 1959. Admittedly again on the 20th June 1960 Shri Rabindra Mukherjee was called upon to appear before a Board of Interview consisting of three officers for a test, and after this interview he was given a warning by Ext. 4, dated the 21st June 1960. This letter (Ext. 4) tells him that when he appeared on the 20th June 1960 before a Board of Examiners at Dishergarh Power Station with the intention to prove his knowledge and ability as an attendant at the end of 11 months' probation he failed to convince them of his intelligence and readiness in grasping the job which indicated that considerable improvement was necessary. It was also stated there that this letter should be treated as a final and last warning and that he should note that while the Company agreed to give him a grace period of another 1 month from the date of interview to improve himself, this period would not be extended any further and there would be another interview sometime in the 3rd week of July 1960 and if he failed to satisfy the Board at the end of this period his services would be forthwith terminated. There was admittedly a second interview held about a month later and then Ext. 5, dated the 22nd July 1960 was issued. By this his services were terminated. This letter tells Shri Rabindra Mukherjee that once again he failed to satisfy the Board of his knowledge and ability as a sub-station attendant and the Company had no option but to terminate his services with effect from the 1st September 1960 and he was asked to collect his dues from the District Engineer, Dishergarh. Shri Rabindra Mukherjee says he gave satisfactory answers to all the questions put to him by the members of the Board of Interview. But Shri Barun Chanda, the Superintending Engineer, Operation & Maintenance, who was one of the members of the Board of Interview on both the occasions gives a different version. He says in the first interview very fundamental questions concerning his operational duties at the sub-station were put to Shri Mukherjee and Shri Mukherjee failed to satisfy them by his answers. In the second interview also they asked fundamental questions concerning operational duties which he is expected to know but Shri Mukherjee failed to satisfy the Board of Examiners even on that occasion. Shri Mukherjee says in his evidence that during the interview a question was put to him whether there was a police report against him and whether he had a history of political work behind him and that he answered both the questions in the negative. Shri Chanda however, denies all this and says that the Company had no ill-feeling against him. In cross-examination Shri Chanda was questioned as to whether the Board of Interview used to keep any minutes of its proceedings after an interview was over and he said that no such minutes used to be kept. The mere fact that no minutes are recorded of the proceedings of the Board of Interview is really no reason why the evidence of a responsible officer like Shri Chanda should be brushed aside particularly when there is nothing whatever to suggest any motive on the part of the Company or any of its officers for an unwarranted termination of Shri Mukherjee's services and when the sole evidence in favour of the applicant is that of the applicant himself who after all, even if he is absolutely honest in his opinion about it, cannot be held to be a good judge of the adequacy or the satisfactoriness of his own answers to the questions put to him.

Mr. Pathak during his arguments tried to make a point that in the Standing Orders of the Company there is no category of employees known as

ers. But admittedly Shri Rabindra N. Muk- was appointed as a Learner and had been oted from that position to the position of a ation attendant on probation. Even if, lore, Shri Pathak was right, it would hardly mattered. But Shri Pathak is evidently not when he says that there is no category called ers provided for in the Standing Orders. ugh no category is actually mentioned as ers, paragraph 2(f) providing for apprentices y has in view the appointment of Learners. ns as follows:

"Apprentices: Those who are approved Learners and who may be paid subsistence allowance as agreed at the beginning of their apprenticeship."

ently, therefore, before a man can be taken an apprentice he is to go through the stage of rner and it is only if as a learner his services approved, that he becomes entitled to be inted an apprentice. That being so, there is no t at all in this contention of Shri Pathak.

appears that Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherjee discharged about a month after his period of ation was over on his failure to satisfy a test his knowledge and ability as a sub-station ndant. Although the services of Shri Rabindra Mukherjee were not terminated till one th after the completion of his probationary od, the examinations took place before the r of probation was completed and he was ally told before the year of probation was over his services would be terminated with effect the 1st September 1960. This termination of services had nothing to do with any misconduct its part. Consequently this is not a discharge in section 33(2)(b). Admittedly, the ground of discharge had nothing to do with the dispute red under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes

On behalf of the Company it has been argued Shri Goswami that if his discharge was not for misconduct, clearly it does not come under ion 33(2)(b) nor does it come under section)(a) because according to Shri Goswami this was really any alteration in the conditions of his ice, for an alteration in the conditions of a 's service presupposes the continuation of his ice, so that if the service itself is terminated, cannot be said to amount to any alteration in conditions of service.

hat the discharge of a man on probation on the und of his failure to satisfy a test of his efficiency sub-station attendant is not covered by section 2)(b) is quite clear, but I am inclined to think t a discharge on any other ground than miscon- t would come under section 33(2)(a) because the nination of the service of a man is the most damental and serious alteration in the condi- ns of his service, there being a normal presump- n in favour of the continuity of one's service. hen a man is employed he is expected to continue that employment, unless of course he is ployed for a fixed term and if he fulfils all the ditions favouring his continuity in his employ- nt he would be presumed to continue in service. ere may therefore, be natural presumption in our of the continuation of his service. When ever contrary to that presumption, his service minated or in other words when the bond uniting the employer and employee is snapped it is in my judgment, the most serious alteration of the conditions of service so that the termination of the services of Shri Mukherjee in this case seems to me to come under section 33(2)(a), but then, that itself is of no use to him until and unless the proviso following section 33(2)(b) can be treated as a proviso to section 33(2)(a) as well as to section 33(2)(b). That is clearly an impossible construction. As the proviso stands, it is impossible to attach it attached both to clause (a) and clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 33. There are, however, the punctuation marks at the end of clause (a) and at the end of clause (b). At the end of clause (a) there is a 'semi-colon' and at the end of clause (b) there is a 'Colon' and then there occurs the proviso. Secondly, there are the express terms of the proviso which use the word 'discharged or dismissed' used in different terms only in clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 33 and not at all in clause (a). These, to my mind, clearly indicate that the proviso cannot possibly attach to clause (a) where there is no mention of discharge or dismissal. That this is so is borne out by a decision of the Supreme Court in the case between Lord Krishna Textile Mills and its workmen, 1961, I L.L.J. 211. At page 215 their Lordships observe as follows:

"It would be noticed that even during the pendency of an industrial dispute the employer's right is now recognised to make an alteration in the conditions of service so long as it does not relate to a matter connected with the pending dispute, and this right can be exercised by him in accordance with the relevant Standing Orders. In regard to such alteration no application is required to be made and no approval required to be obtained. When an employer wants to dismiss or discharge a workmen for alleged misconduct, not connected with the dispute, he can do so in accordance with the Standing Orders, but a ban is imposed on the exercise of this power by the proviso. The proviso requires that no such workmen shall be discharged or dismissed unless two conditions are satisfied; the first is that the employee concerned should have been paid wages for one month, and the second is that an application should have been made by the employer to the appropriate authority for approval of the action taken by the employer. It is plain that whereas in cases falling under section 33(1) no action can be taken by the employer unless he has obtained previously the express permission of the appropriate authority in writing, in cases falling under sub-section (2), the employer is required to satisfy the specified conditions, but he need not necessarily obtain the previous consent in writing before he takes any action. It is obvious that in cases of alteration of conditions of service falling under section 33(2)(a) no such approval is required and the right of the employer remains unaffected by any ban."

As the proviso is a proviso only to clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act the Company was under no obligation to apply for obtaining the approval of the Tribunal before the termination of Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherjee's services, even if such a termination amounts, as I think it does, to an alteration of the conditions of his services. There was thus no contravention by the Company of the proviso to section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act in discharging Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherjee. Rabindra in his evidence says he received an increment during his period of probation. This is contradicted in the evidence of the Company. But that has got no bearing on the questions in controversy here. The application must accordingly be dismissed.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 2766-I.R./IR/10L-12/60, dated the 2nd June 1960, and subsequent corrigendum No. 1878-I.R./IR/10L-12/60, dated the 19th April 1961, referred to this Tribunal for adjudication an industrial dispute between Messrs. Krudd Industries Ltd., 22 Ferry Fund Road, Panihati, 24-Parganas (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Krudd Industries Workers' Union, House of Lala, Station Road, Sodepur, 24-Parganas (hereafter referred to as the Union) for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to the Tribunal for adjudication is as follow:

"Bonus for the year ending in December 1958, payable in 1959."

AWARD

The case of the workmen is that the Company is a prosperous one and that it earned a huge profit in the year 1958-59. And yet, unlike other Companies of the locality, this Company refused to pay bonus and hence this dispute.

The Company's case on the other hand is that it suffered loss to the tune of Rs. 10 Lakhs or more during the past several years, including the year 1958, and that it never paid in the past any bonus either as customary or as a condition of service to its workers. It is submitted that in 1958 alone, the Company suffered a loss of Rs. 1,99,309·90 nP.

The workmen as well as the Company in their respective written statement refer to certain other matters which are not relevant for our purpose. So, I do not make mention thereof in connection with this bonus dispute.

Decision

Bonus may be claimed broadly on three different grounds. It may be claimed as a customary one or as a condition of service. It may also be claimed out of available surplus profit if any after meeting prior charges. But I may at once observe that the workmen have not adduced any evidence oral or documentary to substantiate any one of these grounds. The only witness examined is on Company's side. There is positive evidence to show that the Company never granted any bonus to its workmen. So, there is no question of availability of bonus either as customary one or as a condition of service. It is not the case of the workmen also that the ever-past bonus either as a customary one or as a condition of service is of no time irrespective of the question of profit or loss of the Company. As to the profit bonus also, the workmen's case has no leg to stand upon. The balance sheet read with the profit and loss account (Ext. A) which has been proved to be correct, shows a net loss of Rs. 1,99,309·90 nP in the year 1958, the relevant year for our purpose. The Company suffered loss in the previous year also. This is clear from the deposition of C.P.W. 1 Shri Krishn Lal Khandelwal. So, there is no question of available surplus of profit for distribution as bonus out of profits of 1958. So, the claim for bonus is rejected without further discussion. It is needless to add that the accepted principles of law and the Full Bench Formula on the point do not entitle these workmen any bonus for the year 1958.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, and their workmen represented by the United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Burnpur (Case No. VIII-62/61.)

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 697-I.R./IR/10L-32(A)/61, dated the 15th February 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by the United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Burnpur (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication is—

Whether the termination of services of Shri A. B. Chakraborty. Ex. T. No. 160/2168 is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

The workman's case in his written statement is this: He was a permanent employee of the Company and was attached to its sheet mill (Mechanical Section). He developed symptoms of latent leprosy in March 1959 and was referred to Burnpur Hospital for a check-up. After this check-up, he was sent to the Leprosy Clinic at Asansol on 24th March 1959 for treatment and continued to receive medical treatment there. He was under the impression that he had been allowed medical leave for the relevant period. But on 24th April 1959 he was informed that his services had been terminated. Thereafter, he made frantic appeals for his re-employment, but without success. He submitted medical certificate also from the clinic showing his fitness to resume his duties, but this also failed to move the Company. Hence, this dispute before this Tribunal.

The Company's case in its written statement is this: It denies that it acted arbitrarily or in a high-handed manner in this respect. Shri Chakravorty the workmen concerned, was under the observation of company's Medical Officer for some time, who found Shri Chakraborty showing signs of attack of leprosy. So, the case was referred to Mines Board of Health, Asansol, for examination and the senior Medical Officer of the Board reported that Shri Chakravorty's case was a positive case of leprosy in its infectious stage then. At this the Chief Medical Officer of the Company declared Shri Chakravorty unfit for further service. So, the Management considered his case and was compelled to terminate his services on medical grounds, as it thought it risky to retain him in service in the interest of health of other workers. On 19th October 1959, Shri Chakraborty wrote a letter praying for his re-employment on the grounds that he had been fully cured. But for different reasons, the company failed to re-employ him as prayed for.

Decisions

In the present case, the facts are more or less admitted and the workman did neither care to appear before this Tribunal nor examine himself or anybody else on his behalf. He filed only one letter which has been marked as Ext. 1 on admission. On the other hand, the Company has examined one witness and proved several documents. From the unchallenged evidence on record, it appears that Shri Chakraborty was attacked with leprosy and that his services were terminated on medical grounds alone, as his leprosy was at infectious stage at the time. Ext. Y will show that the Senior Leprosy Officer of Asansol Mines Board of Health, after clinical and bacteriological examination, found the case of Shri Chakraborty to be a positive case of leprosy in its infectious stage then. On receipt of a report from the said Medical Officer, Chief Medical Officer of the Company Shri D. erjee, M.B., M.R.C.P. (Edin. & Lond.) considered unfit for further service (vide Ext. Y-1). Thereir the Medical Board of the Company in its ting, dated 17th April 1959, finally disposed of case (vide Ext. Y-2), and the General Manager inated Shri Chakraborty's services by a letter, d 20th April 1959, with immediate effect on lical grounds alone (vide Ext. A). From Ext. Y-3 ill appear that the Company was obliged to inate the services of other employees also iously on the ground of this fell disease. I se to believe that the Company had any animus nst the workmen concerned. There was no stion of charge-sheet or formal enquiry. The ert opinion in the matter was duly considered, d there was nothing arbitrary in the action. The rosy was in its infectious stage then, and the mpany had no reason to wait indefinitely and see Shri Chakraborty would ever become fit for vice after treatment, if any. So, there was thing wrong in the discharge of Shri Chakraborty, d I cannot interfere with the action of the Manageent in this connection. I am referred to Exhibit B-1 this connection, and it is urged that by the 1st ek of October 1959 Shri Chakraborty's case was non-infectious one. From the Medical Certificate Shri D. N. Bose read with that of Shri N. ukherjee (vide Ext. B-1), it appears that after proged treatment up to October 1959, the case passed a non-infectious stage from the original infectious ge. But it is further clear that Shri Chakraborty s not still out of woods even in October 1959, and it he required further treatment for some period re. The period of further treatment required is t stated by any Medical Officer. So, it cannot be d that Shri Chakraborty became completely cured en after eight months of detection of the disease. s case was evidently infectious at the earlier stage. en now, Shri Chakraborty may have his own son for not appearing before this Tribunal rsonally for examining himself. So, if the Company led to re-employ him on his prayer in October 1959 o under the circumstances, no malafides or illega, y can be presumed or inferred. Shri Chakraborty doubtedly deserves every sympathy and this ibunal would be most glad if the Company could anything for this poor victim of a fell disease. t law does not permit this Tribunal to interfere th the Management decision in the matter. So, ri Chakraborty is not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

After appearance of parties and preliminary proceedings relating to filing of written statements, the case was first fixed for hearing on 11th May 1961. Since then the hearing date was adjourned on several occasions, mostly on the prayers of the Company consented to by the Union, and after such adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 10th October 1961. On that date, neither party appeared, nor took any step. The total non-appearance of the parties without taking any step on 10th October 1961 clearly indicated that the parties were no longer pursuing the dispute and the dispute had ceased to exist. Accordingly, there is to be a 'no dispute' award in the present case under rule 22 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules.

In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case on the footing that the dispute has ceased to exist.

For the Company: Shri B. P. Srivastava, Personn Officer of the Company.

By an order No. 6629-I.R./IR/7L-8/59, dated th 15th December 1960, the Government of We Bengal, Labour Department, made this reference t the dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication upo the issue, namely:

Whether the discharge of Shri Bhabani Chara Bhattacharya and Shri Gouri Sankar Chatterj is justified? To what relief, if any, are th entitled?

The gist of the written statements filed by th respective Unions is this. Both the workme Shri Bhabani Bhattacharya and Shri Gouri Chatterje worked creditably as Pay Clerks for a good lengt of time under the Kankinarah Co. Ltd. (hereinafte described as the Company). The duty of Sh Bhattacharya was to assist the Head Clerk i recounting and verifying various sums of money i connection with the payment of wages departmen wise; whereas the duty of Shri Chatterjee was t assist, as the third Clerk, the work connected wit pay bills. On 1st January 1960, the pay day, th Head Clerk named Shri Mahadeb Banerjee brough the requisite money to the counter where both h and Shri Bhattacharjee checked and counted th amounts and the latter placed the sums on differen cash-trays meant for relevant departments, and nex he left the office for meal and duty in another mil controlled by the same Managing Agents. The cash trays were placed on the table where Shri Chatterjee was to keep watch over the same to see that these were taken to the various departments for disbursement. At about 2 or 2-30 p.m., one Basudeb Bhattacharya, a TimeKeeper of the mechanical department, came to take the earmarked cash-tray for his department and, on counting the money, he found shortage to the extent of Rs. 1,000. He told Shri Chatterjee who also noticed the shortage and informed the Head Clerk. The management, however, suspected both Shri Bhattacharya and Shri Chatterjee, and also the Head Clerk, and submitted charge-sheets against them on 12th January 1960 for the loss of the said amount of Rs. 1,000 and called for their explanations. They submitted explanations and an enquiry was held. The workmen concerned were not at all liable for the said loss. After the enquiry, the Company let off the Head Clerk but discharged Shri Bhattacharya and Shri Chatterjee on the ground of loss of confidence in them though the charge as to loss of money was not at all proved against them. The allegations made against them are all false and calculated to harass the workmen by way of victimisation, and their discharge is quite illegal and unjustified and was designed to get rid of these workers somehow or other. Their prayer is for reinstatement with full pay, etc.

The Company's version is this. Shri Bhattacharya and Shri Chatterjee were the Second Clerk and Pay Clerk, respectively, and they were mainly responsible to receive the cash from the Head Clerk, check and verify it as to its correctness and to distribute it to clerks concerned of various departments. On 1st January 1960, Shri Basudeb Bhattacharya came as usual to collect money for the workers of his department and found Rs. 1,000 missing from the relevant cash-tray. He reported the matter to the management which made necessary enquiries and found Shri Bhattacharya (Bhabani Babu) and Shri Chatterjee (Gouri Babu) responsible for the loss of that money. So they were charge-sheeted and they submitted their respective explanations and the management, after due enquiry, had every reason to believe that the said amount of Rs. 1,000 had been stolen in collusion with them or due to their gross negligence. So the management lost all confidence in them and discharged them in the interest of the Company. The allegations of victimisation, etc., are untrue and their discharge is quite justified.

The Company has examined three witnesses before this Tribunal, namely, Shri N. K. Chatterjee (O.P.W. 2, Senior Labour Officer) who held enquiry with two others, Shri Mahadeb Banerjee (O.P.W. 2, Head Clerk) and Shri Basudeb Bhattacharya (O.P.W. 3, Time-Keeper). On the other side, only Shri Bhabani Bhattacharya and Shri Gouri Chatterjee examined themselves. Besides, the Company has put in some papers, including the charge-sheet and the enquiry proceedings, which will be referred to in due course.

The fact as to the loss of Rs. 1,000 from the relevant cash-tray on 1st January 1960 is an undisputed fact. Cash was admittedly handled by the Head Clerk (O.P.W. 2) and workman Bhattacharya. The other workman, Chatterjee, did not handle money in the sense the other two did—he had only to watch the cash-trays kept on the table which were meant for being taken over to the various departments. On the date in question also the Head Clerk admittedly brought the money to the counter where he and Shri Bhattacharya (Bhabani Babu) counted and checked the money and the latter placed the amounts on different cash-trays, over which Shri Chatterjee (Gouri Babu) kept watch. From the cash-tray meant for the department of O.P.W. 3, Rs. 1,000 was found missing. The Company suspected both of them and the Head Clerk, called for reports and next submitted charge-sheets against these three persons. The Head Clerk was, however, let off after the domestic enquiry.

The charge brought against the two discharged persons is as follows (vide Exts. A and A/1):

> "On 1st January 1960 it was discovered by Shri Basudeb Bhattacharya that Rs. 1,000 was missing from the pay-box of "B" Mechanical Department.
> "It is suspected that this money was removed by one of the persons concerned with the cash or in conspiracy with others. You (Bhattacharya) are required to explain how this could occur particularly when it was your responsibility to check the cash and place the proper amount in the respective departmental trays. You (Chatterjee) are required to explain how this could occur particularly when it was your responsibility to watch over the cash before handing over to Department Clerks."

It is to be noted that in the charges there was no positive allegation that the Clerks concerned actually removed the money. There was only a suspicion of theft by them or by anyone else in conspiracy with them. This in a way suggests that some one else might have taken away the money with their help. It transpires in evidence here that there were many persons (Clerks) inside the room about the time the money was counted, placed on trays and also when the loss was detected. There was also a Durwan on duty about that time. Any one of those persons might have removed the money, as the suspicion suggests. But, according to evidence of Gouri Babu, as given at the enquiry, he all along kept proper watch over the trays and no money had been removed in his presence. His further inference is that the missing amount might not have been at all put on the relevant tray, as if the shortage was there even before the trays were placed for his watch. This would indirectly lead to suspicion as to Shri Bhabani Bhattacharya. But he can be exonerated on the evidence of O.P.W. 2 alone, which is as follows:

> "I checked the amount by actual counting and found it correct. Next I made over the cash to Bhabani Babu. He checked the money and found the same correct. He then split up the money and kept separate cash on each separate department tray.. No loss of money had occurred so long as the cash was with him. The loss was detected after the cash-trays were taken away from his own counter. Both Bhabani Babu and I left the office together at about 12-30 p.m. after the verification of the money was over.".

In view of that evidence given here before me, it cannot be said that Shri Bhattacharya had in any way participated in the loss of money. Similarly, no guilt of Shri Chatterjee can be established particularly when he himself did not handle the money in any way. If it be a mere suspicion, such suspicion can be spoken of in regard to any one who was present in the room. O.P.W. 2 also says that any one out of those present might have removed the money in question.

It is in evidence given here that a Police Officer came on information and went away after interrogating some Clerks, and no step was taken by him, as if nothing important had at all occurred. Nobody was searched by the management or the police. In the circumstances it would be improper and unreasonable to attach suspicion to mere two persons. The domestic enquiry (held by O.P.W. 1 and two others) also proved abortive as the charge of theft of money by those two workers individually or jointly or in conjunction with some other person or persons was not established. There was no formal report of that enquiry. O.P.W. 1 says that after the enquiry was over, they discussed the matter the same day with the Manager and, on the Manager's asking their opinion as to what could be done, they advised discharge of the two Clerks on ground of loss of confidence. Thus, in any view it cannot be said that the charge of theft by them or in conspiracy with them has been established. There may be a mere suspicion, but to act upon such suspicion or surmise would be absolutely improper and unjustified.

There are some other factors of importance. The charge-sheets were given on 12th January 1960, 11 days after the occurrence. The two Clerks submitted written explanations on 14th January 1960. The letter for enquiry is dated 17th February 1960. The enquiry itself was held on 24th February 1960. Advice for discharge was given on that very day. Yet the order of discharge was actually passed on 25th April 1960. Nobody can explain these delays. The Manager himself has not been examined to explain these things. It may be that he could not accept the suggestions of the enquiring officers and took long time to come to his decision or findings. His decision (as per Ext. F) was this:

> "The management have duly considered the explanations submitted by you both in writing as well as during the enquiry and these explanations have not been found entirely satisfactory and we are not convinced that you are not involved in the matter.
> "As the possibility of your being involved either alone or in conjunction with another or others in loss of the said Rs. 1,000.00 cannot be ruled out it will not be possible for the Management to repose full confidence in you. Therefore in the interest of the Company's work it will be necessary to terminate your services by discharge on grounds of loss of confidence. You are, therefore, hereby discharged.".

This sort of finding is no finding at all; it is quite meaningless. It is rather admitted that till the time of discharge, these two Clerks were allowed to do their respective duties, by handling cash all through as usual. How could the management repose confidence in them for nearly four months even after the occurrence? At what point of time the confidence vanished? These are questions which remain unanswered. Further, it was quite illegal on the part of the Company to discharge the two Clerks for loss of confidence, for which there was no charge at all. The charge, that was brought against them, could not be proved. I do not find any reason how they could then be punished otherwise. The policy of punishing a person for a vague reason of loss of confidence is fraught with dangerous possibilities and would lead to very serious consequences, for in such events any man can be charged with some act and, if that fails, he can be punished on mere ground of loss of confidence. Such things cannot and shou not be allowed to occur.

Considering all the facts, circumstances an evidence in the above light, I hold unhesitating that the discharge of Shri Bhabani Bhattacharya an Shri Gouri Chatterjee is quite unjustified, and th they are entitled to get the reliefs asked for. Th Company is directed to reinstate them wit continuity of service to former jobs within a mont from the date of publication of this decision in th "Calcutta Gazette" and also to pay them all thei dues from the time of their discharge till they ar reinstated.

Award is passed accordingly.

Whether the workmen are entitled to wages for the lock-out period from 13th April 1959 to 6th July 1959?

n the written statement of the Hosiery ndoor Union (hereinafter described as the ion) it makes out the case as follows:—

he employer—The New Empire Hosiery Mills reinafter described as the Company)—carries a lucrative business of high class hosiery pro-ts, and started other similar business under names and styles "Mahalakshmi Hosiery", iswanath Textile", and "International aching & Dyeing". But the conditions of the ployees have remained the same for low wages want of facilities. So they formed their ion (named above) and obtained some facilities. Company did not like it and took to various ts of unfair means to crush the Union. It gan to make false charges against some work-n and dismissed some of them. To put a stop such unfair labour practice the Union gave a ice for strike by its letter, dated the 11th April 9. Though the strike was not at all launched, the Company closed the factory on and from 13th April 1959. That lock-out was quite gal under section 23 of the Industrial Dis-es Act and in view of the pendency of a pute before the Conciliation Officer. To tify the illegal lock-out the Company made se allegations that the employees resorted to y-in strike from 6th April 1959 to 11th April 9. There was no such stay-in strike at all, her the Company did not at all supply any terials to the employees for work during that iod. The lock-out was withdrawn from 6th y 1959.

The case of the Company, as set out in its tten statement, is briefly this. The work-n resorted to an unlawful and unjustified y-in strike, refusing to accept raw materials works and held out threats and intimidations h effect from 6th April 1959 and continued t way for a full working week defying and heeding the Company's requests and instruc-ns to withdraw such activities. The Company imated those facts to the Labour Directorate l the local police-station. The situation ame very grave, and the Company, to save its chinery and equipments, had to declare lock-on and from 13th April 1959 (Monday). is lock-out continued up to 5th July 1959 and reafter the Company withdrew it after due ice to the workmen to resume work. But the rkmen made no response to that notice. The k-out was quite legal as no other alternative s left out in view of the situation prevailing ut the time. So the case of the workmen st fall through.

At the time of hearing, a preliminary objec-n was raised on behalf of the Company to the ect that the reference itself was incompetent legal grounds

First of all, I take up the question of intainability of the reference as raised on behalf of the Company. It is contended that the workmen were not in actual employment on the date of reference as they did not resume work when the lock-out was withdrawn, and so they cannot be considered as "workmen" within the definition as given in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and as such no reference could legally be made at their instance. Section 2(s) defines "workman" thus:—

"'Workman' means any person (including an apprentice) employed in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work for hire or reward, whether the terms of employment be expressed or implied, and for the purpose of any proceeding under this Act in relation to an industrial dispute, includes any such person who has been dismissed, discharged or retrenched in connection with or as a consequence of, that dispute, or whose dismissal discharge or retrenchment has led to that dispute".

It is argued by Shri Bhattacharjee that as the men concerned in the present dispute do not fall within the categories of "discharged, dismissed or retrenched persons", they cannot be taken to be workmen in the legal sense as they were not in actual employment on the date of reference. P.W. 1 Sunil Chatterji (Secretary of the Union) says that after the lock-out was lifted it was not possible for the workmen to resume work because one dismissed worker Ashit Dey and one suspended worker Chinu Gopal Chakravorty were not reinstated and also because the Company did not pay wages for the lock-out period. This is also stated by P.W. 2 Jogesh Saha, a workman. The relationship of employer and employees between the Company and the workmen concerned subsisted not only during the lock-out period but also thereafter inasmuch as neither party severed that relationship, and as the workers remaining absent from duties after the lock-out was withdrawn is to be construed as a strike on protest following the lock-out. It was not a case of voluntary giving up jobs by severing all connections, the workers did not resume works on protest as their alleged grievances were not redressed. So this objection of the Company does not hold good and is hereby rejected.

Now, coming to the question of merits, I find that there are contentions and counter-contentions as respects the reasons leading to the lock-out. According to the Union, the workmen attended the factory everyday on 6th April 1959 to 11th April 1959 but, as no materials were supplied to them, they were unable to perform any actual work on those days. The case of the Company is that on each of those six days raw materials were actually supplied but the workers sat idle everyday by resorting to stay-in strike; and that they used to hold out threats of violence. It is, therefore, contended for the Company that it was under those circumstances that the Company was compelled to declare lock-out for safety. The Union denies and challenges the story of stay-in strike. Thus, the question whether there was really any stay-in strike or not is very important. If that be true, there may be justification for the lock-out, otherwise not.

On the side of the Company, evidence has been given by Radharaman Mandal (O.P.W. 1), Chiraranjan Kundu (O.P.W. 2, a partner), Anil Krishna Pal (O.P.W. 3) and Narayan Kundu (O.P.W. 4). On the other side there is evidence of Sunil Chatterjee (P.W. 1, Secretary of the Union) and Jogesh Saha (P.W. 2, a workman). P.W. 1 has no personal knowledge about the matter of supply or non-supply of raw materials. It is P.W. 2 who asserts that no materials were supplied and denies that they voluntarily stayed-in strike or held out any threats. It is an admitted fact that O.P.W. 4 had the duty of supplying raw materials for work. He as well as other O.P.Ws. say that materials were supplied but the workers did no work and resorted to stay-in strike. O.P.Ws. 1, 3 and 4 are men of the maliks and their evidence is not free from suspicion. The employers did not take any steps to frame charge sheet against any worker for wilful negligence and refusal to work, though the workers are said to have done no work for six successive days. The Company has put in some notices, dated 6th April 1959, 7th April 1959, 8th April 1959 and 9th April 1959, said to have been sent to P.W. 1. The latter admits the acknowledgment but says that what he got were not like those filed here. Such notices by themselves do not prove stay-in strike.

The Union's case is that on account of discharge and dismissal of some workmen, the others took up the cause and demanded their reinstatement, and that, as the maliks remained adamant, the Union served a notice on 11th April 1959 intimating that a strike would be started with effect from 13th April 1959 (see Ext. 2). It is said, therefore, that to circumvent that move of the Union, the Company illegally declared lock-out from 13th April 1959, from which date the intended strike was to be launched.

The evidence on the side of the Company is that owing to the violent attitude of the workers it had requisitioned the posting of a police-man even from before the actual lock-out. No police record is forthcoming in this case. On the other hand, the matter seems to be set at rest by a decision of the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. There are both oral and documentary evidence to show that the workers brought a case for recovery of wages against the Company for the period from the 16th to the end of Chaitra 1365 B.S. (corresponding to 30th March 1959 to 14th April 1959). In that case, the Company filed written statement (copy Ext 8) in which the story of stay-in strike was not mentioned at all. However, in evidence there the Company led evidence to that effect. But the Authority rejected that plea and granted relief as to wages up to 11th April 1959. That relief obviously relates to a period which covers the period of alleged stay-in strike. That decision has been upheld in appeal in the Small Causes Court (See judgements, Exts. 7 and 12). In both the judgments, the plea of stay-in strike has been negatived. The argument advanced on behalf of the Company is that the Authorities went beyond their jurisdiction in deciding the point of stay-in strike, which was quite unnecessary for purpose of that case. Th contention is not valid. The said point w substantial for ascertaining the quantum wages in relation to the period of actual wor including that of the alleged stay-in strik Even if section 11 of the Civil Procedure Co may not apply in terms, the principal analogo thereto ought to apply.

Considering the facts and circumstances as whole in the above light, even independently the decisions in the case under the Payment Wages Act, I am convinced that the story stay-in strike is not correct, and that the loc out was declared to avoid the proposed stril from 13th April 1959, vide Ext. 2. So the loc out was unjustified in point of facts. There a also legal grounds to say that the lock-out w illegal. A dispute over dismissal of a workma named Naresh Sarkar appears to have bee pending (vide Ext. 4, reference dated 9t February 1959) when the lock-out was declare It is admitted that the said dispute was settl amicably; but the date of that settlement is n available from anywhere. Thus section 23 the Act was also violated. Such a lock-out wa clearly illegal within the meaning of sec tion 24(1)(i) of the Act.

In the result, therefore, the workme concerned are entitled to get wages from th Company for the lock-out period, as claimed b them. The Company is directed to pay thos wages within a month from the date of publica tion of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

The issues referred for decision stand thus:

3. Leave and Holidays for the Watch and Ward Staff.
4. Liveries for the Watch and Ward Staff.

DECISIONS

Bonus payable in 1959

Admittedly, the claim of the Union under this ssue relates to profit-sharing bonus. Such bonus is llowable only when the Company is shown to have ade sufficient profit as a result of its trading ctivities for the year of bonus so as to leave some vailable surplus for distribution of bonus according o the calculation on the basis of what is known as ull Bench Formula. If it appears that the ompany did not make any profit at all in the bonus ear but, on the contrary, it suffered some loss in hat year, no question of allowing the workers any rofit-sharing bonus for the year concerned can rise. In the present case, the Union has come rward with the case that the Company made fficient profit in the trading year 1959, to enable to pay bonus to the workers and it has claimed o months' wages as bonus for the workers. The ompany, in its written statement, has pleaded in regard to this issue that the question of bonus for the year 1959 was amicably settled between the representatives of the Union and the Management by a bi-partite agreement and the amount settled by such agreement was paid to the workers and was accepted by the Union without any protest and as such this issue cannot be re-agitated again. At the trial, the Company produced its audited balance-sheet containing profits and loss account for the year 1959 (Ext. A) and also examined its Accountant, O.P.W. 1 Shri Atmaram Goswami. According to the balance-sheet, there was no profit in the trading year 1959, but, on the contrary, there was a loss of Rs. 3,18,254.45 nP. and according to the evidence of the Accountant, in spite of such loss, the Company made ex gratia payment of 12 days' wages to the workmen entitled to such payment for the year 1959. The fact of this payment was not denied or disputed at the hearing and in any case no evidence was produced by the Union to counteract the aforesaid evidence of the Accountant. On behalf of the Union, a written comment on the balance-sheet was filed and on the basis of this comment only, it was argued that though the balance-sheet and the profit and loss account for the year 1959 showed a nett loss of Rs. 3 lakhs and odd, this position was not correct and the Company really made a profit of Rs. 5,42,933.67 nP. or at least Rs. 1,52,933.67 nP after deducting six per cent. interest on the loan capital shown in the balance-sheet, and so the claim of the Union for two months' wages as bonus to each worker was quite reasonable. It is to be noticed that no particular item of credit or debit in the audited balance-sheet and profit and loss account of the Company for the year 1959 was clearly and definitely challenged as mala fide or as having been entered simply with a view to show false trading result of a nett loss. And no evidence was produced by the Union to show that the balance-sheet or any part of it was false or mala fide. The Union's comment on the balance-sheet whereby an attempt has been made to turn the nett loss of Rs. 3 lakhs and odd as shown in the balance-sheet into a profit of Rs. 5 lakhs and odd or at least Rs. 4 lakhs and odd is nothing but a reconstruction of the account on the basis of the balance-sheet itself by just picking up some figures here and there from the credit and debit sides. The comment does not impress me at all as correct or acceptable. According to the comment, the nett credit for the year is shown as Rs. 25,86,103.69 nP. and this amount is shown as made up of the following items:

	Rs.
Sale proceeds and stock in process	18,31,674.21
Deposit, etc	1,14,641.59
Stock in trade	6,39,787.89

And the nett debit is shown in the comment as Rs. 20,43,170.02 nP. and this is shown as made up of the following items:

	Rs.
Opening stock	18,31,679.21
All of the charges	2,11,490.81

The differenece between the aforesaid total credit and debit is shown as the profit of Rs. 5,42,933.67. Of the figures mentioned in the above debit and credit account in the Union's comment, the figures of opening stock on the debit side and sale proceeds and stock in process on the credit side are only directly traceable in the profit and loss account of the Company in the balance-sheet for 1959, but the other figures are not directly traceable in the profit and loss account and no satisfactory explanation has been offered to me as to how these figures were obtained. After carefully considering the Union's comment on the balance-sheet of the Company for the bonus year in the light of the audited balance-sheet itself and the evidence of the Accountant of the Company, I am perfectly satisfied that absolutely no case has been made out for departing from the well-established general rule of accepting the audited balance-sheet and profit and loss account of the Company as correct in a case where the issue of bonus is in question without subjecting it to minute dissection and reconstruction. [Vide A.C.C. & Ors. versus Their Workmen, 1959(I) L.L.J., 644 at 663.] Accordingly, after considering the materials placed before me, I accept the audited balance-sheet and profit and loss account of the Company for the bonus year 1959 as showing the correct position of the Company in respect of its trading results for the year 1959 and, accordingly, I hold that the balance-sheet and the profit and loss account correctly reflects the trading results for the year by showing a nett loss of Rs. 3,18,254.45 nP. In view of this finding, no question of allowing any profit-sharing bonus to the workers for the year 1959 can arise and this claim must fail. In spite of the loss sustained by the Company for the year 1959, it went to the length of making ex gratia payment of 12 days' wages to the eligible workmen in that year and this shows that the Company had no malice or mala fides against the workers.

In the result, I decide this issue against the Union and hold that no bonus is payable for the year 1959 to the workmen, and I award accordingly under this issue.

Wages and Dearness Allowance of the Watch and Ward Staff

The existing wage scale of the Watch and Ward staff is Rs. 55.00 to Rs. 60.00 (consolidated) according to the Union and the Union claims wages and D.A. according to the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal. According to the Company, the present consolidated wage scale of the Watch and Ward staff ranges between Rs. 55 to Rs. 65 per month, and this is said to be higher than the wages paid to such staff by other similar concerns of the same size and status in Howrah. Neither party has produced an oral or documentary evidence on this issue, but the Union has produced the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal, published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary," dated 5th November 1958. It is not denied or disputed that the present Company, Messrs. Vijoy Iron Foundry, is also an engineering concern. This Company was admittedly not a party to the dispute in adjudication of which the aforesaid award was made. But that will not, in my view, tie the hands of this Tribunal in making the wage scale and D.A. allowed by that award to the category of workers with which we are concerned in this issue applicable to such workers of the present Company, if the Tribunal finds that there is glaring disparity between the award scale of wages and D.A. and the scale of wages and D.A. operative in the case of the present workers concerned. This Tribunal is to dispense social justice and not justice in its strictly legalistic sens and so this Tribunal is, in my view, competent allow certain benefits to the concerned workers the basis of the award of the Third Engineerir Tribunal, because the award related to simil Industries in this State situated among other plac in Calcutta and Howrah. That award fixed th wage scale of Durwans at Rs. 35—1—55 wit efficiency bar on the tenth year and it further allowe D.A. of Rs. 36 for the pay range up to Rs. 50. think that this wage scale and D.A. should al apply to the concerned workers in the present ca and the Company should pay them that wage sca and D.A. subject to such modifications as th circumstances may require. I should record he that no evidence has been produced before thi Tribunal to show that there has been any suc change of circumstances in the engineering industr as to make the aforesaid award scale of wage an D.A. for the Watch and Ward staff (Durwan) of suc industry totally inapplicable at present. It is to b noticed, however, that the aforesaid engineerin award was made in respect of engineering industrie employing 250 or more workers, whereas in th present case the industry concerned is not of tha size but, it is of a smaller size and it employs no more than 100 workers. Though there is no clea evidence on this point, this fact will clearly appea from the previous order of reference to the First Labour Court wherein it was clearly stated that the dispute was not likely to affect more than 100 work men. It cannot be gainsaid that the very sam dispute that was referred to the First Labour Cour was subsequently referred to this Tribunal after th abolition of the said Court. The very fact o referring a dispute involving the question of bonus which falls under the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, to the Labour Court clearly indicates that the dispute related to an industry which did not employ more than 100 men. This being the position regarding the comparative status and size of the engineering industries covered by the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal and the engineering industry concerned in the present case, I am of the view that even though as a general principle the Watch and Ward staff of the present industry should as far as practicable be given similar scale of wages and D.A. as are applicable to the engineering industries in the locality covered by the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal, their scale of wages and D.A. may not necessarily be exactly the same as that given in the award referred to above. The difference in status and size between the engineering industries covered by the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal and the present industry must be taken into consideration in fixing the scale of wages and D.A. for the Watch and Ward staff of this industry. No evidence has been adduced to prove that there is really any fixed scale of wages and D.A. for the Watch and Ward staff of the present industry concerned. The Union has generally stated that the wages and D.A. of such workers vary from Rs. 55 to Rs. 60 (consolidated), while the Company has stated that the consolidated wages an D.A. of such workers vary from Rs. 55 to Rs. 6 per month. In my view, a definite scale of wage and D.A. should be fixed for such workers. Th scale of wages fixed by the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal which is Rs. 35-1-55 with efficiency bar on the tenth year, appears to me to be the minimum scale that can be fixed for such workers, having regard to the present surrounding nstances. As regards D.A., the award has fixed Rs. 36 for the pay range up to Rs. 50, and then 7 for the pay range from Rs. 51 to Rs. 100. ıg regard to the inferior status and size of the ıt industry in comparison with the industries ed by the said award, I think this scale of D.A ı be somewhat reduced and I consider that a D.A. of Rs. 30 for the pay range up to Rs. 50 hen a fixed D.A. of Rs. 36 for the pay range Rs. 51 to Rs. 55 for such workers drawing the aid scale of pay from Rs. 35 to Rs. 55 per ı will be quite sufficient and will be equitable ıth parties, the industry and the workers. ·dingly, I would fix the scale of wages for th· h and Ward staff at Rs. 35 1—55 with ncy bar in each case on the tenth year and at Rs. 30 for each stage of the pay range up 50 and then Rs. 36 for the remaining pay up to Rs. 55 in the aforesaid scale of pay. worker of the Watch and Ward staff will, ·ore, start on Rs. 65 per month (Rs. 35 plus 0) and will end on Rs. 91 per month (Rs. 55 Rs. 36), subject to the efficiency bar at the stage. The question of the capacity of the try to pay this proposed scale of wages and does not present any problem at all, because in reply to the Union's claim of the scale of and D.A. according to the award of the Third eering Tribunal, the Company never pleaded written statement that it lacked the financial ity to pay such scale of wages and D.A. [vide (b) of paragraph 4 of the Company's written nent]. No evidence has also been adduced e this Tribunal to prove the financial incapacity e Company to pay this scale of wages and D.A. oubt this Company suffered a loss of Rs. 3 and odd in the year 1959, but this nstance alone, which must be deemed to be ɔrary in a running engineering industry, is not, y view, sufficient to permanently debar the h and Ward staff of this Company from getting eneht of the aforesaid scale of wages and D.A., ı I propose to fix in slight modification of the of wages and D.A. for such workers as fixed the Third Engineering Tribunal There is utely no evidence to prove that the present ·ial condition of the Company does not permit pay the aforesaid proposed scale of wages and to its Watch and Ward staff. Accordingly, d that the Watch and Ward staff of this pany shall be on the wage scale of Rs. 35 1 55 efficiency bar on the tenth year and with a of Rs 30 at each stage up to Rs. 50 and then 36 for the remaining stages up to Rs 55 and I er hold that each worker of the Watch and l staff shall be given this scale of pay and D A the date of his appointment and there shall be ·tment of his scale of pay including D A ·dingly up to the present stage and he shall get arrears of pay and D.A. as may be admissible m by such adjustment, if any, from the Company in two months from the publication of this d. I award accordingly in respect of this issue.

ave and holidays for the Watch Ward staff

ccording to the Union, the Watch and Ward is not given any festival or casual leave. The pany's case is that such staff is given one th's leave and 15 days' casual leave in a year. not specifically stated what kind of leave is one ment is leave which is granted to the Watch and Ward staff as leave. However, when the Company has admitted that it is a custom of the establishment that this staff enjoy [illegible] months' leave [illegible] casual leave in addition to the period of leave mentioned above. These [illegible] type of leave [illegible] 45 days [illegible] and this seems to come up to sufficient [illegible] and no further leave [illegible] on account of the [illegible] I do not think that [illegible] Accordingly, staff [illegible] Watch and Ward staff [illegible] leave plus Company [illegible] admitted by the Company [illegible] its written statement that they [illegible] further leave [illegible] this issue.

Liveries for the Watch and Ward staff

According to the [illegible] getting two [illegible] the Union's written statement [illegible] claimed four sets of liveries in a year. The Company has also stated in [illegible] Watch and Ward staff is getting two [illegible] year, and according to the Company this is quite sufficient. I think that the [illegible] two sets of liveries per year to the Watch and Ward staff is quite [illegible] there is no reason to increase the liveries to four sets per year, as claimed by the Union. As a matter of fact that the Watch and Ward staff [illegible] two sets of liveries per year [illegible] and their claim for [illegible] not allowable. I award accordingly in respect of this issue.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. McLeod & Co. BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri N. Dey, Counsel, Shri A. Maitra, Counsel, Shri D. Basu Thakur of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. McLeod & Co. Ltd., 3 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, and their employees represented by McLeod Indian Employees' Association, 3 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3106-I.R./IR/11L-129/60, dated the 21st June 1960.

Issue

(1) Whether the employees mentioned in the attached list are entitled to be upgraded. If so, what relief are they entitled to?

After services of usual notice to the parties for appearance and for filing written statement, the workmen represented by McLeod Indian Employees' Association (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed their written statement on 30th July 1960.

AWARD

The contention of the Union is that this Company is an old and prosperous one started in 1887. The Company carries on various types of business in jute, tea, railways, engineering machinery, steel, etc. Besides, it has got business in import and sale of machineries, etc. The number of employees at its Head Office stands at 198 in clerical staff and 138 in subordinate staff. Due to expansion of its business and opening of new department, the volume of clerical work got tremendously increased. But in spite, on account of the stringent policy followed by the Company in keeping the strengths of workmen below the normal requirements, the work-load got largely increased. Besides, the Company followed the policy of keeping higher percentage of lower grade staff than what had been prescribed or desired by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in its award given on the 22nd June 1955. As a matter of fact, the Company did not upgrade and promote a number of clerks, even though they had reached the maximum of the grade. The Union submitted a chart in Annexure C showing the number of employees as existing on different dates from 1st April 1956 to 1st April 1960 year by year indicating therein how the claims of promotion of senior persons had been denied. Besides, the Union made Annexures to the written statement, the correspondences that passed between the Union and Company on various dates prior to the reference. The Union, therefore, claims that the cl mentioned in the Order of Reference should upgraded and that they should also be allow monetary compensation for denial of promotion al reaching the maximum of their grade from the da thereof up to 30th June 1960. A calculation rega ing the compensation is given in Annexure A of written statement in respect of each of clerks. additional written statement was filed on 2 September 1960 covering the case of the whose case was referred to by the corrige dated 30th August 1960.

Messrs. McLeod & Co. Ltd. (hereinafter re to as the Company) filed the written stateme 7th September 1960. The contention of the Co is that the question of promotion is a manag function and it was never so laid down by the of the Labour Appellate Tribunal that clerks secure promotion automatically. The Com asserts that they considered the case of all 38 employees from time to time for the purpo giving promotion and found that they were suitable and, therefore, they were not pro It is asserted that the Company acted bona without violating the recognised principle followed in giving promotion. Besides, it is cont ed, there are 206 clerks and 136 subordinate and the number as given by the Union is correct. The Company does not admit the cor ness of the statement contended in Annexure the written statement of the Union and also de that the volume of work has increased.

At the time of hearing, from the side of the two witnesses Shri Rabindra Nath Mazumder Shri Ajit Mukherjee and from the side of Company two witnesses Shri Paritosh Chatte and Shri Surajmal Sharma were examined. Besi a large number of documents filed and proved the parties were marked as Exhibits. I shall refer the evidence as and when necessary in course of decision.

The only question to be decided in this c whether the 38 workmen as mentioned in t attached to the Order of Reference are entitled upgraded, and if so, what relief they are entitled to get compensation.

The grievance of the Union is that the Com did not give promotion to thirty-one clerks they attained the maximum of the scale of pay for the B grade clerks. So also [illegible] with respect to seven clerks, who had reach maximum of the scale meant for C grade clerks not given promotion to B grade.

Admittedly, there are four grades of employed in this Company. There are distinct s prescribed for each of the grades. These grades been fixed by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Trib in the award published in the "Calcutta Gazet dated the 8th September 1955, in an appeal aga the award given by Shri M. C. Banerjee, as publis in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 8th November 1 It may be mentioned in this connection that scales and grades of pay for the clerical staff been fixed by a previous award of the Trib published in the "Calcutta Gazette", under

No. 3642-Lab., dated 25th July 1949, published on 4th August 1949. The scales and grades as laid down by that award of 1949 is as follows:—

C grade	Rs. 70-4-134	(16 years)
B grade	Rs. 110-7-180	(10 years)
A grade	As. 160-10-260	(10 years)
Special grade	Rs. 260-15-325	(5 years)

By the award as published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 5th November 1953, the scales for the C grade clerk was laid down as follows:

Rs. 70-4-110-6-128-E.B.-6-170 (20 years).

The other scales for A, B and Special Grades remained unaltered.

The Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal made slight modifications in the scales as given by Shri M. C Banerjee by abolition of the stage of efficiency bar in C grade and by giving some increase in the rates of increment at some stages of the respective scales and the scales were laid down as follows:

C grade – Rs. 70-4-90-5-110-6-170 (19 years)

B grade Rs. 110-7-124-8-180 (9 years).

Special grade – Rs. 260-15-335 (5 years).

Besides introducing the abovementioned modifications, in the scales of pay of the A, B, C grade clerks, the learned Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal laid down certain rules for the guidance of the management in the matter of going promotion. It is however clear from the award that the contention of the Union, raised before the Tribunal, that there should be one running scale for the clerks was not countenanced and the Tribunal retained the existence of four different grades and scales of pay for the clerks. The Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal however made adequate provisions, throwing open opportunities to the clerks to reach the maximum of the special grade in the service career. But, at the same time, it can never be said, in terms of the directions as to promotion, given by the award, that a clerk must necessarily go to the top of the highest scale, irrespective of any question of vacancy existing in the upper scales and irrespective of the question of efficiency of the clerk concerned. The rules to be followed as a guiding principle in allowing promotion is stated as follows:

"Circumstances permitting (if there are vacancies in the higher grades), clerks in the lower grade shall be considered for promotion to the next higher grade at the end of the latest stage in the lower grade just below the stage in his original grade where the basic pay is either equal to or less than the starting pay of the next higher grade. This shall be called the Selection Point and shall be at the end of the 9th stage in the C grade (Rs. 105); of the 6th stage in the B grade (Rs. 148); of the 10th stage of the A grade (Rs. 260). This is indicated in the annexure to the decision."

So, under the rule, a clerk starting his career at Rs. 70 in C grade, may in favourable circumstances get promotion to B grade after putting nine years of service and then to A grade after putting six years of service in B grade and nine years in A grade so that after a total period of 24 years of service he can get into in Selection Grade, and enjoy six increments therein to reach the top point in 30 years of service. This is an ideal set-up, by the Tribunal, which can be achieved only by these fortunate clerks, who find a vacancy in the superior scales, at appropriate stages and are considered suitable for promotion. If there be no vacancy available and even if there be such vacancy, if the clerk be not found suitable, the chance for promotion gets lost. Nevertheless, the exclusive right of the employer to be the sole judge of the existence of a vacancy in the superior grade is absolutely necessary before the question of selection for promotion can be taken up. The creation of fixed stages of selection also shows at what stage of service in a particular grade, the question of eligibility for being considered for promotion would arise. In fact, a length of service by nine years in C grade, six years in B grade and nine years in A grade, is the minimum fixed by the award, as being eligible for promotion to the next higher grade. If at the selection point a clerk is considered not fit for promotion under rule 4 (under the rule of promotion as laid down by the award) the next senior man will be considered. This rule virtually protects the claim of a workman once passed over, to be again considered for promotion on each and every occasion when vacancy in the higher grades arises. For example, if a clerk who is passed over at the selection point in a particular grade and scale, either because there occurred no vacancy at that time or because a more senior clerk was found suitable for promotion, at that time, he would still retain his right to be considered for selection when vacancy arises in future, and may even get promotion, if found more suitable, compared to the existing clerks at the selection point of service.

It is crystal clear from the rules formulated by the Tribunal, guiding the question of promotions, that the employer's right to judge the efficiency of clerks for giving promotion and to make a comparative estimate of efficiency had never been taken away by the same. Of course, by the term 'efficiency' of a clerk, it was so laid down that the initial efficiency of the workmen plus such efficiency as he is normally expected, having regard to his initial education and nature of his work to have acquired by experience in service already put in, shall be the criterion. The creation of selection points in the grades indicates, what minimum length of service in the grade was to be deemed as essential to gather experience, so that no clerk who had lesser length of service could compete in the matter of selection for promotion.

Turning to the facts of the case, I find that out of the 38 clerks concerned in this dispute, 31 clerks to be B grade and the rest 7 in C grade four had retired and one had resigned all in 1959. As many as 18 had already reached in maximum of B grade before September 1955 when the award became enforceable. Naturally, every time a vacancy occurred in A grade, and a question of giving promotion arose, they had to compete in the matter of selection with the clerks, who were then in the 6th year of service, and those from the 7th year to the 9th year in accordance with the rules for promotion. The question of comparable efficiency naturally therefore, arose in each occasion, when vacancy occurred in A grade. When it is not the case of the Union that the employer denied promotion to these clerks, who are drawing the maximum in the grade, acting with a spirit of victimisation or being actuated by a mala fide intention. I do not think how the grievances of these people who failed to earn promotion, can be redressed by the Tribunal.

There is also no definite material placed before me to show how the employer gave promotion to clerks, superceeding the legitimate claim of the clerks involved in the dispute. To make out a case of this nature, it is necessary to furnish details as to the dates of promotions from B grade to A grade and from C grade to B grade, in the intervening period, and the names of persons with their length of service who got the promotion, no such details had been furnished.

The entire case of the Union is built up on a proposition that the scales are, as a matter of fact, in the shape of running grade, ensuring automatic promotion. But such a theory cannot be established on the basis of the award.

Besides, the case of the Union is that there should have been 23.68 clerks in A grade while as a matter of fact, there exists at the moment only 9 clerks in that grade and, therefore, there exists 15 vacancies in that grade Assuming for the sake of argument, that there subsists 15 vacancies in A grade, there is no case for upgrading the rest 12 clerks out of the 27 clerks who are still in service drawing the maximum. The Union's calculation of the number of vacancies is based on the following lines in the award:—

> The Company has at present 7 Sarkars, 117 clerks, in C grade, 56 in B grade, 25 in A grade and 4 in Selection Grade. It is clear that the number of clerks in B grade is about 50 per cent. of the number in C grade. The number in A and Selection Grade taken together bears almost the same ratio to the number of clerks in B grade and the number in Selection Grade is little less than 20 per cent of the number in A grade. We recommend that unless there is substantial change in circumstances, these ratios shall be maintained.

The claim of the Union to fix up definite proportion in the different grades had been refused by the award in the same manner as the claim for making running scale. The learned Tribunal made it clear by the award that the directions as to maintaining such ratio and proportion was in the nature of a recommendation and that no fixed rule as to proportion of appointment could be made. The award had no directive force as to proportion in different grades. The Company in paragraph 1 of the written statement stated that there were in fact 22 clerks in A grade in June 1955 (not 25 as given in the award) and out of them 4 had retired and 11 promoted to Junior grade Assistant, and thereby though 15 vacancies occurred nine of these vacancies had not been filled up as the company felt it not necessary to do so consistent with the requirement of such clerks. The number of posts in higher grade has got to be fixed according to the need of the employer, by proper evalution of job requirements. There is no evidence here to show that in spite of existence of real vacancies in the A grade, the strength in the cadre has been kept subdued. Amongst the concerned clerks, it appears that there are 13 Stenographers and four Comptists [vide Ext. H(1)]. From the statement, Ext. H, it appears that there were two Stenographers and no Comptist in A grade in September 1955. It cannot therefore be said that the Stenographers and Comptists who had reached the maximum, must necessarily have been given promotion, even if the employer feels that A grade scale of pay need not be given to employees doing such type of work in accordance with the value of their services.

In considering the claim of the Union, I have carefully gone through the award wherein a rule of promotion for the guidance of the employer had been framed. The Union could not establish any case that promotion had been unjustly denied to these individual workmen. The rule of promotion as laid down in the award is, of course, not very happily worded and with all respect to the learned Appellate Tribunal, I would say that by the wordings in the award, there is just some reasons to think that while removing the stage of efficiency bar in C grade, the different grades had been described as stages in the entire service career of a clerk. But at the same time, upon carefully reading the provisions relating to promotion, and maintenance of the different grades, I feel that the employers' sole discretion to decide about the question of promotion had not been totally taken away. As a matter of fact, the question of strength in cadre, comparative estimate of efficiency of senior clerks and the requirements of the clerical work arising from the different nature of job, are such matters over which an outsider cannot lay down any hard and fast rule.

In these considerations, I hold that the claim for promotion cannot be sustained.

The learned Counsel for the Company urged that the reference by itself is bad in law, inasmuch as the points involved in the dispute as a matter of interpretation of an award and for that the Government should have made a reference under section 36(A) of the Industrial Dispute Act. By the award, certain rules guiding promotion had been laid down. The grievance of the Union is that some workmen had been unjustly denied promotion. In deciding that dispute, the question arises as to what conditions of service as to promotion had been made binding upon the parties by the award and for that to examine, if the workmen are entitled to any relief. So the question of interpretation of the award arises only incidentally. In this view I hold that the reference is not bad in law.

This is my award.

AWARD.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 3385-I.R./IR/11L-337/60, dated the 29th June 1960, and Addendum No. 1027-I.R./IR/11L-337/60, dated the 3rd March 1961, referred under sections 7A and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between (i) Messrs. Aktar Hossain, Kaful Ahmed, Sirajuddin, 2 Gas Street, Calcutta, (ii) Shri Sk. Alfoo, 2 Gas Street, Calcutta, and Lincensees, (iii) Shri Md. Ibrahim, 2 Gas Street, Calcutta, (iv) Shri Md. Amir Mia, 85/10 Narkeldanga North Road, Calcutta, and (v) Shri Sukoor, 85 10 Narkeldanga North Road, Calcutta, being the Licensees of No. (i), on the one hand and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Biri Mazdoor Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, on the other relating to the undermentioned issues to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issues

(1) Whether the Biri-Rollers are entitled to full 6 days' work in a week? If so, what should be the quantum of such work per day?

(2) Whether the Bidi-Rollers should be supplied with leaves for bidi rolling on the eve of their weekly off-day?

(3) Whether the lockouts declared by the Managements for the periods from the 7th to 16th October 1959, 8th to 10th November 1959, 20th to 22nd March 1960 and 29th March to 5th April 1960 are justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

Upon receipt of the order of reference, dated 29th June 1960, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

The workmen represented by the Calcutta Biri Mazdoor Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed the written statement on 31st August 1960. It is contended by the Union that Messrs. Aktar Hossain, Kaful Ahmed Sirjuddin is one of the largest biri manufacturing concerns in West Bengal employing a large number of workmen for preparation of biris. The workmen get wages for the production of the biris, for which the employer supplies tobacco, leave, threads and other materials to the workmen. The workers at the respective centres are to follow prescribed working hours and their attendance and daily production are daily recorded. It is alleged by the Union that the workers are not supplied with sufficient materials to keep them engaged for the whole day. Besides, it is alleged that the Company illegally locked out the different centres and deprived the workmen of their wages.

Messrs. Aktar Hossain, Kaful Ahmed Sirajuddin filed the written statement on 16th January 1961. In the written statement, they have denied the various allegations made by the Union. No clear-cut case was made out by the aforesaid firm.

Amongst other persons described as employers in the order of reference, only Shri Sukoor appeared and filed the written statement on 9th March 1961.

At the time of hearing, however, none of the persons described as employers appeared to contest the case. I, therefore, proceeded to hear the dispute ex parte From the side of the Union, one witness, Md. Isahaque, a workman, was examined Besides, a number of letters were proved by this witness and marked as exhibits. I now take up the Issues one by one.

Issue No. 1

It is clear from the evidence that Messrs. Aktar Hossain, Kaful Ahmed Sirajuddin is engaged in trade of manufacturing biris with the help of workers employed at two places: (i) at 85/10 Narkeldanga North Road, Calcutta, and (ii) 2 Gas Street, Calcutta. Sk. Alfood, Md. Ibrahim, Md. Amir Mia and Sukoor, who are also made parties, described as employers or licensees in the order of reference, were merely in the position of supervisors engaged by Aktar Hossain. Obviou was wrong to describe them as employers. workmen as well do not claim any relief as a them. I find incidentally that they are unnec parties to this order of reference. Fro evidence, I am satisfied that the Biri-roller workmen. The employer, Aktar Hossain, them wages on piece-rate system and exercise supervision and control over their working leave, holidays, etc. So, even though the w are paid on the basis of the production of they are workmen as defined under the Ind Disputes Act. In fact, the evidence on the goes ex parte. The grievance of the workm that the supply of materials is not such as to them engaged throughout the day and for their daily earning comes to about Rs. 4 or R The workmen are paid on the basis of Rs. 3.1 per thousand biri prepared. The workmen employed for 5 days in a week and no wo done on Sundays and Mondays. This is the s prevailing for the last two years. Obviously number of days of work in a week is already by the employer according to the necessit work. It is quite outside my jurisdiction to d that more work should be given to the biri-ro when there is no evidence that the employer adequate supply of raw materials and there is s for marketing the product. The workers therefore, not entitled to any relief regarding Issue.

Issue No. 2

As already stated, Sundays and Mondays observed as off-days. It appears from the evid that the leaves are supplied on working day night except on Saturdays. The demand of workers that leaves should be supplied on Sa days as well for the work to be done on Tue appears to be justified and I award accordingly

Issue No. 3

It appears from the evidence that the Ma ment closed the place of business without prior notice and without any justification wh ever. The workmen lodged complaint to Labour Commissioner in due course prote against such lock-out. I find that the lock ranging from different dates were all ill Considering, however, the nature of work don these workmen who are paid on piece-rate b it is awarded that they be paid wages for periods of lock-outs, i.e., from 7th October 19 16th October 1959, 8th November 1959 to November 1959, 20th March 1960 to 22nd M 1960, and 29th March 1960 to 5th April 1960, at rate of Rs. 2 per day for all working days fal within such periods. Apparently, when I find Sundays and Mondays are not working days, workers are not entitled to any wages for such falling within the aforesaid periods of lock-out

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jamini Bhusan Astanga Ayurved Hospital, 170-172 Raja Dinendra Street, Calcutta-4, and their workmen represented by Jamini Bhusan Astanga Ayurved Hospital Employees' Association, 252 S. K. Deb Road, Calcutta-28. (Case No. VIII-71/60.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri C. L. Ganguli, Complimentary Member of the Hospital.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 917-I.R./IR/11L-71/61, dated 23rd February 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jamini Bhusan Astanga Ayurved Hospital, 170-172 Raja Dinendra Street, Calcutta-4, (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Jamini Bhusan Astanga Ayurved Hospital Employees' Association, 252 S. K. Deb Road, Calcutta-28 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Dispute Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case is as follows:

> Whether the termination of services of (1) Shrimati Sushila Biswas, (2) Shrimati Belarani Ghose and (3) Shri Sudhir Chandra Dhar is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

AWARD

After the above reference, the parties were called upon to file their respective written statements. Accordingly, both parties filed their written statements on different dates. After the hearing of the case was taken up but before evidence was gone into, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise settling the dispute in respect of two of the discharged employees, viz., Shrimati Sushila Biswas and Shrimati Belarani Ghose. I heard the matter of the compromise, considered the bona fides of this settlement and found the same to be lawful and bona fide and fit to be recorded. So, the parties were directed to proceed with the case in respect of the third workman Shri Sudhir Chandra Dhar only for which reason the parties unfortunately failed to agree.

The Union's case in respect of Shri Dhar is that he served this hospital for about 13 years with spotless service record, that he was nevertheless arbitrarily retrenched with effect from 31st Sravan 1367 B.S. without justification and without observing the legal formalities, that the retrenchment was mala fide as there was fresh recruitment of new employees after this termination and that the action of the Management was not only mala fide but illegal also, for it was actually motivated by a spirit of victimisation.

The case of the employer, on the other hand, is this: This institution is a small Ayurved Hospital thriving mainly on grants and donations and for various reasons the financial condition of the Institution was going from bad to worse at the relevant time. So, as a measure of economy only, the authorities had to take action in accordance with the resolution of the Executive Committee, dated 17th June 1960, and dispensed with the posts of Store-Keeper, some temporary Nurses and others.

Shri Dhar started his career here as a Ward Assistant in 1948. His services were terminated once on 8th October 1949. He was, however, reinstated again on 10th October 1949 as a Ward Assistant. From 16th July 1957 he worked as Stock and Store-Keeper. He next worked as Diet Clerk from 1st November 1958. He was again appointed as Stock and Store-Keeper with effect from 16th Aswin 1366 B.S. and continued as such till termination of his services. He was given notice on 12th July 1960 that the post of the Store Keeper would be abolished for financial reasons on and from 31st Sravan 1367 B.S. On the termination of his services he was offered simultaneously his legal dues but Shri Dhar did not take his dues. He was later given a formal notice also for taking his dues but he failed to receive the same. Thus the employer denies the allegation of mala fides and illegality in this respect.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award as follow:

Decisions

Regarding Shrimati Sushila Biswas and Shrimati Belarani Ghose, I have already mentioned that the parties have amicably settled the dispute in respect of these two Nurses. The compromise appears to be bona fide and the terms thereof are reasonable also. So, the terms of compromise are accepted and recorded. These two female workmen are to be reinstated in terms of compromise. The petition of compromise will form part of this award and marked as Annexure "A."

As to Shri Sudhir Chandra Dhar, this employee admittedly served this hospital in different capacities for about 13 years for he was first appointed in 1948. At the time he was discharged he was working as a Clerk in the capacity of Store-Keeper-cum-Caretaker. From the evidence adduced by the hospital authorities as well as the award of Shri M. C. Banerjee, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 23rd July 1959, it appears that the financial position of this hospital is unsatisfactory for some time past and the hospital authorities were compelled to reduce the expenditure in certain respects as a measure of economy and by a resolution of the Executive Committee, dated 17th June 1960, decided to abolish certain posts including the post of the Store-Keeper. I see no mala fides in the action of the Management up to this stage. There is no reason to believe that the Executive Committee had any animus against Shri Dhar particularly and that this resolution was passed with a positive motive of victimisation. But the real point at issue is whether Shri Dhar's retrenchment can be held valid and lawful simply because the post which he was lately holding was decided to be abolished for financial reasons. There is no escape from the conclusion that Shri Dhar was substantively a Clerk, though he was lately working as a Store-Keeper-cum-Caretaker. He worked as a Store-Keeper for another period previously also. He worked as Diet Clerk in the meantime. So, there is no doubt that Shri Dhar was a member of the clerical staff though he might have worked in different capacities at different times. The clerks of this institution have evidently no technical training or qualification, and the function of a Store-Keeper is not a specialised duty of any water-tight department. Shri Dhar swears that there were about six employees of his category or status in this hospital at the relevant time, and three out of these six were junior to him in service. It is also alleged that Shri Ashit Ghosh (or Ashim Ghosh) is the juniormost of them. The employer's own witness (O.P.W. 1) Shri Kartic Chandra Basu also admits in his cross-examination that in all there were six Clerks in the office at the relevant time, and Sudhir Babu (one of these six Clerks) was surely not the juniormost one. O.P.W. 3, Shri Jogananda Roy, however, gives a slightly different version for reasons best known to him. His statement is that there were about four persons of the category to which Sudhir Babu belonged. According to him, Jamini Pal and Ashit Ghosh alias Ashim Ghosh are not of the category of Sudhir Babu. According to him, Jamini Babu was the Accountant and Ashit Babu was an Assistant to the Accountant at the relevant time. Presumably, Shri Roy is trying to keep these two persons aloof so that the sword of disputed retrenchment may not touch them on the ground of juniority. But I am not very much concerned as to the question whether Shri Pal and Shri Ghosh really belong to a different category. This much is clear that even if there be four persons of the category of Shri Dhar, he is not admittedly the juniormost, because one Shri Kashinath Sharma of Shri Dhar's category is also junior to Shri Dhar. Thus in any view of the case, it is more than clear that Shri Dhar is not the juniormost member of the clerical staff, irrespective of the question whether the total strength thereof be six or four. He is not the last man to come to the department. I am not really called upon to determine who is the juniormost member of this clerical staff so long it is clear that there is at least one man junior to Shri Dhar. There is some conflicting evidence on record as to who is the juniormost Clerk, if Shri Pal and Shri Ghosh also are treated as such. According to Sudhir Babu himself, Shri Ashit Ghosh is the juniormost. From a statement of Shri Kartic Chandra Basu (O.P.W. 1) in his cross-examination, it appears as if Shri Jamini Ranjan Pal was the juniormost. In an affidavit, dated 14th September 1961, Shri Basu swears that he stated Ashim Kumar Ghosh to be the juniormost Clerk, and that the wrong name was written due to some inadvertance or mistake. It is quite probable that Shri Ashit alias Ashim Ghosh was the juniormost Clerk, because this is also the statement of Sudhir Babu himself. It is also not impossible that due to mistake or inadvertance a wrong name might have crept in. But the question is who made the mistake. I have consulted the shorthand script also of the stenographer, and the name in this connection is not Ashim but Jamini Ranjan Pal. The employer's side saw the typed script of the deposition at the time of argument also, but no such mistake was referred to or mentioned. It was simply pointed out that the name of Shri Ghosh is Ashim and not Ashit. So, it is also not unlikely that the inaccuracy, if any, may also be due to mistake or inadvertance of Shri Basu himself. Be that as it may, I have no doubt that of the six Clerks working in different capacities, there are about three persons who were junior to Shri Dhar in service. So, Shri Dhar cannot be retrenched simply on the ground that he was the juniormost man of his department or section. The post of a Store-Keeper may be abolished and the duties of a Store-Keeper may be distributed amongst other Clerks also, but the office of a Store-Keeper is not a separate department or category by itself. In this connection, I may refer to a decision in a case of Digvijaya Woollen Mills Ltd. vs. Vyas and Others reported in 1956 II L.L.J. page 253 wherein it has been held that prima facie all employees doing ordinary clerical duties in any establishment should be taken to fall within the same category of clerical workers unless by reason of some fundamental difference in the nature of work required to be performed in different deartments and the skill requisite for the same, such workers could be properly divided into different categories. In this particular case also, the clerical staff cannot be divided into different categories on account of any fundamental difference in the nature of work or special skill. So, when it is a question of retrenching a person on the ground of surplusage resulting from abolition of an extra post of Store-Keeper, the then incumbent of the Store-Keeping job cannot be retrenched on that ground alone, if he be not the juniormost man of the category he belongs to. The relevant law on the point is laid down in section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act. Following the principle of "last come first go," it has been provided that "the employer shall ordinarily retrench the workman who was the last person to be employed in that category, unless for reasons to be recorded the employer retrenches any other workman." There is no question of any agreement in this respect between Sudhir Babu and his employer. He was admittedly not the last person of his category to be employed by the employer hospital. Nor is there any recorded reason for retrenching him even though he was not the juniormost man. The Executive Committee by its resolution simply recommended that due to persistent critical financial condition, retrenchment of some staff uld be made, and that the post of Store-Keeper uld be abolished and another Assistant should be charge of the duties. The Committee had no reason retrench Shri Dhar particularly for any special ason. No special reason has been recorded either the Committee or any other authority for dismis- g Sudhir Babu in violation of the statutory nciple of "last come first go." Even in the dence before me, no witness speeks ill of him cept that he is not a matriculate. He was dis- arged on the ground of economy alone, but it is t stated why the sword fell on him instead of the iormost. The Service Book of Sudhir Babu (Ext. has been filed presumably to show that somebody ote a bad confidential remark against him on the of his dismissal. But I may simply point out that re is no record to show that he was selected for renchment for that bad confidential report. No- ly proves who wrote that confidential report or . There was no charge-sheet against Shri Dhar. s confidential report is purported to have been tten on 29th May 1960, i.e., 2/3 months before the puted discharge. No evidence has been adduced show what was the authority of the person who ote the confidential report. Shri Dhar has not n given any opportunity or chance to meet the gation. The very confidential report shows that vas written with a motive. He is charged with conduct as a Diet Clerk in this confidential report, at a time presumably years after the date of the ged misconduct. No charge was brought against for this alleged misconduct at the proper time when he was a Diet Clerk. The vague allegation is present unsatisfactory work after 13 years of his vice cannot be treated as something tangible as a son for unusual retrenchment. So, my considered ion is that the retrenchment of Shri Dhar was in tion of section 25G of the Act.

nder section 25F of the Act, the employer has to certain things before retrenching an employee. workman has to be paid compensation at the of retrenchment, but no such payment has been ully made. It is alleged that Shri Dhar was d to receive payment of his dues. But Ext. 1(e) show that a notice in this respect was given on August 1960, i.e., several days after the actual enchment. Such vague offer alone of unspecified unt is I am afraid, not a valid tender to constitute nent within the meaning of the section. Shri (O.P.W. 3) alleges that he offered payment to hir Babu on the date the Chairman had signed proceedings of the Executive Committee. It is explained when the proceedings were actually ed. He adds that he made such offer in the week of Sravan 1367 also to the knowledge of hospital authorities. But no such verbal offer been referred to in Ext. 1(e), and Sudhir Babu es this offer. So, I am unable to place sufficient nce on this story of verbal offer before the date retrenchment. There is nothing to show that ce of this retrenchment was given to the Govern t in the prescribed manner either before or soon the retrenchment or at any time. So, the enchment is bad for violation of the provisions ection 25F also. If further appears that there a new appointment of Clerk after this retrench- t and Shri Dhar was not given an opportunity eeking reemployment in accordance with section of the Act. This shows that the hospital orities were not favourably disposed towards Shri Dhar. So, in any view of the case, the retrenchment of Shri Dhar cannot be supported or justified. The learned lawyer for the hospital submits that an order of reinstatement should not be passed even if there is anything wrong with the retrenchment, because it is a charitable institution. I may have sufficient sympathy for the institution and its charitable work but that is not ground why an employee should be wrongfully deprived of his employment, and thus his bread and butter.

So, I direct that Shri Dhar be reinstated in service within one month of the publication of this award. Considering all the circumstances, I direct that the employer shall pay him three months' pay as compensation for the period of forced unemployment. His service will be deemed to have continued without break.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 5107-I.R./IR/11L-329(A)/61, dated the 21st August 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Metal Wood Industries Private Limited, 34 Prince Anwar Shah Road, Calcutta-33, and their workmen represented by the Metal Wood Industries Employees' Union, 47A Haripada Datta Lane, Calcutta-33, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

This reference relating to an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Metal Wood Industries Private Limited (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) of 4 Anwar Shah Road, Calcutta-33, and their workmen represented by the Metal Wood Industries Employees' Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union), 47A Haripada Datta Lane, Calcutta-33, was received by this Tribunal on 24th August 1961. Immediately thereafter notices were sent out for service upon both parties who duly entered appearance and the Union filed written statement of claim. But the Company did not file any. The Company, however, negotiated for settlement of the dispute and succeeded in effecting an amicable settlement with the Union. Both parties filed a joint petition of compromise on this day (26th October 1961). I have perused the terms of settlement embodied therein.

The only point at issue formulated in the order of reference is: the claim for additional bonus for the year 1959 payable in 1960.

It has been amicably agreed upon that the workmen will voluntarily accept 15 days' basic wages as an additional bonus for the year 1959 payable in 1960 in full and final settlement of their claims. I am told by the representatives of both the parties that the bonus for the year 1960 has already been paid to the satisfaction of the workmen. It has further been agreed upon that the distribution of additional bonus be made in the manner as it was done in the last year. These terms appear to me very fair reasonable and lawful. Accordingly I give an award as prayed for in terms of the petition of compromise filed on this date by both the parties and which do form a part of the award as an Annexure.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal, by an order No. 1407-I.R./IR/11L-170/60, dated the 31st March 1960, referred for adjudication to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between 13 Flour Mills in West Bengal, as shown in the list attached to the order of reference, and their workmen represented by the All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah. By a subsequent order No. 1835-I.R./IR/11L-170/60, dated the 22nd April 1960, in the shape of Addendum, the Government included with the list of employers two other flour mills and also added the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdur Congress, 109/Z Ultadanga Main Road, Calcutta-4, as a Trade Union representing the workmen. On 9th August 1960 another order in the shape of Addendum was issued whereby another Trade Union, viz., Narikeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union, 1/1 Birpradas Street, Calcutta-9, was added as a Trade Union representing the workmen of that concern.

Issues

1. Basic wages.
2. Retiral benefits .
3. A uniform system of calculation bonus.
4. Festival holidays.

Notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

AWARD

After the notices were served, the Union, named All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Workers' Union), filed written statement on 8th June 1960. It is claimed by the Union that the present wage scales of different categories of workmen are much below the minimum level of wages and the same is also considerably less than what prevails in the Engineering Industry in West Bengal with which Flour Mills Industry can be reasonably compared beacuse of the sound financial conditions of both these industries and of their developing stages. The Union, therefore, demands a scale of pay starting from Rs. 83 for an unskilled workman, Rs. 98 for semi-skilled workman, Rs. 118 for skilled workman and Rs. 125 for the clerical staff. The scales of pay as demanded by the Union are given at page 7 of the written statement. The Union also claims introduction of Provident Fund where there is none and additional retiral benefit in the shape of gratuity, to be given in addition to the Provident Fund benefit.

Regarding Festival Holidays the demand is that it would be fixed at 12 days in a year. The Union also claims an introduction of a scheme of calculation of bonus on the basis of production with a guranteed minimum of eight months' wages as bonus.

The West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress (hereinafter referred to as the Mazdoor Congress) filed the written statement on 29th June 1960. The Union demand particular scales of pay for the different categories of workmen as shown in paragraph 19 of the written statement. It is also claimed that the workers of all categories should be given two types of retiral benefit in the shape of gratuity and Provident Fund. Regarding holidays it is demanded that the number of festival holidays should be fixed at 12 days in a year. about bonus it is claimed that a uniform system of calculation of bonus should be introduced providing for distribution as bonus an amount on the of 2 annas per maund of grinding of wheat i previous financial year with guaranteed min of 15 months' basic wages.

The Narikeldanga Roller Floor Mills Wo Union filed a written statement on 3rd Ja 1961. That Union demands double retail bei 14 Festival Holidays, 15 months' pay as bonus minimum wage at Rs. 85 per month.

The Bengal Flour Mills Ltd. (serial No. 1) their written statement on 20th August 1960. contended that the flour milling industry in Bengal is not in a prosperous condition nowa With the setting up of flour mills in the neighb ing States, the sale of products got restri Besides, the quota of wheat supplied by the Gov ment represents only about 65 per cent. of milling capacity of the mill. It is further all that the wages fixed by different previous aw and agreements stand much above the minin rates fixed by the Minimum Wages Committee, its recommendation, published in the "Calc Gazetted", dated the 13th August 1959. As the retiral benefit, it is contended that the com is already giving the facilities as to the Provic Fund, and that there is an existing system of p ment of gratuity for the period of service prior the introduction of Provident Fund, and that Company is unable to bear further burden on t account, and that the demand of the Union sho be rejected. Regarding bonus it is contended th the system of calculation demanded by the Uni is unacceptable and it cannot be allowed to repl the Full Bench Formula which has been repeate held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that it shou be followed in deciding a claim for bonus industries. Regarding holidays it is contend that the number of such holidays had already be fixed by the agreement made between the Calcu Flour Mills Association and the two Unions, a such agreement being not lawfully terminated, th issue cannot be decided.

The Calcutta Flour Mills (serial No. 2), th Master Stores (serial No. 6), the Nandan Baga Flour Mills Private Ltd. (serial No. 7), the Refor Flour Mills Private Ltd. (serial No. 10) and Shre Lakshmi Flour Mills Ltd. (serial No. 11) filed a join written statement on 27th August 1960. Thes concerns have challenged the claims of the Union almost on the self-same ground as advanced by th Bengal Flour Mills in the written statement. I addition, it is contended that so far as the Nandar Bagan Flour Mills Private Ltd. is concerned, th issue of retail benefit is concluded by an agreement dated 27th February 1952, and that agreement had not been terminated in accordance with the law. Regarding the payment of bonus at a high rate in 1959, it is contended that this has been done on account of unfair tactics adopted by the Union at the time of the pujas and, therefore, the rate of bonus paid by the different concerns in 1959 can not be taken as criterion for fixing the quantu bonus.

The Imperial Roller Flour Mills Private (serial No. 3) filed the written statement on October 1960. It is contended by the Com that the issue regarding fixation of basic w had been decided by the Tribunal by its aw published in the "Calcutta Gazette", Extraordin on 11th October 1949 and the issues regarding retiral benefit and Festival Holidays are concluded by an agreement, dated the 29th February 1952. The award and the agreement are still binding upon the parties as being not lawfully terminated. Besides, it is contended that the issue as to bonus does not constitute an industrial dispute as contemplated under the Industrial Disputes Act as bonus is linked up with profits, to be calculated following the principles of Full Bench Formula. Moreover, it is contended that the financial position of the Company is not sound. It is further stated that the concern is a public limited Company started in 1950 and no dividend had since been paid to the shareholders. The Company in paragraph 20 of the written statement gave the figures as to gross profit and net profit earned by the Company in the year 1956-58. Regarding bonus it is stated that the workmen were paid wages as advance and the question of bonus is pending adjudication before the Third Industrial Tribunal and similar amount as paid in 1959 had been paid in 1960 by agreement with the Union in the shape of advance pending adjudication.

The Krishan Flour Mill (serial No. 4) filed written statement on 17th January 1961, and stated therein that on account of continued economic distress they have to close down the mill altogether and that the mill is already defunct by the said closure.

At the time of hearing no direct evidence was led by this mill and at the time of hearing of argument none appeared to represent the concern. The case as made in the written statement is that the mill was established in 1957 and that on account of losses suffered since 1959, it had been temporarily closed down from 22nd September 1960. From the written statement it further appears that the Company has got no provision as to retiral benefit and they grant nine Festival Holidays in a year. It may be noted that the dispute regarding the closure is pending adjudication in a separate reference case.

The Mahavir Flour Mill (serial No. 5) filed the written statement on 27th August 1960. It is alleged by the Company that even though the mill has milling capacity of 44 tons per day, due to inadequate supply of wheat during the period of 1956 to 1960 the Compay suffered to a great extent and in spite of its bad financial position this concern though really a minor mill according to the classification as made in the award by Shri S. K. Sen in 1948, showed the most progressive outlook by voluntarily categorising this mill as a major mill with effect from 1st January 1959, and there is no scope for bearing any further liability by giving better wages, etc., as demanded by the Union. Besides, it is alleged that this mill had to pay bonus at the rate of eight months' basic wages in 1959 (not fifteen months' basic wages as stated by the Mazdoor Congress) in forced circumstances.

Messrs. Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills (serial No. 8) filed the written statement on 27th August 1950. It is contended by the company that previously the milling capacity of the concern was 25,000 maunds per month, and by installation of new machinery the milling capacity has been considerably increased. But that the Company had remained out of milling from 1948 to June 1951, and it had financial liability of Rs. 9,47,539.92 nP. to the West Bengal Government and this was being paid on monthly instalment of Rs. 10,000, irrespective of loss or profit. The Company is yet to pay about Rs. 3,68,942.76 nP. to the State Government. The quota as to supply of wheat had been fixed at 36 tons diem in July 1960 as against the milling capacity of 72 tons per diem. It is contended by the Company that in spite of their financial difficulties they had voluntarily converted the mill into a major mill with effect from 15th April 1959, so that industrial peace in the mill might be maintained. It is thus contended that they are unable to bear any further financial burden in the shape of double retiral benefit, greater facilities of leave and enhanced pay.

This Company also filed another written statement on 28th January 1961 equally lengthy as the previous one in reply to the written statement filed by the Narikeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union.

Messrs. New India Flour Mills (serial No. 9) filed their written statement on 27th August 1960. It is stated by the concern that this mill has got a milling capacity at 66 tons per day. But the quota of wheat fixed by the Government constitutes only about 60 per cent. of the capacity, and in spite of its financial difficulties this mill voluntarily converted itself into a major mill with effect from the 1st December 1958, and allowed all sorts of benefits to its workmen. It is thus contended that they are not in a position to shoulder any further financial liability in the shape of double retiral benefit and increase in wages as demanded by the Union.

Messrs. West Bengal Flour Mills (serial No. 12) filed the written statement on 10th October 1960. It appears from the written statement that this mill was established in 1957 and it has got on its roll 20 workmen on permanent basis. The Company pleads inability to pay any retiral benefit or any increase in wage rates. This mill is also closed since 22nd September 1960 and the dispute on the question of closure is pending for adjudication. No evidence was adduced by the concern.

Messrs. Howrah Flour Mills Ltd. (serial No. 13) filed a separate written statement on 28th December 1960 adopting the written statement filed jointly by (1) Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills (serial No. 2), Messrs. Master Stores (serial No. 6), Messrs. Nandan Bagan Flour Mills Private Ltd. (serial No. 7), Messrs. Reform Flour Mills (P) Ltd. (serial No. 10) and Messrs. Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills Ltd. (serial No. 11).

Messrs. Shree Krishna Gyanodays Flour Mills (serial No. 14) filed a separate written statement on 27th August 1960. It is contended by this concern that the issues pending for adjudication under this reference case had already covered by a valid settlement, dated 16th August 1960, and this reference is bad in law. It is further contended that this mill came into existence on 26th December 1957 and the milling capacity is of 45 tons a day. So, this is a small concern and unable to bear any additional financial burden. No evidence was adduced by the concern at the time of hearing.

Messrs. Biswanath Swadeshi Flour Mills (serial No. 15) filed their written statement on 10th October 1960. It is contended by the Company that it is a small concern employing 22 workmen on permanent basis and it was started in the year 1955 only. It suffered a loss of Rs. 4,873 in the year 1955, and earned a profit of Rs. 20,413 in the year 1956, and the expected profit for each of the years from 1957 to 1959 would be about Rs. 20,000 and for the year 1960 it apprehended a loss by about Rs. 5,000. In such financial position of the Company it is not possible for them to shoulder any financial liability by giving increase in wages. Besides it is contended that the issue as to wage cannot be decided as a tripartite settlement on that issue is still binding on the parties.

At the time of hearing eight witnesses were examined from the side of the employers while the workmen examined equal number of witnesses. Besides, a large number of documents have been filed in support of their respective contentions.

The dispute here is as between the 15 flour mills in West Bengal, situated in Calcutta and Howrah, and their workmen. This covers almost all the flour mills in West Bengal. It may be noted that the dispute of Hooghly Flour Mills and the United Flour Mills over the self-same issues are pending for adjudication in a separate reference case.

There were two previous awards by which the wages and scales of pay for the workmen employed in the flour mills had been fixed. The first award was made by Shri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., dated the 15th March 1948, by which he divided the thirteen flour mills of West Bengal which were parties in that reference case into two groups—(i) major mill with a monthly capacity of 55,000 maunds to 130,000 maunds and (ii) minor mill with a capacity of 12,000 maunds to 40,000 maunds of wheat-products per month. Henceforth I shall refer to the mills by serial number. It appears from the award that the flour mills in serial Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 13 -numbering Nine—were parties to the same. The rest of the mills, i.e., those in serial Nos. 4, 5, 6, 12, 14 and 15 which so to speak are newly formed concerns were not parties to the said award. It may be noted that mills in serial Nos. 4, 14 and 15 had been formed in the middle of 1957 end of 1957 and 1955 respectively and the other three concerns in serial Nos. 5, 6, 12 came into existence after 1950.

On an average, according to the said award, a major mill was found to be milling 91,000 maunds of wheat per month while the minor mill at 21.000 maunds per month. Shri Sen, by his award. fixed the minimum basic wages for an unskilled worker at Rs. 1-2-6 per day, i.e., Rs. 30-1 anna per month; for a semi-skilled worker Rs. 1-6-9p. a day or Rs. 36-15-6p. per month for a skilled worker at Rs. 2 a day or Rs. 55-4 annas per month. Dearness allowance was fixed at a flat rate of 15 nP. per day, i.e., Rs. 24-12 per month. An incremental scale was also prescribed for all categories of workmen of the major mills and the rate of increment was fixed at one anna per day after one year's continuous service, two annas per day after five year's continuous service and one anna per day after ten years' continuous service so that the total increment allowed under the award worked out at 4 annas per day, i.e., Rs. 6-8 per month after ten years continuous service. For the minor mill he fixed the minimum wage for unskilled labour a consolidated pay inclusive deamess allowance amounting to Rs. 45 per mon for semi-skilled Rs. 52 per month and Rs. 65 for skilled people with no benefit as to any incremen scale

The next omnibus award was given by S P. K.Sarkar on the 11th October 1949. He proce ed on the basis of Shri S. K. Sen's award given abc one half years ago. He maintained different ra of wages for major and minor in terms of t classification based on milling capacity. But at t same time he introduced some changes in the ba wages of the workmen for both major and min mills and introduced different rates of dearne allowance for them, viz., dearness allowance for major mill at Rs. 28-8 per month or Rs. 1-1-6p. p day, and the same at Rs. 25 per month for t workers in the minor mills. He thus splitted up t wages of the workmen in minor mills and fixed t minimum wages for an unskilled worker of t minor mills at Rs. 30 per month and that of t semi-skilled worker at Rs. 37 per month and th of a skilled workman at Rs. 55 per month. Th virtually the basic wage of the workmen of the min mills was brought to the same level as in the maj mills. No incremental scale was however given the workmen of the minor mills. Shri Sark however changed and increased the rates of incr ment of the workers of the major mills. He direct that the unskilled workmen would get an increme at the rate of six pies per day or 13 annas per mon up to the eight year and at the rate of one anna p day or Rs. 1-10 per month from ninth year to t fifteenth year. Thus the total increment which unskilled workmen was entitled to get worked o to 10-6p. per month making the basic wage of t workmen at Rs. 1-13 per day or Rs. 47-2 per mont For the semi-skilled workman, Shri Sarkar fixed t minimum basic wage at Rs. 1-7 per day in place Rs. 1-6-9p. per day as per Shri Sen's award, ar directed that they could get annual increment at t rate of one anna per day for six years and there fixed the maximum at the same point of Rs. 1-1 for them as available to the unskilled workme For the skilled workman, Shri Sarkar provided rate of annual increment at 0-1-3p. per day Rs. 2-0-6p. per month to be enjoyed for a period six years. In the result the wage structure of t different categories of labour as fixed by the awa of Shri Sarkar ensured a total wage at Rs. 58-9 at t start and Rs. 75-10 at the fininsh for the unskill worker, Rs. 65-14 at the start and Rs. 75-10 at t finish for a semi-skilled worker and Rs. 83-12 the start and Rs. 95-15 at the finish for the skille workman.

The Government by the Notification, publishe the "Calcutta Gazette", Part I, dated 13th Augu 1959, fixed the rates of minimum wages for t unskilled, semiskilled and skilled categories of worl men, on the basis of the recommendations of th Minimum wages Committee formed by the Gover ment of West Bengal. For the sake of brevity, mav mention that the total emoluments of a unskilled workman had been fixed at Rs. 55 and tha for semiskilled workman at Rs. 64.50 nP and fo a skilled workman at Rs. 82.52 nP. It is, however to be noted that in fixing the wage rates of the flou mill industry in West Bengal, the Minimum Wag Committee formed for the purpose included within scope certain small scale industries which are own as Chhaki Mills and, therefore, the minimum ges as statutory prescribed by the Government l in its consideration such industries which are of the type of such big mills as are concerned in dispute. Admittedly, the rates of basic wages prescribed by the award of Shri Sarkar in 1949 remained unchanged all these years. But at the e time it has got to be remembered that there been changes in the rates of dearness allowance ilable to the workmen.

There was a tripartite settlement, dated 29th ruary 1952, made by Shri Quader Nawaz, Conation officer, Government of West Bengal, between mills in serial Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 13 their workmen as represented by the Mazdoor gress and the Workers Union, by which the rate dearness allowance was increased by Rs. 4-14 per nth in all the mills for all categories of workmen. would thus appear that the mills in serial Nos. 4, , 12, 14 and 15 were not covered by this agreement.

Then there was an award given by Shri S. C. kherjee on 28th October 1953, published in the lcutta Gazette", dated the 19th November 1953, rein ten flour mills and their workmen were le parties and the issues decided by that award one relating to classification of workmen and ir grades. By this award, the scale of pay and rness allowance of the workmen were not cted and remained unchanged.

fter that there was a settlement, dated the 30th il 1958, between the Calcutta Flour Mills ociation and the Mazdoor Congress in regard to rness allowance. At that time the Calcutta ur Mills Association represented the mills Nos. 1, and 10 of this order of reference, besides the ghly Flour Mills and the United Flour Mills, ch are parties in a separate reference case, ding adjudication. By that settlement a rule for stment of the rates of dearness allowance to be le quarterly on the basis of the average of the sumer Price Index for the working class for the ious quarters was adopted. This agreement rded an increase of Rs. 2-8 in dearness allowance the rise of five point in the average Consumer e Index taking the then existing dearness wance according to prevailing Index figures at with base 1944=100. A dispute as to whether e terms of settlement would be applicable to n other flour mills including the mills as per l Nos. 4, 10, 12, 13 and 15, came up for consition in an industrial dispute before the Tribunal Shri M. C. Banerjee, Judge, gave an award pubed in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 18th 1959, holding that the aforesaid agreement ld be accepted by these concerns as well. The tion, therefore, is that the flour mill industry increased the dearness allowance and also red a sliding scale variable with the Cost of ng Index since 1953 or 1959 and thus the total luments of the workers got increased compared hat was fixed by the award of Shri P. K. Sarkar 949. This, in short, gives a picture as to the ual increase in the total remuneration of the men since the last award. The Consumer Index being 149, in the quarter ending June , the Dearness allowance stood at Rs. 40.87 for r mills and Rs. 3-8 less, i.e., Rs. 37.37 for the r mills. It may be noted in this connection that the flour mills Nos. 5, 3, 8 and 9 are now paying dearness allowance in accordance with the rates applicable to major mills.

I now proceed to consider for my adjudication the several issues as involved in this reference case.

Issue No. 1 (basic wage):

This issue relates to fixation of basic wages of different categories of workmen. A preliminary point of objection has been raised by the mills in serial Nos. 3, 8 and 9 to the effect that the basic wages for the workmen had already been fixed by the award of Shri P. K. Sarkar in 1949 and it is still binding upon the parties as no legal notice terminating the award had been served upon the particular employers by the workman. The Mazdoor Congress produced a letter of notice, dated 3rd August 1959, wherein it is clearly stated that all the previous award agreements made individually or jointly stands terminated (vide Ext. 2). This notice indicates a clear intention to terminate the previous awards and agreements. It further appears from the evidence that the aforesaid notice had been sent under Certificate of Posting to the Secretary of the Calcutta Flour Mills Association, the West Bengal Flour Mills Association and the individual flour mills in serial Nos. 11, 14 and 15 [vide Ext. 2(a) and Ext. 2(b)]. It is true, the particulars of the agreement and the award with dates thereof had not been mentioned in the notice itself. But at the same time the clear intention to terminate all previous award or agreements had been expressed through the letter.

As already pointed out that the flour mills in serial Nos. 4, 5, 6, 12, 14 and 15 were not parties to the previous award given by Shri Sarkar, and for that there is no question of termination of any award. Besides, it is significant to note that the employer of the mills Nos. 1, 2, 7, 10, 11 and 13 though parties to the previous award did not raise any objection regarding the termination of the same. It is contended by the learned Lawyer appearing for the mills No. 3, 8 and 9 that it was not enough for the Union to serve notice upon the employer's Association and that it should have been given by the party bound by the award to the other party and that nobody other than the employer can be said to be the other party. Admittedly, the mills Nos. 1, 2, 6, 7, 10, 11, 12 and 13 are members of the Calcutta Flour Mills Association. O.P.W. 1, Shri S. Mukherjee, the Manager of the Imperial Roller Flour Mills Ltd. (serial No. 3), stated that they are members of the same Association since 1955. O.P.W. 7, Shri S. Banerjee, who is the Secretary of the Association since early 1961, stated that he had found in office record no such notice. The notice was sent under the certificate of posting before this gentleman joined as the Secretary. The competent person to depose on this point was the Chairman of the Association. But he did not come forward to deny the fact even though he was present in the Court. A letter sent under the Certificate of Posting is presumed to have reached the destination. Shri Barman proved posting of the notices. There is no evidence worth reliance to prove non-service of this notice to the Association. So far as the New India Flour Mill is concerned, I find from the evidence of O.P.W. 3, Shri Agarwalla, the Manager, that the said concern accepted the agreement made by the Association in 1959, by which the rate of dearness allowance had been revised. Apparently, this concern had been acting through the agency of the Association. O.P.W. 5, Shri Biswas of Mill No. 8, who denied having received of any notice, also admitted that they accepted the agreement regarding dearness allowance which was done through the Association. Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, who appeared on behalf of the Union, pleaded that just as the Union though not party to the award is the representative of the workmen and, therefore, entitled to give a notice of termination of the award, such notice given to the Association of the employers would be treated as valid notice to make the constituent members bound by the same. I hold that the contention is substantial. It is true that the West Bengal Flour Mills Association had been formed in 1953 with the concerns in serial Nos. 4, 10, 12, 13 and 15 as members, when the mills in serial Nos. 10, 13 and the Marwari Flour Mills severed their connection with the Calcutta Flour Mills Association. In fact, the question whether the agreement regarding dearness allowance made with the Calcutta Flour Mills Association would be enforceable with respect to seven other flour mills had been the point for decision in the reference case before Shri M. C. Banerjee who gave the award as stated before, deciding upon that point. It may also be mentioned in this connection that the Workers' Union stated in paragraph 16 of the written statement that the strike notice including within it certain Charter of Demands (Annexure "A") had been served upon the mills. It is true that the mere service of strike notice upon the concern does not serve the purpose of terminating an award. But the entire circumstances under which the notices had been given and the contents of the notices are to be considered to decide whether a clear intention had been expressed in an unambiguous terms by the workmen.

As for Biswanath Flour Mills (serial No. 15), it appears that a tripartite settlement has been made as between the employer and the Mazdoor Congress on 22nd August 1959 whereby the award of Shri M. C. Banerjee, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 18th June 1959, was terminated and the minimum wages had been fixed at Rs. 60 per month (vide Ext. T). As already stated, the notice of termination of the award, Ext. 2, is dated 3rd August 1959. Naturally, therefore, this tripartite settlement which is binding upon the parties for six months from the date of the memorandum of settlement was still operating and binding upon the parties when the notice was served. I accordingly hold that so far as this mill is concerned, the settlement still subsists and there arises no question of fixation of basic pay of the workmen in this concern.

I am thus left to consider the question as to whether the workmen have been able to make out a case as to change in circumstances justifying increase in the existing wage rates with respect to other 14 mills. Wages of the workmen from the very nature of the same as a condition of service cannot remain static. The principle of res judicata applies only to a limited extent when the question of revision of wages arises after a long lapse of time. The following concerns were found Major Mills by the previous award:

(1) Messrs. Bengal Flour Mills.

(2) Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills.

(3) Messrs. Reform Flour Mills.

(4) Messrs. Sree Lakshmi Flour Mills.

(5) Messrs. Howrah Flour Mills.

The following flour mills are paying wages basic and dearness allowance) at the rates cribed for Major Mills even though from the point of milling capacity those are minor mill

(1) Messrs. Mahabir Flour Mills.

(2) Messrs. Narkeldanga Flour Mills.

(3) Messrs. New India Flour Mills.

The rest of the mills, i.e., (i) Messrs. Im Roller Flour Mills, (ii) Messrs. Krishna Flour (iii) Messrs. Master Stores Ltd., (iv) Messrs. N Bagan Flour Mills, (v) Messrs. West Bengal Mills and (vi) Messrs. Shri Krishna Gannoda Mills, are all minor mills. It is apparent fro evidence that the flour mills in West Bengal depend upon the supply of wheat by the G ment for which distinct quota had been fixe fact, the supply of quota varied from time to Almost a common grievance had been made b the mills that the supply of wheat fell short o milling capacity of the mills, and therefore a portion of the invested capital remained idle. supply of wheat was about 60 per cent. milling capacity. From the middle of 1960 the system has been abolished by the Government therefore, mills are allowed to have any quanti wheat they like. O.P.W. 2, Shri Sen, admitt the cross-examination that the mills are in a tion to purchase Indian wheat as and when n sary as per recent circular issued by the Go ment. The milling capacity of the respective mills is an index from which an idea as to the of the mill can be gathered. The classificatio the mills as Major Mills and Minor Mills had made on sound principle relying on the p capacity of the mills as it stood in 1949. It ap that the mills in serial Nos. 1, 2, 10, 11 and 13 w were declared as Major Mills have got milling city of 198 tons, 100 tons, 195 tons, 130 tons 150 tons respectively. None of them has fina incapacity to pay higher wages. Mills in s Nos. 5, 8 and 9 have got milling capacity to extent of 44 tons, 72 tons and 66 tons respecti The rest of the mills are still smaller from the st point of milling capacity. That the mills in s Nos. 5, 8 and 9 are paying wages according to rates fixed for the Major Mills is an indicativ the fact that they are in a position to pay hi wages compared to what was fixed by the awar 1949. The flour mills have got to follow the di tions of the Government regarding the percen of the different varieties of wheat products, i.e., a flour, suji, bran and refraction, the proportion which is made variable from time to time by Government. Besides, the Government also fi the prices of the wheat-products, i.e., atta, flour a suji. It is contended by the employers that prices fixed by the Government is higher than rates at which the products are actually sold a therefore, the sale proceeds at market rate wo out lesser than the sale proceeds at the fixed ra

The control prices are actually the limits above which the products cannot be sold. There is however no convincing evidence that the rates as fixed by the Government is disproportionately high. Another allegation made by the employers that there had been difficulties in sale of the products on account of opening new mills in the neighbouring States is also not substantiated. The fact remains that with the increase in population and the liking of people in consuming more wheat products the flour mills cannot have any difficulty in the matter of sale.

It appears from the statement in paragraph 6 of the written statement of the Mazdoor Union that the flour mills in serial Nos. 1, 2, 10, 11 and 13 paid bonus on the eve of the Pujas in 1959 at an amount of more than six months' basic pay. Mill No. 11 was once given out of long terms lease as a rent Rs. 20,000 per month. Certainly even then the transaction left margin of profit. The mills in serial Nos. 5, 8 and 9 gave bonus at 15 months' basic pay, eight months' basic pay and 15 months' basic pay respectively in 1958.

P.W. 3, Shri Gouranga Ch. Das, a workman of Messrs. Mahabir Flour Mills (serial No. 5), stated that in 1960 the workers were paid bonus at the rate of 14 months' wages. According to the version of the Manager, Shri M. M. Sen, O.P.W. 2, bonus was paid at nine months' wages in 1958, and at eight months' basic wages in 1959 and that the Company made an advance against bonus at about Rs. 250 to every worker in 1960 in terms of the agreement, Ext. N. This mill was started in October 1956, and at present there are 22 workmen. This Company however did not produce any audited balance sheet to show the financial position of the Company. From the evidence taken as a whole it would not be unwise to hold that the mill is in sound financial position and even though from the stand-point of milling capacity it is not yet a major mill, they are paying wages at the rates fixed for the Major Mills for such sound financial position. So far as the Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills (serial No. 8) is concerned, I find from the evidence that the mill remained closed from August 1948 to June 1961 and incurred a debt amounting to Rs. 10,00,000. In terms of the agreement made with the Government, the mill agreed to clear up the outstanding debts at the rate of Rs. 7,500 per month and the amount still to be paid is about Rs. 3 lakhs. From the evidence of P.W. 8, Shri Daroga, it appears that the Company paid bonus at the rate of 10 months' basic wages in 1958, O.P.W. 5, Shri Biswas, the Manager of the mill, stated that they paid such bonus under pressure of circumstances. I do not think, the mill could pay such rate of bonus, but for its sound financial capacity. Much has been said by Shri Barman that the mills earn greater profits by mixing water at a higher percentage with the product. I do not think it would be safe to dispute a design as to adulteration of wheat-products depending merely upon his statement.

Messrs. New India Flour Mills (serial No. 9) filed a statement, Ext. 0(7), showing therein that the mill earned profit about 1 lakh in 1957-58, Rs. 92,000 in 1958-59, and Rs. 4,000 in 1959-60. In spite of the fact, they paid nine months' total wages as bonus in 1958, eight months' basic pay in 1959 and made an advance in bonus in 1960. Shri Barman, the General Secretary of the Mazdoor Congress, stated that this mill by installation of new machine can grind about 50,000 maunds of wheat but they are practically grinding 22,000 maunds of wheat per month. From the evidence I feel that this concern is on the path of prosperity. So far as the minor mills represented by Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, appearing for Messrs. Nandan Bagan Flour Mills (serial No. 7) and Messrs. Master Stores (serial No. 6) are concerned, no account showing the financial position had been produced. Messrs. Imperial Roller Flour Mills produced accounts for the several years from 1955 to 1958, and it appears that it earned profit at Rs. 22,197 in 1955, Rs. 48,615 in 1957 and Rs. 6,858 in 1959. I have already stated that Messrs. Krishna Flour Mills (serial No. 4) and West Bengal Flour Mills (serial No. 12) have been kept closed and that there was no appearance of lawyer at the time of argument from the side of the Company. So, in the group of minor mills I am inclined to hold from the evidence that mill Nos. 3, 6, 7 and 9 are in more flourshing conditions compared to the other mills in this group which are still smaller in size. Another fact worth consideration is that at the time of the previous award these mills worked for 12 days in a month for shortage in supply. But with the improvement of supply position of wheat after abolition of the quota system, it is possible to work the mills all the days in a month, with two or more shifts as and when necessary.

It has been urged by the learned lawyers appearing for the employers that these mills are all paying increased rates of dearness allowance in terms of the award and private settlement, and further increase in wage is not called for. The concerns also introduced a system of sliding scale of dearness allowance varying with the cost of living index. The total remuneration earned by a worker should no doubt be considered in terms of the paying capacity of the employers. Taking the expenses on account of food at Rs. 5 per head in pre-war level of prices, a workman's family composition as consisting 3 units, other expenses except for food constituting 40 per cent. of the total expenses, the need of a worker is calculated at Rs. 25 per month on the pre-war level of price. The amount becomes Rs. 45 per month taking the cost of living index at 180 point below which point the living index would never go down. At present the cost of living index stands at 400 point. In order to secure complete neutralisation of the rise in cost of living index, the wages should be at least Rs. 100 per month. It is, of course, well known that there cannot be a complete neutralisation of the cost of living index. The rule of dearness allowance as now prevailing also ensures a partial neutralisation of the cost of living index. The minimum wage of the unskilled workman had been fixed at Rs. 58-8 per month by the First Omnibus Jute Tribunal in 1948, and it was raised to Rs. 63-6 by the Second Omnibus Jute Tribunal in 1951 and it was further raised by the Third Omnibus Tribunal at Rs. 67.17 per month. For the workers in the Textile Industry which in West Bengal works under certain special difficulties, the minimum wage was fixed by the First Omnibus Award at Rs. 52-2 in 1949, and it was raised to Rs. 60.67 nP. by the Third Omnibus Award of 1958. By a tripartite agreement, wages had been fixed at Rs. 74.50 nP. on 1st March 1961 taking index figure at 400 points in terms of the recommendations of the Central Wage Board. Compared to the rates of wages in these industries, the minimum wage as paid to the workmen appears to be not low. But the evidence reveals that this industry taken as a whole stands on a sound and stable financial position. The fact that many of the concerns did not produce the balance sheet paid substantial bonus in the past years speak much to reflect the paying capacity. Obviously, there is a wide gap between the prevailing wages and the living wages ensuring a decent living which is yet to be achieved. A living wage needs provide for (i) absolute essentials, e.g., food, shelter and clothing, (ii) a condition of frugal comfort estimated by current human standards including matrimonial condition and maintenance of five persons, (iii) provision for bad days and (iv) maintenance of efficiency and skill. The mere fact that the employer gave partial neutralisation for increase in the cost of living index which stood at 310 points in 1949 can there be no ground to refuse such increase in the basic wage structure as the circumstances permit. I am satisfied from the evidence that the mills which have better grinding capacity and could not satisfactorily plead any financial disability, should give better wage. For that I fix the minimum wage for an unskilled workman at Rs. 35-12 annas, for the semi-skilled worker at Rs. 40-10 annas and for the skilled at Rs. 58-8 annas per month. Such rates of minimum wages for the unskilled and semi-skilled workmen would be similar to the minimum wages given to the workers in the Engineering Industry as awarded by the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 5th November 1958. It may be noted that by that award the learned Tribunal fixed the minimum dearness allowance at Rs. 36 at the cost of living index standing at 364 points, and provided a rule as to increase of the same for every five point rise by Re. 1 so that the dearness allowance at the cost of living index at 400 points (base 1939) now stands at Rs. 41. The total remuneration of the workmen would still remain much below the living wage and it would be just above the floor level of fair wages. I also held that the semi-skilled and skilled workmen should earn increment up to nine years and not for only six years as fixed by the previous award, as stagnation in the wage structure in the middle of the service career of a worker is likely to cause frustration.

So far as the mills Nos. 5, 8 and 9 are concerned, which are paying according to the standard fixed for the Major Mills by the preceeding award, I do not find any reason why the wage structure should not be same as I fix for the other mills, i.e., mills in serial Nos. 1, 2, 10, 11 and 13. To make a separate category for these mills would lead to unnecessary complications.

In terms of my decision, the scales of wages of the different categories of workmen in the mills in serial Nos. 1, 2, 5, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 13 stand revised as follows:

	Initial.	Rate of increment.	Rate of increment.	Final.
Unskilled—
Old scale	Rs. 1-2-6 or Rs. 30/1/-	6 pies (7 years)	1 anna (7 years)	Rs. 1-13 daily or Rs. 47/2/-p.m.
New scale	Rs. 1/6/- or Rs 35/12/-	same	same	Rs.2-0-6p daily or Rs. 52/13/-p.m.
Semi-skilled—
Old scale	Rs. 1/7/- or Rs. 37/6/-	1 anna (6 years)	—	Rs. 1/13/-daily or Rs. 47/2/-p.m.
New scale	Rs. 1-9/- or Rs. 40/10/	1 anna (9 years)	—	Rs. 2/2/-daily or Rs. 55/4/- p.m.
Skilled—
Old scale	Rs. 2/2/ or Rs. 55/4/-	1 anna 3 p. (6 years)	—	Rs. 2/9/6p daily or Rs. 67/7/-p.m.
New scale	Rs. 2/4/- or Rs. 58/8/-	1 anna 3 p. (9 years)	—	Rs. 2/15/3 p. daily or Rs. 76/13/6p p.m.

Regarding the other mills excluding Messrs. Shri Biswanath Swadeshi Flour Mills (serial Nos. 15) some incremental scales should be given to those workmen. I also raise the starting wages by a small amount. The scale of pay of the workmen in mills, 3, 4, 6, 7, 12 and 14 is thus laid down as follows:

Unskilled—Rs. 33 —-/8/- annas 38 (10 years).

Semi-skilled -Rs. 40—-/12/- annas — 46 (8 years).

Skilled- -Rs. 58—1—66—(8 years).

In adjusting the pay in the scale, it is directed that with respect to the mills Nos. 1, 2, 5, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 13, their wages be fixed by giving an increase by 3-6 p. daily for the unskilled workmen, and at 2 annas daily for the semi-skilled and skilled workmen subject to the condition that when by such increase, no stage in the scale is reached, the wages would be fixed at the point of the next stage. For the other mills the minimum wages be pulled up to the level of the minimum wages at Rs. 33, Rs. 40, Rs. 58 respectively. Those workers who have put in more than one year of service would have their wages fixed at Rs. 33-8, Rs. 40-12 and Rs. 59 respectively.

I leave out the question of fixing any wage scale for such category of workmen who may be called highly skilled, as I do not find any evidence to prove their existence. Even if there be any such category of workmen, I feel they are capable of dictating terms and earn wages according to the value of their skill. For the clerks I fix the following two scales of pay in the line as fixed by the Third Engineering Tribunal Award:

Non-Matriculate: Rs. 60—3—90.

Matriculate and above: Rs. 65—3—95—E.B.—4—135.

For the sub-staff, I fix the wages as follows:

Peon, Sweeper and Malli: Rs. 30—1—35 1½—41 (9 years).

Driver: Rs. 60—1—65—2—73.

No such workmen should be paid below the minimum in the scale laid down.

The wages as fixed should be given from 1st October 1961.

Issue No. 2:

It is demanded by the workmen that there should be two types of retiral benefits in the shape of Provident Fund and gratuity running simultaneously. By the tripartite settlement, dated 29th February 1952, Ext. E, the mills Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 13 introduced a gratuity scheme for their workmen and staff at the rate of 15 days' basic pay per year of service on normal retirement or retirement on medical ground, retrenchment, resignation with employer's consent or death. Such gratuity is payable only with respect to interim period before the Provident Fund Scheme came in existence. The mill No. 4 in paragraph 15 of the written statement stated that they have got no provisions as to retiral benefit. The mill No. 5 has got provisions for Provident Fund and that for the uncovered period of service there is the same scheme of gratuity. It appears that the mills Nos. 6 and 12 also have got the scheme of Provident Fund and the scheme of gratuity for the uncovered period of service. The mill No. 15 made provisions for Provident Fund under the Provident Fund Act in 1961. There is however no scheme of gratuity even for the uncovered period. It has been urged by the employers that the aforesaid agreement which is binding upon these nine mills had not been validly terminated in law and, therefore, there is no point for deciding the issue during the subsistence of the agreement. I have already stated while deciding the issue No. 1 that the facts and circumstances indicate that the previous awards and agreements had been terminated by notice and the same are no longer binding upon the parties. The question, therefore, arises for consideration whether a retiral benefit in the shape of gratuity to run parallel with the Provident Fund should be introduced. It is now well settled that before a scheme of gratuity as an additional retiral benefit can be introduced, the financial conditions of the Company must be considered in its broad aspects with its profit earning capacity, the profit earned in the past, its reserves and the possibility of replenishing the reserves, the claims of capital to dividend having regard to the risk involved and other factor from which an inference can be drawn about the soundness of the financial position. While deciding Issue No. 1, I found that the mills Nos. 1, 2, 10, 11 and 13 are in sound financial position. In fact, these are long standing mills and there is no evidence to show their incapacity to bear additional liability in the shape of retiral benefit. It is quite possible for these mills to allow the workmen in addition to the benefits of Provident Fund, a benefit as to gratuity. So, for these mills, I decide that they should pay gratuity concurrently with the Provident Fund in accordance with the scheme of 15 days' wages as laid down in the agreement. I make the gratuity scheme supplementary to the Provident Fund Scheme for these mills. For the rest of the mills including mills Nos. 5, 8 and 9, I think that when the Provident Fund Scheme is in force, they would without exception pay gratuity to each workman at the rate of 15 days' basic pay per year of service, for the uncovered period before the introduction of the Provident Fund Scheme. I find no reason to make any exception with respect to the mill No. 15. They are still not in a position to give double benefits and, therefore, workmen could not earn any benefit of gratuity since the date the scheme of Provident Fund under Act IXX of 1952 becomes applicable herein.

Issue No. 3:

It is demanded by the workmen represented by all the Unions that there should be a uniform system of calculation of bonus applicable to the Flour Milling Industry in West Bengal. It is now well settled that the workers have got a legitimate claim for bonus on the ground that the profits earned by an industry arises for the joint contribution of labour and capital. There is no controversy on the point that the employers of the Flour Milling Industry in West Bengal had paid bonus at varying rates in different years on the eve of the Pujas. On account of such payment at variable rates no claim for bonus as a condition of service or as Puja bonus at a fixed rate could be sustained. It is on that account that the workers demand that a system of calculation of bonus should be so evolved that it would be calculated on the basis of 2 annas per maund of wheat grind in the preceeding financial year subject to a guaranteed minimum. The Tribunals have recognised the claim for bonus on the part of workmen on a definite principle, the foremost of which is based on the Full Bench Formula propounded by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in a case of Mill Owners Association, Bombay and Rastriya Mazdoor Sangha, reported in 1950, L.L.J., II, p. 1247. The broad principles enunciated to that case relating to distribution of the available surplus amongst the labour, capital and the industry, following a definite rule of calculation to arrive at the figure of available surplus, have been considered to be appropriate in a number of decisions given by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. It can never be said that any assessment as to the profit earned by a concern can be made only with reference to the quantity of wheat grind in a particular year. It seems to me that the Unions demand for introduction of scheme of calculating bonus in the manner alleged is unwarranted. I have also considered the claim from the standpoint of a production bonus scheme. In the case of Titaghur Paper Mills and their workmen, reported in 1959, L.L.J., II, p. 9, the Hon'ble Supreme Court left undecided the question as to whether the scheme of production bonus would for the first time be imposed on the employer by the Tribunal in an adjudication in accordance with the Industrial Disputes Act. Admittedly, there is at present no scheme of production bonus in the Flour Milling Industry in West Bengal. There is also no material even before me from which I can find out a method of calculation of production bonus. The learned Lawyer Shri S. C. Sen representing the mills under the Calcutta Flour Mills Association urged that the issue by itself is misconceived and the other lawyers appearing for the respective mills also endorsed his view. In my opinion, when there is no scheme of production bonus applicable to the different concerns, it is not possible for me to evolve a scheme of calculation of production bonus simply on the basis of quantity of wheat grind as demanded by the Unions. There is no evidence to show the standard rate of production per worker in the different concerns. Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, who argued the case on behalf of both the Major Unions, frankly admitted that the issue is somewhat misconceived. I feel that it would be going out of my jurisdiction to lay down any scheme of production bonus in accordance with the demand made by the Unions in their written statements. It is true that the Flour Milling Industry had been paying quite a decent quantum of bonus to the workmen in the last few years. Some of the mills, i.e., mills in serial Nos. 3, 4 and 12, gave bonus to the workmen subject to the condition that the payment might be treated as advance and not strictly as bonus till the decision on the question of calculation of the exact amount is made by the Tribunal. It is entirely for the Tribunal wherein the disputes are pending to decide the issue. I would however note that the Flour Mills are in a prosperous condition and that it is quite possible for them to give handsome quantum of bonus. I cannot at the same time in the scope of this adjudication lay down any scheme of calculation of production bonus or, as a matter of fact, any scheme laying down a fixed principle regarding calculation of bonus deviating from the Full Bench Formula. In normal course the quantum of bonus to be paid would depend upon the amount of profits earned by the concern and for that the claim of the workmen should be decided in accordance with the Full Bench Formula for each of the concerns separately. It would be unwise to lay down any other principle when a broad rule of calculation under the Full Bench Formula is being worked out as a sound principle. I thus hold no new system for calculating bonus can be framed.

Issue No. 4 (Holidays):

By the award of Shri Sarkar, the number of paid holidays as fixed by the previous award of Shri Sen at six days in a year remained unaltered. Subsequently, by agreement or settlement the mills are giving nine Festival Holidays. It may be noted that the number of holidays had also been fixed at nine days in a year by the agreement, Ext. E. It is urged by the Unions that the number should be increased to 12 to 14 days. There is nothing to indicate any change in circumstances for which the existing state of things should be disturbed. Besides, the workmen engaged in the Engineering Concerns, Textile and Jute Industries do not enjoy more than nine Festival Holidays. I therefore consider the provision of nine paid Festival Holidays to be fair and adequate. It appears that the mill No. 3 granted two more holidays in two years, but that is a matter of concession and cannot be taken in support of increasing the number of holidays, as a permanent feature. It is necessary to fix up and limit the number of holidays, conforming to an uniform standard, for the workmen in mills and factories and once the same is done, it should not be lightly changed.

The number of holidays would thus remain at nine days in a year.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. Pal, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the Mazdoor Union: Shri Jagannath Pandey.

Present for the Shramik Union: Shri Ram Sen.

Present for the Employees' Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

Present for the Labour Union: Shri Sibnath Banerji.

This reference has been made to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4940-I.R./IR/10L-86/60, dated the 17th September 1960, for adjudication of the following issue in respect of a dispute between Messrs. Burn & Co. Ltd., Howrah Iron Works, Howrah, and their workmen represented by (1) Burn Mazdoor Union, (ii) Burn Shramik Union, (iii) Burn's Employees' Union and (iv) Burn's Labour Union.

The issue for determination is as follows:

"Bonus payable in the year 1960."

The bonus in question is in respect of the Company's financial year beginning from the 1st of May 1958 to the 30th April 1959. In fact, the financial year of the Company is from May to the following April, and there is no dispute about it. The fact is also admitted that bonus of a particular year is payable in the following year, as for example, the bonus for the year in question (1958-59) is payable (if payable at all) in 1960.

All the four Unions have claimed profit bonus to the extent of six months' basic wages. In addition, the Shramik Union, the Employees' Union and the Labour Union have also claimed bonus for two months' as a condition of service or as customary bonus. It is to be noted that the Mazdoor Union has not preferred any such claim of customary bonus or bonus as a condition of service. It is further to be noted that the Burns Co. Ltd. would be hereafter referred to as the Company and the Unions would be referred to by names as mentioned above.

The case of the Unions, in common, is that the claim for bonus was laid by them some time before the Pujas of the last year and, on some objections from the Company, some meetings took place between the parties, and also before the Conciliation Officer, and also some correspondences passed between the Company and the Unions, the Unions and the Labour Commissioner, and the Labour Commissioner and the Company. As the dispute was not to be amicably settled, the Company at the instance of the Labour Commissioner made an advance payment of three months' wages towards the claim of bonus, subject to adjustment after the decision by the Tribunal to which a reference for adjudication might be made. It is the case of the Unions that the Company expressed about the granting of bonus to the extent of three and half months' wages and was disinclined to raise the amount any further, whereas the Unions wanted a substantial rise above four months' wages. It is said that after the amicable talks had failed, the Unions gave notices for a strike whereupon the present reference had been made by the Government, and thus the Unions refrained from launching their proposed strike.

Briefly speaking, the case of the Employees' Union is this: The Company is a highly prosperous concern employing about 8,000 workmen in all, the total strength of clerks, sub-staff, sircars and checkers being 1,100. The Union was formed in 1946 to seek redress of the grievances by constitutional means. The Company used to pay one month's wages as traditional or customary bonus since 1930. The Company also paid profit bonus on the eve of the Pujas every year. It gradually increased the rates under Tribunal awards and sometimes by mutual agreements. The profits of the year in question were much higher than those of the previous years, and so the Union wrote to the Company claiming a substantial increase in bonus, but the Company declined to make any incre After some bipartite and tripartite meetings several correspondences the Company made advance payment of three months' wages at suggestion of the Deputy Labour Commissioner, the conciliation had ultimately failed on accoun the Company's adamant attitude in not gran enhanced amount of bonus.

The case as per the statement of the Labour Ur is practically the same as that of the Employ Union.

The case of the Mazdoor Union is also practic the same with certain additional averments wh are as follows: The balance-sheet of the Comp as well as the profit and loss account are unreliable and defective as also doubtful. T Union has challenged the printed accounts of Company by reference to several big and import items. It is further stated by the Union that th is a big gap between the present wages received the workmen and the "living wages."

While adopting the case in general, as made by Employees' Union, the Shramik Union also made so additional statements as follows: The Company created huge reserves besides expenses on expans scheme out of the profits to which the workm very largely and sincerely contributed. A substan portion of the Company's capital has been creat out of the accumulated profits distributed as bon among the share-holders. The workmen, in fact, given wages far below the minimum rate. Tru speaking, the actual profits of the Company wou be much more than the figure shown in the print accounts of the Company.

In the written statement of the Company contends as follows: Upon the application of t Full Bench Formula into the audited accounts of t Company for the year in question, there is available surplus of profits warranting payment bonus as demanded by the workmen. The Compan is not in a position to pay bonus as demanded. the claim is not sustainable under the Full Ben Formula, the claim as made is also not maintainab and sustainable on merits. The Company never pa any traditional or customary bonus or bonus as condition of service. The advance payments mad by the Company were only a gesture of goo will towards the workmen, and was only accommodate the wishes of the Conciliation Office and not made in consideration of the profits of th Company. The Company has been paying adequat wages and allowances to its workmen in additio to other benefits and, as such, there is no gap to b filled in between the actual wages paid to the work men and what should be considered as "livin wages." In fact, the workmen were not entitled t such advance payments otherwise. The allegation made against the correctness and bona fides of th printed accounts of the Company are totally false and made with mala fide intentions. The Compan repudiates in strongest terms the insinuation against the correctness of the printed and audited accounts of the Company. The Annexure A to the written statement of the Employees' Union (in w the position of the previous year were mention is misleading and incorrect. The Company states further that the advance payments were m without prejudice and were to be adjusted after issue of bonus is finally settled in a Court of law

In short, the objections of the Company to the laims of bonus of the Unions in respect of the year 1 question are mainly three fold, viz., (1) that the /orkmen are getting wages much above the fair /ages, if not exactly the living wages, and hence hère is no gap between the wages paid and the iving wages; thus the claim for bonus in untenable; 2) that the onus of proving available surplus for listribution of bonus is on the workmen who are nable to discharge this onus, and hence their claim ught to fail; (3) that on merits of the case and also n view of the calculations or computations made ccording to the principles evolved by the formula of the Full Bench of the Labour Appellate Tribunal, Bombay, there would be no surplus available for payment of bonus for the year in question.

Before I proceed to go into the details of evidence and circumstances as to the merits of the case, I would propose to give a short history of the case with particular reference to tripartite conferences and correspondences, and to the charts (given below) for a comparative study of the conditions and circumstances which obtained during several years preceding the bonus year in question:

Table for comparative study

Year.	Net profit. Rs.	Dividend. (Per cent.)	Bonus allowed.	Remarks.
1949-50	8,09,344	(Not mentioned)	1 month's pay	By award.
1950-51	8,20,107	15	Do.	Do.
1951-52	8,12,499	Do.	3 weeks' pay	Do.
1952-53	8,02,697	Do.	1 month's pay	Do.
1953-54	10,44,746	10	2 months' pay	By agreement.
1954-55	14,28,237	15	2½ months 'pay	By award.
1955-56	18,77,284	20	3 months' pay	Do.
1956-57	18,57,957	Do.	3½ months' pay	By agreement
1957-58	18,81,669	Do.	3¾ months' pay	Do.
1958-59	26,07,391	28½	3 months' pay	In dispute.

In Annexure A to the written statement of the Employees' Union a chart in a form of table as above has been given wherein the years and the figures, etc. (except the rates of dividends only), have been mentioned. At the time of hearing, the Shramik Union supplied a very small chart stating the years and the figures of net profits, etc., including the rates of dividends. In the table given above I have mentioned about the rates of dividends taken from this chart supplied to the Tribunal by the Shramik Union. Although in the written statement of the Company it has been alleged that the Annexure A to the written statement of the Employees' Union was incorrect, the figures, etc., as mentioned in that Annexure have remained quite undisturbed up to the last stage. Nor was any question raised alleging incorrectness of the rates of dividends mentioned in the chart supplied by the Shramik Union.

I now give here the gist of the correspondences which together with the above table would, in my view, afford an important and interesting study. On 28th November 1959 the Employees' Union wrote a letter, Ext. 1, to the Company's General Manager stating about its great satisfaction to see that the profits shown in that year in question had surpassed all records and that the workmen were accordingly claiming six months' pay as profit bonus and two months' pay as customary bonus or bonus as a condition of service. Since then the matter hanged fire for a pretty long time, and there was no final amicable settlement.

After some correspondences, the Company's General Manager wrote a letter (Ext. 5, dated 19th May 1960) to the Labour Commissioner, Howrah, to say that the bonus for the year 1958-59, if due, would be paid before the Puja of 1960 in accordance with the Company's usual past practices, and that it was too early to start discussion on the matter then. Subsequently, late in August 1960, the Company appears to have made certain offer which was unacceptable to the Unions, which informed the Manager that there was no chance of settlement unless there was a substantial increase over the preceding year's bonus (three and three-fourth months.)

Next, in reply to the Labour Officer's letter the Company's General Manager wrote his letter (Ext. B-1, dated 1st September 1960) stating that the Company would be prepared to consider payment of three and one-fourth months' basic pay as bonus for the year in question in full and final settlement of all disputes regarding bonus for that year, that by following the Full Bench Formula the available surplus for the year in question would not in any way justify payment of even this bonus, and the matter should not be referred for adjudication. By writing that letter the Company expressed its preparedness to place before the Officer its rough calculations about the profits according to the Full Bench Formula. In paragraphs 4 and 5 of the letter it was stated thus:

> "In the circumstances, we regret that we are unable to consider payment of three and one-fourth months' basic pay as advance. Should however, you feel that under the Full Bench Formula the available surplus would not justify payment of bonus of more than three and one-fourth months' basic pay, thereby not justifying reference of the case to adjudication, we are willing to consider paying three and one-fourth months' pay as bonus.
> In case you consider that an advance should be paid pending adjudication, we shall be willing to consider payment of an advance of approximately two and half months' basic pay."

On 2nd September 1960 the Labour Officer wrote to the Company's Manager suggesting payment of an advance equal to three months' basic pay, pending further examination of the dispute on the Company's supply of full accounts and other relevant data immediately. On that date (2nd September 1960) the Manager of the Company also wrote a letter (Ext. 11) to the Joint Secretaries of the Employees' Union stating as follows:

> "During the several conciliation meetings we made it quite clear that the Company was unable to consider payment of any more bonus than what had already been offered for 1958-59. It was also explained that by following the Full Bench Formula the available surplus for the year in question would not in any way justify payment of even this bonus.
> The Company considers that your demand is much too excessive and is not justified by the Profit and Loss Account of the Company for the year in question.
>
> We regret we are unable to consider the Unions' demand, viz. 'substantial increase over last year's bonus (three and three-fourth months)' basic pay."

As the examination of the Company's records and statements would take some time, the Labour Commissioner recommended immediate payment of three months' basic pay as bonus in advance, to be adjusted after the question was finally settled.

Next, there were the Company's office orders for conditional payments in advance, and some further correspondences also followed.

Next the Unions wanted to know from the Company to what extent the latter could increase the amount of bonus, if not substantial increase over three and three-fourth months' pay as claimed by them. To this there was no reply. Ultimately the conciliation failed, and the Unions served notice for a strike, whereupon this reference was made by the Government.

Regarding the Unions' claim for customary bonus or bonus as a condition of service to the extent of two months' wages, which claim was not preferred by the Mazdoor Union, it is said for the three Unions that the workers used to get customary bonuses at least of one month's wages previously from the year 1930, and as such this bonus should be granted to the workmen of these three Unions. The Company contends strongly that the story of payment of such customary bonus in previous years is entirely untrue. On a question of onus of proving, at the time of opening of the case, the Unions declined to adduce any evidence on this particular point. Moreover, in some previous disputes referred to Tribunals for determination of bonuses, the claims for customary bonuses were rejected by several awards. In the circumstances, and in view of the total lack of evidence in support of this claim, I also hold that the Unions are not entitled to get any customary bonus or any bonus as a condition of service. So this part of their claims necessarily falls through.

The initial objection on the part of the Company to the claim of profit bonus to the extent of six months' wages is that the workmen have been getting nearly "living wages" and there is practically no gap remaining to be filled in between the wages the workmen are actually getting and the "living wages", so that claim of profit bonus ought to fail on this score. According to the contentions made on behalf of the Unions as a whole, the workers are getting not even the minimum wages at all, not to speak of their getting "fair wages" or "living wages." It is true that if the workmen get living wage or near about that, there would not arise any question of payment of bonus because bonus would be meant to fill up the gap between the minimum wages and the living wages. In course of argument on behalf of the Company two charts were put in by it (Exts. W and W-1) to show the emoluments paid to the workmen of the Company. From these charts it appears that the maximum basic pay of the staff and the substaff was Rs. 220 per month, and the minimum basic pay was Rs. 35 per month, as well as the maximum basic pay per month was Rs. 110 and the minimum basic pay Rs. 35 in respect of the hourly-rated workmen. These rates may be slightly in excess of what was declared in the award of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal of the year 1958, but still these basic wages do not appear to be sufficiently high even to be considered as proper or adequate minimum wages. In this connection the Unions have referred to the case reported in 1961 (I) L.L.J. 227 (Case of Standard Vacuum & Refineries Co.). From that decision it appears that an average pay of Rs. 370.15 for the clerical staff, Rs. 273.65 for the operatives or Rs. 301.16 for both the clerical staff and the operatives taken together would fall far short of living wages and might only be taken to be treated as approximating to the lower level of fair wages. That being so, it goes without saying that in the present case the wages and pays received by the workmen of the Company are far below the level of fair wages and must not be considered to be adequate or accurate amount of even the minimum wages in consideration of the economic condition and crisis in the country. So, in my view, this part of the Company's objection does not hold good, and is hereby rejected.

The next objection raised by the Company is that in order to substantiate a claim for profit bonus, it is the duty of the Unions to prove by evidence that there is available surplus according to the Full Bench Formula for determination of bonus amongst the workers, and that in the present case the Unions have totally failed to prove such surplus by following any such calculation or computation. It cannot be gain-said that this initial onus of proving available surplus, according to the said formula, is on the workmen who claim bonus. The Employees' Union, which takes the main and leading part, supplied a computation (Ext. 23) to the Tribunal after getting a copy of the balance-sheet from the Company some time after the parties' written statements were filed. The other Unions only followed suit. In that statement of calculations, to which all the Unions referred, and on which they relied, show a total gross profit to the extent of Rs. 7,35,77,503.00. The starting point of calculation was taken to be the net profit to the extent of Rs. 26,07,391.00 as per the Profit and Loss Account (Ext. A). While making deduction of prior charges from that amount of gross profit, only a sum of Rs. 6,72,000.00 was excluded on account of six per cent. return on paid up capital. The other prior charges could not be deducted, according to the statement per Ext. 23, on the grounds that detailed break-ups of certain items were not available to the Unions, taxable ıcome and total depreciation including Develop-ıent Rebate were not known, and the amount of ;turn on working capital and costs of rehabilitation 'ere unknown to the Unions. In the result, the hart, Ext. 23, shows an available surplus of ıs. 7,29,05,503.00. To this sort of calculation there as been a vehement challenge and criticism on ehalf of the Company. It is said by Shri J. K. sh, on behalf of the Company, that the Unions ed in their duty to get the details from the ıpany and this inaction on their part would go ily against them in regard to the proof of surplus lable according to the Full Bench Formula. It) be seen, therefore, whether the Unions are at to blame for not showing the proper prior ges according to their own estimates.

he record, on the contrary, would rather show the Unions' failure to make the necessary uction by way of prior charges was due to the npany's own fault and its attitude taken at the vant time. The Employees' Union and the amik Union filed their written statements on d November 1960, whereas the written statements the other two Unions were put in on 10th cember 1960. The Company's written statement s filed on 4th February 1961. On 17th February il the lists of documents were filed by the ıployees' Union and the Shramik Union. The ıer parties, including the Company, took time for ıg their list of documents. On 3rd March 1961 Company and the Mazdoor Union filed their s of documents. In the list of documents of the mpany it stated as follows:

"1. Relevant correspondence between the parties and the Conciliation Officer in relation to the dispute before the reference was made.

2. Copies of the relevant Balance-sheet.

. Computations under the Full Bench Formula in respect of the relevant year together with connected papers.

. Copies of the relevant Awards and Judgements.

. Statement of the existing facilities if found relevant at the time of the hearing of the case.

. Many other documents which may be found necessary at the time of the hearing of the case."

ıbsequently on 15th March 1961, the Joint etary of the Employees' Union filed a petition ıorted by an affidavit praying for production of ain documents by the Company and for inspection the same. My learned predecessor in office cted the Company to produce the desired docu-ıts by 5th April 1961, if no objection. By a tion, dated 5th April 1961, the Labour Union pted the list of documents filed by the Employees' on. On that date the Company prayed for lays' time for replying to the said affidavit of the ployees' Union, and time was granted till 20th il 1961 on which date the Company swore a nter-affidavit. By swearing that affidavit the npany undertook to produce a copy of the ance-sheet and Profit and Loss Accounts as and n necessary. As respects the other papers ıired by the Unions, the Company stated in the lavit that those papers were not relevant—some rs were confidential and not relevant, and so those papers should not be directed to be produced by the Company. It also went so far as to say that the balance-sheet and Profit and Loss Accounts for the financial year in question would furnish the required particulars for finding out the available surplus under the Full Bench Formula, as if the balance-sheet and the Profit and Loss Accounts would be quite sufficient for the purpose, and nothing else. The Company also stated that the application for production of papers was in the nature of a fishing enquiry, and so the inspection of papers asked for should not be allowed. After hearing the parties' representatives, my learned predecessor in office passed his order dated 2nd May 1961 thus:

> "..... the Company undertakes to produce the balance-sheet for the relevant year 1958-59 within 9th May 1961. As regards the other documents called for, some of them do not seem to be necessary at this stage, and some of them are confidential, according to the Company. Some are not maintained by the Company. The Unions want that the Company should give the correct figures of pay bills of the superior staff and of the workmen. They also want figures of the amounts of bonuses paid to the officers during the relevant years. These figures should be filed before the date of hearing. After the balance-sheets are filed by the Company, the Unions should file their calculations of net surplus within three weeks, and the Company should file the same within a week thereafter."

Thus it appears that the Unions could not get any benefit or help from the Company's papers for preparation of their own calculations, except only the balance-sheets which were filed on 9th May 1961, on the basis of which the calculation of the Employees' Union was put in on 29th May 1961 and those of the Labour Union and the Shramik Union on 5th June 1961. The Mazdoor Union filed its calculations later on 16th June 1961. On 19th June 1961 time was taken by the Company for filing its own calculation and 25th July 1961 was fixed for hearing of the case, the Company being directed to file its calculation by 24th July 1961. Still the Company did not file its calculation on 24th July 1961 and obtained an adjournment till 16th August 1961 for the purpose. On 14th August 1961 the Company filed its computation and a chart showing salaries, etc., in regard to the year in question. The computation sheet only briefly stated the amount of gross profits and the deductions on account of prior charges. Some other calculation sheet was filed on that date for calculation or explanation of these brief notes. The case was opened for hearing on 16th August 1961 and evidence was begun with since 18th August 1961. Many papers were filed by the Company in course of hearing.

It appears, therefore, that the Company filed its own computation and other papers at a very very belated stage, so that the Unions could not have the privilege of looking into and examining them in proper time to prepare a full and proper computation showing the available surplus. It is quite ridiculous to say, as the Company has stated in its affidavit, that the balance-sheets alone would suffice for the Unions to make the required calculations. As a matter of fact, the balance-sheet (Ext. A) alone would not disclose the details of any items or break-ups of any important and useful item or items. So for the Unions the papers called for by them were necessary to make calculations, but it is the Company which stood in their way. So it does not lie in the Company's mouth to say that the Unions have failed to prove by filing their calculations and giving evidence as to available surplus.

The Company's attitude or conduct in withholding the papers called for by the Unions and in furnishing the same to the Tribunal and the parties shortly before and during the hearing of the case is not at all satisfactory. From the correspondences referred to above, it appears as if the Company was rather ready with calculations and computations for production before the Conciliation Officer inasmuch as they agreed to produce such calculations before the officer aforesaid. About that time the Company took the stand that there would be no available surplus according to the Full Bench Formula in regard to the payment of bonus as claimed by the Unions. If that was so, the Company probably had worked out the figures by way of computation and detailed calculations at that very time, otherwise such a bold stand could not have been taken by the Company in spite of its gradual prosperity from year to year as disclosed from the previously mentioned Table which I gave for a comparative study. In this way it will be seen that there was no satisfactory reason for the very late filing of papers by the Company. In the counter-affidavit sworn by it, which has been referred to above, the reasons stated for non-production are also far from satisfactory. The undue delay made by the Company in filing its own papers might give rise to some suspicion against it, particularly when the Unions had asked for production of such papers. After the papers were produced by the Company, it was too late for the Unions to make new calculations in proof of availability of surplus for the purpose of distribution of bonus. So, in my view, there were no latches on the part of the Unions, and the contentions on behalf of the Company in this respect cannot be upheld.

No doubt, in view of the progressive prosperity of the Company as per the Table above the Unions had reason for jubilance inasmuch as profits were found to be gradually increasing and also dividends and bonuses were being paid at gradually increased rates. The net profit for the year preceding that in question amounted to Rs. 18,81,669.00 whereas that of the year in question was Rs. 26,07,391.00, i.e., the net profit of the year in question exceeded that of the preceding year by over seven lakhs of rupees. True, bonus is to be paid not in reference to the net profits, but in reference to the available surplus (if any) calculated according to the formula evolved by the Full Bench of the Labour Appellate Tribunal. But in the present case of the Company the previous state of things cannot be altogether ignored as they are very much suggestive, if not conclusive. The Company's case is that in view of the calculations according to the Full Bench Formula there would be no available surplus for giving bonus to its workmen. In the statement (Ext. C) submitted by the Company the total gross profit has been shown to be Rs. 1,48,81,972.00 and the available surplus, after deduction of prior charges in its own way, has been stated to be Rs. 1,95,932.00.

Now, according to the Unions the total monthly wages of workmen of all of the units of the Company, including the biggest and most important one at Howrah, would be Rs. 5 lakhs. According to the evidence of the Company's Accoun Shri Dutta, the total wages per month for the wo men of the Company would be about Rs. 7 lak In the written statement filed by the Company 14th August 1961 the total amount of basic wag was shown to be Rs. 76,91,462.00 per annum. that case the monthly basic wages would amount Rs. 6,40,955.00. That being the position, then view of the Company's calculations showing the available surplus to be Rs. 1 lakhs, 95 thousand a odd would fall far below one month's wages or ev half-a-month's wages and as such there would no question of giving any bonus whatever for t year in question. This was the firm stand of t Company all through the hearing of the case. short, the Company did not budge an inch from th position. On the other hand, the Unions had argue by assuming for argument, the amount of gro profits shown by the Company to be correct an acceptable, that after proper deductions of prio charges the net available surplus would come up t more than 40 or 50 lakhs of rupees. I shall come t the detailed considerations regarding the computa tions and figures of gross profits, prior charges additions and deductions, etc., later on in due cours of my judgment. I here mention this fact only to understand and show what light these things may throw on the financial position of the Company in particular reference to the abovementioned Table and correspondences.

In clause (d), paragraph 6, part B-II of the written statement of the Company it is stated that the history of bonus payment will show that bonus has always been paid by the Company on consideration of profits and not paid as a condition of service. I have already dealt with that matter of "customary bonus." In challenging this part of the Union's claim the Company has made the said statement that bonus was always paid on consideration of profits. In clause (c) of the same paragraph the further averment of the Company is that the previous awards of Tribunals would be referred to at the time of hearing of the case to give a correct picture of the history of bonus payments. As a matter of fact, the Annexure A to the written statement of the Employees' Union, which has formed a basis of the abovementioned Table, has not been very particularly referred to in course of argument on behalf of the Company. It was only stated in brief that the previous payments of bonuses or increase in the profits would not go to prove that there is availa surplus for bonus in respect of the year in questi also. It is true that the question of bonus wi regard to the year in question is to be decid according to the result of calculations in the lig of the Full Bench Formula. But yet, the previo history and the facts and circumstances relati thereto cannot be ignored altogether. Even in vie of the written statement of the Company which have mentioned above, bonuses have always bee paid by the Company on consideration of profit This means that there were profits in other year from 1949-50 to 1957-58, otherwise the Tribunal would not have passed awards for bonuses, no would the Company have also paid bonuses by agreements. For the two successive years preceding the year in question, the Company paid three and half months' pay and three and three-fourth months pay as bonuses by agreements the amounts of wh profits being Rs. 18.58 lakhs (approximately) an Rs. 18.82 lakhs (approximately), and the rate ividend being 20 per cent. in both the years. In he year in question, the net profits increased by ver seven lakhs of rupees and the rate of dividends y 8½ per cent., and yet the Company is disinclined o give any bonus on the ground that the Full ench Formula would not admit of bonus for the articular year in question. If the Company always aid bonuses on consideration of profits, and if the et profits increased from year to year, and similarly he rates of dividends were increased gradually, then question may arise as to what unusual thing appened during the year in question so that no urplus profit would at all be available for distribu- ion of bonus to the workmen of the Company. have already stated that these may raise suspicion egarding the contention of the Company and may e suggestive but not conclusive, as the matter is o be decided according as the result of calculations er Full Bench Formula would admit or would not dmit of any adequate surplus profits.

The suggestiveness indicated above gets further strengthened from the facts and circumstances disclosed from the tri-partite correspondences above referred to. The Unions demanded profit bonus of six months' pay and customary bonus of two months' pay. The Company was quite agreeable to consider payment of bonus of three and half months' pay in full and final settlement of all claims and disputes and, if that offer were accepted, no reference to the Tribunal would be necessary. The Company also requested the Conciliation Officer not to make the reference. The Unions wanted some substantial increase over the preceding year's bonus of three and three-fourth months' pay paid amicably. The Company did not agree to make any increase and stuck to the offer of three and half months' wages if compromise was to be effected, stating in the letter (Ext. 11, dated 2nd September 1960) that it was unable to consider payment of any more bonus than what had already been offered for the year in question. In the same letter it was stated that the claim of the Unions was too excessive. Of course the Company had asserted that in accordance with the Full Bench Formula even the bonus offered would not be available. But nowhere did it say that no bonus whatever would be at all available according to the Formula. Now the Company makes out the case that by proper calculations the available surplus would work out to be only Rs. 1,95,932 which, as already noted, would not admit of bonus even for 15 days' wages. Yet, it cannot be gainsaid, had the Unions accepted the offer of three and half months' pay the matter would have ended there and there would not have been any necessity or occasion for reference to the Tribunal. In that case, the available surplus would have certainly been sufficient for meeting the claim for bonus at least for three and half months' pay, if not more. It is, therefore, extremely difficult to believe that the Company made that offer only for buying peace even at the cost of much financial loss to itself as it would have to pay over 20 lakhs of rupees on account of bonus for three and half months' pay. Apparently, therefore, such offer could not have been made unless the Company was really in a position to pay at least that amount even according to the Formula.

With reference to the oral evidence adduced on the side of the Unions, as given by P.W. 1 Bibhuti Nundy (Joint Secretary of the Employees' Union) and P.W. 2 Amal Ghose (member of the Executive Committee of the Shramik Union), it is contended for the Company that their evidence is worth nothing as they have no knowledge about the working of the Formula and as such the Unions have failed to prove available surplus. Such argument lacks in substance, firstly because they were unreasonably deprived of the privilege of examining necessary papers of the Company in proper time, and secondly because they have got their computations prepared with the help of those who have knowledge in the matter. So this contention falls through.

Now that the matter has come up before the Tribunal, the available surplus is to be found out by calculations following the Full Bench Formula evolved in the case of the Bombay Mill Owners' Association (1950 L.L.J. 1247-1952 L.A.C. 433). According to a very moderate estimate of the Unions, for the sake of argument, the requisite surplus would amount to over 40 or 50 lakhs of rupees in the least, whereas the Company's assertion is that the amount would not at all be more than Rs. 1,95,932. It is to be seen, therefore, what the surplus would be according to the Formula. This is to be ascertained by keeping in the background all that has been already discussed, and it is to be seen whether there has been any attempt on the part of the Unions to inflate the figures improperly or whether there has been any attempted device or trick on the Company's part to deflate the amount of surplus with a view to defeating the Union's claim altogether.

Let me now turn to the calculations proper, according to the said Formula. The starting figure is the admitted amount of Net Profit of Rs. 26,07,391 as per Profits and Loss Accounts (Ext. A). By adding certain specific amounts (taken from the same source) the Unions have worked out the total Gross Profits to be Rs. 7,35,77,503 (vide Ext. 23) as follows:

		Rs.
Net Profits	...	26,07,391
Add back:
(i) Salaries, wages, bonus for previous years	...	2,67,342
(ii) Contributions to Provident Fund	...	10,74,523
(iii) Bonus in respect of previous year	...	7,19,284
(iv) Depreciation	...	18,31,305
(v) Provision for Taxes	...	50,00,000
(vi) Provision for Doubtful Debts	...	17,600
(vii) Development Rebate Statutory Reserve	...	2,07,322
(viii) Reserve for Works Reconstruction and Expansion	...	3,63,511
(ix) Reserve for Salem Project	...	20,00,000
(x) Reserve for Niwar Project	.	1,00,000
(xi) On-cost (not included)	...	31,64,165
(xii) Purchase of raw and other materials	...	4,48,41,596
(xiii) Stores and spare parts consumed	..	65,32,334
(xiv) Repairs to Buildings	..	4,93,601
(xv) Repairs to Machineries	..	20,68,605
(xvi) Miscellaneous expenses	...	22,89,024
Total Gross Profits	..	7,35,77,503

The objections of the Company relate to above items Nos. (i), (ii), (vii) and (xi) to (xvi). It has, however, made its own calculations to show total Gross Profits of Rs. 1,48,81,972 as follows (vide Ext. C/1):

	Rs.
Add:
Net Profits	26,07,391
(a) Reserve for Niwar Project	1,00,000
(b) Reserve for Salem Project	20,00,000
(c) Reserve for works reconstruction and expansion	3,63,511
(d) Provision for Doubtful Debts	1,75,000
(e) Provision for Taxation	50,00,000
(f) Depreciation	18,31,305
	1,49,05,749
Less Profit on Block sold	23,777
	1,48,81,972

In this connection, the Company has produced Auditor's certificates (Exts. C/2 and C/3). Such certificates, however, would not make this calculation conclusively acceptable by the Tribunal. Some sort of a break-up of item No. (g) has been given in Ext. C/3 thus:

> "Amount charged for bonus in the accounts for the year ended 30th April 1959 (included under the heads 'Salaries, Wages and Bonus' and 'Bonus in respect of previous years.')"

The Unions' objection is that the Company has improperly left certain legitimate amounts out of consideration in arriving at the Gross Profits. I shall therefore proceed to discuss about the objections and counter-objections.

Regarding item No. (i) above, the contention of Shri Ghose for the Company, supported by the evidence of the Company's Accountant (O.P.W. 1 Shri J. C. Dutt), is that this amount of Rs. 2,67,342 represents enhanced dearness allowances in regard to previous years but actually paid in the year in question following the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court so that it was a legitimate expense of the year 1958-59 and as such this amount should not be added back. This item itself does not indicate "dearness allowance paid according to Court's decision." Even if it were so, the position would not alter. Shri Ghose has referred to the case of Muir Mills reported in 1955(II) L.L.J. 29 (at page 32), where it was held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal that there was no good reason to disallow back wages paid actually in 1951 in terms of decision of a Tribunal from expenditure for 1951. But the contrary views have been expressed in stronger terms in several cases. In 1955 L.A.C. 1 (at page 27) it has been held thus: "The labour force which earns the profits of a particular year by collaborating with the employers is distinct from the one which contributed to the profits of the previous years, and there is no continuity between labour forces which are employed in the industrial concern during the several years." In 1959 (II) L.L.J. 357 (at page 361) it was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that it was well settled that the calculation of available surplus should be made having regard to the workmen in the relevant accounting year without taking into consideration the credits or the debits referable to the working of previous years. The similar principle was enunciated, though in regard to Bonus, in 1959(I) L.L.J. 329 and 1959(II) L.L.J. 357. It is a commonsense view that the workmen of a concern do not necessarily remain identical year after year or even in two successive years, and they form a self-sufficient unit by themselves in regard to each particular year. So, if expenses in respect of previous years be excluded from Gross Profits of the year in question, the workmen of the relevant working year would stand deprived of their well-earned benefit and would have to get reduced bonus for the year concerned. So, the amount of above item No. (i) is not a legitimate expense for the year in question and must be added back.

As regards contributions to Provident Funds to the extent of Rs. 10,73,523 as per item No. (ii) above, the contention of Shri Ghose for the Company is that it had to make those contributions which went out of its hands and control, being credited to the employees' benefit, and the same were a liability of the year concerned and hence a legitimate expense which should be excluded. This view cannot be accepted from the legal stand-point. In the case of the Indian Hume Pipe Co. reported in 1959 (II) 357, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that "redemption of debenture stock or provision for Provident Fund and Gratuity and other benefits, etc., however necessary they may be, cannot be included in the category of prior charges." That is, such items ought not be to be excluded in finding out Gross Profits. In the Associated Cement Co.'s case also (1959 Vol. I L.L.J. 644, p. 673) the same view was taken by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, which observed that gratuity fund is not to be treated as a prior charge, but it is to be remembered while distributing bonus to the workmen as it was created for their benefit and as no further addition to the Full Bench Formula was desirable. This principle was reiterated in the case of the Voltas Ltd. (vide p 454 of the West Bengal Labour Gazette, April 19 Provident Fund and Gratuity stand on the same fo ing. So, in view of the above, this particular it has been rightly added back by the Union.

The Company has not seriously objected to addition of item No. (iii)—"Bonus to employees respect of previous years—Rs. 7,19,284." Rat the Company's case is that it has added up (vi Exts. C/1 and C/3) a total amount of Rs. 29,86,0 which includes the said item No. (iii). In this vi of the matter, therefore, this item No. (iii) of t Unions' computation shall be substituted by t parent item No. (g) of the Company's chart.

In working out the Gross Profits, the Company h excluded the amount of Rs. 2,07,322 under the he "Development Rebate Statutory Reserve" per ite No. (vii) as set out above. According to Shri Ghos this reserve had to be provided and set apart und the Income Tax Act and hence this charge has g to be excluded. It is explained by saying that th Company got that rebate as it had debited 73 pe cent. of the development rebate on the cost of ne machinery installed under Proviso (b) to Explana tion (2) of Section 10(2) (vi) (b) of the Income Ta Act. The gist of argument stands to this: Th Company has set apart the above sum of money in the Profits and Loss Accounts to be eligible for this rebate. If this statutory reserve be not provided in the accounts then the Company will not be eligible to claim the Development Rebate against its profit in the Income Tax computation, in which case it would have to pay more in tax and thus the amount of tax would increase to the disadvantage of the workers. It is also said that the legal opinions are divided on this point. I think the trend of decisions is more in favour of inclusion than exclusion. After all, the Unions appear to be right in making this addition, which will stand good.

In the Profit and Loss Accounts (Ext. A) the on-cost amount of Rs. 31,64,165 finds no mention either in the credit or the debit side. There is only a short note to this effect: "The amount of on-cost not included in work-in-progress decreased during the year by Rs. 31,64,165 (increased last year Rs. 27,22,847)." There are two methods of valuing work-in-progress—the direct method called the prime cost method and the indirect method called the on-cost method. The contention for the Company is that it has all along been following the first method, that no tax was assessed on this on-cost amount, and that if this amount be taken into account then the profits shown in the right-hand margin would be less as the on-cost amount would be deducted. It is said that the note in Ext. A was made only to show decrease of the on-cost to the said extent, otherwise it has no practical value or importance in computing gross profits. In the book on "Marginal Costing" (at page 47) by Lawrence and Humphreys, the authors have expressed the view that from every point of view the Marginal or Direct cost is the only value that can be justified for the valuation of stock and work-in-progress. In W. T. Dent's "Guide to Auditing" (page 41) it has been stated thus: "Work-in-progress should be valued at cost of material and labour to date. Opinion is divided as to whether a proportion of on-cost (i.e., expenses other than material and labour) should be added. It is more prudent to omit this....." In view of all these, I am inclined to hold that the Company's contention on this point is sound, so that item No. (xi) above shall be excluded and not added towards Gross Profits.

In regard to the last five item Nos. (xii) to (xvi), the Unions characterise these as capital expenditure whereas the Company asserts them to be revenue expenditure. If revenue expenditure, these items shall be excluded; if capital expenditure, they shall be added back. The argument of Shri Ghose is that these items (with all other items of Ext. A) are audited by the Chartered Accountants and that if these were capital expenses at all then the same would not have come up in the Profits and Loss Accounts and the Auditors would not have accepted them as revenue expenditure and certified as such. Shri Dutt (O.P.W. 1) says that these are revenue, not capital, expenditure. It is also his evidence that these items not included in his computation were always accepted as legitimate expenses by the Income-tax authorities. What these authorities might have considered cannot have any binding effect. On the side of the Shramik Union, Shri Ram Rai has contended that the whole amount under the head of item No. (xii) cannot be revenue expenditure; that is, according to him, this item includes partly revenue and partly capital expenses. Except for item No. (xvi), i.e., Miscellaneous expenses, no break-up has been supplied by the Company. According to O.P.W. 1, "other materials" in item No. (xii) mean goods purchased for resale, e.g., steel, etc. It is not known whether any resale had at all taken place and, if so, what income (if any) was derived therefrom in the relevant year. This witness had no record with him with regard to any articles purchased. His further evidence is this:

> "There must be some records in the Company's stores to show what part of the stores is consumed for the purpose of production and what part for expansion, extension, etc. If by repairs a machine's life is extended beyond its normal life then it would be a case of capital expenses, as in the case of heavy repairs. There must be separate accounts regarding capital expenses or revenue expenses. What I said above as regards repairs, etc., would also apply to repairs, etc., concerning buildings. Today I have not brought any papers to show expenses incurred on repairs or nature of repairs. Today I have also not with me records to support the break-up in Ext. F relating to Miscellaneous Expenses."

Thus, though the Company has all necessary papers to explain all these things, the same have not been produced for reasons best known to it and its Accountant. So, in the light of the above evidence and in the absence of necessary papers, it is difficult to accept the Company's contention that the whole of the amounts mentioned in these five items represent revenue expenses. There are even no separate certificates of the Auditors in these respects. In the circumstances, it would not at all be wrong to make some allowance, in favour of the Unions, as representing capital expenses. The total of these four items is a big sum of Rs. 5,39,36,136. Taking a very low rate of 2½ per cent of this total figure, a sum of Rs. 13,48,403 should be added back towards Gross Profits on account of items Nos. (xii) to (xv).

As some break-up (Ext. F) has been supplied for the Miscellaneous Expenses per item No. (xvi), I consider this point seperately. This break-up (filed on 18th August 1961) discloses certain specific items for which there is no proper explanation and which would not appear to be legitimate expenses. These particular items are:

	Rs.
(1) Freight, Customs duty, etc.	6,52,230
(2) Subscriptions and donations	6,837
(3) Tea, tiffin, ice, etc.	10,106
(4) School fees	10,414
(5) Sundries	17,343
Total	6,96, 930

Here, we do not get any explanation or indication as to what the word "etc." in (1) and (3) signifies. Besides, in the Profits and Loss Accounts (Ext. A) there is a separate item of expense of Rs. 2,83,156 under head "Freight and Shipping Charges". In the absence of any explanation, there seems to be some sort of duplication in (1) above. So it will not be improper if the sum of Rs. 2,83,156 is totally excluded from the head "Miscellaneous Expenses" and added back towards making up Gross Profits. The amount under head "Subscriptions and Donations" in No. (2) above should be wholly added back in view of the principles enunciated in 1954 L.A.C. 716, 1959(I)-L.L.J. 329, and 1960(II) L.L.J. 34. The word "Sundries" is too vague. O.P.W. 1 says that this means small items, but he cannot give details. Nor had he papers with him in support of this break-up (Ext. F). The said amounts, along with those under heads tea, tiffin, ice, school fees are, in my view, extraneous, not legitimate, expenses. Hence these should be added back, the total in these respect being Rs. 3,27,856 (Rs. 2,83,156+Rs. 6,837+ Rs. 10,106+Rs. 10,414+Rs. 17,343).

In the Profit and Loss Accounts (Ext. A), there is still another item of expense under head "Rates and Taxes (including Rs. 50,871 in respect of previous years)." The Unions omitted to add it up in their computation, and during the hearing of this case they submitted modified statement by adding this item on the ground that the earlier omission was due to oversight. The objection on behalf of the Company is that this amount had to be spent as a legitimate expense of the year in question after a High Court judgment (vide O.P.W. 1) and should therefore be excluded. This objection cannot be sustained for reasons already stated in connection with similar items in respect of previous years. So this amount of Rs. 50,871 should also be added back.

In the result, therefore, the adjusted Gross Profits work out to be Rs. 1,81,82,066 as detailed below:

Add:	Rs.
Net Profit (admitted)	26,07,391
Salaries, etc., for previous years	2,67,342
Contribution to Provident Funds	10,74,523
Bonus (as per Company's computation)	29,86,042
Depreciation	18,31,305
Provision for Taxes	50,00,000
Doubtful Debts	17,500
Development Rebate Statutory Reserve	2,07,322
Reserve for Works Reconstruction, Expansion	3,63,511
Reserve for Salem Project	20,00,000
Reserve for Niwar Project	1,00,000
Re: Item Nos. (xii) to (xv) shown above	13,48,403
Re: Miscellaneous Expenses	3,27,856
Rates and Taxes in respect of previous years	50,871
Total	1,81,82,066

Now, the available surplus for the purpose of granting bonus is to be ascertained after deduction of prior charges from these Gross Profits by following the principle of the Full Bench Formula. The prior charges are Notional Normal Depreciation, Income-tax, Return on Paid-up Capital, Return on Working Capital, and Rehabilitation charges. These will be considered point by point.

The Company has deducted Rs. 20,37,103 on account of Notional Normal Depreciation. This amount includes extra shift allowance (vide Ext. C). This is supported by Auditor's certificate (Ext. C/4). Shri Sen Gupta for the Employees' Union contends that there is no material, nothing at all, except the mere certificate Ext. C/4 to show the amount. In another certificate (Ext. E) full statutory depreciation has been shown to be Rs. 17,86,583 (i.e., depreciation allowance of Rs. 14,99,969+Development Rebate of Rs. 2,86,614). Exhibit E states that the Auditors checked the Income-tax returns submitted by the Company in coming to their conclusion. It is said for the Unions that the Income-tax returns have not been produced nor are the Auditors examined before the Tribunal, and hence the amount or amounts shown by the Company cannot be accepted on mere certificates of the Auditors, and also that there is no specific calculation to show how the amount of the Notional Normal Depreciation has been arrived at. I have already noticed that total depreciation of Rs. 18,31,305 was added by both parties to the net profits in making out gross profits. It is said by Shri Ram Sen (for the Shramik Union) that out of this total at most the sum of Rs. 14,99,969 (mentioned in Ext. E) might be taken as the Normal Notional Depreciation, nothing more than that. The contentions of these two Unions have also been adopted by the two other Unions. But, after all, there is an important fact which seems to have been overlooked. Shri Dutt (O.P.W. 1) says that the amount of Rs. 20,37,103 was worked out in his own department under his supervision, and that he brought papers to the Tribunal in regard to the calculations. But the Unions did not feel the necessity of examining those papers. Hence the advance comments of the Unions are unsubstantial and the evidence of O.P.W. 1 stands good. That the amount of Rs. 20,37,103 is taken to be the Notional Normal Depreciation as an item of Prior Charge.

Now, Income-tax has got to be calculated at the rate of 45 per cent. on the taxable income, which is to be found out by deducting the depreciation amounts from the gross profits. The Company has calculated Income-tax at the said rate on Rs. 1,30,95,389 which has been worked out by deducting the total amount of Rs. 17,86,583 (per Ext. E) from the gross profits. The Unions characterise this method to be entirely wrong. Their contention is that the Notional Normal Depreciation of Rs. 20,37,103 as well as Development Depreciation of Rs. 286,614 should be deducted from the gross profits to find out the taxable income (notional). In my consideration, this view is acceptable. The total for deduction from gross profits is thus Rs. 20,37,103 +Rs. 2,86,614=Rs. 23,23,717. The taxable income, therefore, works out to be Rs. 1,81,82,066 minus Rs. 23,23,717, i.e., Rs. 1,58,58,349. Income-tax on this amount at the rate of 45 per cent. would be Rs. 71,36,257 which, therefore, is another item of Prior Charge.

The Company has claimed Rs. 9,55,300 as return on Paid-up Capital (vide Ext. C). In support of this it has put in a calculation (Ext. C/6). From the balance sheets (page 12, Schedules A and B of Ext. A) it appears that there were 7 per cent. Cumulative Preference Shares to the extent of Rs. 13,00,000, 6 per cent. similar shares of the value of Rs. 15,00,000, and also Ordinary Shares of the total worth of Rs. 84,00,000. In Ext. C/6, the Company assessed as follows: (a) Dividend on 6 per cent. Preference Shares—Rs. 90,000; (b) Dividend on 6 per cent. similar shares—Rs. 91,000; to the total of Rs. 1,81,000 was added Rs. 54,300 as an increase

30 per cent. under the Preference Shares (Regu-on of Dividends) Act of 1960 to work out the ount of Rs. 2,35,300; (c) on account of Return on dinary Share Capital at the rate of 6 per cent. er deduction of tax, an amount of Rs. 7,20,000 s assessed. The objection of the Unions is two-d, namely, (1) the increase by 30 per cent. is not ɔwable, and (2) the return on Preferential Shares not be more than 6 per cent. In my view, how-r, these objections are not substantial. The rate 7 per cent. on part of Preference Shares is a con-ctual one and, as such, ought not to be diminish-

"3. (1) Where the stipulated dividend in respect of a preference share of a company—

(a) is specified to be free from income-tax and no deduction is made therefrom on account of the income-tax payable by the Company, or appears, therefore, that the Company's claim of said increase is not unjustified as it was obliga-y on its part to declare dividends subject to tax ıough previously the same were tax free. But rease in respect of the Ordinary Shares appears to unauthorised. The return on account of the linary Shares at the usual rate of 6 per cent. would Rs. 5,04,000 only. In the result, therefore, a al sum of Rs. 7,39,300 (Rs. 2,35,300 plus 5,04,000) would be the prior charge on ount of returns of Paid-up Capital.

(b) was being paid before the 1st of April 1960, without any deduction therefrom on account of the income-tax payable by the Company, notwithstanding the absence of any specification that the dividend would be free of income-tax, every such share shall, as respects dividends declared after the commencement of the Act, carry a preferential right to be said without any deduction aforesaid such amount as would exceed the stipulated dividend by thirty per cent. thereof."

The next item of Prior Charge is Return on rking Capital. Under this head, the Company claimed Rs. 5,43,805 on the capital of Rs. ,95,127 at the rate of 4 per cent. and Rs. 29,431 the capital of Rs. 14,71,572 at the rate of 2 per t. (see Ext. C, explained in Ext. C/7). The total ırn claimed here amounts to Rs. 5,73,236. The ails as to how the Working Capitals have been ived at are given in a separate sheet of calcula-ı (vide Ext. C/8). The case of the Unions is that re is no sufficient evidence to show that the capital Rs. 1,35,95,127 was wholly utilised throughout relevant year, and so the return must not exceed ıer cent. Shri Ghose for the Company has, by lysing the Profits and Loss Accounts and the ance Sheets (Ext. A), tried to establish that the ount was the same at the beginning of the year l did not diminish, rather increased, at the close the year, and this is clear indication that the ole of the capital must have been utilised during whole year in question. The trend of decisions is t mere analysis of the Profit and Loss Accounts ıld not suffice and that there must be positive dependable evidence to show that the capital actually used during the whole year, vide 1952, .C. 310 (at pages 313-14); 1960(I) L.L.J. 548; 1960(II) L.L.J. 34,44 and 508. In the instant case there is such evidence as given by Shri Dutt (O.P.W. 1 at page 3), though there may be some slight weakness in respect of very minute details (at page 11 of his deposition). After all, I am not disposed to reject his testimony. In the absence of anything substantial to the contrary, the rate claimed by the Company should not be diminished. It is said for the Unions that in the previous Award for Bonus for 1954-55 Shri M. C. Banerji, the then Judge of the First Industrial Tribunal, allowed only 2 per cent. and that was undisturbed on appeal before the Hon'ble Supreme Court. In the special circumstances of the present case, I am disposed to allow the rate of 4 per cent. on the said amount according to the principles laid down in 1955(II) L.L.J. 162 and 1956(I) L.L.J. 458. As respects the rate of 2 per cent. on the other part of the capital, which is said to have been used for six months, there seems to be no substantial dispute. Hence the Company's claim on this item of the Prior Charge must succeed.

On account of Rehabilitation charges in respect of machineries and buildings, the Company has laid claim at Rs. 52,27,476. The onus of proving this prior charge is entirely on the Company. It is to be seen how far it has been able to establish this claim of prior charge. It has put in calculation sheet (Ext. C) in which this amount is stated as being the Rehabilitation charge. The details or break-ups in support of this amount are given in some other statements (Exts. D to D/4), prepared by O.P.W. 1, the Accountant of the Company. He got the multipliers, divisors and the economic life of the properties concerned—Machineries and Buildings—as supplied to him by the Company's own Engineers (O.P.W. 2 Shri B. Mukherjee and O.P.W. 3 Mr. Nadjarian). Of them O.P.W. 2 is the Mechanical Engineer who gave the facts and figures for Machineries and O.P.W. 3 is the Civil Engineer who supplied the same for the Buildings. The details as to these properties are given in several statements (Exts. II, C series, Q series, R to R/3, U/4, V series, etc.) on the basis whereof Exts. C and D series are said to have been prepared. The two Engineers are said to have obtained quotations from different sources as data for their calculations. Several correspondences have been put in to show this. The said properties have been grouped into three parts: (1) Machineries into Machine Tools (Block I), Foundry Plants and Equipments (Block II), and Refractory Machineries and Plants (Block III); (2) Buildings into three main categories—Masonry Buildings (comprising offices and residential quarters), Steel Factory Buildings and Miscellaneous Buildings (comprising out-houses, labour houses, garages, etc.). The period for purpose of this prior charge has been taken to be prior to 20th April 1939 and thereafter up to 30th April 1959 (up to 30th April 1939, 1939-40 to 1943-44, 1944-45 to 1948-49, 1949-50 to 1953-54 and 1954-55 to 1958-59). All these are spoken of by the said Engineers out of their expert knowledge and experiences. They have stated about different sets of multipliers and life for different periods. Their testimony is tinged with too much technicalities which tend to cloud the issue to some extent and make the complications more confusing.

In Ext. D the assessment for Machineries is laid at Rs. 53,49,006 and that for Buildings at

Rs. 19,15,573. From the total of Rs. 72,64,579 the Normal Depreciation of Rs. 20,37,103 has been deducted and the net amount of Rs. 52,27,476 has been shown as Rehibilitation charges. The calculations of the Company have been subjected to severe attacks and criticisms from the side of the Unions. Their contentions are that O.P.Ws. 1-3 are the Company's paid servants and as such their testimonies ought not to be accepted as affording correct or accurate data, and that the claim is far too excessive. It is also said that in the previous dispute case for bonus of 1954-55 between the same parties the question up to 1954-55 was finally decided and that decision was upheld on appeal by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. I shall consider this particular aspect of the case in due course. It may be stated here that, although these witnesses are the Company's paid officers, they are very respectable and responsible persons and their evidence ought not to be lightly discarded. It is to be scrutinised and tested in the light of the facts and special circumstances of the present case.

According to Shri Mukherjee (O.P.W. 2), he obtained quotations from the Estern Europe, particularly United Kingdom. He however admits (page 8 of deposition) that there can be rehabilitation of machineries by importing from Eastern European countries, such as East Germany, Poland, Czekoslovakia, Zugoslovia and U.S.S.R., but no quotations were obtained from those countries where the cost price is less than those obtaining in sterling areas. He has explained by saying that all kinds of machines would not be available from there at a time. If no quotations were at all sought for from those countries, it is no use giving an explanation as above. No sources in India were approached for necessary data. Quotations were obtained from countries wherefrom import was impossible, let alone high prices there. Although Mr. Nadjarian searched for data from some inland concerns, all possible sources were not approached and thus his query also was not exhaustive. The informations they got cannot, for these reasons, be accepted as a safe and dependable guide.

Shri Mukherjee has said about personal knowledge of new machineries purchased during the last five years. But this lacks in support from office records. He has no list of machines purchased in 1958-59 or in any proceeding year. Without list he cannot say whether any machineries were at all purchased in 1958-59 or any particular year. He cannot give number of particulars of machines said to have been replaced in 1958-59, nor can he say about the value of machines replaced in preceding years. Mr. Nadjarian says that from their records he got the original prices of buildings. Without records he is unable to say about cost of particular buildings. But such records have not been produced. So, it appears, their evidence admits of some vagueness regarding important items or particulars. In the circumstances it is not possible to act upon their testimony. It is said for the Company that the total valuations of properties as given in Exts. D series tally with the figures mentioned at page 14 of the Balance Sheets (Ext. A). This Ext. A shows some additions in 1958-59. But office records are wanting in regard to prices prior to that year in question. In view of Shri Ghose's argument, the life of the three Blocks of Machineries, as disclosed from evidence, would be 25 years, 20 years and 20 years respectively, and the Company has adopted 25 years as the average for all Blocks. Similarly, it is argued in regard to Buildings that evidence shows life of the three categories of buildings to be 45-50, 25-30 and 20-30 years respectively and that the company has taken 50, 30 and 30 years respectively. Shri Mukherjee (O.P.W. 2) has said that there are some machines which are 40-50 years old. His explanation in not taking this span of life is that this is non-economic life and such machines should have been replaced long ago. There is no reason why such replacement was not effected, in due time. Such explanation, therefore, carries very little value. Even if the original costs shown by the Company be correct, and though it has deducted break-down value at 5 per cent., the matters still require clarification. In Ext. D, the remnant cost of Mechinaries has been divided by 5 and that of Buildings by 10. Exts. D/1 to D/3 show balance life of 5 years (out of 25 years) for Machineries and 30 as well 10 years for Buildings. Undoubtedly the balances were taken by deducting the life decided in the previous case of bonus for 1954-55 (vide Award, pages 3469-3476 of "Calcutta Gazette", dated 19th September 1957). In that case the life of Machineries was decided to be 20 years and that of Buildings to be 50 years. In Ext. D the cost regarding the Machineries has been divided by 5 (i.e., 25 minus 20) and that of Buildings by 10 (i.e., 30 minus 20). This method is wrong fundamentally and from the mathematical point of view. In case of some machines about 50 years old, the divisor would have been 30 (i.e., 50 minus 20), and the dividing factor 10 for buildings would be obviously wrong, in view of the previous decision.

This leads us to the consideration of the effect of the previous award for bonus of 1954-55. According to the Unions, that decision, which was upheld by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, operates as a bar to the Company's present claim on ground of principle analogous to res judicata, if not res judicata in terms of section 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. Shri Ghose on the other side strongly opposes this proposition by saying that the previous decision cannot be taken as a precedent. It is said that in the previous case the Company could not adduce sufficient evidence and produce all necessary documentary evidence as in the present case, and as such the previous award would not be a bar against the Company in the present case. Reference has been made to the cases reported in 1959(I) L.L.J. 64 (at page 680), and 1959 (II) L.L.J. 9, where for non-production of papers (which were taken to those Hon'ble Courts) there were specific reservations that those decisions would not be precedent. In regard to the previous decision between the present parties, there was no such reservation at all. As the point was not kept open, the matter is now closed to the Company. In a case of the same Company, the Hon'ble Court held thus: "Although the rule of res judicata as under section 11 of the Civil Procedure Code does not in terms apply to such an award, its underlying principle which is founded on sound public policy and is of universal application must apply (vide 1956 Supreme Court Reports, 781). The Company cannot therefore evade the position created by virtue of the award for bonus of 1954-55. Again, the Company adopts the life of 20 years as per that award. So, in all these circumstances, the matter of Rehabilitation has been finalised by that award up to 1954-55.

In the said award annual Rehabilitation cost was assessed to be Rs. 14.30 lakhs for Machineries and Rs. 4.00 lakhs for Buildings—total Rs. 18.30 lakhs. Since 1954-55 four years had elapsed. So there should be some additional charge for this later period. In the modified calculation sheet submitted by the Employees' Union during the hearing of this case, this additional charge has been shown to be Rs. 4.10 lakhs for Machineries and Rs. 90 lakhs for Buildings even assuming the valuations since 30th April 1955 to be correct. In this new chart the total annual Rehabilitation cost has thus been shown to be Rs. 23.30 lakhs on the basis of the previous Award, the divisors being 17 and 47 for mechineries and buildings respectively. I think there ought to be further modification inasmuch as the multiplier should be 1 (one) for both kinds of properties and divisors should be 20 minus 4, i.e., 16 and 50 minus 4, i.e., 46 for Machineries and Buildings. From Exts. D/1 and D/2 (even assuming them to represent the correct state of things) we get the balances of costs of Machineries (deducting depreciation and break-down value) to be Rs. 57,18,136 and Rs. 12,66,001, i.e., Rs. 69,84,137 in all. Dividing this by 16, the result is Rs. 4.36 lakhs. Similarly from Ext. D/3, such value of Buildings is found to be Rs. 16,41,406 and Rs. 28,92,242, i.e., Rs. 45,33,548. Dividing this by 46, we have Rs. 0.99 lakhs. Thus the additional charges amount to Rs. 4.37+Rs. 0.99 lakhs or Rs. 5.36 lakhs. Adding this to the previous total of Rs. 18.30 lakhs, the annual Rehabilitation charge for purpose of the present case works out to be Rs. 23.66 lakhs only. Of Course the Labour Union also submitted a modified calculation, showing Rehabilitation cost to the extent of Rs. 7,15,148, an amount equivalent to the amount of depreciation by way of its own calculation. But the view expressed in the abovementioned chart of the Employees' Union is quite reasonable and liable to be accepted (with above modification), on the basis of the previous Award for 1954-55. So in my judgment, Rs. 23,66,000 should be the annual Rehabilitation charge for purpose of the present case.

Adjusted Gross Profits	1,81.82
Less Normal Notional Depreciation	20.37
	1,61.45
